SOCIAL CHATTER AND HOME TALK

THE TOWN seems to have gone Fleet-mad, and next week will be a fete-time for everybody. Already electric wires are strung over all the hotels and principal streets and shops, and the electricians should make a brave showing in honor of our Naval guests. There will be much private entertaining which the officers will probably enjoy much more than the public affairs, however brilliant. The officers, they say, are a handsome lot of men, the pick of the Navy, and more than one comes here with the reputation of being a fascinator.

Captain and Mrs. Rees have cards out for an At Home at the Pleasanton on Friday, July the seventeenth, so delightfully located for such an entertainment, and Mrs. Swanzy's dance for the younger set of officers will be a charming affair. The Doles will probably give a garden fete and Major and Mrs. Dunning have something in view which will certainly be entertaining. And there are invitations already out for innumerable teas, dinners, swimming and surfing parties, to say nothing of coming contests, which are always so exciting. The public Fleet ball, which has been so commented upon, will be attended not only by the townspeople but Society as well, and much amusement and fun is expected at the function.

The Moana and Seaside Hotels will get the benefit of the vast multitude which will surely attend. Everything seems to be going on serenely and all Honolulu is prepared to welcome the Fleet with open arms. The officers in command are as follows:

Flag Officers—Rear Admiral C. S. Sperry, Commander in Chief, Commander First Division; Rear Admiral W. H. Emory, Commander Third Division; Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, Commander Fourth Division; Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright, Commander Second Division.

Captains—Captain W. P. Potter, commanding Vermont; Captain Kosuth Niles, commanding Louisiana; Captain John Hubbard, commanding Minnesota; Captain J. B. Murdock, commanding Rhode Island; Captain Hugo Osterhaus, commanding Connecticut; Captain C. E. Vreeland, commanding Kansas; Captain E. F. Quiltrough, commanding Georgia; Captain W. H. H. Southerland, commanding New Jersey; Captain T. B. Howard, commanding Ohio; Captain W. C. Cowles, commanding Kentucky; Captain R. P. Nicholson, commanding Nebraska; Captain Henry Morrell, commanding Wisconsin; Captain Hamilton Hutchins, commanding Keosauqua; Captain J. M. Bowyer, commanding Illinois; Captain Alexander Sharp, commanding Virginia; Captain R. M. Doyle, commanding Missouri.

Commanders—Commander W. S. Hogg, commanding Glacier; Commander A. W. Grant, Chief of Staff, Atlantic Fleet; Commander V. S. Nelson, commanding Panther.

Lieutenant Commanders—Surgeon Charles F. Stokes, commanding Relief; Lieutenant Commander J. B. Patton, commanding Cuiqoa; Lieutenant Commander C. B. McVay, Jr., commanding Yankton.

Sewing Tea

A pretty little sewing tea a fresco was given on Monday afternoon by Mrs. Ralph Forster at the British Consulate. Little tables under the trees looked very attractive and needles and tongues vied with each other, the pleasant chat being kept up until the arrival of tea, which always tastes better in the open. The dainty sewing was again resumed and not until a late hour did the guests say farewell to the charming hostess. Everybody is hoping the Forsters will remain on here. They are both young and popular and have thoroughly identified themselves with our agreeably informal life. Among those present were Mrs. F. H. Humphris, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Babitt, Mrs. Mist, Miss Mist, Mrs. Montague Cooke, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Forster, Mrs. Seidon Kingsbury, Mrs. Clinton Ballentyne, Mrs. Hanneberg, Miss Russell, Mrs. Hawes, Jr.

Kerrigan-Lehigh Nuptials

The wedding of Miss Lotta Kerrigan, daughter of J. F. Kerrigan, and William F. Lehigh of Honolulu, was the culmination of a romance which originated two years ago, at which time Miss Kerrigan visited the islands. The wedding took place at the Westminster Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening, Rev. Marcotte officiating. C. E. Hickman was the best man, and the ushers were A. R. Kerrigan and A. Cammack of Honolulu. The bride made a charming picture in a gown of satin with duchesse lace panels and bertha-cut empire, worn with a long veil and orange blossoms. She carried bride's roses and lilies of the valley and wore a diamond pin, the gift of the groom. Miss Anna Scott was the maid-of-honor, and wore pink messaline and a pink picture hat. The decorations for the church and the house were most elaborate. Following supper numerous telegrams and cablegrams of congratulations were read. After a month's sojourn in California Mr. and Mrs. Lehigh will sail for Honolulu, their future home. Mr. Lehigh is general manager of telephone lines in Honolulu, though he formerly resided in this city.—Sunday Oregonian, June 21st, 1908.

