MAKAINAI COMES BACK AT EMMELUTH

Says That the Finance Committee Beats All For Expense.

KANIHO WOULD SEE TO VICTORIA HOSPITAL

Monsarrat Stirs Up a Small Sized Tempest--Haahoe Would Cast His Resolution Out the Window-- Emmeluth Objects to More Fuel.

The complete change of program still continues in the House. This morning it was something entirely new, being a little pass between Emmeluth and Makainai.

"Mr. Emmeluth," said Makainai, "asked from me last Saturday a detailed account of the House expenditures. I want to make a verbal report now, not having had the necessary time in which to write out a report."

"Mr. Speaker," said Emmeluth, "I am willing to look over the record of this committee. I am not ashamed of it, for every bill contracted by us was legitimate. What I do claim is that some bills paid were not legitimate, and it is the right of the House to know about the current expenses of this session."

Mr. Emmeluth then proceeded to introduce a revised report on the salary bill, but Robertson objected to it on the ground that the various committees had charge of the salaries in the departments to which they related. His action was sustained.

Kaniho then introduced the following resolution, and asked that it be adopted in the name of humanity: "Whereas it is a common rumor in this city in reference to the treatment of sick people in the Victoria Hospital, that they are housed in low, filthy apartments, and one is thereby made to suffer more than necessary; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five members be appointed from this House to go and investigate the condition of the Victoria Hospital and report to this House.

"H. M. KANIHO."

After some discussion the resolution was tabled.

Monsarrat then started a small sized tempest by introducing the following resolution:

Resolved, That this House adjourn in order to give the remaining members time in which to file their applications to practice law.

"J. MONSARRAT."

Emmeluth arose on a point of order, claiming that the House had no right to ridicule or insult any branch of the government.

Mahoe also claimed that it was out of order.

Monsarrat said that it was as much in order as Mahoe's petition to repeal the Federal quarantine law.

Emmeluth said that there was enough discord between the three branches of the government already without adding fuel to the ill-feeling and moved that the resolution be rejected.

Haahoe wanted to relegate the matter to the recesses of all out doors, via the window.

Argument now became fast and furious, and the thermometer began to go up like stocks on a boom. Monsarrat, perceiving that trouble was brewing, withdrew his resolution and the House adjourned.

College Hills. We wish to announce to the public that, by the terms of a contract just signed, the ELECTRIC ROAD of the RAPID TRANSIT CO. will be immediately extended through College Hills, following the line of our main boulevard. Construction will begin AT ONCE, and the road will be in operation within four months, giving a 20-minute service.

NEGRO STABS A JAPANESE

[By Wireless Telegraph.] Lahaina, May 27.--William Scalley, a colored man, stabbed a Japanese at Camp 5, Spreckelsville plantation, Saturday night. There are nine cuts on the body and the victim is dying at the hospital of Camp 1 today.

WAITY-LONG NUPTIALS.

Harlan T. Waity, son of H. E. Waity of Bishop & Co., bankers, and Miss L. Long of San Francisco were married at the home of the groom's parents, 1330 Beretania avenue at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the 26th inst. The marriage ceremony was most impressively performed by the Rev. W. M. Kincaid. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion and, as soon as the ceremony was over, the wedding party sat down to a dinner, the remembrance of which will linger long in the memory of those present.

The affair was strictly private, this at the request of the bride who recently had the sad misfortune to lose her mother in San Francisco. Members of the family and witnesses were the only ones present.

Numerous handsome presents were received. The bride's friends in San Francisco remembered her most generously. The young people will go to housekeeping at once in their new cottage on Kinaiu street, which had been previously fitted up and provisioned.

ADVERTISING TOURNEY.

The Advertising Tourney was a great success. The Bulletin led off, with its calf, getting special mention. Several other firms received special mention. The prize awards were as follows: 1. The most original conception, National Cash Register Company. 2. The most spectacular display, Bruce Waring & Co. 3. The most artistic design, Lewis & Co. 4. The most comical performance, Pacific Hardware Company, Limited.

The Executive Council.

