

AT LAST HE YIELDS

Mr. Carlisle Has Accepted the Treasury Portfolio.

HIS PROBABLE SUCCESSOR

Cleveland Wants a New Tariff Bill Prepared and Bought the Kenan's Assistance—Dan Lamont.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The Herald's special says: "Senator Carlisle has notified Mr. Cleveland of his acceptance of the secretaryship of the treasury. On February Mr. Carlisle will resign his seat in the senate and tomorrow night will go to Kentucky in order to confer with his friends regarding the succession. Between February 1 and March 4, the Kentucky legislature will have an opportunity to choose a new senator. Judge Lindsey is here believed to be the leading candidate, but congressman McCreary, who has just returned from Europe, which he visited as a delegate to the international silver conference, will be in the field. Mr. McCreary was today in consultation with the Kentucky senators about the matter and will follow Mr. Carlisle to Kentucky in a few days. Mr. Carlisle finally induced to accept the treasury portfolio through Mr. Cleveland's instance that it is his desire to have a new tariff bill prepared by his cabinet during the coming summer, and that in this work he felt as if he must have the assistance of the Kentucky senator. So far as is known here, only two places in the cabinet have been filled by Mr. Cleveland. Carlisle will be secretary of the treasury and Dan Lamont will be secretary of the navy or postmaster-general, as the exigencies of cabinet-making may make most convenient. Without much doubt, ex-Governor Gray of Indiana will be secretary of agriculture if he decides to accept the place.

OUNDS THE TOBACCO

Congressman Harter Sees Financial Rain and Runs to Grover.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Congressman M. D. Harter of Ohio, the well-known anti-silver representative, left for New York tonight to confer with President Cleveland over his resolution to suspend the purchase of silver by the United States until an international agreement shall have been reached by at least Germany, France, Great Britain and the United States, fixing the valuation of the silver for coinage purposes. Mr. Harter has been calculating the cost of the silver purchased by the government under the Sherman act of 1890, and is prepared to present to Mr. Cleveland some figures which he thinks are significant and startling. He says but few persons know what enormous losses have been sustained by the government in the purchase of silver.

Taking the treasury statement for December as a basis, Mr. Harter said: "At the present market value of silver, which is fictitious or on stilts, due to our monthly purchases of the worthless trash, for which there is no legitimate market anywhere at current prices, the loss will not be less upon the closed dealers and silver holders in the treasury as valued in the statement referred to than $160,000. Beyond a reasonable doubt, fifty cents an ounce would be a large price for silver bullion on a business basis today, and this would mean $138,000,000, but we must hold this silver in trust against the notes issued for its purchase, and we may have to do this down to a point where thirty cents per ounce will be a high figure for it, there being scores of mines that produce for less. When this time comes, our losses, even if we stop trying to control the market, will not far from $400,000,000. Altogether this silver speculation and misuse of the public credit since 1878 was the most monumental financial blunder in human history."

BARKING AGAIN

The Watchdog Wants to Know Who Owns the Land.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Representative Holman, chairman of the appropriations committee, will tomorrow offer in the house the resolution: "Whereas, the real estate in the city of Philadelphia in which the United States mint is situated is held by title which will expire and terminate when the property shall cease to be used by the United States as the site for the mint; therefore, Resolved, That the judiciary committee be instructed to inquire into the facts and report to the house the nature of the title by which the property is held by the United States, and papers in ascertaining the nature of the title.

Mr. Holman's resolutions will be offered with a letter signed by Robert Wilcox, in which it is maintained that the mint property must revert to its original proprietors when ceased to be used as a mint. Mr. Holman said that he knew nothing of the facts in the matter. Representative Bingham of Pennsylvania today made a careful investigation of the matter and is convinced that there is nothing in Mr. Wilcox's claim. Mr. Bingham found that the property was purchased by the United States in 1829 for thirty odd thousand dollars. He examined the deeds and found that the United States held title by absolute purchase. He said that it was simply such an obstruction as comes to all purchases of property in large cities. He will move to amend Mr. Holman's resolution by referring the whole matter to the attorney general.

CRY OF WOLF

War Department Not Alarmed at the Row on Mexico's Border.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The war department has adopted no new policy concerning the better preservation of order on the Mexican border, and to quote a prominent official of the department: "Order cannot be entirely maintained until a railroad is built along the dividing line, thus insuring the quick transfer of troops." An order has been issued for a new telegraph line from Fort McIntosh, Tex., to insure quick transmission of messages from the seat of trouble, and Lieut. J. E. Maxfield of the signal corps has been directed to proceed with its construction. Beyond this and the employment of extra vigilance there will be no

WILL BE A LEADER

That is What Crocker Says About Murphy.

CLEVELAND IS UNGRATEFUL

The "Boss" Points Out Why Grover Should Not Tiger the Tammany Tiger at All.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Since Mr. Cleveland has come out openly against Edward Murphy, Jr., as Hiseock's successor in the state, Richard Crocker, the boss of Tammany Hall, has been asked a dozen times a day if he thought it would array the president-elect and his policy against Tammany Hall. Mr. Crocker has steadily declined to answer this question. Today he spoke about it for the first time.

BY ROUTE'S ADVICE

The Colorado Dead-Lock May Last for Several Weeks.

