PRESIDENT JORDAN RETURNING HOME

Has Had Very Successful Fish Trip Through Japan.

COLLECTS SPECIMENS FROM LOCAL MARKET

Gives His Views on the Chinese Situation—Feels Positive of Good Faith of Japan in the Contest.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University and one of the most eminent scientists in the United States, is a through passenger in the Nippon Maru for San Francisco. He and Professor Snyder, an instructor at Stanford, are now on their way back to the University after an absence of about three months in Japan where they have been collecting the fishes to be found in Japanese waters for the museum at Stanford. Dr. Jordan very kindly made the following statements to a Bulletin reporter this morning:

"During our three months' stay in Japan, we succeeded in collecting seven hundred different species of fish. Out of this number, one hundred and twenty are new to science. Naturally we are very much elated over the success which has crowned our efforts. We have all our specimens aboard, put up in good shape for the long trip.

"The Japanese fish, taken as a whole are very much less highly colored than the fish to be found in your waters. The Hawaiian fish are noted all over the world for this feature.

"You perhaps know that, in countries such as Hawaii, where the coral formations are to be found the coloring of the fishes conforms to the surroundings. By this I mean the deep blue of the ocean, the intense coloring of the sea growths, etc.

"Hawaiian fishes have been thoroughly worked up. Two professors from Stanford were here in 1890 and their work was most complete."

Later on, Dr. Jordan and Professor Snyder went to the fishmarket where they were fortunate in being in time to pick specimens from the early morning catch which had just come in. The Chinese and natives very soon learned the object of Dr. Jordan's visit and kept him busy from one stall to another. A kerosene oil tin was filled before the scientist had completed his purchases.

"I have in the neighborhood of sixty or seventy Hawaiian fish now," Dr. Jordan said. "On my way to the Orient I got a few specimens but no where near the number I have succeeded in getting this morning. I shall continue to collect throughout the day and early in the morning, before the departure of the steamer."

Having finished with his story of the fishes Dr. Jordan was asked for his impression on the present situation in China, in answer to which he made these statements:

"China is today in a state of chaos and, to my mind, there are but two ways out of the dilemma for the Powers at present concerned. One is a total reorganization of China and the other is for a quiet removal of the foreign troops, allowing the Chinese to carve out their own destiny.

"The first of these is a question of great magnitude. It would mean the choice of some eminent and liberal statesman as ruler of China with advisers from the various nations of Europe. It would mean also a complete change in the long established custom of levying petty taxes on the people of the various provinces that have proven China's undoing.

"As you know, each province is surrounded with Custom Houses where these taxes must be paid. This money never reaches the government but goes to the rulers of the provinces. By this unceasing levy of taxes and the constant watch on the people, one province is kept ignorant of the doings in the next. If reorganization is to be effected, this must all be done away with. You can see the magnitude of the undertaking from what I have just stated. This is only one of the many problems that would have to be solved in connection with reorganization.

"The second way out of the dilemma is for the nations to gracefully withdraw and leave China to fight out her own salvation. This would be dangerous for China but it would save any amount of trouble to the other powers. Of course, China could promise a money indemnity for her recent acts but this would never be paid.

"Yes, I believe Russia has designs on the territory in China south of her railroad. She wants to connect Port Arthur with Vladivostok and I believe that, sooner or later, by fair means or otherwise, she will get the foothold in China she is now striving after. It is my opinion that Russia is the only country that is out for Chinese territory.

"I have heard a great deal about Japan having designs on China but I can say positively that this is not so for I know the Japanese and have had occasion to learn what the Mikado's government is after.

"Japan's sole purpose in joining the allied powers was to march to the relief of the Ministers at Peking. This accomplished, she now stands ready to withdraw her troops when the proper time arrives.

"The only thing Japan wants is the control of Korea in order that that country may not be turned against herself. This accomplished, she is willing to relinquish everything else."

Beware of the Pier.

For the benefit of the public the Myrtle Boat Club boys wish it stated that those people who attend the races at Pearl Harbor Saturday should be very careful about the pier in front of the Macfarlane house, the headquarters of the Myrtles. This pier is only supported by two outer piers so that if a crowd of people gets upon it, there will very likely be a number of baths taken. A sign will be put up on the pier warning people off.

