

RANDLE HIGHLANDS

The social held by the Ladies Aid Society recently proved to be a success. Everybody seemed to take hold to do their best. There was Dr. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward who very gracefully handled the lemonade. Mr. Geo. Crane who carved watermelons did so as if from the Southland. And the ice cream, My! wasn't it good? for Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Loudenslager had charge of it. Then there was Miss Mary Melling and Miss May Hostick who sold the best of candies. The mysterious pie was well taken care of by Mrs. Mattie Armstead and Miss Grace Skidmore. Mr. Edward Westerland won the pie by naming it.

BAPTIST S. S. PICNIC—Get ready for the picnic to be held Thursday, August 19, at Bradbury Heights.

The following subjects will be considered in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Anacostia, tomorrow by the pastor.

11 a. m.—“Why the pound was taken from him.”

8 p. m.—“Abraham driving away the fowls.”

Seats free—all welcome.

Members and friends of the Methodist Episcopal Church from abroad, who are visiting in Anacostia and vicinity, are cordially invited to the services and fellowship of the Anacostia M. E. Church, corner 14th and U Streets.

If our hosts who are entertaining such guests, will kindly inform the pastor, it will afford him pleasure to render the courtesy of a personal call.

Application for Charter Members Being Solicited

The National Protective Legion, with assets over $4,000,000, having paid to members over $16,000,000, and a membership of 250,000, is about to institute a local Legion and a branch office in Anacostia.

It is a Fraternal Co-operative Organization, owned and controlled entirely by members who alone receive the profits of the business.

A certificate of membership is a profitable business investment, as is shown by the following letter just received addressed to a new member:

MECHANICSVILLE, N. Y., July 11, 1909.

Dear Sir:—I received your letter asking my opinion of the National Protective Legion, of which I have been a member eight years. At the end of the first five years I drew a dividend of $250. I am now on my second five years.

I was disabled for seven weeks during March and April, for which I drew $15 a week as a disability benefit. I can say that their dealings have been satisfactory with me, and as a protective organization to join I would consider it perfectly safe.

Yours truly, J. K. BAKER.

Similar letters are coming to hand in hundreds.

Class B—Disability policy, costing $2.00 a month, matures in five years.

Applications for charter memberships and others now being received.

Full inquiry solicited and every information, with literature will be furnished at the office of the National Protective Legion, No. 10 Good Hope Road, Anacostia, D. C.
