Salisbury's Reply to the United States

New York, Jan. 19 .- A special to the Journal and Advertiser from Washing-

Choate for a declaration of policy and nature as usual. a concession of liability in the matter cargoes on the Mashona, the Beatrice and the Maria are:

First, Great Britain offers to pay an the city of Honolulu. The indemnity to the American citizen soil is very deep; no stones whose corn, meal and flour were seized by the British cruisers near Delagoa Bay, the extent of the claims to be determined by a commission.

Second, Great Britain will not de-A space will be set apart, clare corn, meal and flour to be conin memory of the Princess traband when proof is not positive that the foodstuffs are intended for the camp of the enemy.

Third, Great Britain contends that she has not violated the rights of a with which other real estate neutral power by the selzure of this corn, meal and flour, but that, on the contrary, under her old common law she has a right to seize food supplies absolutely necessary for the maintenance of her soldiers and sailors in time of war, her right being subject to the equities of indemnity.

> The attitude of this Government on the three propositions submitted in justification by Lord Salisbury is as follows:

The United States accepts Great Britain's offer to pay American citizens in interest the face value of the cargoes, with a reasonable profit Great Britain's plea in justification is regarded as inadequate and evasive in that it avoids a general declaration as to whether corn, meal and flour are contraband of war, but the answer is reasonably sufficient because it delares specifically that the atticles on the vessels named were not contraband of war as they were not destined for the camp of the enemy and that was one important contention of the State Department.

As to the third proposition, United States accepts in good faith the plea that the goods were seized as a military necessity for the supply of the British army and navy and that such necessity justified the act of seizure without prejudice to any other international questions involved.

A high State Department official said that there was no doubt that Great Britain's inability to supply her army and navy actually engaged in the Boer war could be demonstrated. That condition, he said, is fairly inferable from the fact of the immense army in the field, the consequent emergency drain on the home base of supplies, the distance of the local South African bases of supply from the armies in the field, the danger in the transportation of them, great distances in land and the practically isolated position of her cruisers off Delagoa Bay beyond the international limit from shore,

The United States, he said, had agreed to this contention of Great Britain because it was defensible by international law and by the facts as sub-

It is probable in view of the fact present amicable adjustment that the United States will not insist on an immediate reply to her demands for a comprehensive declaration of policy.

It is thought, however, that inasmuch as Germany, Holland and France have asked Great Britain for a definition of contraband as applied to foodstuffs, the scope of the answer to the United States mave be enlarged in the near future.