PLEASANT HOMESTEADS

GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR THRIFTY TOILERS

Bruce Waring & Co. to Offer Cheap Lots in Pauoa Valley Below Pacific Heights With Electric Transit Connection.

Bruce Waring & Co. will next week open up a new home addition. It is up Pauoa valley, overlooked by Pacific Heights. The opening is not to interfere with the steady development of Pacific Heights going on, but is designed to offer homes to people of modest circumstances.

There will be 60 to 80 lots of an approximate area of 50,000 square feet each, or 50 by 100 feet. They will be offered at prices ranging from $500 to $750 on moderate payments monthly.

The tract commands a good view of town, sea and mountain, being from 350 to 400 feet in elevation. Water will be furnished to the lots from the Pacific Heights supply at regulation rates. The company will build a macadamized road connecting the addition with the Pacific Heights electric railway. Dwellers in the area will have no reason to complain of the climate, for there is no finer in all the suburbs of Honolulu.

This new enterprise of Bruce Waring & Co. places within the reach of the hardest working classes the opportunity of owning homes as comfortable as those of the wealthiest. No better diversion of balances from the defunct Postal Savings Bank could be suggested than investment in such independent homes amidst most wholesome environments and with swift communications between the scenes of labor and of leisure.

Dr. Griffith Here.

Dr. Griffith, who was here as an assistant surgeon at the hospital in independence Park under Major Davis, is going to Manila in the transport Belgian King. During Dr. Griffith's stay here, he made many friends, among whom were the late Princess Kalulani, who counted him as one of her best friends. The genial young doctor has put on flesh since he was last here but in manner he is the same cordial, good fellow.

That Shark Story.

Two signed letters are printed in the Republican to support its shark story of yesterday. One is by the man who alleged he was nipped by the shark, the other by his companion in the water. The bitten doesn't mention "shark" in his letter. His witness doesn't say he saw a shark on the occasion or anytime in his life.

CONVENTIONS MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Permanent Organization Likely to be the Only Business.

DELEGATES WHO WERE ELECTED AT PRIMARIES

Tie Vote Matter Likely to be Settled by Giving Each Delegate Half a Vote and Seat in the Convention.

Conventions of the Republican delegates elected at the primaries Saturday will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Delegates of the Fourth District will meet in the Drill Shed, and those of the Fifth in the Chamber of Commerce.

The first business of the meetings will be organization, selection of chairman, secretary and treasurer. These officers will hold for two years and act as the directors of the campaign in the districts. Members of the district convention according to the party rules constitute the District committee for carrying on the campaign. After organization the immediate business will be straightening out the tie votes and completing the delegations from precincts where no election was held. The tie vote affects Brown and Andrews in the Fourth and Winston and Huddy in the Fifth. It seems to be generally accepted that each of these delegates will be given a seat in the convention, with all the privileges of discussion and putting motions, but each will be entitled to only half a vote. The Fourth District has three vacancies to fill owing to the failure to elect delegates from Waimanalo.

Aside from these details of organization the only business for the present session of the district conventions is the election of delegates to the Territorial convention. Each district is entitled to eighteen delegates. It is possible action on this matter may be postponed until tomorrow afternoon when a positive reply will have been received from Hilo and the question of the place for holding the convention finally determined. The session for the nomination of Legislative candidates will not be held till after the Territorial convention is held and the party platform framed.

WANT CHARTERS AMENDED

F. M. Hatch appeared before Governor Dole and council this morning as the attorney for the Ewa and the Kohala plantation companies, seeking to have their charters amended.

These corporation acts to acquire stock in other corporations without limit as to majority of shares. It appears the newer incorporations chartered under the general act have such power, whereas those incorporated before the general law was enacted have it not.

The Governor and his advisers are of opinion that the discrimination, an accidental one, is not fair and are willing to see all corporations placed on an equal footing. Action was, however, deferred.

