THURSDAY APRIL 7, 1910

Silence in love betrays more woe Than words, though ne'er so witty;
A beggar that is dumb, you know, May challenge double pity.
—Sir Walter Raleigh.

Why not refund the Territorial debt in Honolulu and allow some of the surplus funds to find a good source of home investment?

It is rather funny that Mr. Taft should declare his unbelief in boycotts on the same day as his intention to not visit Indianapolis.

Possibly Uncle Joe decided to wait until he heard from the municipal elections before concluding to put the prohibition resolution at the foot of the calendar.

Theodore is giving an exhibition of what an interesting creature an ex-President can be when he goes through two terms without becoming spasmodic or wind-blown.

Apologies of the Pearl Harbor falsehood that Admiral Rees has promptly denied, most all the evil that has said of Hawaii originate from the same source in Honolulu.

Should there be another month of no change in the raw sugar quotation, the local Wall Street would stand a good chance of being decorated with Sleepy Hollow signs.

Honolulu should be forever on guard in all matters directly and indirectly connected with Pearl Harbor appropriations. It need never worry, if it never goes to sleep.

Continued success of the McRae company is good proof of the Bulletin's prediction that the people of Honolulu want first-class drama well played. They were hungry for it.

Apologies are due Bulletin patrons for devoting so much space to this issue to the morning paper, but it is only fair to Mr. Jones to disentangle him from the mess in which that paper snarled him.

Should prohibition ever come to Hawaii, the importations of liquor will appear in the statistical tables under the heading of green paint, but the whiskey bill of the community will not be materially reduced.

While that monumental monstrosity of public expense, the Nuuanu dam, decorates the scenery and the public records, it is not appropriate for any of the advocates of "government by a few of us" to point a finger of scorn at anything the counties may produce.

Another season of International baseball is mighty good news for the baseball enthusiasts of the city. And those who attend because they "just like the game" will be particularly pleased, because they will feel assured that money will cut no figure in the final score.

Cities and towns of the Central States voting "wet" after a season of "dry" furnish the best possible proof that the plain common sense of the people will not stand for the conditions the radicals attempt to impose. Prohibition doesn't settle the problem by any means.

Congress should be kept so constantly reminded of the demand for Pearl Harbor appropriations that every member would know that an adverse vote was a guarantee for an avalanche of protests from every principal town west of the Mississippi and all the biggest ones east of that dividing line.

Favorable report for the coastwise law suspension scheme is possibly indirectly connected with the attack made on the Pearl Harbor appropriation. There is not the slightest doubt that final success for the suspension bill would lead to attacks from entirely new sources on the protective tariff on raw sugar.

Business men of progressive mainland cities invest their surplus in "outside propositions" that will increase the volume of business in their own town and better establish it as a trade center. Money that the people of Hawaii send to the mainland doesn't come in under that classification. It is just so much squeezed out of the home sponge, and the tight money market of today is one of the certain results.

On second thought it will be necessary to interpret President Taft's refusal to visit Indianapolis as a direct slap at the Beveridge brand of protective tariff. The President could have gone to Indianapolis and remained a week without mentioning the tariff, had he been so disposed. He has elected, however, to announce that the stays away to prevent making trouble, which is another way of saying that to speak his mind would cause trouble.

RALLY FOR PEARL HARBOR

False confidence in what the Administration will do unaided in connection with Pearl Harbor appropriations is the worst thing the people of Honolulu can cultivate at the present time—unless the information given out as a morning paper cablegram is not correct.

It must be evident to intelligent and progressive men that one point in the game has been lost, if any wrangle in Congress can seriously disturb such an important item as the appropriation for the development of Pearl Harbor on the broadest possible lines. Honolulu can not afford to allow such an incident to pass unnoticed. Honolulu can not afford to allow any principal item of the Pearl Harbor appropriations to be voted out without taking immediate steps to restore it.

Pearl Harbor improvement as it goes forward today is the product of Honolulu energy, backed by a just cause and the officers of the United States army and navy.

Regardless of what may be the best method of regaining the ground lost for the larger dock, Washington should know that any faltering in the appropriations necessary to carry on this work will be the signal for immediate action in Honolulu to arouse public sentiment throughout the nation.

