Special Summer Notes for Our Out-of-town Patrons.

COUNTRY ORDERS.

These receive our most careful attention at all times, but now the warm weather is upon us, our facilities for the prompt shipment of fresh groceries--our careful packing--will explain why we increase year by year this class of trade. Please note (by a comparison of quality with any price list in your vicinity) our extremely moderate prices. We maintain uniform high-grade goods.

CAMPING ESTIMATES.

We shall be pleased to make up estimates for any number of our patrons who may purpose taking a cottage by the sea, or camping. If you will state how many in the party and number of days or weeks for your outing, we will quote on anything--from the bath soap in the morning to the after dinner cigar. Wherever you may be rusticated we can serve you with the same attention as if you were at home in the city. We serve you the year round--it's our business.

If you are in need of a vehicle of any description, inspect the stock of G. Schuman at the Club Stables. He keeps on hand a full line of phaetons, surreys, buggies, road wagons, and Frazier road carts.

Our work is better and our prices are lower for enlarged portrait work than anyone else's. We are not making much at it, but don't let that worry you. If you have anything in this line to be done see our samples first, and you won't regret it. King Bros., 110 Hotel street.

THE OLD HUMORISTS.

UNCL EDAN! THE AGED NEGRO AND THE STEAMBOAT.

He Thought the Lord Was Surely Coming Up the River and Promptly Sought Refuge in Prayer--A Chariot of Fire and a Very Remarkable Plot.

Whatever the lagging, dragging journey may have been to the rest of the emigrants, it was a wonder and delight to the children, a world of enchantment, and they believed it to be peopled with the mysterious dwarfs and giants and goblins that figured in the tales that the negro slaves were in the habit of telling them nightly by the shuddering light of the kitchen fire.

At the end of nearly a week of travel the party went into camp near a shabby village which was caving, house by house, into the hungry Mississippi. The "GIT DOWN ON YO' KNEES!" river astonished the children beyond measure. Its mile breadth of water seemed an ocean to them in the shadowy twilight, and the vague riband of trees on the farther shore the verge of a continent which surely none but they had ever seen before.

Uncle Dan! (colored), aged 40; his wife, Aunt Junny, aged 30; "Young Miss" Emily Hawkins, "Young Mars" Washington Hawkins and "Young Mars" Clay, the new member of the family, ranged themselves on a log after supper and contemplated the marvelous river and discussed it. The moon rose and sailed aloft through a maze of shredded cloud wreaths; the somber river just perceptibly brightened under the veiled light; a deep silence pervaded the air and was emphasized at intervals, rather than broken, by the hooting of an owl, the baying of a dog or the muffled crash of a caving bank in the distance.

The little company assembled on the log were all children (at least in simplicity and broad and comprehensive ignorance), and the remarks they made about the river were in keeping with their character, and so awed were they by the grandeur and the solemnity of the scene before them and by their belief that the air was filled with invisible spirits, and that the faint zephyrs were caused by their passing wings, that all their talk took to itself a tinge of the supernatural, and their voices were subdued to a low and reverent tone. Suddenly Uncle Dan! exclaimed:

"Chil'en, dah's sunfin a-comin'!" All crowded close together, and every heart beat faster. Uncle Dan! pointed down the river with his bony finger.

A deep, coughing sound troubled the stillness away toward a wooded cape that jutted into the stream a mile distant. All in an instant a fierce eye of fire shot out from behind the cape and sent a long, brilliant pathway quivering athwart the dusky water. The coughing grew louder and louder, the glaring eye grew larger and still larger, glared wilder and still wilder. A huge shape developed itself out of the gloom, and from its tall duplicate horns dense volumes of smoke, starred and spangled with sparks, poured out and went tumbling away into farther darkness. Nearer and nearer the thing came, till its long sides began to glow with spots of light which mirrored themselves in the river and attended the monster like a torchlight procession.

"What is it? Oh, what is it, Uncle Dan?" With deep solemnity the answer came: "It's de Almighty! Git down on yo' knees!"

It was not necessary to say it twice. They were all kneeling in a moment. And then, while the mysterious coughing rose stronger and stronger and the threatening glare reached farther and wider, the negro's voice lifted up its supplications:

"O Lord, we's ben mighty wicked, and we knows dat we 'erve to go to ze bad place, but good Lord, deah Lord, we ain't ready yet, we ain't ready--let dese po' chil'en hab one mo' chance, jes' one mo' chance. Take de ole niggah if you's got to hab somebody. Good Lord, good deah Lord, we don't know whah you's a-gwine to, we don't know whah you's got yo' eye on, but we knows by de way you's a-comin, we knows by de way you's a-tiltin' along in yo' chariot o' fish dat some po' sinner's a-gwine to catch it. But, good Lord, dese chil'en don't b'long heah. Dey's f'm Obedstown, whah dey don't know nuffin, an' yo' knows yo' own set dat dey ain't 'sponsible. An, deah Lord, good Lord, it ain't like yo' mercy, it ain't like yo' pity, it ain't like yo' long sufferin, lovin' kindness for to take dis kind o' 'vantage o' sich little chil'en as dese is when day's so many ornery grown folks chuck fall o' cussedness dat wants roastin' down dah. O Lord, spah de little chil'en, don't tar de little chil'en away f'm dey frens, jes' let 'em off jes' dis once, and take it out de ole

For more than fifty years has PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER stood the test against all remedies prepared to eradicate pain, and today stands at the head of the list among the medicines that are so essential to keep at hand in the home.

It is not a new fangle remedy nor do the proprietors lay claim to any wonderful revelation of the ingredients that enter into the manufacture of this ever popular remedy.

It is perfectly harmless, you need have no fear of becoming habitually inclined to its use.

For Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, Colds, and all painful affections, a few doses will certainly give relief. You cannot afford to be without a bottle in the house.

Your forefathers used it and found it beneficial.

Why experiment with some remedy that is new and its effect on the system unknown?

It has many rivals but no equal.

The new 35c. size contains over double the quantity of the 25c. size.
