To twenty-nine worn-out, ship-cers and every man of the Fannie Kerr, wrecked seamen Honolulu is today the "We'll see you again, Captain," cried most beautiful place in all the world; the tired-out mariners as they said and the crew of the British ship Fan-good-by to Captain Gregory at the pier Kerr, which was abandoned seven wharf, "and we won't forget what or eight hundred miles to the north-you've done for us; that we won't west of the island of Kauai on the All hands marched to the Sallo's 24th of May, are well qualified to Home where Captain Bray, the super- practice boys, midshipmen as they are crowd. With the light of day this morning with Captain Gibbons and the Fannie the steamer Mikahala, Captain Greg-Kerr's crew. At 9 o'clock this morn- ing, arrived in port from the island of Kauai. She brought the captain, off- appeared before Commissioner Hoare and a preliminary inquiry was made of the circumstances leading up to the abandoning of the fine vessel which is now probably a smoking hulk on the broad bosom of the Pacific.

The officers and men were seen early this morning at the Sallo's Home. Each man had his story to tell. In the main each account was the same as far as the fire aboard ship was concerned. The occupants of the different boats which pushed off from the burning ship's side, of course, varied, as did the fortunes of the boats.

BADLY BUILT WALL FALLS INTO STREET

Very Fortunately No Lives Are Placed In Danger.

HOW JAPANESE ARE PUTTING UP BUILDING

Mortar Used Comes From Kaunakapili Ruins—Authorities Have Made No Investigations Whatever.

Without any apparent reason; with not even the slightest breeze from any direction or the impelling force of even the slightest earthquake; with no one to push or no one to pull, the front wall of the Japanese built brick wall of the new structure being erected at the makai Ewa end of Nuuanu and Beretania streets, fell at about 3 o'clock this morning.

It was certainly great good fortune that no one happened to be passing by on Nuuanu street at the hour mentioned for, even had persons been in the middle of the street near the building that ought to be condemned, death or horrible maiming would have surely resulted from the hundreds of falling bricks and mortar.

When a reporter of the Bulletin called at the place at about 7 o'clock this morning, the Japanese employed on the structure were working with might and main to clear the street of the bricks but with all their quick work and zeal in the matter of covering up their tracks, they could not obliterate the marks the mortar, ground into the hard dirt, by the falling bricks. These marks extended over and upon the tramcar tracks showing that, had a car been passing at the time, it must have been wrecked beyond all power of recognition.

The building in question is another one of those charmingly shabby structures that, since the commencement of rebuilding operations in old Chinatown, have seemed to hold sway. Although a brick building, there is absolutely no foundation, the various pillars and walls have been built directly from the ground and in such a way as to make them accommodate themselves to the various curvatures of the ground, thus assuring curvatures in the very spine of the building.

With this sort of a lack of foundation on which to build, the Japanese brick masons have gone to work like a lot of children with mud and stones. The walls of the lower floor, constituted no problem whatever. In no time, they were up and then began the work on the walls of the second floor. The start was made from the makai end and the work went along swimmingly until yesterday afternoon at quitting time, between fifty and sixty feet of the wall had been built a little above the frames of the numerous windows.

The Japanese quit their work contented and during the early morning hours, when all were asleep, the wall for a space of something over forty feet from the mauka end, just nodded and collapsed and now, as the day progresses, the same men are putting up the same wall in the same way and with the same mortar, without even the semblance of an objection from the proper authorities, based on the sanitary regulations of the Board of Health for the Honolulu District.

The reporter who called around this morning to view the building which hundreds of people passing by on Nuuanu cannot help but be a menace to the

The Advertiser's Denial

MR. COOPER DECLARES Is Absolutely False

This morning's Advertiser contains the following editorial paragraph: "The statement of the Bulletin that Acting Governor Cooper refused the pardon in the Smith contempt case which Governor Dole so promptly granted is untrue and is probably designed to create more friction in the Republican party. When called upon last Thursday night Judge Cooper was a very sick man, but he said he hoped to be able to take up the question of the pardon the first thing in the morning. When morning came he was worse and he has not yet returned to duty. As Judge Cooper is the man who, in the famous contempt proceedings of a year ago issued the pardons which kept Judge Hartwell and Messrs. Kinney and Ballou from going to jail at the instance of a disreputable and revengeful court, his attitude in the more recent crisis of the fight for good government may be easily surmised."

