"Would it not be a better plan for the proper authorities to condemn about 150 miles of the turnpikes within the county running into Baltimore, paying the stockholders a fair price for their stock, as the latter might appear to be worth from the dividends? Some of the roads pay no dividends, hence their stock is of no value. Allowing about $30,000 for condemnation award there would be $290,000 available for repairs to the 150 miles of turnpike, and as these roads already have rights of way, bridges, grades and foundations about $2,000 a mile would put them in order. Baltimore then using its allotment of $1,000,000, or as much of it as might be needed, to repair the portions of turnpikes within the city limits, 150 miles or more of good roads would be provided for the city and county, to say nothing of the relief from tolls. This could be done with little delay, the city and county getting immediate benefit from the loan leaving the Roads Commissioners to pursue at their leisure work in other parts of the State.

"By this plan nearly four times as many good roads would be provided as by the single new road of 40 miles. With the highway now building between Baltimore and Washington an assured fact, and repairs as above described to roads entering Baltimore, it and Baltimore county will be well satisfied on the good roads question for some time to come,

"As Baltimore is the largest city of Maryland, and the parts of the county adjacent are thickly populated, I can hardly see how the county's share of the loan can be used to greater advantage."

Harrisonville, 2d District:—While sadly admitting a most deplorable dearth of June brides and fair girl graduates, this district is still able to vie with any in the county in the number of strawberry festivals and Children's day services, which crowd week-day and Sunday with interest.

On Sunday last, at 11 o'clock A M., Children's day was celebrated in Mount Paran Presbyterian Church, at Harrisonville, with an appropriate program well rendered. Addresses were made by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Henry, who also gave an object lesson, and Rev. Edward A. O'Dell, who spoke on the subject of Porto Rican missions. Miss Mary Fite presided at the organ, and a special musical feature was a cornet solo exquisitely rendered by Miss Elsie V. V. Henry. Miss Henry, who is a musician of much talent, is a pupil of the famous Park sisters. The floral decorations were very fine, the pulpit being banked with cut flowers, while the organ was wreathed in the same blossoms. The children, who had been trained by Miss Marion Crooks, reflected credit on their preceptress.

On Sunday morning next the little ones constituting Ward's Methodist Episcopal Sunday school will hold Children's day services and an elaborate program is now in preparation. Rehearsals are also in progress for the same purpose in Mount Olive M. E. Sunday school, Granite Presbyterian Church, Randallstown. Mount Olive and First Church, we believe, will hold their services on the morning and evening, respectively, of June 14th.

So much for Children's day!

Strawberry festivals and lawn fetes may now be taken up as space fillers, but if the worthy editors and readers of The Union think that the correspondent is about to enumerate all of these affairs in this district we wish to allay their fears, or blast their hopes (as the case may be) at once. All that is necessary is to say that Holy Family R. C., Ward's M. E. and Mount Olive M. E. churches have had their innings and nobly depleted the purses of a suffering public, and that nearly, if not quite, every religious, frate

Monkton, N. C. B. R.—The General Conference of the M. E. Church adjourned finally on Monday. The address of U. S. Senator Albert E. Beveridge on Saturday afternoon last, before an audience that filled the Lyric, was much enjoyed by those who heard it. His comparison of human slavery with child labor was well put. He said "the nations put down the traffic in human flesh and the nations would put down the making of degenerates, mentally and physically, by child labor."

On Sunday afternoon the consecration of the new bishops, according to the ritual of the M. E. Church, was a beautiful and impressive ceremony that gave eight new, untried men episcopal power and changed the current of their lives and was doubtless an hour in their experience fraught with a solemn sense of the new responsibilities they were assuming.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zinkand lost their infant daughter on Sunday last. Interment in Monkton M. E. Cemetery on Monday.

Miss Mildred Remare came home from Union Protestant Infirmary on Monday of this week. She is recovering from the serious surgical operation she submitted to a few weeks ago.

On Saturday last the stork left a little daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas H. Cockey, which, being the first, was received with much joy.

Miss Annie Crisp is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Wilbert Hutchins, of "Stoneleigh."

Strawberry festivals are numerous this week. One at Oak Hill, another at Corbett, and still another at St. James, on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Willie Reichart, the little son of Mr. William Reichart, while picking strawberries a few days ago, was bitten on the hand by a snake. He was taken to a physician immediately and had the wound dressed. While his hand swelled considerably, he did not suffer much and he has entirely recovered from the effects. It is not known what kind of snake it was as it disappeared before any one could get to it.

It is seldom that a village of this size has two weddings in one day, but such was the case on Wednesday. Miss Maida Class, the youngest daughter of Mr. William Class, was married to Mr. J. Martin Gebb, of Baltimore. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, at 3 P. M., and was performed by Rev. August Ernst, of St. John's Lutheran Church. The bride was attired in white and carried roses. There were no attendants. A reception and supper followed the ceremony. The young couple will make their home in Baltimore, where the groom is engaged in business.

At 8 o'clock on the same evening Miss Edna L. Penn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Penn, was married to Mr. Edward G. Markley, of Lauraville. The ceremony was performed at Lauraville M. P. Church by the pastor, Rev. Leonard Smith. The bride was attired in white silk and carried carnations. The groom was attended by his brother as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Edward Nolting and Elmer Ehrhardt. The church was crowded with friends of the young couple. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Later they left for a trip North. They will make their home in Lauraville, where the groom is engaged in business with his father, Mr. David Markley.

Both couples have the best wishes of the community. another at St. James, on Friday and Saturday evenings.

The local foxbunters of the Manor secured a young fox from Masters Meredith and Donald Pearce and had a drag hunt through the pasture and grass fields of several well known farmers on Wednesday evening. The dogs ran beautifully, but it was too late to see which was which, although each hunter was sure his dog was the leading one. They are training for the drag at Manor Glen track on Saturday afternoon.

The W. C. T. U. will hold its monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. Thomas Kauffman, on Wednesday, June 10th, at 2.30 p. m.

Upon the invitation of Mr. Charles E. Fendall, Col. G. B. Brackett, chief of the Plant Division of the Agricultural Department, Washington, D. C.; his first assistant, Prof. W. H. Ragan, and Prof. C. P. Close, of the Maryland Experimental Station, College Park, came to Towson on Saturday last to see Mr. Fendall's strawberries and to learn something about the production of the wonderful plant called the "Fendall" that is just now in full fruitage and bearing so wonderfully of the large and beautiful berries.

tory. Of course, the Fendall has not been mentioned because it has not been disseminated, but I think it ought to have a place as being a most promising berry.

One especially nice feature about this gathering is that a man does not have to say muchabe between the berries speak for themselves and give more praise than could possibly be given in words. I came to Maryland only a year ago last January but I am certainly pleased with the beautiful country you have here. In the various parts of the State I am surprised at the beauty of the seenery and you have as beautiful a place as I have seen after traveling quite a good deal through the State. I am giad to add one more pleasant and valuable experience to those that I don't think it is at all necessary for me to try to add words of praise to what Col. Brackett and Prof. Ragan have said. I heartily concur in what they say in regard to this berry; it is certainly most promising and if it proves to be a good shipper it has a bright future before it.

An event like this is a grand one. If you are not encouraged to grow you are encouraged to consume. I am glad of this opportunity of being with you and would be pleased to see all of you at the Experimental Station of the College, should you find it convenient to visit us.
