ELUDED SPANISH GUN BOAT

Great Admiral Left Manila As Dewey Sailed In.

Handsomest Ship in the Harbor - Captain Sterling's Story of How He Outwitted the Enemy.

Of all the deep water vessels in Honolulu harbor to day, none can tell a more interesting story of adventure at sea than the spick and span American ship Great Admiral.

Great Admiral arrived in this port early Saturday morning, 49 days from Newcastle with 1980 tons of coal, having experienced a pleasant voyage from Australia.

Captain Sterling was master of a wind jammer at 18 years of age, has weathered many a howling storm in many ships, has been shipwrecked, and, if he were not so modest, could tell many exciting tales of the ocean's perils.

The Great Admiral was the last boat to leave Manila harbor, previous to the entrance of Admiral Dewey.

When seen by a BULLETIN reporter in his elegantly appointed cabin, aboard the handsome vessel, this morning, in relation to the Manila episode, Captain Sterling said:

"To be brief, the trouble commenced in Manila when I got loaded up and wanted clearance papers. The authorities informed me of war having been declared between the United States and Spain and that they would hold me in port and seize my cargo. I saw everybody concerned and after much trouble I was given 24 hours to get to sea.

"I lost no time in quitting the harbor, but soon discovered that a Spanish gunboat was following and circling around the Great Admiral. This was early in the morning and I did not fear the Spaniard as I had been given a whole day to get away in. When night fell the warship was shut out from sight and I immediately brought the ship about so that she doubled on her tracks. Afterwards, it was evident that the Spaniard intended to capture the Great Admiral after the 24 hours grace had expired; but they lost me in the dark and I sailed with all possible speed to Hongkong."

The Great Admiral got to New York late in the fall of last year, whence she went to Boston, sailing from that port for Brazil and Australia.

Captain Sterling's last voyage lasted 14 months; the captain always takes his wife and three little children with him on his trips and they live on the water most of the time. Mrs. Sterling's sister, Miss Lena Watt, is also on the Great Admiral this trip.

The cabins are models of coziness, comfort and cheerfulness; altogether the Great Admiral's large size, handsome model and general appointments make her the pride and envy of the harbor.

Work on Halawa Road.

Waialuku, Oct. 28.—Japanese and native laborers are still at work on the new carriage road from Halawa to Pukoo. The road has been repaired and improved as stated by eye witnesses who went over the road about one month ago. The recent rains did not do any material damage. Blasting is being carried on in the most precipitous places. But the road will never be in a really good and lasting condition on account of the insufficiency of the appropriation for the purpose.

Grand Allen Dying.

Kingston, Oct. 20.—Rev. J. Allen, of this city, has received a cablegram that his son, Grant Allen, the novelist, is hopelessly ill.

TROUBLE AT CAMP MCKINLEY

Some Fifty Soldiers Attempt to Obstruct Course of Justice.

Major Mills Acts Promptly and Sends Out Two Provost Guards—Police Officers Have Hard Time.

Had it not been for the timely interference of Major Mills this morning several of Honolulu's police officers might have been badly hurt by some unruly soldiers of Camp McKinley.

Officers Kupihea and Baker were sent out in the direction of Waikiki to hunt up deserting soldiers. Upon arrival at the camp they spied five bluejackets inside. The officers consulted and then went to Major Mills who kindly consented to send two members of the provost guard to assist the officers in getting the bluejackets away. When they got outside the soldiers went back to camp. Just then, Captain Holi and Lieutenants Opanui and Rickard appeared on the scene. The bluejackets showed fight and then started to run in different directions. Three were caught by Holi, Opanui and Baker. Kupihea chased his man but the one Rickard was after disappeared altogether.

About fifty soldiers standing near by ran out and surrounded Kupihea, threatening to kill him if he attempted to run after the bluejacket he was following. Kupihea tried to get away and received several blows for his trouble. Just at this moment two provost guards came down the street at double time. The unruly soldiers were dispersed and then attention was given to the bluejacket. The fellow attempted to get over the fence. A rifle was leveled at him and he came back into the arms of Kupihea.

Major Mills had acted quickly and had done the police a service they will never forget. He not only gave orders to capture the runaway bluejacket but had the provost guards march to the terminus of the tramcars to see that the prisoners arrived there safely. When the officers and bluejackets were aboard, the guards returned to camp. The prisoners were brought to town safely and landed in jail.

Captain Spillner and two mounted patrolmen were sent out but the trouble was all over when they arrived.

Tax Assessors at Work.

Waialuku, Oct. 28.—C. H. Dickey returned from his recent trip to Molokai per Mauna Loa last Tuesday evening. Together with Geo. H. Dunn, deputy tax assessor of Lahaina and Molokai, and Henry Waterhouse, Jr., they landed at Kaunakakai on Monday, Oct. 20. During the day they received the real and personal taxes of the tax payers of that district. On Saturday, the party rode over to Kamalo to inspect as well as to assess that new plantation. The Molokai roads were in fine condition notwithstanding the wet and rainy weather.

