

EVENING BULLETIN. Published Every Day, except Sunday, at 210 King street, Honolulu, T. H., by the BULLETIN PUBLISHING COMPANY.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 16, 1899. An affidavit from Davy Jones that the City of Columbia is in the locker is what the water front solons are looking for.

Aguinaldo appeals to Europe for recognition of his republic. Just watch what happens to the first nation recognizing his plea.

Secretary Root says if more than 50,000 men are needed in the Philippines they will be promptly forwarded. Now the war department "is talking." The people know Root as a man of action.

Porto Rico is now scheduled for a full territorial government. Porto Ricans, present advantage over Hawaii is that they are not rushing in with requests for exceptions to the general rule of American territories.

If the government showed one half the interest in carrying on public works and providing funds for successful work in the various departments, that it does in sending a special representative to Washington, the people might gain some confidence in the local administration. "Cut down expense" is the order given in nearly every bureau of the government, yet there seems to be plenty of money; to spend on fruitless missions. The excuse given is doubtless that money appropriated for the payment of officials cannot be used by the departments. The situation is such however that the government can, if it wants to, secure authority from Washington to increase the moneys placed at the disposition of government bureaus. If there is money available to send men to Washington, that money would far better be used by the Board of Education or the Public Works department. It behooves the government to use some of its strenuous effort in behalf of the people of Hawaii.

SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE AGAIN

Again the proposition to have a special government pleader sent to Washington during the next Congressional session has come up. Just what advantage is to accrue to Hawaii by having such an individual in Washington has yet to be made clear. The idea of paying government funds to support a special representative in Washington under present conditions is as foolish as was the government's plan to hold the elections whether or no. We already have Mr. Dole and Justice Frear, members of the Hawaiian Commission, and if the Washington friends of Hawaii think that the situation calls for the assistance of a special Hawaiian representative they will doubtless call upon one of these gentlemen to "come on." Is it the indifference previously shown the Hawaiian Commissioners that now moves the government to send a man whether or no? Does the local government consider itself better able to select the men needed, than President McKinley? Or is it that private interests want special representation and the government is willing to saddle the people with the expenses of his stay at the capitol? The policy of the administration toward Hawaii is very well known; the plan has been laid and at best the special representative from Hawaii would be little more than an office boy unless he occupied his time seeking to secure for Hawaii special exceptions to American territorial laws. If this work of securing special exceptions is what the government wants done, the only result will be the hampering of the administration forces by the scheme so common to Hawaii of playing into the hands of the enemy. If any particular coterie of men want special representation in Washington let them pay for it. The government officials have no right or authority—unless it is the usual assumed authority—to spend government funds for paying the expenses of some expensive lawyer to appear in Hawaii's behalf. The people are satisfied to let their interests rest in the hands of President McKinley.

DREYFUS FACES ACCUSERS.

the task, which, it is understood, will be completed Friday next. A public session, therefore, will take place Saturday morning. The dossier consists of about 400 documents of which fifty were disposed of yesterday. Several of the documents are written in German. During the proceedings today a German dictionary was sent for and the correspondent of the Associated Press learned from a sure source that when certain words and expressions could not be exactly understood, even with the aid of the dictionary, Dreyfus, who is a perfect German scholar, volunteered a translation and was allowed to give explanations which were of valuable assistance to the members of the court. The precautionary police measures today were much more stringent than Saturday. Strong detachments of infantry, instead of gendarmes cordoned the streets leading to the Lycee. Gendarmes alone performed this duty yesterday and the public who were much less numerous, barely numbering 300 persons, were pressed still farther back. Persons standing inside the entrance hall of a house within view of the door of the Lycee were even compelled by gendarmes to retreat into the interior of the house, and the front door was closed. Absolutely nobody but police and soldiers were thus within 100 yards of Dreyfus when he crossed the avenue de la Gare.

WRITER ON HAWAII HERE.

