Campbell Challenges Statements Of Anti-Saloon League

SHOWS UP THEO. RICHARDS' INACCURACIES

"I believe in people who do things and not in mere talk," said Acting Governor Atkinson this morning while discussing the anti-liquor crusade. "I am certainly against the saloons. That is, I believe there should be some saloons, but under the present liquor law there are far too many, and drunkenness is on the increase."

The following interesting letters from Treasurer Campbell, answering the open letter of Theo. Richards, were then given out:

Honolulu, Oahu, March 23, 1906. Theodore Richards, Esq., Chairman, Anti-Saloon League, Honolulu, T. H. Dear Sir:—I notice in the daily papers under date of the 22nd inst., a letter from you setting forth that certain statements are all facts.

Ist. You state in referring to Kona that "there has been considerable interest around among the people there by opposing petitions for saloons."

2nd. You state as a fact that T. Shibayama of Kealahou, S. Kona, "obtained eight signatures on his petition, of which names five are those living outside the limit."

3rd. You state that, "It is noteworthy that this same Shibayama is an applicant for another saloon at Koluha, too."

No such application nor any records of any such application can be found in this office, although one K. Shibayama has made an application for a license to manufacture wine at Houloua, N. Kona.

The denial of certain of the signers to both the petitions of Sing Sing and T. Shibayama raises a very serious question and one on which I wrote you fully yesterday; but it is not more than possible, that when your short letter contains so many inaccurate statements, that your information concerning notaries is more than likely just as unreliable. However, I have written to the parties you named in your letter of the 19th inst., and if your heavy evidence is confirmed by them, undoubtedly the notaries will be prosecuted.

Some months ago Mr. Lyle A. Dickey called on me and stated that he was on a committee of your league to take in hand the liquor licenses. I told him that I was pleased to learn that active work was to be taken up and informed him that anything this office could do to help would be done and at the same time instructed the license clerk to give him all information at any time. Since that time I have not heard of your league doing anything, although a representative of your league has examined applications on file in this office.

Now, Mr. Richards, as I have neither the time nor the inclination to correct statements which you may hastily run into print with, I most respectfully ask that hereafter you better inform yourself on questions you wish to submit in open letters to the public, and that you make a correction of yesterday's letter giving the same as much publicity as you did the original.

Respectfully yours,
A. J. CAMPBELL,
Treasurer, Territory of Hawaii.

Honolulu, Oahu, March 23, 1906. Theodore Richards, Esq., Honolulu, T. H.

Dear Sir:—Yours of the 19th inst., reporting on behalf of the Anti-Saloon League certain supposed irregularities in connection with the issuance of liquor licenses at Sing Sing at Kainaliu, N. Kona, and to T. Shibayama, at Kealahou, S. Kona, was received yesterday. In both cases you set forth that quite a number of the signers of the affidavits are outside of the limit. Nearly every property holder's affidavit on file in this office has names on it of persons who are outside of the limit, but in checking up with the list of property holders supplied this office by the Sheriffs or Deputy Sheriffs of the respective districts all names of persons not qualified to sign are omitted. And although the applicant swears before a notary that he has a majority of property holders or occupants within the prescribed distances, if after eliminating names not qualified to sign there does not remain a majority, the application is refused; several applications have met this fate.

The reason why so many of these affidavits contain names other than those qualified to sign, is in some cases due to the crude methods which they have of arriving at the correct boundaries; in other cases it is due to the desire of the notaries who generally get the signatures, to secure as many names as possible, as they are paid for each acknowledgment; and possibly in some cases it is done to mislead this Department.

COMIC SUPPLEMENT

The colored comic supplement that has been a feature of the Saturday Bulletin for nearly two years will be discontinued for a time at least and a new feature introduced which the Bulletin believes will be even more popular. Unfortunately the delivery of shipments from New York is attended by such unexpected delays that the cessation of the comic supplement is not coincident with the introduction of that which is to take its place. It is expected, however, that only a short time will elapse before Bulletin patrons will be served with something additional which is thoroughly metropolitan and furnishes an aid to digestion and good humor on other days, as well as Saturday.

A-H. S. S. Co. Offers To Build New Boat For Hawaii

16-KNOTS, 5 1-2 DAYS, 500 FT, $1,350,000

The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company has made a tentative proposition in the matter of providing Hawaii with a large new steamship to ply between this port and San Francisco.

George W. Smith, president of the Honolulu Merchants' Association, accompanied by E. A. McInerney and Mark Robinson, all members of the delegation of Hawaiian business men to Washington, to urge the Federal revenue refund bill for Hawaii, have taken up the matter of a new steamship for the local run with the main office of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company in New York, with the result that the steamship people have mapped out a scheme for the realization of the new line.

