BRIEF JOTTINGS.

The first sea gulls of the season have arrived in the harbor.

The street railway company is repairing its tracks on Forest avenue, in Deering.

Evangelists Brown and Ordway of Boston will conduct services at 2.30 p. m. and 7.00 p. m. at Brown's Hill church next Sunday.

The Cumberland County Cyclists will have a club run to Yarmouth, Sunday, October 23d. All wheelmen are invited to join. The start will be made from the Oaks at 10 a. m. sharp.

The St. Lawrence street church will resume its Sunday evening choral service at 7 p. m. tomorrow. Music by a mixed choir and gospel address by the pastor.

Yesterday was bright in the early morning, then gray and Novemberish, with gleams of sunshine during the day, and a few drops of rain.

Mrs. I. P. Warren will succeed her late husband as editor of the Christian Mirror, in accordance with the wish of Dr. Warren.

W. H. Lovell, of H. Lovell & Sons, Coaticook, P. Q., was in the city yesterday morning. The firm is engaged in the lumber business, and furnished 1800 piles for the Grand Trunk bridge. The piles now being driven at shed No. 2 are from this yard. Many of these piles are 60 feet long and 15 inches in diameter.

A very odd looking little horse attracted considerable attention on Middle street yesterday. It was a specimen of a peculiar breed of horses known as Buffalo horses, which are natives of Labrador.

Brakeman Whitney, of the Maine Central, was coupling the engine to a car on his freight train Wednesday morning, and was badly jammed in doing so.

The dyeing machinery for the plush mill was taken out of bond yesterday and removed to the mill. The pipes for the entire sprinkling system have arrived.

A new patent trolley arm is being tried on car No. 68 on the Westbrook line. It is the invention of a Westbrook man.

By the breaking of a pin, a train of freight cars broke loose on the Maine Steamship Company's wharf Thursday, and the cars ran to the end of the wharf, doing considerable damage to the piling and underpinning.

The suit against the management of the Harris Palatial Car Company, brought by some of the minority stockholders, praying for a receiver, will be heard at this term of the Supreme Court. There was a mortgage on the car, and it has been foreclosed, and the car Jeannette advertised for sale.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Herbert C. Mason of Brunswick and Miss Blanche Mason were in town Thursday.

The Rev. Horatio Stebbins, D. D., of San Francisco, and formerly pastor of the First Parish Unitarian church in this city, delivered the opening sermon before the Ministers' Institute in Newton, Mass., on Monday evening.

The Boston Journal says: "Judge William L. Putnam held court for the consideration of naturalization cases for the first time in Boston Tuesday, and his care, thoroughness and fairness in dealing with the applicants made a most agreeable impression among the members of the bar. The judicial honors, which President Harrison so graciously offered this distinguished Pine Tree Democrat were worthily bestowed."

IT HAS COME TO THIS.

That every successful, meritorious article has its imitations. This is a grave injustice, for the genuine pure article will be often judged by the imitation. No preparations require for their manufacture more care and skill, more costly and purer materials, than flavoring Extracts.

In this instance cheap materials means inferior flavors. Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring Extracts have won their way to public confidence by the pure and costly materials used, the new processes employed for extracting from the fruits their natural flavoring principles. In using Dr. Price's Orange, Lemon, Vanilla or other flavors the housewife will never fail to obtain the grateful flavor desired.

THE GRAND TRUNK.

The Promotion of Mr. Stephenson a Part of the General Changes.

It was announced by the Press the other day that Mr. J. M. Riddell had been appointed assistant superintendent of the Grand Trunk, with charge over the Eastern Division, which includes the line from Belleville to Portland. This was only part of a general change in the management of the road. Mr. Charles Siff has retired from the position of superintendent of the Southern Division, and on November 1st Superintendent James Stephenson, who is well known in Portland as superintendent of the main line from Portland to Sarnia, will assume charge of the entire Grand Trunk system, including the St. Clair Tunnel and Welland Division. He thus has about 3000 miles of road under his charge. Mr. Stephenson is expected in Portland next week.