Taking the third statement in the foregoing first, namely, that Secretary Cooper "has not yet returned to duty," the reply is that he attended the executive council yesterday morning and remained there until noon. He was seen in his own office after 1 o'clock by a representative of the Bulletin, who asked after his health and whether he had been present at the council meeting. Answering the latter question in the affirmative he remarked that his regular custom was to retire from the meeting at 12 o'clock. Secretary Cooper was ascertained to have been detained at home again this morning, not having quite recovered from his recent illness. The same member of the Bulletin staff who had seen him yesterday called up his residence telephone number at Pearl City to ask if he had seen the contradiction of the Bulletin's news article about himself in the Advertiser. The answer was that he had not seen this morning's paper, and the following message was conveyed to him: "The Advertiser says that the Bulletin's statement regarding Mr. Cooper and the Smith pardon is untrue. Ask Mr. Cooper, please, if he has anything to say on the matter."

While the reporter waited Mr. Cooper came to the telephone personally, when the question was repeated to him and he replied: "It is absolutely false. The last words I had with Mr. Thurston were to tell him I would not interfere in the matter at that time, but if Mr. Dole did not return I would take it into consideration." This contradiction of the Advertiser by Secretary Cooper incidentally corroborates the concluding statement in yesterday's Bulletin, upon which the Advertiser evades commenting, namely: "Mr. Cooper steadfastly refused to interfere, as, in the face of the affirmation of sentence by the Supreme Court, it would have been an unwelcome interference with the judiciary. While the acting chief executive felt that the sentence was excessive, he considered that intervention the very day the sentence began to take effect would be decidedly premature." Since the Advertiser has ventured upon a bluff in the matter, it may be stated that the Bulletin was in a position to state yesterday, but preferred reserve to that extent, that Secretary Cooper had in conversation expressed regret that Governor Dole should have interfered so hastily.

GOOD RACES MAY BE LOOKED FOR

Out at Kapiolani Park on Kamehameha Day.

EVERYTHING SEEMS TO PROMISE GREAT SUCCESS

C. B. Wilson Will Do Starting—Officers Have All Been Chosen—Large Crowd Assured For Tomorrow.

From the present indications, the races at Kapiolani Park tomorrow will be far above the average. This impression is so general that there is hardly anyone on the streets today who does not intend to go out to Kapiolani Park. The races will begin at 10 o'clock sharp or as sharp as possible. The band will be present, the wind will blow, the track is in good conditions, the officers are in a good mood, it will be just hot enough to assure the very best of races, and everything, it is believed, will conspire to make June 11th this year one of the most successful that has been held here for a long time.

The Jockey Club officers in charge of the arrangements at Kapiolani Park tomorrow are as follows: W. H. Cornwell, president; Edgar Halstead, vice president; C. L. Crabbe, secretary; and G. P. Wilder, treasurer. Executive Committee—Prince David Kawananakoa, Frank Halstead, S. I. Shaw and C. L. Crabbe. Reception Committee—H. M. Whitney Jr., Dr. M. E. Grossman and W. C. Wilder. Judges—A. N. Tripp, Edgar Halstead, and A. Horner. Clerk—T. J. King. Starter—Charles B. Wilson. Timekeepers—James L. Torbert, Louis Marks and Chris Willis. Clerk of the Course—Thomas P. Cummins. Saddling Padock—L. H. Dee. Handicapper—Robert Ballantine.

These rules must be observed: All races to be run or trotted under the rules of the California Jockey Club and the National Trotting Association. All riders and drivers to appear in colors. At least three to enter and two to start. All horses are expected to start unless withdrawn by 10 a. m. on the day previous to the race.

The grand stand and refreshment. Today, all in haste at the track and booths are being whipped into shape for the great events tomorrow. Everyone of the boxes in the grand stand have been taken. The press box which occupies a position opposite the judges' stand, will be kept for newspaper men alone and outsiders will not be allowed to take seats in this box as on previous occasions.

The Bulletin is unable to publish the list of entries because the men in charge of the program wish to have their copyright protected and the easiest way to do this, they believe, is to allow no one to see these entries.

Great interest is being taken in the Weller races in the running events. It is said that there may be a surprise which is not anticipated at the present time. However, there are plenty who will still bank on Weller.

This morning, more light was thrown on the question which had arisen among the polo players as to whether the mare which Charles Rice brought over from Kauai and entered for the polo pony race was qualified to start in that race or not. It appears that this morning Mr. Rice had a consultation with those in authority and demonstrated that his mare is a bona fide polo pony and, as such, is qualified to run in the race. Mr. Rice states that his animal, a black mare by the name of Gypsy, a half-Arab, has been used by him in numerous polo games on the Garden Island. She has also been used by Mr. Rice for cattle work but has never entered in a race before. Mr. Rice does not ascribe any especial speed to the mare. In addition to the racing cups displayed in Pearson & Potter's window on Hotel street yesterday some new and interesting trophies have been added. Among them, the California

STRANGE EXPERIENCE

SUDDEN SORROW FOLLOWED BY JOY UNSPEAKABLE

Brother of Dr. Murray, Late of Honolulu, Proves Very Much Alive After His Supposed Burial.

