

TENS OF THOUSANDS VOTES CAST IN FIRST COUNT OPPORTUNITY TO ENTER BY SPECIAL BALLOT ENDS

ALL CONTESTANTS WERE BUNCHED FOR START IN RACE

Outside Districts Make Good Showing And Votes Roll In

Tens of thousands of votes were cast for the first count of ballots in the Bulletin's Alaska-Yukon Exposition Contest and the story of ballots is best told by the accompanying list, in this issue of the Bulletin.

None of the contestants have a decided lead over the other at this time and the list will no doubt continue to grow and those at the bottom of the list today may be leaders on the morrow. No one should feel discouraged if some one has a few hundred votes more than she this evening, as even a few thousand votes amount to naught, when you stop to consider the number of votes allowed on subscriptions.

The 2000 free vote offer will close this evening and those who intend taking advantage of same should clip out this ballot and bring at once to the Bulletin office and this will register your favorite contestant. There is no restriction to any one entering the contest at any time during the contest, but those who enter now will have the advantage of the 2000 votes as a starter.

"I thought it would be hard," said one pretty contestant in the Bulletin contest yesterday as she deposited a bundle of subscription stubs on the desk of the contest manager, and smiled demurely. "It is easy," she continued, "because of the interest taken in the contest by my friends. I suppose each contestant has friends who are willing to stand by her in the contest. I didn't know I had so many friends until they began ringing me up and telling me to come to them for subscriptions and ballots."

And so it goes down the line of contestants. All are finding it easier than they at first expected it would be.

Yesterday Saw a Big Vote.

Yesterday was the greatest day since the Bulletin contest opened and today bids fair to even eclipse that excellent record. Every indication points to one of the most interesting popularity elections ever given in this section, for the young women whose names are already in nomination are desirous of making a good showing, and they find out how easy it is to get votes they have the assurance that their chance is just as good as anyone's.

Many think it difficult to get votes. To these there is but a single sentence of advice, and that is: Enter the race and try for a week. Just one week will show any young woman what an easy thing it is to pile up the ballots in the contest, and once entered it is a fair field and no favorites.

"On to Seattle!" is the watchword of bright young women who are running for honors in the contest now being conducted by the Bulletin. Young women from all over the city and vicinity have entered the race, and from the way votes are pouring into the office it is evident that a great amount of interest and enthusiasm has been awakened in every nook and corner of the above-mentioned territory. Later, the interest will increase, and then "frenzied" voting will be in order. At present the candidates are just beginning to get their start and feeling the pulse of their friends to learn their strength.

A number of subscriptions have already come in, and today will see more issued than any other day since the opening of the contest. Votes clipped from the Bulletin are received daily in large numbers and many votes which were issued on subscriptions are sent out to be held in reserve and drawn on later, when an elaborate necessity arrives.

Vote for some young woman who is in the race, or if your favorite is not in the list, enter her name and vote for her. These free trips are going to be given to somebody—it may as well be a friend of yours as the favorite of somebody else. Make it your determined effort to see that the woman of your choice is successful. It will not cost you much, and it will mean a delight to the young women who win.

Don't Hold Back Subscriptions. There is a tendency noticed by the manager of the contest for contestants to hold back subscription ballots after receiving the subscriptions of their friends. These friends want their paper after they subscribe. They want it for two reasons: one, that they may wish to clip coupons for their favorites, and the other that Contestants are not limited to the district in which they are entered, but are allowed to secure votes from any other District, County or State.

They wish to read the news contained in the columns of the Bulletin. The manager of the contest suggests that the contestants turn in their subscriptions each day and receive receipts for them. If they wish to hold back their ballot it is possible to do so by holding the receipts and voting them at the last moment.

This registers the names of your friends on the list of Bulletin subscribers, and they get their paper each day.

Don't Turn in Blank Votes. Friends of contestants turning in ballots by mail should not fail to write in the name of the contestant for whom they wish the ballot to be cast.

The Evening Bulletin Popular Voting Contest

Fill in the name of the young woman you wish to vote for and the district in which she lives. Bring or mail to Manager Contest Department, care of Evening Bulletin, Honolulu, T. H.

THIS COUPON COUNTS AS ONE VOTE FOR

Miss
District No.

(This coupon is not good after Monday, Jan. 25th)

There have been several turned in which have not been marked, and all these blanks must be thrown out. Do not fail to vote for your favorite, and do not forget to write on each ballot the name of the contestant for whom it is to be counted.

