Insuring Their Own Property. The Board of School Commissioners of Har ord county have adopted a method of insurng their property, which is unique and is beieved to be the only one of the kind in the State of Maryland. The experience of a number of years past showed that the destruction of school property by fire was a very rare occurrence, and the amount of money paid out as premiums was virtually sunk. Looking at the matter in this light, they decided to create an insurance fund, and by appropriating annually the sum, about one hundred and fifty dollars, which had heretofore been paid out as premiums, they would be able to saye nough in five years to renew any school ouse which would be destroyed by fire.

The wisdom of such a course is at once ap parent. During nineteen years not a single uilding has been lost by fire, and had this nethod been adopted some years back, there would be a sufficient sum on hand at presen Roberts secretary and manager, and Donald to meet any emergency. A Batch of Stolen Goods. On April 28th a colored man who gave his name as Aaron Warfield was arrested near Swan Creek, and committed to jail on the charge of having in his possession property alleged to have been stolen. A description of the property was published at the time, and a few days ago a letter was received from Mr. William H. Hollis, of Martinsburg, West Virginia, giving a description of a gun which was among the articles found. It is a Richards gun, No. 10 bore, with the initials W. H. M. cut in the stock. An examination was immediately made and the initials found. He also claimed to have lost a revolver, and among the goods were a British buil dog of 38 calibre. Only a partial examination of the trunks had been made up to that time, but on Saturday last a thorough search was made which resulted in the discovery of numerous articles, among which the following are a

The game was not of the Oriole order but was amusing to the three hundred people present. The Perryman boys played like professionals their batting, fielding and base running being applauded by the crowd. Perryman will cross bats with the Athletics, of Baltimore, on Saturday next May 15th, when those who love the National came will have the pleasure of witnessing. some good sport. Perryman though small in population will have a team that will be a credit to Harford county. The score was, Perryman 29; Carsin's Run 2. The human tenement is often haunted-to the grievous discomfort of its possessor—by those malignant spirits, constipation and biliousness. But the abominable pair may be speedily driven out with the potent help of speedily driven out with the potent help of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This genial alterative, while it relieves the bowels and regulates the liver, never, as a drastic purgative does, produces violent effects and weak-ns the intestines. On the contrary, the action of the Bitters is precisely analogous to an effort of nature seeking to resume her proper functions. This furnishes pretty conclusive evidence that it is better to use persuasive means, so to speak, than to endeavor to coerce nature to a return to duty. Violent re-nedies produce only a temporary effect, followed by a hurtful reaction. For indigestion, malarial and kidney complaints, rheumatism and querousness, the Bitters takes highest rank among remedies of the philosophic school.

—Mr. Charles H. Wetzel, of Sunbury, Pa., was so much pleased with a remedy which cured him of rheumatism that he made affidavit to the fact for publication as tollows. "This is to certify that on May 11th I walked into Melick's drug store on a pair of crutches, bought a bottle of Chamberain's Pain Balm for inflammatory rheumatism which had crippled me up. After using three bottles I am completely cured. I can cheerfully recommend it.

A prominent western newspaper recommends flax seed tea as an excellent remedy for whooping cough. It may be good but it is not to be compared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation will allay the violent fits of coughing and make them less frequent and less severe. It also liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate. Complete recovery is much quicker, too, when this remedy is given. There is no danger in giving it to small children, as it is a pleasant syrup and contains nothing injurious. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by John S. Richardson, Jr., Druggists, Bel Air, Md.

He says: "The attacks were marked by terrible pains, diarrhea and fainting spells. At such times I suffered exceedingly until I began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, two or three doses of which effected an immediate and last cure." For sale by Lohn S. TWO MONTANA EDITORS. Have a Fraternal Time Together and Go

In For a Brotherly Shave. In attendance upon the recent inaugural ball at Helena, Mon., was E. H. Becker of the Billings Gazette and A. K. Yerkes of the Bozeman Chronicle, two men who would reflect credit upon journalism anywhere. They roomed together. During the evening of the ball Orpheus F. Goddard was sent out to buy some white neck ties, but returned with the information water pipes.

This announcement caused more or less wild defamation, especially when Goddard pulled out a necktie and quietly remarked that he took it when the proprietor wasn't looking and would pay him for it in the morning. It was not until Goddard had fished out two more, similarly abstracted from the store, that Becker agreed to attend the ball. Then he discovered that he needed a shave.

"Oh, that's all right," said Yerkes. "I have a safety with me, and I'll give you a shave that'll make you think I ought to have been a barber.' "What in the name of heaven is a safety?" said Becker.