It is the idea of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company that a steamship be constructed at a cost of $1,350,000.

They have obtained preliminary plans for a steamer 500 feet long, with speed of sixteen knots, to accommodate between 200 and 300 saloon passengers and to carry about 3,000 tons of measurement cargo and 5,000 tons weight of sugar, with refrigerating plant and special provision for carrying bananas.

Such a steamer would make the trip between San Francisco and Honolulu in 5 1/2 days, maintaining a schedule of 21 days.

The owning company would contract with the American-Hawaiian S. S. Co. to operate the steamship, the actual net receipts of the steamer to go to the owning company.

Officers of the owning company would receive no salaries.

A satisfactory commission arrangement would be made with the sugar-shippers.

A reasonable freight tariff would also be arranged and the passenger tariff would be scaled on the basis of accommodations, on the basis of a minimum of $50 one way.

Less than $400,000 would have to be provided by the Honolulu community, the A-H. S. S. Co., including the marketing of bonds, providing over a million dollars.

As there is a possibility of the ship subsidy bill passing the present Congress, which might result in a large demand on the ship-building concerns of the country, it is important that the matter be brought to a head as soon as possible.

President G. W. Smith of the Merchants' Association says in a private letter from New York, dated March 21: "This is a matter of great importance to our mercantile community and one in which the Merchants' Association has interested itself for the past two years. I deemed it a duty while in New York to take up the matter with the main office of the A-H. S. S. Co."

"I trust that the Association and its members will use the utmost diligence in bringing this matter to a point from which we can assure the company of the necessary support from our end."

Notley Talks Of "Schemes"

Although political moves are still in embryo, the Home Rulers are losing no time in planning how to pull their party together for the fall campaign.

Mr. Notley, who is the president, and virtually the mainstay of the Home Rule party, is very hopeful. He does not regard the charges of the weakness in his ranks very seriously. When referred to the fact that his party has only one representative in the House, he said: "What more can be expected? If the official visits of the Governor and the Secretary, during the last Territorial campaign, which savored more or less of political schemes, and which no doubt produced much weight and influence upon the Hawaiians, had not intervened, the Home Rulers would have been able to boast of more than one Representative. We are assured of better success this fall, providing the high officials will not make more visits."

Aside from this, Mr. Notley said: "All political parties anyway have their ups and downs. The Democrats have suffered the same thing at the National Capital, when it will be remembered, that at one time they had but fifty-three Representatives in the House."

When asked about the intimation of the Advertiser, that the Home Rule leaders are suspected of being paid by the Republican machine in order to keep defunct from its door, Mr. Notley said: "There is nothing in it. We are pulling together not only for the purpose of maintaining the identity of a Hawaiian political organization, but more than anything else, to keep those under our influence from sub-

Carter May Go To Capital

Governor Carter may go to Washington, and in all events he will not return to Honolulu in May, as was expected.

Acting Governor Atkinson today received a letter from the Governor, who is now staying in Southern California for the purpose of building up his health.

"The Governor says that he will not come back in May, as had at first been decided," said Atkinson. "He will delay his return for about a month, and he may go to Washington, but he has not decided about this last thing yet. The Governor also writes that he is slowly improving in health."

Fraud Says Prosser And Starts Row In Open Court

SERIOUS CHARGE IN SEASIDE HOTEL CASE

"It stinks with fraud." This statement was made in open court this morning by M. F. Prosser, attorney for plaintiffs, on the hearing of the case of May & Co., Ltd., vs. Waikiki Seaside Hotel Co., just after Fred Wundenberg had been on the witness stand to answer for certain money in his possession which had been attached by the plaintiff. Prosser referred to a deed of assignment whereby some of the creditors of the defendant made a deed of assignment to Wundenberg.

"The whole thing is simply this," said Prosser, explaining the situation. "The Waikiki Seaside Hotel Co. was owned by a bunch of Macfarlanes, it owed $18,000 to Macfarlane & Co., $1000 to May & Co. The Macfarlanes then made a deed of assignment to Fred Wundenberg, the idea being that May & Co. would get about 40 cents as its pro rata share, while the Macfarlanes as creditors would get the rest." When the proceedings opened before Judge De Bolt today Wundenberg was present, but a little while later, when Prosser wanted to call him on the stand, he had disappeared. "I ask you in open Court, did you advise Wundenberg to leave the room?" said Prosser to Magoon. "I am not asking any questions," said Magoon. "Just call your witness."
