

Newly Decorated Aquarium Opens Here Tomorrow

One of Key West's finest tourist attractions will resume operation tomorrow when the Key West open-air aquarium, under the management of Captain William Kroll, has its reopening.

Captain Kroll will offer to view numerous species of tropical fish, all caught in waters adjacent to Key West. The Aquarium has been neatly painted and cleaned and even alamedas, petunias, artillery plants, pepper plants, and many other botanical varieties, have been planted to add lustre to the surroundings.

The Captain and Mrs. Kroll claim that they haven't yet had time to go out and fish so as to give the Aquarium a finer variety, but nevertheless they have accumulated a very large variety of species of fish and crustaceans.

Included in the fish on display will be morays, parrot fish (blue and rainbow); queenfish, angel-fish, doctorfish, tang, sergeant major, beau gregory, pork fish, trigger fish, black angel, cow fish, blow fish, file fish, blue runner, nurse and sand shark, 5-lb. crawfish, hermit, soldier crabs, conchs, queen crabs, stone crabs, jewfish, Bermuda chubs, groupers, schoolmasters, gray snappers, hogfish, squirrel fish, cat fish, rainbow-runner, 12-inch starfish, slippery dicks, butterfly fish, fiddler crabs, rock hind, yellowtail, large sea horse, scotch porgies.

The above fish and crustaceans are fed crawfish, ground up grunts, barracuda and water in the tanks is continuously brought in from the ocean through a large pipe-line running under the Clyde Mallory docks.

Captain Bill and Mrs. Kroll live in a nicely furnished apartment in the Aquarium building, decorated with a sea motif.

Captain Kroll has been able to acquire some Cuban fish traps which are entirely of grass, and, unlike the American-made wire traps, do not injure the fish in any way.

Paul Dorn, Actor In Many N.Y. Plays, Visitor Here

Paul S. Dorn of New York City, is spending several days in Key West. Mr. Dorn, who has appeared in many Broadway stage productions, was the guest of Leo H. Warren and family at a luncheon party Tuesday.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, United street, tendered another luncheon party to the visitor, and Saturday, Leo Braxton Warren, Chief PHM, USN, who is home on leave, will give a cocktail party for Mr. Dorn before the New York man leaves for his home.

Because of his connection with the theatre, Mr. Dorn is deeply interested in the coming production, "Angel Street," by the Key West Players, to be presented at the Barn Theatre. Mr. Dorn has appeared in several productions whose casts included leading members of the Broadway production of "Angel Street."

'Abandon Hope All Ye Who'... Gaze--Lena Is Here

Lena the Hyena, unable to obtain commercial airline accommodations because of the nauseating effect she would be expected to have on the other passengers, was flown into Key West last evening by Fearless George Faraldo. He circled the city with her in the rear cockpit of his plane and pointed out the county jail, her home for the present, and Raul's, where she is to make her debut.

Faraldo landed at Meacham Field and turned her over to a waiting committee of city officials and representatives of the Jaycees, whose Halloween dance she will attend tonight at Raul's. Lena was driven into town with a cavalcade of blaring auto horns and a loudspeaker announcing her approach. The famous Al Capp character of the Li'l Abner comic strip was placed in the county jail for safekeeping until tonight when she will again be escorted, this time to the dance.

Jack Murray, chairman of the Dance Committee, explained to the members that the dance will be held at Raul's instead of the Club Sugaloa as was originally planned.

Use asbestos covers under your cooking pan. There will be less trouble with sticking food as the asbestos will deflect and distribute the heat evenly.

USO Gives Gala Party Tonight

The Jackson Square USO Hal-lowe'en Party and Dance tonight will feature mysteries, surprises, rewards, fortune-telling, apple-diving, a floor show, and many other events. Music will be furnished by John Pritchard and his orchestra.

The sailors who guess their partners' identity before the girls unmask at 10:20 will be surprised by a reward of a romantic nature. The character-reading and predictions of Mrs. Grace Crosby are always in demand. Program director, Gerald Pinder, will lead the Conga Line. The floor show will include acts and choruses from the forthcoming musical extravaganza, "Best Smile Forward," and Sylvia, the Tiger Woman—the unproved mystery—will be presented during the evening.

The patio has been draped with fish net for the Spider-Web, the theme of the evening. Prizes will be awarded for the most effective costumes and a large attendance is expected to enjoy a gala party.

To remove watermarks on the polished surface of furniture, rub the spot lightly with camphor or peppermint. Use a flannel rag for this purpose and follow with an application of a linseed-turpentine polish.

Lena Won't Contaminate VFW Car; Refuses Ride

When Lena the Hyena came to Key West last night via airplane, the sleek, shining VFW Chevrolet was at the airport to escort her to the county courthouse.

Daintily (?) stepping from the plane, her eye (the good one!) caught sight of the snappy car being offered as a prize to a lucky ticket buyer by VFW. Uttering a shrill croak of joy, Lena wobbled over for a ride—then suddenly stopped, and sadly turned away.

In a raucous voice she cried, "This automobile belongs to the Building Fund Donators. I don't dare ride!" Explaining further through her bewildered interpreter, Lena said that if she accepted a ride, the lucky winner of the car would have to donate it to the city's garbage disposal unit.
