

AUSTRALIA TAKES TO HANDS-AROUND-THE-PACIFIC WORK

The Australians are beginning to assist the Hands Around the Pacific Club, and the work of the Honolulu organization.

The following is a leading article from the Sydney Morning Herald of December 14th, 1911:

"HANDS AROUND THE PACIFIC" A PEACE CLUB.

One of the most interesting travel organizations of the world is the "Hands Around the Pacific Club," which has its headquarters in Honolulu, and branches in London, Perth, and Seattle. Mr. Percy Hunter, who recently returned from a world tour, is first vice-president of the club, and on his passing through Honolulu on his way home, was entertained at dinner by over 200 of the prominent residents, with the Governor of the Territory in the chair. This function was made the first annual banquet of the club, which has sprung from small beginnings into a world-wide organization, with a probable future which may have important results upon the relations of the peoples of the Pacific.

How the Idea Originated. "Ever since I have been able to talk and write I've been interested in the Pacific Ocean and its borders, and particularly in the shore of New South Wales." Mr. Hunter stated yesterday. "This magnificent line of coast, splashed with the most glorious golden beaches to be found anywhere in the world, has always appealed powerfully to me. I have stood on its shores and contemplated with many visions from abroad, impressing upon them its beauties and attractions. One such visitor I remember particularly—a young man who spent a few days in Sydney in 1907, a restless, energetic, imaginative magazine writer from New York. I took to him the moment he told me he traveled for nine months in the year, and for the other three dictated magazine articles to a stenographer. He not only had the travel, but he had the love of peace. Since that day he has spread the famous beauty and seductive call of Sydney far and wide. But they have his harnesses now. He is running a magazine of his own, and until he gives it away to some one, as he will some day, he will travel no more. This is Alexander Hume Ford, and his name is a household word in the magazine offices of America. He looked from a

New South Wales Pacific headland at our beaches, at the filmy lace of the breaking rollers, at the sand shining like molten gold, the misty eyes, and seaward at the deep blue, heaped under a crossing nor-easter just showing a glimpse of pearly foam here and there, and he said: "Yes, this is the Pacific. But it isn't only your ocean. Do you realize that 7000 miles east that ocean is washing on shores, and it reaches north and south and touches the borders of many countries and many peoples. It should form a link between us. We must do something."

Spread of the Movement.

"The Hands Around the Pacific Club" has taken up the work for the Pacific and it has already made considerable progress. A branch in Sydney is to be presided over by Sir Allen Taylor, its first vice-president is Mr. W. G. Conley; Mr. Arthur Kidman is a prominent member, Captain J. D. S. Phillips, of the Zealandia, one of the best known men on the Pacific, is a strong adherent; and the branch, well launched, will undoubtedly acquire strength and importance. The Premier (Mr. McGowen) is an honorary president of the parent body, as is Sir Joseph Ward. The Governor of Honolulu is president, and Sir George Field is president of the London Branch, which branch was formed as a special compliment and in recognition of the vast interests of Britain in the Pacific Ocean. On the Pacific Coast of Canada and the United States, some of the most prominent citizens are interesting themselves in the movement, and so in Latin America the work is being taken up with the greatest enthusiasm by the foremost people in each center. Recently in Honolulu a notable event was a peace address given under the auspices of the club by the famous American educationalist, Dr. David Starr Jordan. This address has been issued as a bulletin by the club. It is expected that the Sydney branch will prove to be one of the most important centers of the club, and that it will contribute largely to the work of making the Pacific countries better known both one to the other and abroad.

FOR YOUR HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair growth.

But, when the hair roots retain any life, we believe there is nothing that will so surely promote hair growth as will Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. To prove that statement, we promise to promptly return all the money you pay us for Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, should it not please you.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic destroys the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and, by promoting circulation, nourishing them.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic helps to relieve scalp irritation, to remove dandruff, to prevent the hair from falling out, and to promote an increased growth of hair. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Fort and Hotel streets.

"GRIZZLY BEAR" SETS PACE FOR FLEET NEWS

"The Standard Magazine of the Pacific Fleet," as it is called—and with good reason—has just made its second appearance here during the stay of the fleet. It is the "Grizzly Bear," published by the men of the U. S. S. Callifornia, and in make-up, general appearance and contents it is worthy of the flagship or of any vessel in the navy.

