There are peculiar merits "I the play, and from what we have seen in our exchanges, it is a pleasure to aunounce that, under the skillful genius of the Lingards, it is a decided success. Ever since the New York Tribane office was burned out, in 1845, that journal has kept always on hand duplicates of everything needed for the publication of the paper, forming, in fact, a complete duplicate office. Mr. Edwin E. Overall claims the copyright of the newspaper title, "The South," and lishers at New York. Thereupon, the Summit (Mississippi) Times illusturedly comments as follows:

T. Tardrew & Co. recently started a paper in New York with the above title. We do not know whether our erraite and ubiquitous friend. Overall, can make them change their name or not. It is true, about a year ago he came down from the North with a printed prospectus of The South, soon to be established at Oxford, Mississippi. A month or so thereafter he printed the first number of The South in Memphis, Tennessee, and a very creditable number it was, but the efforts to produce it seemed to have exhausted his resources, for if his bantling was not already "stillborn," nothing was heard of it for several weeks, when a small half sheet was put out, informing the gasping public that arrangements were in progress for a Hoe's cylindar press to enable the enterprising publisher to print his vast edition. We supposed The South, of Overall's begetting, had honeatly pegged out, like the Confederate Memorial, Argus and Crisis, and the thousand and one other journals which he has either started or proposed to start. If the ownership of the names of defunct newspapers is a source of wealth, Overall ought now to be rolling in splendor in a brown stone mansion in Fifth avenue, instead of drawing nourishment from his inexhaustible gas-bag.

Judge King will no doubt arrive in our town to-morrow evening, and will open court the following day. We would like to have a squint at his physiogomy when he steps into the courthouse, and takes a look at the old dilapidated concern, and sees how uncomfortable it will be to hold court in such a place of a cold day. We very much doubt whether he holds any. There is no chimney, nor any stove, and even if there was one or the other, it would be utterly impossible to heat a room as open as that is. The window assh are all broken, and the wind can come in from every point of the compass; and how is it possible for the judge, lawyers, jury, and others who have business in court, to stay in such an uncomfortable room of a cold day without a comfortable fire, is something none of them will do. it at all. he Republicans of Natchitoches Parish Aroused Between Five and Six Hun-dred Republicans Present The Turner Hall Convention Indersed-The Ad-ministration of Governor Warmoth

NATCHITOCHES, La., October 9 .- Pur mant to a call of the central executive committee of the Republican party of the parish of Natchitoches, the Republicans et 'n mass meeting this day. The object of the meeting was to explain to the people the status of the two conventious held in the city of New Orleans on the ninth day of August, 1871. Invitations were ex tended to the representatives of the Cus tomhouse convention at this place, and were accepted. A large procession of Re-publicans paraded the streets of Natchi-toches, and thereafter proceeded to a beauti'u' shady wood selected as the place of meeting. On reaching the wood the procession halted and gave three cheers for the Republican party of Natchitoches, amid the deafening chorus of the anvil

About twelve o'clock the meeting was called to order. Judge H. C. Myers was hosen president and D. H. Boullt secretary. Hons. Henry Raby, Raford Blunt and J. H. Hornsby, Esq., represented the Turner Hall convention; Messrs Charles Leroy, W. H. Tranard and R. L. Faulkner represented the Customhouse convention. The speaking lasted some four hours and before the adjournment of the meeting and at the conclusion of the speaking, the and at the conclusion of the speaking, the meeting in mass, by three loud and hearty cheers, adopted unanimously the action of the delegates to the Turner Hall convention from this parish, viz: Hons. Henry Raby, Raford Blunt and M. P. Blackstone, Eso. Indorsed unanimously the Turner Hal' convention and the State central executive committee, of which Hon. P. B. S. Pinchback is president. Indorsed unanimously the administration of Governor Warmoth. The victory was an easy one. So zealous were the people in the cause of true Republicanism that they expressed a desire that the speakers representing the Customhouse convention would not address them.