The Executive Council this morning devoted its time to routine matters that have accumulated in the past week. Demetrius Lycourus was granted a license for his hotel in Hilo on the same lines as the license for the Moana hotel in Waikiki. An application from the same party for a straight license was refused.

Auditor Austin was called in and asked if it would be necessary to ask the Legislature for appropriations for expenses following the expiration of the biennial period. The reply was that such was not necessary, as appropriations were continued by law until new appropriations were made.

J. S. Scott, chairman of the Hilo Road Board, wrote that he had an application from the Hilo Mill Company for reimbursement for a road it had constructed in Hilo. The Executive Council declined to approve the application.

Three applications to accept roads as government highways were rejected because of objections from Surveyor Wall to the grades. They were the roads in the College Hills tract; the Achi tract in Palama and the Hilo Railroad at Olaa.

E. S. Boyd read a proposition from the Hana plantation, offering $500 for certain water rights. The matter was deferred.

For Groceries, Ring up Blue 911.

COOPER WON'T TALK.

Acting Governor Cooper refused positively to be interviewed this morning by a Bulletin reporter upon the matter of pardoning A. S. Hartwell, S. M. Ballou and W. A. Kinney. "I had my reasons which to me were sufficient is all I will say," said Mr. Cooper.

In the Police Court.

There were twenty-eight cases on the Police Court calendar this morning. Three drunks were fined $2 and costs for their overindulgence. Joe Silva and F. H. Hamm were reprimanded and discharged. They were charged with violating section 221 and 17 of the Penal Laws, respectively. A gang of crap shooters caught in a game on Union street, each paid $5 and costs for their lawbreaking. The case of obstructing and perverting justice against Jno. Meyers was dismissed. C. E. Stimmess and J. Toyi charged with assault and battery on Ah Sut were discharged. Ah Wa was fined $5 for cruelty to animals. The cases of selling liquor illegally against Nautelo will be heard on Wednesday, and A. Hogan, charged with violating section 379 of the Penal Laws, will be tried tomorrow.

DIED.

ATWATER--In New Haven, Conn., May 4, 1901, of typhoid fever, Frederick Sanford, eldest son of W. O. Atwater, of Honolulu, aged thirty years.

The big American iron ship Marlon Chilcott arrived Saturday, 47 days from Newcastle, with 2300 tons of coal for the Honolulu plantation. Captain Wedon has his wife and family with him.

THURSTON'S CLIENT IS NOW IN TOWN

FREAR'S DELAY EXPLAINED

The hearing on the application of L. A. Thurston for a writ of habeas corpus before Chief Justice Frear was postponed this morning until Wednesday.

The story of the long time given the respondent in which to get ready for his showing before the Supreme Court, together with the additional chapter of the two days' postponement, upon the Chief Justice's own suggestion, is best told in the movements of L. A. Thurston with reference to the "client," whose name he refused to give to the Grand Jury.

The client was J. L. Coeper of Hawaii. When the order of Judge Humphreys was made directing L. A. Thurston to give the name of his client to the Grand Jury, or to go to jail, Coeper was on the Big Island. The record of the Supreme Court in the matter of the contempt of George A. Davis, together with the decision in the case of the condemned Japanese murderer, fled by the Supreme Court on the day Thurston was ordered committed by Judge Humphreys, were very embarrassing impediments in the way of a favorable decision for Thurston.

Time was needed for the respondent, Thurston, to reach his client, Coeper. The wireless telegraph, the telephone, and the returning Kaniho would bring Coeper to the Capital City, Saturday. He would then be here to remove the "professional leashes" of restraint from the lips of Thurston. Thurston could obey the orders of Judge Humphreys. The Chief Justice could escape the necessity of choosing between reversing himself or sending Thurston to jail. Accordingly, the hearing on the Thurston writ of habeas corpus was set for today, five days after his commitment by Judge Humphreys.

Accordingly, Thurston dispatched a telegram to Gardner K. Wilder and J. L. Coeper to Marooni there to be transmitted to Honolulu by telephone, saying "Send Coeper to Honolulu by this Kaniho. Extremely important." Signed, Charles T. Wilder.