This was the way in which the appropriations for the beginning of the work were secured. The present is no time to let up and leave it all to the Administration.

THAT INTERVIEW

With a cheerful idiosyncrasy seldom encountered outside the walls of an insane asylum, the Bulletin spews its opinion of men and things without noticing the disgust it creates. Yesterday that publication added the Rev. John T. Jones to its list of "liars." Included among those whom the Bulletin has spit at recently are Bishop Hughes, Rev. W. B. Oleson, John G. Woolley—whom it likens to a thief in the night—and the Advertiser. The greatest wonder concerning the Bulletin is how it is able to endure its own stench.—Advertiser.

Aow De-ah! Isn't this awful! Publicity is given this exhibit merely to lend the necessary finish to the statement of Rev. Dr. Jones regarding the "interview" with Bishop Hughes.

Mr. Jones called at the Bulletin on Wednesday and stated that he did not write the interview with Bishop Hughes as the morning paper declared that he had done. The article in question had been prepared by Bishop Hughes and Rev. Dr. Jones merely carried it to the morning paper office.

Thus we have another complete demonstration of the inability of the morning paper to give a fair statement of anything; the slightest incident is shaded to suit the paper's fancy. Even in such a simple matter as who prepared the copy, the paper finds a misstatement necessary. Misrepresentation is a regular detail of the day's business. It would have been far easier and more honorable had the plain, ordinary truth about the "interview" been given in the first place, but that is not the morning paper style, as most everyone knows.

As for calling anyone by any shorter and uglier word, that must be the favorite term of the inmates of the Fools' Paradise. The only other person using it in connection with this affair was Rev. Mr. Jones when referring to the morning paper's assertion that he, Jones, prepared the Hughes statement.

Since it appears that the morning paper, even to this day, doesn't know who wrote the Hughes interview, or very much about it, anyway, the incident is one of those trivial reminders that the Thurston Fools' Paradise still upholds its reputation as the Home of False Representation.

The Bulletin has always found Rev. Dr. Jones, Rev. Mr. Oleson and the Honorable John G. Woolley mighty fine fellows. Their greatest present misfortune is that they can't seem to take the Advertiser as a joke, as does most everyone else.

SUGAR.

for April clearance, at 4.39c c. i. f. delivered ex ship, basis 96 degrees.

Sale to Federal Sugar Refining Co., 5000 bags Cubas, clearance not before April 7, at 3.132c cost and freight, basis 96 degrees.

Sale to speculator, 7000 bags Cubas, May shipment, 3.1-8c cost and freight.

Sale to speculator of about 15,000 bags Cubas, shipment not before April 10, at 3.1-16c cost and freight, basis 96 degrees.

Sales to United Kingdom, 50,000 bags Cubas, April shipment, at 3c f. o. b. for 96 degrees.

Today there is but a moderate quantity of sugar for March or first half April (practically prompt shipment), offered at 3.1-16c cost and freight, the equivalent of 4.42c duty paid for 96-degree test. Last half April and May shipment is held at 3.1-2c cost and freight, the equivalent of 4.48c duty paid, and the quantity on offer is comparatively small.

Sellers show the greatest confidence in their position, and predict higher prices next week. Certainly at the close today it looks as though sales would be made in the near future at 3.1-16c cost and freight for the nearby positions, and 3.1-8c cost and freight for sugar a little further off. In fact, it would not be surprising to see even the spot market advanced to the 3.1-8c cost and freight basis, the equivalent of 4.48c duty paid for 96-degree centrifugals, in the near future.

The rise in prices abroad naturally is very encouraging to sellers. On the basis of today's London quotation for beets, these sugars would cost 5.15c duty paid New York, so that our spot market basis 4.36c is 79 points under the European party, an unusually large difference for any time of the year, and especially so now that we have passed through the period of largest receipts in Cuba. Sellers know that our refiners are not particularly well supplied against their future wants, and the Cubans have made more money on the half of the crop that they have sold to date, than is usually made in an entire season, consequently it might be said that they are now working on "velvet," and the bankers, knowing this, are disposed to advance money freely against stocks of sugar. Certainly the general situation favors higher prices for this market as the season progresses, and a sharp upward movement would be the result of any effort on the part of refiners to accumulate supplies to cover their summer wants. According to Messrs. Willett & Gray, the total stocks at the four ports are 261,762 tons, as compared with 273,190 tons last year, while the stocks afloat to the United States are 100,000 tons, against 91,000 tons last year. The stocks in the United States and Cuba together are 588,762 tons, or 71,572 tons more than a year ago. The world's visible supply is 3,140,000 tons, as compared with 3,450,000 tons a year ago.

