J. T. WATERHOUSE

We are expecting a large invoice of China from the factories in France and England. The goods will be of the same fine quality that we have always carried in stock.

To make room for the new and get rid of the old we offer at less than cost odd pieces in French and English China. These comprise Teas, Coffees, Breakfast or Dinner Plates, Vegetable Dishes and every thing else in China used on the table. They are not in full sets but in odd pieces. This is the first odd piece sale we have held and you get a great benefit if you take advantage of the opportunity presented. There are not many pieces, and the first customer gets a bargain.

HOW TO ADORN THE COTTAGE.

Use of Awning and Cheese Cloths For summer decorations.

Awning cloth is capable of many things. The couches and the divans that are so popular and so delightful are excellent when upholstered with this simple stuff, and outdoor pillows and cushions are simply perfect when covered with its broad stripes and rich, warm blues.

For hammock pillows and piazza cushions it is simply all that need be asked, and its varying color needs no decoration outside itself, so that busy women may well be glad to hail its coming. The peculiar stanchness and durability of the cloth are, of course, the same, let the color be what it will, and when really good, warm tones are added it is indeed an excellent thing. There is that about an abundant pillow supply that goes straight to the weary heart, and the piazza or the hammock that is piled high with these helps to comfort and to rest is in itself an invitation difficult to resist. With the help of this new device and of such other simple stuffs as are well suited to hard usage and to outdoor service, either or both can be obtained at little cost, and charming, tempting pictures can be made of the least pretentious summer home.

Cheesecloth is so cheap that it is looked upon as fit only for the plebeian service of dusting, for the purely useful offices of the household and other similar things, but in reality it makes as charming sash curtains or lunch curtains that are hung against the glass as any woman need crave. Its soft texture insures folds that are all the most exacting need ask, while the deep ivory tone makes a perfect background for decorations.

Flowers of any simple form are good as models, and any woman skilled ever so slightly with the brush can make curtains for her home that are not only charming, but that have the advantage of being unlike others that are offered for sale.

The nasturtium blossoms are admirable for any yellow room or for any room with which yellow harmonizes well, but there are hosts of other things that will give equally good results. Wild roses are charming for a young girl's room and are delightfully appropriate as well.

Morning glories are well suited to any woman's apartment. Leaf forms are delightful, and, in fact, anything that can be treated flat, as the artists say. Recently, too, there has come an invention that greatly helps the matter on. A woman clever in the manipulation of paint has discovered a mixing fluid by the help of which ordinary oil paints are made indelible and will wash. I have tried the experiment and find it a great success, so that you may without fear use all the colors of your palette.

How to Make Creamed Mushrooms.

Drain off the liquor from the mushrooms and place in a bowl to be used for the sauce. Place on the fire in a granite pan a tablespoonful of butter. Heat slowly and add a tablespoonful of flour. Stir until they are blended, but not sufficient heat to brown, and gradually add the liquor from the mushrooms and enough cream to make a thin sauce. Into this turn the mushrooms, season with salt and when thoroughly hot serve on squares of toast.

How to Use Old Linen.

Tablecloths that are much worn in the center will often have edges that are really stout and strong enough to make napkins that will prove amply good to find their way next fall into the children's school lunch baskets. The school lunch basket, it is well known, is a fatal spot to place a napkin that is the least valuable.

The towels with much worn centers make excellent wash cloths, and, if doubled and bound with tape, admirable eating bibs for the small boys and girls of the family. The old towel wash cloths are much better minus hems, deep overcasting and linen floss being a more comfortable finish for the edges. Hemstitching on linen is such a dainty mode of finishing table linen that the neat housewife is ever proud to have her very best tablecloths and napkins thus finished. A dozen damask napkins to be hemstitched will furnish the nicest kind of "pick up" work when one is away on one's summer vacation.

How to Make Rose Jars.

Put a layer of petals of any fragrant variety of rose in the bottom of a jar. On this scatter some coarse salt. Cover the jar closely and put in the sun. Next day add another layer of rose leaves and salt. Continue this until you have as much material as desired, then add cinnamon, orrisroot, cloves and other fragrant spices or perfumes. Mix the whole well and keep the jar closed.