Tom Peen's Gratitude.

Tom Peen, a Chinaman whose wife has been very sick with fever, called at this office this morning to give public notice of his gratitude to Dr. Jas. T. Wayson who successfully nursed the sick woman through her illness.

Tom Peen says: "That doctor very good man. He save Chinaman sick. I like him very much. If my wife 'make' too much pillika I got plenty children. That doctor good one."

WITH CABINET MINISTERS

New Minister of Interior Authorized to Spend Certain Sums.

Roads on Island of Maui, $38,000—Water Works at Waialuku and Kahului, $13,900 More Notaries Public.

The Cabinet held a session this forenoon which ended at 12 noon. Various matters were attended to. The matter of the Hilo post office was brought up but the discussion was not completed.

The Minister of the Interior was authorized to make the following expenditures under the Loan Act: Road from Mokulau to Kipahulu, $8,000; road from Kailua to Hanawai, Nahiku, Maui, $30,000; water works for Waialuku and Kahului, $13,900.

Applications for land patents were not acted on as the government is not doing anything with land matters just now.

The following were recommended as notaries public; John M. Kea, First Judicial Circuit; H. H. Hitchcock, Second Circuit; E. W. Estep, Fourth Circuit and J. W. Short, First Circuit. Messrs Kea and Short will have to take examinations while Messrs. Hitchcock and Estep, being attorneys, will not.

The Minister of Finance was authorized to pay out $77.50 and $177.50 for Custom House guards and inspectors on the Island of Hawaii, the expenditure for such service having gone over the pro rata.

The Orpheum.

The Orpheum management has certainly fulfilled its promise to make this house second to none in the city for ease and comfort. The new opera chairs, ample ventilation and general roominess giving one a feeling of comfort hitherto unknown.

To Jackson Hearde, ragtime comedian, was given the honor of opening the new season's program followed by Charles and Kitty Willard in their elaborate musical act; Hamilton Hill, vocalist, and Boggs and Haeward in a dramatic sketch. Miss Ethel Dillon, who is admittedly the possessor of a fine contralto voice, was the next number, but was accorded a humiliating reception. It is a matter of regret that apparent lack of judgement as to her own capabilities should make this artist's work so uneven and the suggestion that a competent censor pass on the lady's work prior to each change might not be amiss. Miss Mindel Dreyfus, the petite singer and danseuse, is a charming little dame, elegantly costumed, swift in her changes and generally the pet of the boys. Six encores being placed to her credit. Rand, Byron and Rand gave a clever sketch liberally punctuated with new and clever witticisms.

Godfrey's Handbook.

Godfrey's Handbook of Hawaii for 1899 has been published. The guide is devoted almost exclusively to Hilo and the Volcano and the text is generally accurate and interesting. A distinctive feature is a carefully compiled directory of Hilo business houses. The book is from the press of the Mercantile Printing Co. Copies may be obtained at Wall, Nichols Co.

Typhoid Fever.

John Hassinger, son of the Chief Clerk of the Interior Department, is very ill with typhoid fever. A trained nurse was sent to the Hassinger home last evening. Hassinger caught cold while attending to the work of repairing electric light wires at one of the Chinese theatres.

RUSSO-JAPAN WAR RUMOR

Was Started by a Little Side Play at Port Arthur.

Japanese Warship Approached the Port Without Heeding Signals—Activity at Forts and on Warships.

It will be remembered that a short time ago the people of the Orient were excited by rumors of an impending war between Russia and Japan, and to such an extent were these believed that many Southerners doing business in Newchwang, Port Arthur, and Chefoo sent their families to Shanghai and elsewhere for safety.

A Tientsin mandarin now in this port gives the following explanation of the origin of the rumors, which must be taken for what it is worth. Two Japanese cruisers were about six weeks ago in the Gulf of Pechili and at one time appeared before Port Arthur.

As the cruisers had the appearance of intending to steam inside the port, the Russian officer at the outer signal station hoisted a signal implying that the port was closed to foreign ships of war. The Japanese senior officer in command of the two cruisers, however, pretended not to understand the Russian signal and steamed straight for the harbor.

At a point nearly half way inside and surrounded on all sides by forts, the Japanese leading cruiser was met by a steam-launch with a Russian official, who boarded the vessel and verbally communicated the intelligence which had been indicated by the signal outside the harbor and at the same time warned the Japanese captain that further penetration into the harbor would be resisted.

To emphasize the declaration a commotion was observed by those on board in the land forts and soon it was seen that menacing preparations were being made. Russian warships inside the basin were also observed to be hastily getting up steam and altogether matters looked decidedly unpleasant. The Japanese captain then simply bowed out his Russian visitor and the cruisers retired.—Japan Gazette.

Football Saturday.

The Maile Ilima and Panahou Jr. elevens will meet on the Makiki baseball grounds on next Saturday, Nov. 4, at 4 o'clock. The game would be very interesting as the teams are very evenly matched.

