JOHN MOIR DECLARES FOR PRESENT LIQUOR LAW SUMMER SCHOOL PLAN IS OUTLINED

Moir Supports Present Law Plantation Manager Against Prohibition---Hilo Labor Opposes Woolley

(Special Correspondence.)
 HILO, Hawaii, June 3.—"I think that the liquor law which is now on the statute books is the very best that can be had on the subject."
 This statement was made the other day by John T. Moir, manager of the Onomea plantation, and chairman of the Board of Liquor License Commissioners for the island of Hawaii. The local license board has been a success. Every one has confidence in its ability to handle the situation to the full satisfaction and benefit of the community. It has demonstrated how well the present liquor law may be made to work—provided it is carried into effect by an efficient board of commissioners.
 (Thanks largely to the board of commissioners there is no "liquor problem" in the ordinary sense of the word on this island. Still, Moir believes that the situation could be improved, good as it is, if the community would take an active interest in the matter.

 "However, the citizens should bestir themselves and take more of an interest in the matter," continued Moir. "In all the time the board has existed there have been no protests, but if the parties interested in any case would sign a petition to bring their complaints before the board, we would take action."
 Mr. Moir was asked whether the Board had decided to take, at its coming meeting, more rigorous steps in SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, who is to fight Jeffries on the Fourth of July, announced today that he would be his own manager until after the fight.

Outlines Work Of Summer School Give Teachers Opportunity To Secure Certificates---Plan Is Thorough

In speaking of the work of the summer school to be held during July and August Superintendent W. T. Pope of the Department of Public Instruction had the following to say this morning.
 "Back reports of the Department of Public Instruction of these islands mention various kinds of work that have been taken up to improve the teaching force. In fact most of the early efforts in Hawaii were to train teachers rather than to educate the youth of the population. We find that the most complete organization, and perhaps the most efficient summer sessions for teachers held in this country, were between the years 1898 and 1903 after the establishment of the Territorial Normal School which naturally united the energies and led the way. Records of a number of these summer sessions show that they were well attended and did very efficient work. The instruction consisted of class work, lecture courses and practical work. They were financed to some extent from the Teachers' Pay Roll. In a few occasions special appropriations were made for summer sessions. The last summer session was during the summer of 1903 and cost about $1,500. Since that time no appropriation has been made by the Legislature and the Department has been unable to make the amount from the Teachers' Pay Roll. The Department of Public Instruction has ever felt the need of a summer session but owing to the rapid development of the school system and small appropriation for teachers' salaries, the summer sessions were discontinued, trusting that the teachers would get all their training elsewhere, that the appropriation could be used for direct service to teachers.
 "We are at present negotiating the close of another school year in a country teeming with prosperity. The public school system is attempting to develop as well as other institutions of the Territory. Our latest report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction shows that there are 151 schools, 476 teachers and 20,161 pupils. Among the teachers there are 376 women and 104 men. Boys are in excess among the pupils, there being 11,049 boys and 9,112 girls.
 "We all well know that there is probably no place on earth where there is a greater diversity of nationalities. We find Hawaiian, Part Hawaiian, American, British, German, Portuguese and Scandinavian all teaching the English tongue to as many as 12 different nationalities in the same school. Most of these teachers, with possibly the exception of some of the American and British, have been brought up in the Hawaiian schools as subjects of the United States. On the whole the teachers of the islands are an extraordinary corps of workers, devoted to their occupation of applying a system of education

U. S. USES STRONG HAND AT BLUEFIELDS

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Commander W. W. Gilmer, U. S. N., commanding officer of the gunboat Paducah now at Bluefields, Nicaragua, served notice on the two factions that no fighting will be allowed in the city of Bluefields and that only such armed forces, not exceeding 100 men, shall be allowed in Bluefields as are necessary for policing the town until a stable government is established. Commander Gilmer will not allow Senator Arias, the commander of the steamship Venus, to bombard the city, as there is no armed force in Bluefields. Such a bombardment, Commander Gilmer believes, would only result in the unnecessary destruction of the lives and property of American and other foreign non-combatants. Senator Arias served notice on the revolutionary forces that he intended to bombard the town if the insurgents did not surrender. Thomas P. Hoffat, American consul at Bluefields, advised the state department that the Venus has 300 men and mounted guns on board. A demand for the surrender of Bluefields and the customs house was made through the gunboat Paducah and the American consulate. He also reported that Senator Estrada, president of the provisional government, had replied, refusing surrender. The steamship Dictator of New Orleans was prevented from entering the port by the Venus, which established a blockade there.

Colburn Declares Kuhio Coming

Says Delegate To Congress Will Arrive On Siberia July 6

According to the statement of John Colburn made today, Prince Kuhio will be back in the Territory on the Siberia, arriving July 6th. In the event of Kuhio coming, as predicted by Colburn, the part that he will play in the plebiscite campaign is still problematical. Despite the expressed opinion of Colburn there remains a well grounded doubt in many quarters that Kuhio will not be here and the expectations of Woolley and his advocates that the Delegate will take the fight in their behalf is doomed to bitter disappointment.
 Woolley is counting on the other-

 Mr. Mondell. As this now stands it provides that any person who shall hereafter initiate a right under any of these laws shall not thereafter be allowed to initiate another right, but it also provides that any one who hereafter initiates a right under any of these laws or obtains the benefit of them may obtain the benefits of the laws again in the future and such a party is not limited under this provision to 80 acres of the public lands.
