SOUSA HAS TRAVELLED OVER 600,000 MILES

Sousa organized the band that bears his name in September, 1892, and since then he and his men have traveled about 600,000 miles. Sousa estimates that he has given between 8,000 and 9,000 concerts, and when he reaches Vancouver in the latter part of September he will begin the last lap of the longest tour he has ever undertaken. This tour, which began in New York last August, has taken Sousa and his band around the world and they visited South Africa, Australia and New Zealand. In addition to being heard once more in Great Britain and Ireland. The band will be heard here on the arrival of the Makura at the Bijou theatre. Seats go on sale at Bergstrom Music Co. Saturday morning, Sept. 2, at nine o'clock.

HYPNOTISTS CLOSE AT ORPHEUM TONIGHT

A very appreciative audience witnessed the performance of Ayesha, the only woman hypnotist, and Barnett, "the man with the green eyes," at the Orpheum last night. The performance goes with a swing and just teems with good situations. There are enough scientific tests, but most of the show is given to comedy, which, judging by the hearty laughter throughout the entertainment, was thoroughly enjoyed. Ten men, who imagined they had rubber noses, tied them to chairs and door-knobs, while one sat in the center of the stage and played a tune on his nose. Some of the subjects were made to laugh, cry, bark, crow and stutter.

One of the best scenes was the circus, in which each subject was to imagine himself a performer. There were clowns, strong men, trick cyclists, wire-walkers, acrobats and jockey riders. If these men were not hypnotized, they have certainly missed their vocation in life, for they would certainly have made great actors. Barnett is of pleasant personality, self-possessed, and sure. Ayesha is dark, of striking appearance and remarkably graceful.

The last show will be given tonight, and should be greeted by a packed house. The entertainment is clean and wholesome, without one objectionable feature.

The body of George A. French, president of the Phillips, Mo., savings bank, was found hanging in his stable. It is believed French committed suicide while temporarily unbalanced over minor troubles.

BUSINESS STOPS ON LABOR DAY

Labor Day will be widely celebrated in Honolulu next Monday. Practically every business house in the city will close for the entire day and the employees will be given a full holiday.

The bank will be closed all day and the courts, both Federal and Territorial, will be shut up. The employees of the business houses will participate in sports, picnics and informal celebrations of various sorts. The postoffice will be open only part of the day, the schedule being given in another column.

MISS POWER'S FINE DISPLAY OF MILLINERY

Miss Power, Honolulu's leading milliner, has just returned from the mainland with a wealth of new styles in trimmed hats. All these hats have been personally selected by Miss Power, who has always in mind the tastes of her customers and the suitability of styles for Honolulu.

The new hats are now on exhibition at her parlors in the Boston building, Fort street, second floor.

The milk famine which seriously threatened Providence during the weather has been averted by the arrival of cooler weather.

YOUNG ACHI WINS BRIDE?

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 25.

—W. K. Achi, the big Hawaiian catcher on the varsity baseball team, has won as his bride a beautiful Hawaiian girl of Honolulu. The girl is a step-sister to Achi, being the daughter of Achi's stepmother, and has adopted the family name of Achi.

From the time they were in the primary school there has been a strong bond of friendship existing between the two. Since Achi's return to the Islands, reports come from Stanford residents of Honolulu that he has been devoting his time to the wooing of the beautiful dark-skinned maid in a true Hawaiian fashion.

Achi is the first man of his race to distinguish himself in Stanford, and he is one of the best known and most popular men on the campus. He is the author of three of the cardinal's most popular songs. He was the composer of "Sons of the Stanford Red" and the prize song in 1910, "The Stanford Score." He has played baseball with his class team, and made his "S" last year by playing on the varsity as catcher.

News comes that he will not cast his lot with the cardinal players the coming year, but will go with his bride to Yale, where he will be a candidate for his block "Y."