The Season's Work at the Mile Track.
The grading of the mile track at Scarborough Crossing has been completed, and next season some great events may be expected on it. Mr. J. Malcolm Forbes, the owner of Nancy Hanks and Arion, and Mr. Hamlin, the owner of the great pacer Hal Pointer, have already manifested an interest in the track. In fact, so much so that Mr. Forbes said to the president of the association, Mr. George Burnham: "Whenever you get that track of yours ready my stable is also ready." And that includes Nancy Hanks, Arion and so on. During the present autumn there will be erected a number of stables for Mr. George Burnham, Mr. Pooler of Skowhegan and others and a club stable. A general private stable will also be erected this fall, with reception room, cupola, &c., by Messrs Geo. M. Standwood, A. H. Farnham, Alonzo Libby, G. F. Lovett, Ansel G. Sawyer, Isaac C. Atkinson, R. H. Lewis, Dr. Lord, E. W. Hunt, E. E. Cross, and several others.

It has been reported that C. H. Nelson wishes to lease the track; but we are informed that it will not be let to him or any one else.

It is thought that the decision of the County Commissioners will be favorable to the laying out of the new highway, in which case the new track will be on one of the finest drives in the country.

Sorry He Could Not Be Here.
The Reed Cadets yesterday received this letter from Capt. Cookson, who is bearing the State Standard at Chicago, regretting he could not parade with them to-night.

CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 18, 1892.
To the Reed Cadets:
I sincerely hope that every member will turn out on the 21st, and do honor to the name of Columbus. If not unavoidably absent, it would have been a great pleasure to me to command.

W. W. COOKSON.

Quiet Columbus Day on the Water Front.
Columbus Day was generally observed on the water front with profound quiet. The schooner Maggie Ellen flew colors from every mast; but otherwise the harbor was as quiet as it could be considering that it was swept by a stiff northwest wind.

On Thursday, next October 27th, commencing promptly at 1.30 o'clock p. m., and regardless of any condition of the weather, Barrett Brothers will sell by public auction at the residence of J. F. Barrett, Hart Farm, Deering, (3 1/2 miles from Portland) 25 head of their choicest and highest bred horses, colts, fillies and brood mares; by Westland (4650) record 2.29, Col. West (4208) trial 2.20, Artemas Jr., and Sir Junius. The animals to be sold include their prize winners and are among the very best they have ever bred or raised. The sale will be positive and absolute to the highest bidder, without limit or reserve of any kind whatsoever; will begin promptly and all to be sold can be seen and examined at any time after the 24th, at Deering.

Hadn't you better send by mail to J. E. Conant & Co., of Lowell, Mass., or Mr. J. F. Barrett, of Deering for a catalogue, giving the breeding in detail of each animal to be sold?

This is certainly a new feature among the great horse breeders of Maine and one of the grandest opportunities of its kind that has happened in New England. Think of it. High-class horses at your own price or bid. It is doing just what the best breeders of New York, Kentucky and Tennessee have been doing for several years. Remember that their is to be no limit, no reserve, no postponement; the terms will be cash or satisfactorily endorsed notes. Deering is on the line of the Maine Central and the Portland, Rochester and Worcester R. R.'s and the line of electric cars from Portland.

Next Wednesday the Stockbridge Regular Course will begin with "Urania, or A Trip to the Moon" the great novelty and attraction of the day, which has been elaborately performed and will delight all the patrons of the course. The next evening the Popular Course will open with the Lady Minstrels, another highly novel and amusing entertainment which will present a number of Boston ladies who will give a regular minstrel show in aid of charity, which is highly spoken of by the Boston press. It is advisable to secure course seats now and get such advantageous positions as you like.

Go-Won-Go-Mohawk.
Next Monday evening this Indian actress Go-Won-Go-Mohawk will present in Portland Theatre her beautiful drama in four acts entitled "Wep-ton-mah the Indian Mail Carrier." She will be supported by an efficient company and will introduce her celebrated Indian ponies. Wongry and Brekskin.