Mr. Coeper received the message late last Friday evening. He came to Honolulu by the Kaniho. He hunted up Charles T. Wilder and said, "I got your telegram." "That was not my message," said Wilder, "but I signed it. Thurston had to see you."

The genial German, Mr. Coeper, felt a variety of sensations, and when he arrived at his room, only to be informed that an officer had been there, with characteristic German stolidity, he said to himself: "If they want me so badly, let them find me."

He therefore remained close in his room over Sunday and this morning was not in a hurry to run up to the office of Thurston.

So it happened that with all the patting taken, the hour for a hearing on the

BIG OPIUM SHIPMENT.

Mike, a Spaniard and a steerage passenger in the Zealandia, has acknowledged ownership of the shipment of opium captured by Inspector Walter Doyle on the Oceanic wharf yesterday. He got it aboard the vessel at San Francisco as baggage so it was not manifested. All he gained by bringing it that way was a saving on the freight. U. S. Attorney Baird will give an opinion this afternoon on the matter of the seizure by the Customs authorities.

The fact that the opium was all stamped "duty paid" and that it was in such a large quantity goes to show that the contention of the Customs people that the dope in town in such great quantities comes as this lot has by way of San Francisco and not from the Orient.

Conger in Washington.

Washington, May 15.--Minister Conpaid a flying visit to Assistant Secretary Hill today prior to his return to Iowa. He will return to Washington to consult with the President before leaving for his post in China.

CAPT. POTTER TRANSFERRED

Captain Potter, for many years in command of the Alden Besse, has been transferred to the barkentine H. Pfeuger. The Pfeuger was to have sailed from San Francisco on the 18th inst. for this port.

Issue of 6,000,000 Yen.

Yokohama, May 18.--The Government has announced the issue of 6,000,000 yen in exchange bills at 7 1/2 per cent, repayable in six months, to defray the expenses of the China campaign.

BORN.

THOMPSON--In this city, May 24, 1901, to the wife of Jas. E. Thompson, a son.

habeas corpus, arrived without Thurston having yet been able to see his "client."

Accordingly, Chief Justice Frear, when the case was called, said that, owing to the pressure of other important business this case would have to be continued until Wednesday.

A. S. Hartwell, attorney for Thurston, naively stated that he would really prefer to go ahead with the hearing, but would of course submit to the pleasure of the Court.

When the court adjourned, L. A. Thurston went down Merchant street to Fort, turning down, stopping at the shop of Martin, the tailor. Here he was conferring with J. A. McCandless and other friends, when his "client," Mr. Coeper, came up. The greeting was cordial and the twain, Thurston and Coeper, went away together.

The relation of attorney and client between Thurston and Coeper consisted of the latter securing the services of the former in drawing up certain forms to be used in securing rights of way from land holders, for the Kona-Kohala railroad. It was during conferences about this railroad business that Coeper told Thurston certain members of the lower house had asked him: "What is there in it?" when pressed to pass the Kona-Kohala once with the Legislature, through his railroad bill. Mr. Coeper talked freely of the whole matter from his experience with Thurston. To his receipt of the telegram last Friday at Honolulu.

He hardly knew what to make of the whole matter but was willing that everything be made known.

What he knows about bribery is summed up in these words: "I was pressing the merits of my railroad bill upon members of the Legislature. In three instances, he says he was asked 'What is there in it?' 'What do you think it ought to be worth?' He replied in two instances. To his query, one response was, '$1,000; another $1500.' 'At this rate I thought I would be broke,' said Mr. Coeper. 'So I went home and began buying right of way.'"

The failure of Mr. Thurston to connect with his client on Sunday was unfortunate for the Chief Justice.

The subpoena out for Coeper is from the Grand Jury, and his story will probably be told to that body as this is being read.

The seal has been removed from the lips of L. A. Thurston unless Coeper changed his mind after 10:30 a. m. today and Chief Justice Frear finds himself extricated from an embarrassing dilemma, providing Mr. Thurston will now go before the Grand Jury per the order of the Judge of the First Circuit Court and corroborate the story his "client" is telling or soon will tell.