The president of the meeting stated that The president of the meeting stated that the ventlemen had been specially 'nyited to audiers the meeting, and requested the audience to listen patiently to them, at the same time informing the meeting that there were several gentlemen present who were perfectly able to answer any argument of the Customhouse representatives. The speakers were partially listened to thereafter, and at the conclusion the meeting denounced the Customhouse convention and the actors therein; and inasmuch as it had been represented to S. P. Packard by some unauthorized persons that the Republicans of Natchitoches indorsed the Customhouse convention, it was unanimously resolved unauthorized persons that the Republicans of Natchitoches indorsed the Customhouse convention, it was unanimously resolved that Mr. Packard should be informed of the expression of the Republican party of Natchitoches in mass meeting assembled, in order for him and the Customhouse ring to witness the complete repudiation of the compact of Casey, Lowell, Packard & Co., their convention and their action, and the violent attempt to destroy the Republican party of this State.

Able and eloquent speeches were made by Hons, Henry Raby, Ratord Blunt and J. R. Hornsby, E.q., all of which was received with repeated and henry cheers. The magnanimity of the speakers of the Customhouse convention can not be overlooked on their acknowledgment of having signally faded to satisfy the meeting that their position was the right one, and they clearly and honorably admitted that they were beat, and could not make a point.

In conclusion, Natchitoches parish is safe, and beyond the reach for the Customhouse ring, and when the day arrives for the Republicans of this parish to express, by their ballots, the steady adherence to the cause of Republicanism, they will be found in one solid phalanx, unflinching and unanimous, in their support of the Republican party, which they now only recognize in the action of the State central committee organized at the Turner Hall convention, on the ninth of August, 1871, in the city of New Orleans.

The Relief of Chicago.
The Archbishop of New Orleans makes the following appeal:

ARCHBISHOP'S RESIDENCE, Sew Orleans, October 11, 1871. New Orleans, Cetober II, 1871. 5

The unprecedented calamity with which one of the most flourishing cities in the United States has so recently and cruelly been stricken appeals to the sympathy of every noble and generous heart, and those sympathies ought to assume as substantial and tangible an expression as the impoversibled condition to which the South itself is reduced will permit.

We accordingly recommend, that on the first Sunday after the receipt of this notice, all the pastors of our diocese appeal from the pulpit to the charity of their flocks in behalf of so many poor families left utterly destitute by the conflagration which has converted into a heap of smoking ruins the greatest part of the city of Chicago.

Those inmilies, homeless and penniless at the approach of winter, and exposed to all the rigors of a merciless climate, demand prompt assistance at our hand.

Any moneys left with the parish priests will be immediately forwarded to our residence, whence they will forthwith be transmitted to their proper destination.

Matinee to-day by Hart, Ryman & Barnev's Minstrels. Drainage. The Council has had before it some months an ordinance for the opening of a ditch or drain on Banks street, in place of the Canal street drain. Many practical men have heen consulted on the subject of the proper drainage of the rear of the city, and in order to dispose of that intolerable nuisance, the Canal street drain, a number of citizens urge upon the City Council the passage of the ordinance in question. It is embodied in an ordinance offered concerning drainage.

embodied in an ordinance offered concerning drainage
The following reasons are urged why the Canal street canal should be closed, and a drain opened on Banks street:
First—Canal street is the main street from the river to the lake, and its location, length width and prominence entitle it to being improved. It would form when covered the handsomest walk and drive in the whole city.

Second—The drainage through that street is now insufficient, and other outlets must be found.

Third—In looking for a new outlet there is no one more suitable than Banks street, its width allowing the projected ditch better than any other.

Fourth—No other street, even alongside canal, can be available for the proposed canal, can be available for the proposed outlet.

Fifth—Upon examination it will be found that a large majority of property and property holders, having a direct interest in Banks avenue, are in favor of this measure, and opposition made will show this.

Sixth—There is hardly any improved property on Banks street, and the distance between Galvez street and Hogan avenue is all that is required.

Seventh—This plan is much cheaper and more certain of eventual success than the culvert plan, to which many objections are maised

An improvement upon the sprig of feathers inserted in the band of "Alpine" hats has been devised by some inventive hatter, whose genius has led him to affix enameled bugs to the hat instead. The objection to this is that a hat so embellished may impart a beetle-browed expression to the wearer of it.