The Bath Kirmess.
The grand Breton fete and Kirmess in aid of the Bath Public Library will be given in that city Oct. 25th-29th. There will be 200 ladies and gentlemen take part in the dances of all nations. Friday next will be Portland's day with special rates on the Maine Central. Reserved seats at Stockbridge's.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.
BEFORE JUDGE WALTON.

FRIDAY.—In the case of Proprietors of Long Wharf against the City of Portland to recover damages sustained by the raising of the grade of Commercial street, the jury gave the wharf proprietors a verdict for $315.

In the case of Daniel Chase and others against the city for the same cause of action, the jury found that although the city raised the grade as claimed, the plaintiff's property was enhanced in value more than it cost to raise the buildings and therefore there was no damage.

J. A. Locke, for the Wharf and Chase.
The next case is John W. Pease against E. T. Burrows, which will come on next Monday morning. Tomorrow (Saturday) divorce cases will be in order. The jury has been excused until Monday morning.

CITY OF DEERING.

The work on Mr. Chas. H. Blake's new store at Woodfords did not go on yesterday because of an unforeseen occurrence. The store is to be put in front of the stable of the house belonging to the Hersey heirs and rented by Mr. Ira M. Fields. Mr. Fields was not notified by the owners of the house that they had leased the land, and objected to having the store go up in the yard he was paying rent for. So he locked the stable door and fenced the yard up, preventing the continuance of the work yesterday.

Mr. Harvey Heed
Laceyville, O.
Catarrh, Heart Failure, Paralysis of the Throat

"I Thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for Perfect Health."

"Gentlemen: For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to state a few facts: For several years I have suffered from catarrh, heart failure, getting so bad I could not work and could scarcely walk."

I had a very bad spell of paralysis of the throat some time ago. My throat seemed closed and I could not swallow. The doctors said it was caused by heart failure, and gave me medicine, which I took according to directions, but it did not seem to do me any good. My wife urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, telling me of Mr. Joseph C. Smith, who had been cured.

At Death's Door
but was entirely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. After talking with Mr. Smith, I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken two bottles I felt very much better. I have continued taking it, and am now feeling excellent. I thank God, and

and my wife for my restoration to perfect health." HARVEY HEED, Laceyville, O.

HOOD'S PILLS do not purge, pain or grip, but act promptly, easily and efficiently. 25c.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

A Nutmeg Match.

Clever little Annie Lewis, appeared as a star for the first time in this city, at Portland Theatre last evening, in a new play written for her by William Haworth, author of the "The Ensign," called "A Nutmeg Match," the scene being laid in Connecticut, the Nutmeg State, and the story dealing with the affairs of a love match there. Homely and true pictures of Yankeeism are the chief features of the play, and it abounds in a skillful blending of laughter and tears. A bit of realistic coloring is also added in the pleasuring scene in the fourth act, where a genuine steam pile-driver, with all the accessories and mechanical effects, is seen in full operation, the incident leading up to its introduction being the building of a new dock at Huyler's Bend, on the Connecticut river.

Miss Lewis, who is familiar as a comedienne of talent as "Cinders," displays her capabilities to excellent advantage, besides receiving the support of a company of merit. The principal charm of Miss Lewis' performance is the true womanliness which she imparts to her characterizations and the skill she exercises in the manipulation of her role. "Cinders" is a wild, untutored girl, of seventeen, who has been allowed to grow up on a Connecticut farm much as she pleased. No knowledge of the outside world has ever been imparted to her; she knows nothing of reading or writing, and her only companions have been the rural neighbors with whom she has lived. Still she is endowed with the true instincts of a noble woman, uneducated, it is true, but, withal, a being with a tender heart and generous impulses. The audience was quite enthusiastic last evening. The piece will be repeated tonight.

The Stockbridge Courses.
Next Wednesday the Stockbridge Regular Course will begin with "Urania, or A Trip to the Moon" the great novelty and attraction of the day, which has been elaborately performed and will delight all the patrons of the course.
