FLEET IS HERE

The fleet is here. Coming up to port faster than was expected, the cruisers under Rear-Admiral Thomas were off port at 3 o'clock this afternoon and will be in port about 4 o'clock. Both the first and second divisions have arrived and the first will lead the second into port by only a short time. A wireless message to Admiral Cowles at 1:30 o'clock was followed half an hour afterward by the sighting of the vessels themselves.

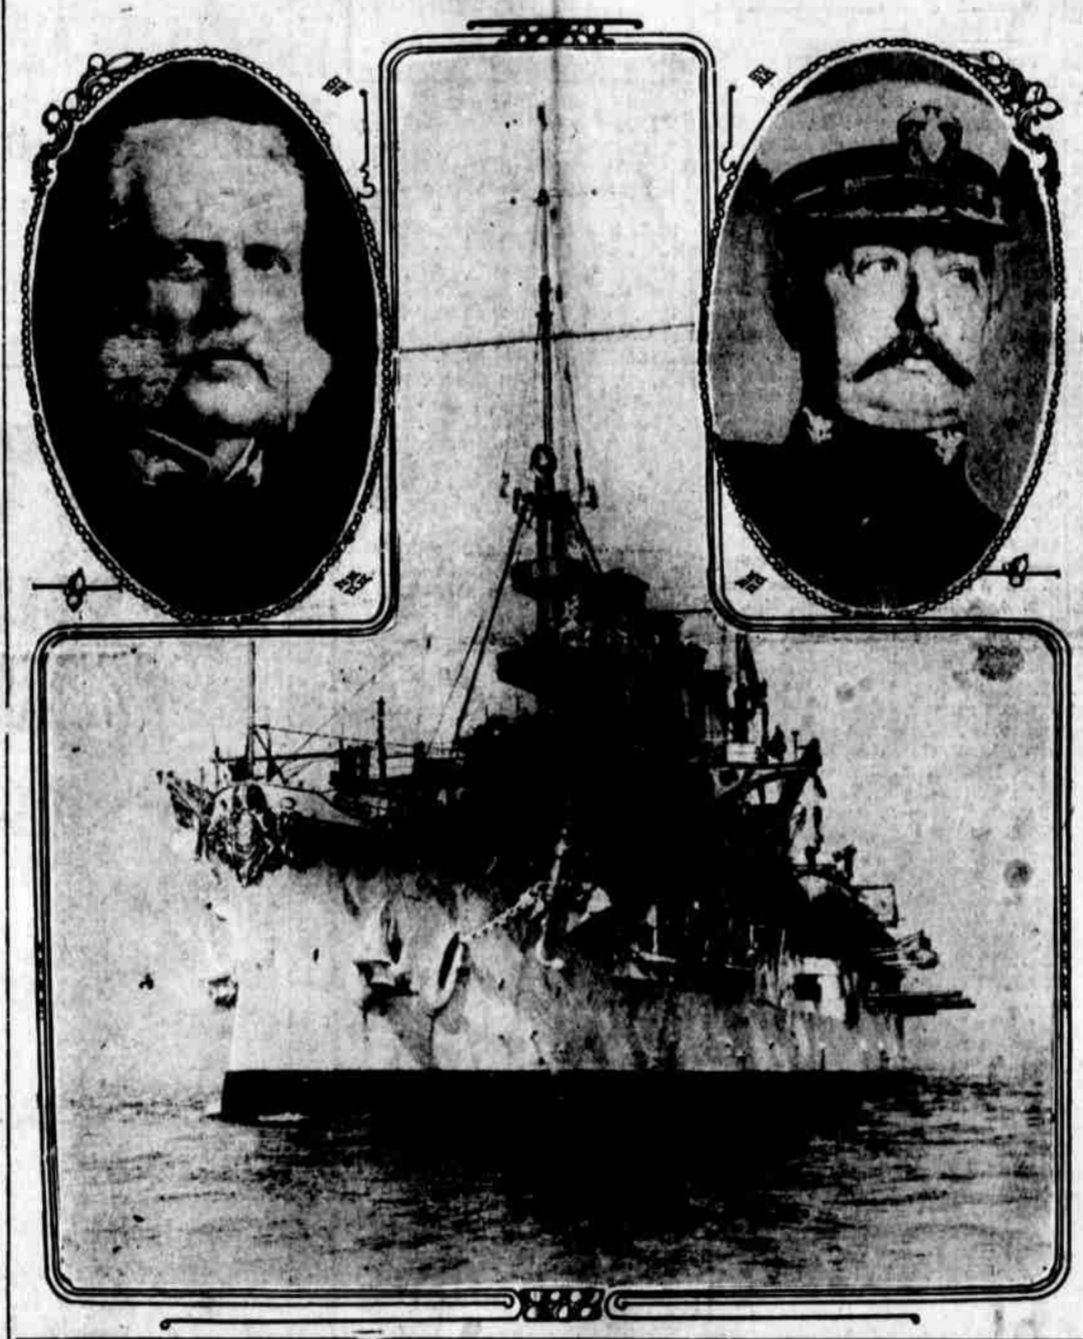

FISHER SAYS HE'LL RECOMMEND FREAR

BY C. S. ALBERT.