A suit for divorce has been brought in the Eighth District court by Marie Emma Dumas, wife of Mobert Gibbs Hobbs, and the petitioner, after alleging that she brought to her husband a sum over one hundred thousand francs, goes on to say that her hiving with him is insupportable for the following reasons: He slapped her face a little more than two years after their marriage, took her by the throat on another occasion, and at another time throttled her so as to leave the marks of his violence on her throat. Besides this his demeanor has been rude and unmannerly. The plaintiff having been authorized to bring and, her children were placed at the house of her brother. P. A. Dumas, No. 11 Claiborne street, as designated by the court.

Suit is brought in the Sixth District court against the Louisiana Levee company, by Charles Nolan, a contractor, for $7.740, based on the following grounds: The contractor proposed to build the Augustine levee in accordance with the company's advertisement, the proposal being for twenty-seven cents a foot, and he sets up the bid was accepted and the contract awarded. The company failed to begin the work or to comply with terms according to the petition, were put in default, and the above sum is the amount of damages claimed.

The first manufacturer of buttons in the United States was Samuel Williston. While he was dragging along as a country storekeeper—bis eyes having failed him while studying for the ministry—his wife bethought her that she could cover by hand the wooden buttons of the time, and thus earn an honest penny. From this the couple advanced in their ambition until they had perfected machinery for covering buttons, the first employed for the purpose in the United States. From this sprang an immense factory, and then others, until Samuel Williston made half the buttons of the world. His factories are still running at Easthampton, coining wealth for the proprietors, and known to every dealer in buttons the world over. He is now between seventy and eighty years of age, is worth $5,000,000 to Easthampton for a seminary and for churches, $200,000 to South Hadley Female Seminary, and $200,000 to Amherst College, besides lesser gifts. The first manufacturer of buttons in the

A traveller, who saw a pretty girl in the same car with himself, savs: "In a few years," thought I, "that in ant will be an ornament to society, but had she not better die! Very soon she will tie some dead woman's hair to the back of her head, fasten her ribs with a corset, and hafig a bird cage around her lower limbs. Worse than that—when she arrives at maturity she will be compelled to determine whether she is for protection or free trade, to understand the intricacies of pig iron, and go the polls and vote."

The young monarch of Spain is astonishing the world by his success in the science of kingcraft. A London paper says no prince ever ascended the throne under more discouraging circumstances. No ruler certainly ever contrived in so short a space of time to win the esseem and love of unwilling subjects. Even the Republicans are vanquished by the chivalrous bearing and noble qualities of the young king. The example is a wholesome one for monarchs.

It has transpired that the President will make no appointments or removals which would increase Warmoth's chances for redection. It is expected that Warmoth will be impeached, thereby restoring the harmony of the party. It has further transpired that the Democratic organization in Louisiana have proposed to support Warmoth upon an agreed division of offices, the Republicans to have Governor, Secretary of State and Auditor, and the Democratic obave Lieutenant Governor and Attorney General. The Superintendent of Education is to be acceptable to all parties. The minor offices throughout the State are to be given to the best men, regardless of party.

Weather Report.

Weather Report. Office Chief Signal Officer.
Washington, October 13, 1871, 7:30 P. M. STROPSIS OF THE PAST IWENTY-FOUR HOURS. The barometer rose very rapidly on Thursday right at all stations east of the Mississuppi river, with the highest pressure-central in Maryland; the latter now extends from Cape Hatteras to Cape Cod. An area of low barometer apparently exists North and west of lowa, but no reports have been received. Lake Superior temperature has fallen, but again risen in the Ohio valley, and is quite low in Kansas and Nebraska, with northerly winds. Northeasterly winds with threatening weather is reported from Florida. Southerly winds with clouds and light rains from Arkansas to Iowa.

PROBABILITIES.

It is probable that on Saturday the barometer will fa" very generally throughout the Atlantic States, with easterly winds and increasing cloud ress and possibly rain on the south Atlantic and Gulf coasts. Cloudy weather with light rain will probably extend to Lake Michigan to-night, and fresh southerly winds prevail over the lower lakes to-morrow.