The Maile Ilima will line up with the following players: W. Chilton, Chas. Elston, E. Kaai, W. Allen, E. Schmidt, Ah. Loy, S. Palla, G. Lucas, F. Wright, Hatfield, B. Clark, A. Marcellino, W. Wright. The following boys compose the Panahou Jr. team: L. Robinson, Kaulaka, R. Cook, W. Alexander, Crauan, M. Robinson, J. Berry, Williamson, Lyman, Hemmingway Castle.

SEVEN HUNDRED MORE.

Fifty three Chinese and 645 Japanese immigrants arrived in port today on the Doric from the Orient. The majority of these are contract laborers.

Four Japanese and 295 Chinese are bound for the Coast on the same vessel.

Contract laborers are coming here 700 at a time, this about the number brought here by each of the recent immigrant steamers.

In the case of John Kalana vs. Jas. K. Smythe et al. Judge Kalana has sustained defendants demurrer to plaintiffs bill of complaint and allowed twenty days in which to amend.

THIRTY-ONE BLUEJACKETS

Rounded Up by Police and Taken Aboard Newark Saturday.

Several Tried to Get Away But Were Effectually Stopped—Steam Launch of Cruiser Sent Out for Men.

The bluejackets of the Newark are not at all popular with the police and vice versa. That these same bluejackets are not a very well behaved crowd seems to be proven by the list of names the police officers have had to deal with since Saturday. Late on the afternoon of that day the commanding officer of the Newark was notified that thirty-one bluejackets had been rounded up. A guard of a dozen or so men were sent ashore to escort the prisoners aboard ship.

The thirty-one bluejackets were taken from prison. Upon arrival in the receiving office one of the number jumped up and struck Officer Pohaku. He received back better than he sent. Deputy Marshal Chillingworth being present, further hostilities were stopped.

Then began the march to the boat landing, several of the bluejackets breaking away and attempting to hide in Chinese stores. These were all captured. When the party arrived at Queen street, another fellow broke away and made for the Honolulu Iron Works where he was caught by two police officers who were assisting the guard from the ship.

Upon arrival at the landing another bluejacket got away, jumped into the water, swam to the schooner Norma near by, picked up an oar and threatened any and all who would make an attempt to capture him. Two of the guard went over and, after a scuffle, had the fellow captured.

As the boat containing the bluejackets hauled away from the landing the police officers were treated to language they have had much occasion of late to hear. However, they remained perfectly calm and said not a word. Captain Kanue was the only one who got a bit excited. He invited any three of the men to call on him should they come ashore again.

Upon arriving near the Newark, several of the prisoners jumped overboard and began to swim out for various points. In less time than it takes to tell the steam launch was manned, boat hooks were thrown in and a gun was placed in position. Then came the collecting trip. All the men were captured and placed in double irons.

Kahului Railroad Transfer.

Waialuku, Oct. 28.—The Kahului Railroad Co., has been transferred to the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co., the deal having been completed this week prior to the departure of G. P. Wilder for Honolulu. The consideration is not yet let out, but it is understood that $500,000 and perhaps less is the sum.

To Assure Public Safety.

Minister Young has begun his duties as Minister of the Interior by taking the condition of the King street road in the vicinity of the Opera House into consideration. At the Cabinet meeting this forenoon he reported making arrangements toward putting the road back into its original condition so as to assure public safety. He and Mr. Pain will have a conference in the near future and will then decide on what course to pursue. This conference will depend on the completion of the Tramways case in the Circuit Court.

NEWS NOTES OF WAILUKU

Rev. J. M. Lewis will preach at the Foreign Church tomorrow.

Harry Burton, of Burton (Waialuku) Hotel, has gone back to Spreckelsville as plantation policeman. The hotel is still run by Mrs. Burton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ah Po of Lahaina entertained their numerous friends to a birthday lusa last Saturday 21st inst. in honor of the birth of their youngest child.

Jas. Keola rode over from Kaunakakai to Halawa, Molokai, last Friday, Oct. 20, on horse back in a little over four hours and a half, and that during a heavy rain storm. The distance is over 35 miles.

Judge J. W. Kalus has rendered his decision in re defendants' demurrers in the case of John Kalana et al. vs. Jas. K. Smythe et al. The demurrer is sustained in two points and the rest were overruled. A copy of the decree has been forwarded to Mr. Henry Smith, Clerk of the Judiciary Department for the benefit of the host of attorneys employed in the suit.

OFFICE OF CHIEF JUSTICE.

It having been stated in a local paper Saturday last that A. F. Judd would not resume his duties as Chief Justice upon returning to the Islands, President Dole was seen in regard to the matter this afternoon and he made the statement that he had no idea. This would probably depend altogether on Mr. Judd's state of health. Asked if there had been any correspondence on the matter between this government and Washington, Mr. Dole answered, "None whatever."

It is understood that Marshall will bring out his second eruption of the Sunday Volcano on the first Sunday in January next.