FIRE CLAIMS COURT MET.

The Fire Claims Commission met this morning and distributed blanks for filing applications for hearing. Nine claims have already been filed. On Friday consideration will be commenced.

Harry Penhallow and a friend narrowly escaped a ducking yesterday in the little sloop Opitsh. They got out-side of the reef when a leak was discovered. The water came in faster than it could be bailed out and had it not been for the timely arrival of Henry Williams in his launch the boys would probably have had to swim in.

IN SOUTH AFRICA.

London, May 18.--The Pretoria correspondent of the Times wiring Thursday reports greatly improved prospects for the winter campaign. "The numerous surrenders of the Boers are a healthy sign," he says. "I am unable as yet to see a near date for the close of hostilities, but one may be more hopeful, especially if the results of the coming activity resemble those of the past month."

California in New York.

New York, May 13.--After discharging her cargo of 8000 tons of sugar at Philadelphia the new American-Hawaiian Steamship Company arrived here today from the Pacific. The Californian is the first of a great fleet of steamers built to operate between New York, San Francisco and the Hawaiian Islands.

German Railroad Frauds.

Berlin, May 18.--Frauds and peculations amounting to 31,000,000 roubles, have been discovered upon the Russo-Polish and Vistula railroads. They were carried out by wholesale declarations of deficient freight weights. In Warsaw alone forty arrests have been made.

THEIR MEETING WAS SET FOR MAY 18

Beckley Writes of Invitation to Confer With President.

ALL DOCUMENTS WERE LAID BEFORE SECRETARY

Delegation to Await McKinley's Answer Before Returning to Honolulu--Interview With Beckley.

News has been received from Representative Beckley, sent to San Francisco by a resolution of the House to extend Hawaii's welcome to the Chief Magistrate of the United States.

Delegate Wilcox and Representative Beckley arrived in San Francisco on the morning of the 15th inst. At 5 p. m., Mr. Beckley had an interview with Secretary Cortelyou and laid before him the resolutions and other matters in connection with the mission.

The President's secretary informed the delegation that he would lay the matter before the President since, owing to the illness of Mrs. McKinley, the President had declared off everything but the most necessary and urgent public functions which had already been arranged for.

On the 17th inst., Mrs. McKinley being somewhat better in health, Delegate Wilcox and Representative Beckley were invited to meet the President on the following day. The details of this meeting could not be learned as the Zealandia sailed before the hour appointed for the same.

The letter from Representative Beckley stated that the delegation would await the answer of the President before returning to Honolulu.

The following appears in the Chronicle of the 18th inst.: "We blame Governor Dole and his political adherents," said Beckley, when seen at the Occidental yesterday, "for their studied interference with the work of the Legislature. As is well known, the Home Rule party, which represents the native element in the Islands, captured a big majority of the seats in both houses of the Legislature at the last election, and the Missionary party, which was in control of political affairs under the Provisional Government and under the Republic, decline to relinquish the power it has enjoyed for ten years. Some of our people, whose first introduction to the blessings and advantages of a free government came with their election to seats in the Legislature, found, upon assembling in Honolulu, that their labors as legislators could only be pursued in the face of pronounced opposition from the Dole administration. These legislators were charged with the responsibility of readjusting the laws of Hawaii to fit the new Territorial conditions, and they were even denied the privilege of seeing the old statutes, civil and penal, which they needed in order to legislate wisely and intelligently. There was a studied attempt to hinder the work of the Legislature so that the insufficient results of the session might be used as an argument to show that the native Hawaiians were not capable of self-government."

Iwilei the Scene Of Probable Murder

An assault which is likely to prove murder was committed at Iwilei last night shortly after midnight. A Japanese, name unknown, was frightfully beaten by one of his countrymen and is now hovering between life and death.

The man's injuries were received at the hands of several Japanese pimps. Both his arms are broken, several ribs fractured and it is thought that his skull is also fractured. His face was so badly beaten that he is almost unrecognizable. The police are at work on the case but so far, have no strong clue.