Dr. Geo. H. Huddy is reported from the Queen's Hospital this afternoon as being very much better.

PLANS PREPARED FOR NEW THEATER

Orpheum Company Has Big Project Under Advisement.

NEW STRUCTURE TO COST ABOUT $50,000

General Sketch of Outline Made by Architects—On Site of the Present Building—Entrance on Fort Street.

Meant the head of affairs in connection with the Orpheum Theater Company are considering plans for a new theater prepared by Beardsley & Page, architects. These will be laid before the stockholders at a meeting to be held in the near future.

This statement in itself might seem to mean nothing very important but the proposition in hand is one of great magnitude which will undoubtedly result in the building of a modern theater second to none in excellence.

It is proposed to tear down the present theater and to put up a two-story one in its place. The entrance will be from Fort street as at present. On the ground floor will be the theater proper. At the inner entrance will be a lobby with a large foyer leading to the auditorium on the left and the cafe on the right.

The stage will be built facing Fort street. There will be six boxes and over a thousand seats in the parquet and dress circle. The theater will be fitted up in the very finest style with ladies' and men's dressing rooms, smoking rooms and the like. The dimensions of the auditorium will be about 72 feet wide by 80 feet long.

The stage dimensions will be as follows: 40x72; 68 feet to the roof of the theater; 50 feet to the gridiron of the stage; proscenium arch, 30 feet wide by 24 feet high.

The cafe to the right will be quite large and fitted up in fine style. Access from the auditorium will be very easy.

Entrance to the gallery will be from the alley on the mauka side of the theater, while the entrance to the roof garden directly above the auditorium, will be by means of a staircase between this place and the cafe. This will make it impossible for the people in the gallery to get into the place.

The roof garden will be just as first class places of the kind are on the Mainland. There will be a stage for musicians, 15x24 while the dimensions of the whole roof garden will be 55x43.

There will be nine exits on each side of the theater proper so that the place may be emptied quickly. This will be accomplished by installing window doors.

The alleyways about the building are to be macadamized and fitted up with lights so that people will be able to go around the whole place. The land of the Kapiolani Estate back to Nuuanu street, has been obtained. It is calculated to put up cottages and stores for rent back of the stage. The cost of the whole proposition will be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

RIGHTS OF SAILORS SECURE BY LAW

No Corporal Punishment Can Be Inflicted in American Ships.

NO JURISDICTION OVER BRITISH SHIP

Judge Estee Gives $150 Damages to Mate Birkin of Schr. Enterprise for Unsafe Carrying and Ill Treatment.

Judge Estee, in the Federal Court this morning, gave a decision of supreme interest to masters of American ships. It was in the libel of Frederick Birkin, mate of the vessel, against the schooner Enterprise.

The Court gave judgment for the plaintiff for $150. This is on account of trespass in that the ship had not safely carried the plaintiff, and in that he had not been properly treated on the voyage.

In support of this decision Judge Estee quoted a statute passed by Congress in 1898, which came into effect in 1899, which abolished corporal punishment on board of American ships. By this law any master or officer striking a sailor on board ship is liable to imprisonment for not less than three months nor more than two years.

Davis & Gear appeared for the libellant Birkin, and J. M. Davidson for the ship.

Judge Estee declined to take jurisdiction in Solters vs. Carnedd Llewellyn because the libelee was a British ship. It was a libel for wages. British Consul W. R. Hoare was called as a witness for the ship. He testified to his having taken official cognizance of the sailor's complaint, and to the treatment the crew had received since arrival at this port.

The Court remarked pleasantly that the Consul appeared to be a thorough gentleman. It was also shown that the crew had been furnished with medical attendance since arrival, besides being generally cared for well. Therefore he would resign jurisdiction to the Consul.

At the same time Judge Estee adjudged costs of court against the ship, quoting authorities for this act and saying that the sailors had a right, on arrival in port, to seek judicial redress of their grievances.

Davis & Gear for libellant; Stanley & Holmes for libelee.

Raymond Reyes, Geo. Gibb, Otto Tillander and J. R. Souza were naturalized.

The Court is hearing admiralty cases this afternoon.