Special Nominating Ballot Expires This Evening

The special ballot, good for 3000 votes, which has been published every day since the first announcement of this popularity race, will be conspicuous by its absence after today and those who intend to nominate the name of their favorite young woman should clip out this coupon NOW and bring or mail it to the Manager of the Contest Department before 5 o'clock this evening, and she will be accredited with 3000 free votes for a starter.

Until 5 O'Clock This Evening

The Contest Manager will be in the office this evening until 5 o'clock to give any instructions to contestants desired. He will also give out subscription blanks and receive new candidate nominations. At 5 o'clock the 3000 ballot special nominating blank will be discontinued, and all who enter after today will not receive the benefit of the special nominating ballot.

Subscription Blanks

Candidates should call on the Contest Manager at once and secure subscription books, and there are a number of things he would like to tell you, in regard to the best way of securing votes. Call at once at the Bulletin office.

THE FIVE TRIPS WILL BE APPOINTED AS FOLLOWS:

District No. 1 includes the City and County of Honolulu.

District No. 2 includes the County of Hawaii.

District No. 3 includes the County of Maui.

District No. 4 includes the County of Kauai.

The fifth trip will be for the chaperon, who will be chosen by the young woman securing the highest in individual vote, irrespective of district limitation.

You may take the trip any time you choose, singly or in groups.

Four Separate Contests.

The Evening Bulletin is conducting four separate and distinct contests at the same time.

The young woman who receives the highest number of votes in District No. 1 will be given first-class transportation both ways, and hotel accommodations while in Seattle and San Francisco.

The young woman in District No. 2 will receive the same trip to Seattle and San Francisco, with the same accommodations as the one in District No. 1.

The young woman in District No. 3 receiving the highest number of votes will receive the same trip as the young women in Districts Nos. 1 and 2.

The young woman in District No. 4 receiving the highest vote will receive the same trip and accommodations as the three above mentioned districts.

WILL SOON TEST

(Continued from Page 3) advisers could favor the wholesale appointments utterly regardless of the Supervisors. Various views were expressed on the reading of the law and Section 146 that has caused all the trouble.

After the general talk, W. R. Castle said that the matter at issue was "What are we going to do about it?" He thought it proper for citizens to express their opinion and he therefore moved that the County Attorney be urged to bring the whole question before the courts as speedily as possible. W. O. Smith urged that the trouble should be settled out of court. He proposed that the Supervisors should put their contentions in the hands of A. G. M. Robertson and himself and the Mayor select W. A. Kinney and Mr. Watson, as had been proposed during the last few days.

Mr. Smith was asked when the people of the city and county had delegated their affairs to an outside committee of four men.

The Mayor and the Supervisors had been elected to carry out the law. For what good reason did they turn their affairs over to a body of private citizens? Mr. Smith responded that President Roosevelt had set the example of turning over very important matters to volunteer commissions. The response to this was that Roosevelt is not yet king, and, anyway, the business of the Supervisors was to conduct the business of the people. If they could not understand the law, they must go to the law-interpreting body, the courts.

The point was raised that the case would be in the courts for months, and in answer to this it was suggested that the compromise agreement scheme was not binding on anyone and did not interpret the law. The whole mix-up might be renewed at any time.

Mr. Smith did not press his point as the only solution, and when the vote was a tie on his amendment, he withdrew it. All he sought was a settlement, and thought the method he had proposed was the quickest. The vote to have the chairman, A. L. Castle, call on the County Attorney was finally carried with one opposing vote.

The meeting was a very interesting one, and one of the incidents was the denial at length by Supervisor Logan that any member of the Board had gone to Mayor Fern to straighten out the difficulties by dividing up the jobs.

Mr. Scudder said that the people had elected the Mayor and the Supervisors from opposing parties in order that they might get together and select "good men" for office. Now they should do what they had been elected for. This very much amused the party men present.

KENILWORTH RECHRISTENED.

The Commissioner of Navigation under date of December 3 has notified Collector of Port Stratton, at San Francisco, that his recommendation on the application of Arthur S. Chasebrough, owner of the ship Kenilworth, has been approved, authorizing the changing of the name of that vessel to Star of Scotland. The Kenilworth has been sold to the Alaska Packers' Association. The Kenilworth was built at Port Glasgow in 1887, and was granted American registry by Act of Congress, February 4, 1890.