Blue and the Gray.

"The Blue and the Gray," to be presented tonight at the Orpheum, is one of the few military plays written during the late war with Spain that possessed sufficient merit of plot and correctness of detail to survive the general excitement. A military play is always popular on account of its rapidly changing situations and the opportunities for purely dramatic work afforded by the very nature of the piece. "The Blue and the Gray" is no exception to the rule. There is a thrill in every scene, besides a strong vein of humor running throughout the plot. The Elfelds should render a good account of this bit both in comedy and the more serious situations.

The box sale looks like another crowded house and the play should prove perhaps the greatest favorite of the season.

Zealandia Sails Tomorrow.

The S. S. Zealandia will sail at 10 p. m. Tuesday, 28th inst. The agents find it necessary for this trip only to dispatch her ahead of the advertised sailing date in order that she may conform to the temporary schedule substituted through the withdrawal of the Mariposa for a voyage to Sydney.

For a Coaling Station.

London, May 18.--"The United States Government is trying to persuade Portugal," says the Lisbon correspondent of the Daily News, "to cede an island in the Azores for a coaling station."

WEST POINT STUDENTS IN TROUBLE

New York, May 18.--A special to the World from Washington says: Information of a semi-official nature has been received here from the West Point Military Academy of a serious condition of affairs prevailing in the cadet battalion which amounts almost to an insurrection of a large number of upper class men.

Trouble has been known to exist at the institution since the investigation of the booze bazing and matters have grown so bad of late that it is reported here that no less than eighty cadets, chiefly of the second or next ranking class, and perhaps a large proportion might be court martialed.

The so-called insurrection is said to have been a result of the growing unpopularity of Colonel Mills, the superintendent, who, army officers allege, has issued orders and prescribed regulations which the cadets believe are entirely opposed to the traditions and best interests of the school.

Adjutant General Corbin said at 12:30 this morning that he had not received any report of trouble at West Point, and that he knew nothing of the affair.

WEEDON WILL ADVERTISE.

W. C. Weedon, manager of Bruce Waring & Co., will leave for the Mainland next Wednesday to attend the coming Y. M. C. A. National Convention which will soon be held in Boston. Mr. Weedon is International Vice President of the Y. M. C. A. He will spend most of his time in Cleveland, Ohio, but will travel quite extensively throughout the entire east.

Mr. Weedon will take a collection of stereoscopic views with him, and will try in every way to advertise Hawaii and secure the introduction of foreign capital into these Islands. He will also buy the new plant for the Hawaiian Fibre Company, as the first crop is soon to be cut from the fields.

ANOTHER ADVERTISER FAKE.

There is absolutely not a shadow of truth in the statement made in the Advertiser this morning to the effect that Judge Gear is at work in San Francisco in the interests of M. M. Estee for Governor of Hawaii. The reason for Judge Gear's departure from Honolulu is so well known as to need no repetition. He left San Francisco for Philadelphia on the 8th inst., five days before the arrival of President McKinley and did not expect to be back on the Pacific Coast before the 25th.

Hawaiian Mail Contract.

Washington, May 15.--The Postoffice Department has closed a contract with the Hawaiian Navigation Company for performing steamboat mail service between Honolulu and points on other islands in Hawaii for a distance of 200 miles each way on an irregular schedule. The contracting company is directed to "notify postmasters by telephone as far as practicable of arrival at landing."

Zealandia Sails Tomorrow.

The S. S. Zealandia will sail at 10 p. m. Tuesday, 28th inst. The agents find it necessary for this trip only to dispatch her ahead of the advertised sailing date in order that she may conform to the temporary schedule substituted through the withdrawal of the Mariposa for a voyage to Sydney.

For a Coaling Station.

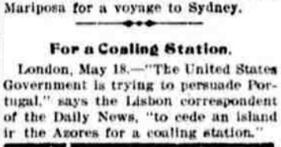

London, May 18.--"The United States Government is trying to persuade Portugal," says the Lisbon correspondent of the Daily News, "to cede an island in the Azores for a coaling station."