CUBA.—The situation in the island remains unchanged. The market is quiet but firm, with light offerings. It is natural to expect a decrease in the receipts during April, but a sharp falling off is not anticipated, during the early part of the month. The complaints made earlier in the season that the railroads were not moving the sugars from the plantations with promptness, have now disappeared, at least so far as the United Railway is concerned. This road, which carries almost all the sugar that comes to Havana, Matanzas and Cardenas, made unusual efforts to move the sugar, hiring cars from the Western Railroad (which is principally a tobacco road), so that there is no longer more than the usual accumulation of sugar at the centrals along its line. In the Havana and Matanzas districts the cane is particularly dry, but conditions are satisfactory in Sagua and Pinar del Rio. There are a few minor places which are already grinding half time in Matanzas province; these, and a few other smaller places, will probably finish their crop during the first half April. From that time on we may expect to hear of some few places gradually following their example, but weather permitting, the crop generally will go on actively until the latter part of April, when we will no doubt see some of the larger places closing. Ghana continues to say nothing more than: "A considerable reduction in his estimate will be necessary." From the best information that we can get, we think 1,650,000 tons a fair figure. With unusually favorable conditions, this figure may be exceeded a trifle. On the other hand, as we have previously pointed out, if the weather becomes rainy in April or early May, estimates made now would be useless. The showers which have fallen in some places have not amounted to much, the principal advantage having been that they allowed land to be planted which was prepared for the purpose. This will be an advantage for next crop.

EUROPE.—Light wires us today that the weather is favorable for field work. Mail advices written some week or ten days ago state that the temporary lull in the market was due to absence of buying on the part of dealers, but that this could be met more than a week or ten days or at most until after the Easter holidays. The correctness of this prediction is apparently borne out by the upward movement in values of the last two days. Another correspondent writes us:

If your watch is not keeping good time; not giving the satisfaction it should, bring it to us for examination. We will give you an honest report on its condition, and honest service if it needs our attention.

Our experience in handling fine timepieces extends over a period of many years. Your timepiece is safe with us.

There is not much disposition on the part of speculators to enter fresh bull engagements at the present level of prices, but undoubtedly the statistical position throughout the world is a strong one, and we are inclined to think that values will harden from time to time, as the demand for sugar reveals more and more the scarcity which exists."

It is claimed that 150,000 bags Cubas have been sold, for shipment to the United Kingdom and Continent during the last week. The total sales to date amount to 65,000 tons, including 4500 tons, shipment to Amsterdam. It is further stated that Antwerp and other Continental ports are interested in Cuba sugars, at current values. In spite of all this, the foreign market closes strong, with upward tendency, on the following basis:

March—Buyers 14s 9d, equals 5.15c duty paid New York.
April—Buyers 14s 8 3/4d, equals 5.14c, duty paid New York.
May—Buyers 14s 9 1/4d, equals 5.15c, duty paid New York.
August—Buyers 14s 10 1/2d, equals 5.17c, duty paid New York.
October-December—Buyers 11s 8 1/2d, equals 4.47c, duty paid New York.

REFINED SUGAR.—Prices remain unchanged, basis 5.25c, cash less 1 per cent., f. o. b. New York. While new business is light, the better tone to the raw market has resulted in considerable more inquiry, and with the free withdrawals of the past ten days, and the strong underlying situation, it is not unnatural that the trade should want to replace the sugar that has been withdrawn, with fresh contracts. Certainly such an attitude is a wise one. On a situation like this the most attractive proposition in the market is the Federal Sugar Refining Company's 28 days' contract, basis 5.25c, cash less 1 per cent., f. o. b. New York. This gives buyers an opportunity to purchase now, and protect themselves against their future requirements. They know just where they stand regarding delay privileges not being dependent on the whims of the sellers as to whether or not their purchases will be forced on them at an unpropitious time. All other refiners are selling for prompt shipment only. We strongly recommend carrying full stocks.