"Never you mind," said Yerkes. "Just lie back in the chair and go to sleep. I'll wake you up when I get through." Becker lay back while Yerkes pinioned his hands behind the chair and went at him with a lawn mower razor. It was a beard of a week's growth, and the oper ator pulled and sawed with vigor. During the scrape, through which Becker yelled and swore and shed tears, a man from the next room came in and asked: "What in thunder are you tearing the paper off the wall for?" This did not disturb the imperturbable Yerkes one bit, but it made Becker swear, plead and threaten all the harder. Neverheless Yerkes held his victim down and shaved him to a finish. Then he remarked "I haven't any bay rum, or, in fact, any ng to put on that countenance. Becker but I want to say that the face would tur an edge on a corncutter. If it hadn't been for the fact that the barber shop were all closed and there'd been danger of a boycott if a barber had shaved you, I never would have staid with the job When Becker got his breath, he sat up in the chair with a wild look, and said: "So that's what you call a safety, is it Well, I want to say that I'd rather hav

There is on exhibition in London a gem of such remarkable size and beauty that royal and other millionaires are really quite excited about it and await with anx ety the inevitable day when one of their number will enrage the rest and seriously deplete his own bank account by purchasing the dreadfully attractive bit of stone To mineralogists the jewel is simply a fine specimen of corundum; for others it is a "star sapphire," whose twin may exist in the mines of Ceylon, where this one can from, but as the like has never been seen before the chances of duplication are re-garded as decidedly small. As precious stones go, this sapphire is a monster, being 5 inches in circumference and weigh ing 640 carats as against 106 for the Kohinoor, 136 for the Regent diamond and 194 for the Orloff. The stone, which is said to be flawless, is almost in its natural state, not cut in facets, but polished "en cabochon," to use the lapidary's term. Its shape is that of an irregular cone rounded at the top. The color is pale blue, clouded with a delicate white mist or fleeciness. When lighted from above, six quivering ever restless rays meet at the apex, a characteristic which gives this variety of sap phire its name. One observer describes the gem as looking like the pole of a water blue globe, with varying lines of longitude shooting out in silken flames toward a mythical equator at its base. When a light is placed on each side of it, three distinct stars appear, which change with the movement of the illuminants. The star sap phire is claimed to be impossible of imitation and is next in hardness to the dia mond. The ancients ascribed to these stones the power of bringing good luck, and there is a legend that Helen of Troy owed her conquests as much to the poss sion of a star sapphire as to the celestial

Mrs. Harriet Tubman, once called the "Moses of her people," and for whose head slave owners offered a reward of $40,000, is in Beston. She was born about 1820 in Dorchester county and was the grand-daughter of a slave brought from Africa. About 1844 she married a free colored man named John Tubman, but had no children. During the last two years of her slavery she lived in the family of Dr. Thompson. In 1849 the man to whom she belonged died, and by the provisions of the will the slaves were to be set free. wishes, however, were disregarded, and arrangements were made to dispose them in the usual way. Previous to the sale Mrs. Tubman made her escape and reached Philadelphia, where she found work and earned money. With this she traveled back to Maryland for her husband, but found that he had married

Between 1850 and 1860 she made no less than 19 trips to the south and spirited away more than 300 slaves. Her work in aiding fugitive slaves enraged the slave owners, and every effort was made to apprehend her. A reward of $40,000 was finally offered by them for her, either dead or alive. On this account she was able to do but little toward assisting her people between 1852 and 1857. At the breaking out of the war she was sent to the front by Governor Andrew of Massachusetts to act as a spy and scout for the Union armies and to work in the hospital. This she did for four years without remuneration. Sh was with the Fifty-fourth Massachusetts. Since the war she has done a little lectur-ing, and at present is trying to secure funds to build a home for colored widows.

Maryland's Greatest Sire, Registered and Standard-Bred

Trotting Stallion, THORNDALE IDOL, 1858.

Bronze-bay Stallion, very black points, star and snip; size, full 16 hands; weight, 1,190 lbs.; without fault or blemish; finest disposition, very rapid walker and of commanding presence; with great substance and good bone, yet of high finish and bloodlike lock. He is a big-gaited, rapid, vimmy-going horse, with great game and powers of endurance. Has shown tast trials with but slight handling.

The greatest sire of speed of any horse in the State, and that is what most breeders are looking for, and to get race horses bred to a borse you know has sired race horses. Thorndale Idol is the sire of the following race horses and money winners: Robt. C., 2.114; Skiffer 2.1844 David H., 2.20; Jennie Thorn, 2.2634; Ben Hur., 2.293; Edwin M., 2.393; Carcless Boy, 2.47, trial 2.25. Bammatier, trial 2.25, driven by Dr. Ulrich.

By carefully reading the tabulated pedigree we find that Thorndale, 305, sire of THORN-DALE IDOL, 1858, is also sire of Edwin Thorn, with 112 heats in 2.30 or better, and a best record of 2.16½; and that Thorndale is brother in blood to Goldsmith Maid, 332 heats to her credit in 2.30 or better, best record, 2.14.

If you want a race horse don't waste your time and money by breeding to a horse because he is fast himself, because he may never sire a race horse, and when you say race horse you mean one that will race and win the money, not get one or two fast heats. Thorndale Idol 1858, speaks for himself as a sire.

THORNDALE IDOL, 1858, will make the season, commencing March 1st, 1897, at the OWNER'S STABLE, Churchville, Md. Service Fee will be $20 to insure mares in foal. All accidents at owner of mare's risk. Mare kept on grass or grain at reasonable rates.