An extremely trying experience lately befell the family of Dr. H. V. Murray, formerly of Honolulu but now living in Shanghai. It was another exemplification of the adage that truth is stranger than fiction, being a case where a great and sudden sorrow was speedily followed by its abrupt wiping away. Mr. and Mrs. Angus Murray of Truro, Nova Scotia, have brought up a large family. There are five or six sons who have been highly educated, and two daughters are at home with the elderly parents. One son is a professor in Dalhousie College, Halifax, only sixty miles from home. Another is professor of mathematics in Cornell University and the author of standard text books on that subject. Dr. Murray, already mentioned, is well known to many Honolulu people from his service in steamships calling here and several years of practice in this city. Lately the Murrays received the distressing tidings in one week that one of the sons had died in British Columbia and another was critically ill in Colorado. Within a few days a sealed coffin was received at the old home and was sadly and solemnly interred in the family burial plot. The flowers had not withered on the mound, however, until Professor Murray of Halifax received positive tidings from his brother supposed to be resting in his grave, that he was still in the land of the living. The body of mistaken identity was to be disinterred, according to a Halifax dispatch in a Montreal paper, which, however, neither tells how the ghastly mistake was made nor what was to be done with the stranger dead.

One of the Murray boys was a college chum of a son of Geo. R. Ewart of Kamea, Kauai, in McGill University, Montreal, three years ago and possibly is the one here shown to have been buried by proxy.

HAGEY CURE CASE UP

EXCEPTIONS FROM VERDICT BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Another Consenting Defendant in Partition Suit—Mesick Separation Case Discontinued—Van Giesen Divorce Case.

The famous Hagey Cure Company case continued from yesterday before the Supreme Court this morning. Robertson & Wilder represent the plaintiff, while Kinney, Ballou & McElanahan appear with J. A. Magoon, one of the defendants, for the local members of the company. A jury returned a verdict for T. M. Harrison, allowing him $10,000 on the contract shown. Judge Gear denied a motion for a new trial made on the ground that one of the jurors had taken the same cure for alcoholism as the company was formed to exploit in the Colonies and India. The appeal is on exceptions from Judge Gear's ruling and the verdict. Mr. McElanahan was arguing this morning on the limited liability of the Honolulu stockholders under the articles of association.

William Lono Austin by his attorneys, Peterson & Matthewman and T. McCants Stewart, agrees that R. William Holt and others may have ten days more to answer his bill in equity to declare a trust.

Anne W. Akong by her attorneys, Robertson & Wilder, files a replication to Rudolph Duncan's answer to her complaint, saying it is untrue, uncertain and insufficient, and she will press her bill for injunction to be true, certain and sufficient.

Judge Robinson approved the report of sale in Buffandau vs. Montana by C. F. Reynolds, commissioner, allowing him a fee of $300.

James D. Lewis, one of the defendants in the partition suit of Bailey and others vs. Cushingham and others, involving the old Auld estate, answers with consent to the sale of the property at King and Bethel streets, besides giving his opinion that another piece of equitable partition and ought to be sold. A portion of it is low and swampy and far from the government road, other portions are not swampy and a third locality is high and suitable for residences. He prays that all of it property be sold at public auction and the proceeds divided amongst the parties entitled thereto.

The Mesick separation case has been discontinued before Judge Robinson. In the divorce case of George Henry Van Giesen vs. Elizabeth H. Van Giesen, the libellee was refused custody of the child but allowed $15 a month alimony from the husband pending a decision, together with $25 for her lawyer's fee. Chillingworth for libellant; Magoon & Peters for libellee.

Commissioner E. S. Gill, after holding an examination, bound Manuel and Daisy Vierra over to the grand jury in $1000 bail each, for the unlawful distillation of spirituous liquor. Up till this afternoon, they had not found bail. The Vierras with their kolekole still were captured Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth.

Strangers' Friend Society Will Celebrate Tonight.

MEETING TO BE HELD WHERE SOCIETY BEGAN

Officers Elected at Regular Annual Meeting Held This Morning—President to Read Report Tonight.

The Strangers' Friend Society held their fiftieth annual meeting this morning in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. It was mainly a business meeting. The report of the secretary, Mrs. S. M. Damon, gave a review of the work done by the society during the past year as well as a short sketch of the past of the society.

The Strangers' Friend Society was formed in the year 1852 in the parlors of the old Damon residence on Chaplain lane. The founding of the society had its initiation in a feeling among the ladies in Honolulu at that time that something could be done and must be done to alleviate the sufferings of those who were destitute, sick and poor in the city. No regard was taken for the nationality of the relig-