The Grizzly Bear shows marked signs of originality, and its contents rank it as distinctly high class. It is full of matter that makes good reading and of articles that will be clipped out or kept in bound volumes, and is well illustrated. The opening of Pearl Harbor and other articles on the stay of the fleet in Hawaii are given much prominence. J. R. Deering is the editor and E. F. Kidrick is the publisher. Its advertisers should be well patronized.

WORK WILL BE RUSHED ON ARRIVAL OF PIPE

With the arrival of the steamer Alaskan tomorrow will come the first of the iron piping for the new water mains that are to be laid through the principal streets of the city. The pipe is shipped here from New York.

Other consignments will continue to arrive at intervals of about ten days now until the whole consignment is here. Work is to be started almost immediately and will be rushed through in order that traffic on the streets may not be delayed any longer than necessary.

BENSON, SMITH'S WINDOW IS MOSQUITO EXHIBIT

Benson, Smith & Co. have come to the front in the sanitation educational work, and have devoted a window to a display of mosquito larvae that is both interesting and instructive. Larvae from six different sources are displayed in glass cases and the exhibit is unique and instructive.

Many people have little idea of what mosquito larvae really is, in spite of the wide publicity given the campaign against the pests. One look at the Benson, Smith window will teach a whole lot.

400 IMMIGRANTS LANDED TODAY

Four hundred more immigrants were landed at the Territorial station today, the majority being brought from Quarantine Island, where they have been detained on account of smallpox, while a number were transferred from the Federal immigration station. These latter have been under examination for physical ailments which would disqualify them as immigrants under the Federal laws.

Captain Paul Smith, who is in charge of the immigrants at the station, last night went home for the first time in a week. He has been literally living on his job since the first batch of immigrants came to the station last Thursday, sleeping at night anywhere he could roll up a quilt and a mattress and watching the immigrants with utmost care. It is largely due to his exertions that the station has started off with the excellent record of but one illness and no trouble of any sort among the tired, nervous and other rather quarrelsome immigrants who have to be kept inside the enclosure.

Captain Smith is now engaged in establishing a "baby ward." The stork is getting so busy at the station that the ward promises to be well filled. Two mothers are now tending their tiny babes in the regular and rather cramped iron cots, but Captain Smith will have a specially screened compartment hereafter.

One of the mothers surprised the station attendants by insisting on getting up and washing clothes two days after her little girl had arrived. When protests were made that she might overexert herself she said that back in Spain there was nothing unusual in such hardihood.

BIG CHORUS FOR "PINAFORE"

A large number of Honolulu's leading amateur singers turned out last evening for the first meeting of the chorus that will be a feature of the opera "Pinafore," which is to be staged by the Floral Parade management on the evening of February 21 on a ship in one of the naval slips here. The turn-out last evening was a pleasant surprise to Director General Wall, who had been able to give only two days' notice of the first meeting.

The chorus starts off with more than good prospects. Many more who have volunteered their aid in making "Pinafore" a success were unable to attend last night, but most of the chorus is expected to show up for the next meeting, which will take place at the hall of the Kiohama Art League at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening.

A short rehearsal was held last night, and Musical Director Cunha believes there is the nucleus of the best chorus Honolulu has ever seen.

IMMIGRANT BABY PET FALLS ILL

For the first time since the Wileedon immigrants were landed at the new Territorial immigration station, serious sickness has appeared. However, there seems no danger that it is smallpox, for which the immigrants were originally quarantined.

The case is that of little Maria Sanchez, three years old, a Spanish baby who has been the pet of the station ever since she arrived. Little Maria attracted attention the first day by her beauty and winsomeness and was a great favorite.

Last night she seemed to sicken and this morning was so weak that she was hurried to the Children's Hospital. It was stated at the station that she is suffering from general decline, not from any particular illness so far as examination has disclosed.

THINKS HE HAS LEPROSY CURE

EVERETT, Wash.—Asserting that he has discovered a specific remedy for leprosy which will cure it in its incipient stages, and disregarding the entreaties of his friends to refrain from facing certain death, D. D. Wamsley of Everett has applied to the bureau of insular affairs at Washington, D. C., for an appointment to the Government leprosy colony on the island of Cullin, near Manila.

"I am positive that I have discovered a cure for incipient leprosy," said Wamsley, "and that my remedy is also a preventive of leprosy. I expect to demonstrate this fully at the Manila leper colony."