Miss Mary H. Krout, the Chicago lady who was here during the revolution of 1895 and who, upon returning to the States wrote a book entitled "Hawaii and a Revolution," arrived in the Moana last evening. She will remain here for a few days, leaving for Japan, China and the Philippines in the next steamer for the Orient, there to gather material for other books. She expects to remain in the Orient about three months, returning here for a short stay at the end of that time. Miss Krout is the guest of Hon. and Mrs. W. C. Wilder at whose home she may be found by her friends all day tomorrow.

J. F. Scott Very Ill. J. F. Scott is very ill at the Queen hotel. When leaving the steamer Moana on arrival from the Coast last evening he suffered a stroke of paralysis and fell on wharf. He was taken immediately to the Queen Hotel where he now lies in a critical state, being in a worse condition this afternoon. Mr. Lightfoot is in charge of him and physicians and nurses are busy attending on him. Mrs. Scott is still in the States.

Mr. William Sharp, leader of the Orpheum theatre orchestra, leaves by the Alameda on Friday for the coast accompanied by his wife. Mr. Sharp's decision to sever his connection with the Orpheum proprietary is a matter of regret to his many personal and professional friends.

President McKinley has bought the famous "McKinley Cottage" in Canton where he had lived up to the time of going to the White House.

TOWING THE SHAMROCK.

London, August 9.—Mr. Thomas Russell, the representative of Sir Thomas Lipton, told a reporter of the Associated Press today that the skippers of the cup challenger Shamrock and steam yacht Erin now on their way to New York, hold written instructions from Sir Thomas Lipton, under no circumstances to tow the challenger except in accordance with the special agreement with the New York Yacht Club, namely when the breeze is insufficient for Shamrock to proceed under her own sail.

Stopping Filipino Arms.

Washington, August 6.—The Hon. John Goodnow, Consul-General of the United States at Shanghai, has rendered a decision as referee in the Consular Court which will be of far reaching importance during the continuance of the war in the Philippines. The case was in relation to the steamer Abbey, charged with taking arms from Canton to Lunzon. It has been in contention for some time. The owners of the vessel gave bond that the ship should land the arms purchased at Singapore, but she did not do so. The bond was demanded by the Chinese authorities. Mr. Goodnow holds that it must be paid.

HOW KIHAI BROKE HIM.

"I know it's too bad," said the convicted defaulter, "but it all comes of being an optimist!" "An optimist?" said the visitor to the prisoner. "Yes; I was dead sure Kihai stock would go my way, and I backed my opinion with some one's else money!" "Get your calcium-carbide from the P. C. & M'g Co." Reigned: "I want to buy you a dog, Miss Ethel! What kind of a dog would you like?" Ethel (thoughtfully): "Well, I should like a dear little silky-haired angel, with large poetic eyes, and a sweet little rosy-bud mouth, and a soulful expression, that's a good ratter and a good fighter, and a prime retriever and water-dog, and a good courser, and doesn't eat too much, and is easy to keep clean!" Reigned: "Excuse me, Miss Ethel—but what you want is a Sterling Chainless Bicycle, from the P. C. & M'g Co." "Twenty-fourth Century Gas Lamps, at the P. C. & M'g Co's." "Wig: "Jones says he can read a woman like a book." "Wag: "Yes; but he can't shut her up like one." "Crescent Bicycles for $45, at the P. C. & M'g Co's." After testing oleomargarine at the Board of Health food investigation the other day, Dr. Dor remarked that it was just as good as the butter he had for breakfast. But, how does the doctor know just what he did have for breakfast? "Old Hunter: "Hullo, old fellow; how's the hunting? I don't see that you have bagged anything." "New Hunter: "Oh, you don't, eh? Then just look at the knees of my new hunting trousers." He swears he'll get his ammunition from the P. C. & M'g Co. next time he goes. "Sterling Bicycles at $60, at the P. C. & M'g Co's."