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—Unless President Taft can be persuaded to the contrary, Governor Frear will be appointed for another term. Secretary Fisher of the Interior Department has definitely decided to recommend the reappointment of Mr. Frear. He will make a report to that effect whenever the matter is taken up for disposition.
 The conclusions of Secretary Fisher have evidently been founded on the communications received on the subject. He has been in office but a short period and knows little of the Governor's work or capabilities.
 A large number of letters have been received by the Secretary of the Interior requesting another term for Governor Frear. These are said to have come from all classes of people in Hawaii.
 It is declared by Secretary Fisher that the only antagonistic letter is that coming from Delegate Kuhlö. He feels that the preponderance of popular sentiment is favorable to the Governor.
 While Secretary Fisher declares that he has not yet mentioned the matter to the President, he announces his intention to do so at the first opportunity. From his conversation he feels confident Mr. Taft will accept his recommendation and promptly give Governor Frear a re-nomination.

FIGHTING CRUISERS OF PACIFIC STEAM ACROSS OCEAN FOR HAWAIIAN MANEUVERS

REAR-ADMIRAL W. H. H. SOUTHERLAND, COMMANDING SECOND DIVISION. FLAGSHIP CALIFORNIA.
 REAR-ADMIRAL CHAUNCEY THOMAS, COMMANDING PACIFIC FLEET.

FIRST DIVISION LEADS SECOND INTO PORT

"The people of the Territory and myself included have been looking forward with pleasure to the coming of the fleet for a long time, and extend a hearty welcome. I am sure that everybody will do their utmost to give the officers and men a good time."—Governor Frear.

Thirteen guns will boom out a salute from the naval station at four o'clock this afternoon when the Pacific cruiser fleet, in command of Rear-Admiral Chauncey Thomas, steams into the harbor, ending the long voyage from San Francisco. The flagship California will return the thirteen gun salute.
 At two o'clock this afternoon the flagship California was reported less than fifty miles off port and expected to be in port before five o'clock. Admiral Cowles was in wireless communication with the fleet this morning, and messages received at the naval station informed the commandant that the first division, including the cruisers California, Maryland and South Dakota would be in port about 2 o'clock, while the second division consisting of the West Virginia, Admiral Southernland's flagship, and the Colorado, would be off port at 6 o'clock or possibly later. There is a chance of the second division coming inside tonight, but the probability is that the two cruisers will be off until dawn tomorrow.
 The California, Admiral Thomas' flagship, will be berthed on the Ewa side of the Alakea wharf, and the Maryland and South Dakota accommodated at the Fort and Navy wharves. The Colorado is to coal first, according to wireless advice, so she will go directly alongside of the Navy slip and start filling her bunkers tomorrow. Admiral Southernland has expressed a desire to tie up the West Virginia at the Fort street wharf, and this arrangement has been made.
 Just how long the fleet will remain here before going out on maneuvers is still undecided. It is known that General Murray is planning to make a tour of the Oahu coast in the flagship, in order to take up problems of defense with the Navy, but as he is booked to return to the Coast by the Wilhelmina of the 6th, it is possible that the California will slip out Saturday for this voyage. She could coal and be ready for sea by that day.

"HE SHOT HIM"—WIDOW BREAKS DOWN

Following the offering of the revolver, cartridges and holster found on McMahon after the shooting the prosecution played their trump card, calling Mrs. Cederlof to the stand. Dressed in the deepest black, with a long veil over her face and supported by her brother she made a dramatic entrance.
 Step by step Breckons drew out the evidence from Mrs. Cederlof. She told of McMahon coming to the house.

 MISSED HIS SHIP. *****
 At 1:05 this afternoon the cruiser Cincinnati sailed for the Orient. At 1:30 the mail orderly of the Cincinnati strolled through the naval station, mail bag swinging over his shoulder.
 "Do you know where your ship is?" called an officer standing on the veranda.
 "No sir," replied the jackie looking anxiously toward the dock.
 "Well she's about 4 miles out by now," said the officer, consulting his watch.
 The navy tug was pressed into service, and a wireless message sent to the Cincinnati saying that man and mail were on their way.

 Henry May & Co. will be closed all day Thursday (Thanksgiving Day).

NEW INTER-ISLAND LINER ARRIVES

The melody of a band and the well-coming toot of sirens marked the appearance of the new Inter-Island Steam Navigation liner Kilauea through the channel and into Honolulu harbor this morning. As the brand new vessel neared the wharf, a rousing shout from assembled hundreds was sent up, which was acknowledged by the deep voiced whistle from the Kilauea.
 Captain William Freeman, the veteran navigator with the Inter-Island service was on the bridge and he set