For Miss Spalding

The Misses Jordan gave a tea on Tuesday in honor of Miss Edith Spalding, whose engagement was announced recently to Lieut. Garrett. There were many questions to answer and they formed a most amusing invitation. The prizes for the best answers were a box of sweets and a miniature skeleton, won by Mrs. Will Soper and Miss Myra Angus. Among those present were Mrs. Allan Bottomley, Misses Nora Sturgeon, Margaret Waterhouse, Constance Restarlek, Katherine Smith, Vera Damon, Ethel Spalding, Alice Spalding, Myra Angus, Kittle Robinson, Powell, Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse.

At Country Club

The Country Club on Saturday was a favorite place for tea parties and among others entertaining were Dr. and Mrs. Waterhouse and Captain and Mrs. Wodehouse, who had with them Miss Goodwin, their guest, David Anderson and Mr. McKinnon. The Waterhouses had Judge and Mrs. Ballou, Mrs. Humphris, and Mr. and Mrs. Hawes, Jr. Former Governor Carter was in great form that afternoon and delighted everybody by his witty remarks.

Tea for Miss Powell

Miss Catherine Smith was the hostess of a most delightful tea given in honor of Miss Powell at the residence of her parents on Thursday last. The large and airy rooms were fragrant with red carnations, prettily arranged with maidenhair ferns, while in the drawing-room artistic branches of the golden shower were much admired. Receiving with Miss Smith and Miss Powell were Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mrs. S. C. Weight, Mrs. A. Lewis, Mrs. C. H. Olson. Little tables on the lanai and dining room where cooling punches were served as well as ices, proved most desirable spots for tete-a-tetes. There were about fifty guests, and Mrs. W. O. Smith helped her daughter to look after them. Miss Powell is a pretty girl and is receiving much attention. Her father and mother and sister are domiciled at the Young hotel. He is a prominent physician in the northern part of California. Dr. and Mrs. Powell are charmed with Honolulu and cannot say enough in its praise. Among the guests were the Misses Bland 2) Irene Fisher, Nora Sturgeon, Alice Hedemann, Carmen Clowe, Alice Cooke, Beatrice Castle, Towle, Perrine, Violet Damon, Alice, Edith, Ethel Spalding, Ella Wight, Green, Margaret Waterhouse, and many others.

Southerlands Here

Among the arrivals in the Mongolia were Mrs. Southerland and the Misses Harriet and May Southerland, who are guests at the Moana hotel, awaiting Captain Southerland of the "New Jersey." The Misses Southerland are society girls of the best type, charming and interesting. They are relatives of Captain Hugh Rodman, so well known here. Mrs. F. H. Humphris is giving a bathing party this afternoon in their honor, and Mrs. Walbridge is entertaining them on Tantalus on Tuesday.

Mrs. Bottomley Entertains

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bottomley also entertained at dinner in honor of Mrs. McKinnon on Tuesday evening. Nasturtiums made the table most attractive. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lewton-Brain, Mr. and Mrs. Hawes, Jr., Miss Jordan, Mr. McKinnon and Mr. Jamieson.

Everybody regrets that Paymaster and Mrs. Brooke are so soon to leave Honolulu. They have both taken an active part in society and Mrs. Brooke is quite a belle. Paymaster Brooke expects to go on with the Fleet, and Mrs. Brooke will visit in the Eastern states, joining her husband on the Mediterranean coast within a year. Mrs. Brooke is one of the prettiest women of the Naval set.

After the marriage of Miss Gertrude Hyde-Smith and Baldwin Wood, which will be an event of the fall, Mrs. Hyde-Smith will go to Honolulu for a visit with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Harold Dillingham, and probably will spend the entire winter in Hawaii.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. George

Davies gave a charming dinner at "The Dugle" in honor of Miss Fox, a cousin of the Davies from England. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clive Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. James Cockburn, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mr. Walter Dillingham.

Judge and Mrs. Stanley entertained at dinner on Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. MacKinnon, who will sail for England in the Alameda. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lewton-Brain, Miss Stanley, Miss Anna Dufford, Mr. McKinnon, and Mr. David Anderson. Bridge occupied the attention of the guests after dinner.

Mrs. Clifford Wood and two children were arrivals in the Mongolia after a very pleasant year in Italy, Switzerland, and England. Mrs. Wood expects to return to Europe next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Wilder had a real old-fashioned family luau at "Tarocna" on Tuesday night. What is better than a well-cooked luau, and Mr. and Mrs. Aplo can prepare one to the "Queen's taste."