DENVER, Jan. 6.—There is no indication of a break in the dead-lock in the Colorado senate. If continued it will take the legislature until organized over Tuesday, the day set for the inauguration of governor. In the meantime Governor Rout's message is awaiting delivery, but this cannot be done until both houses are properly organized. Governor Rout was in consultation with republican leaders of both branches and he advised them to hold out against the filibusters.

HANDMASTER CAPPA DEAD

Guimere's Great Rival Has a Tumor in the Lungs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The well-known musician, Carlo Alberto Cappa, bandmaster of the Seventh regiment, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning at his residence, No. 123 East Ninety-second street. He died of a tumor in the lungs, which he had for some time.

D'LESSEPS CONFESSES

He Will Make Startling Revelations on the Stand.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—It is reported that the proof against M. Baihut, as well as against other important personages whom the government is prosecuting or preparing to prosecute, is due to an understanding arrived at between the authorities and M. Charles D'Lesseps, whereby the latter, in consideration of giving all the information in his power in relation to the beneficiaries of Panama corruption, is to be treated with great leniency, if not admitted to complete immunity. The report is that M. Charles D'Lesseps has made an unreserved statement of all the facts within his knowledge. M. De Lesseps' motives are said to be not only to secure immunity as much as possible from the penalty of the law, but also to vindicate the public that the Panama company was forced by irresistible pressure on the part of officials and press to choose between wholesale corruption and the threatened ruin of the enterprise. It is said that the acknowledgments made by M. Charles D'Lesseps will cause a most startling character, and will cause a sensation in America as well as in France.

HAS NO FEAR

France is Amused at the Royalist Gathering in Spain.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—The government exhibits very little regard to the royalist gathering in Spain. A leading supporter of M. Ribot is reported as saying: "There are three parties in France which want to take advantage of the Panama scandals to overthrow the republic. The first is the party of the monarchists, the second is the party of the republicans, and the third is the party of the reactionaries. The monarchists are the most dangerous, and it is a party opposed to light. Were it in power there would be just as much selling of votes and influence, that any other trying to expose them would be sent to a white slave with redoubled vigils and mendicants to work in the nickel mines of New Caledonia. Look forward to the scandals of the hour around the electorate to a sense of the value of moral character and to the necessity of more care in electing deputies. But I do not apprehend a revolutionary sweeping away of those institutions which have been won through strenuous efforts extending over the last hundred years. England has had a most corrupt parliament at a different time, but it was not a reason to get rid of the parliamentary system. It was only a reason for reform and watchfulness. I see no sign anywhere of a wish to rush back to any pretender."

MAY SUCCEED TO HUNGER

BRISBANE, Jan. 6.—The strikers in the harbor and other mining districts number twenty-two thousand and include many women who are determined to fight to the bitter end. Many of the men are anxious to return to work. All meetings held today those present were chiefly women. There is much suffering among the strikers and it is thought that hunger will soon drive them back to work.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION FOR COSTA RICA

CREW OF MEXICO, Jan. 6.—From information received here it is believed a revolution is probable in Costa Rica. It is said that the president of the republic has acknowledged that an effort may be made to depose him.

LILLY TO GO YACHTING

LEWIS, Jan. 6.—Mrs. Langtry is rapidly recovering from her severe attack of illness. She expects shortly to be able to start on a trip on her yacht White Lilly, which she recently purchased.

ANDREW A RESTLESS

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie arrived here today. He will sail for Genoa on Wednesday night. He expects to return here in March.

Jack Ashton Dead

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Jack Ashton, the pugilist, died in Bellevue hospital at 7:30 tonight.

WROTE OF HIS END

Sherman Knew That He Would Be Killed.

VENGEANCE OF PARIS TERRORS

A Society That Is as Powerful and Merciless as the Mafia—The Murderer Confesses.

INFERNO, Jan. 6.—The work of vengeance of the Mafia is equalled by facts which have just come to light in connection with the death of Anna Sherman, the overseer in Walton's lumber camp, near this city. Sherman was found dead with a bullet in his breast and a revolver beside him. Gazing stoically at the dead was a Frenchman named Antony Murry, who has been working in the camp. He explained that Sherman had been quietly sitting by the stove when he suddenly drew a revolver and shot himself.

A search of the dead man's clothes disclosed an old envelope inside which was scrawled in French: "If I, Anna Sherman, come to a violent end, charge it to the work of Paris Terrors. Ten years ago I violated the society's laws and have since been pursued by one of its members. He overtook me in San Francisco in 1886, and has followed me here. He is hunting me to death." The envelope also contained a description of his pursuer. A comparison showed that it fitted Murry exactly, and he was at once taken into custody. He practically admitted that the crime was his work. He explained that in 1882 Sherman failed to perform a certain task allotted to him, and through the failure two members of the society were guillotined. Since then Sherman has been under the ban of the society, and one of its emissaries has been on his trail.

WORK OF AN ICE GORGE

The Entire Coal Fleet at Cincinnati Was Destroyed by Ice.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 6.—Thirteen years ago an ice gorge broke up at this port on the Ohio river with great destruction to property. This morning a gorge broke with nobody knows what loss to boats and coal fleets. Heavy ice has been floating and forming up in the Ohio river for the past two or three days. No gorge was formed until 10 o'clock this morning. The stage of the water here has been raised to five feet. The ice gorges at 9 o'clock this morning between the Louisville and Nashville bridge and the Cincinnati railway bridge. Floating ice came down and joined the gorge. Below the river the ice was in the form of a raft. The rafts were locked all the coal fleets the nine packets and several tow boats. At half past 4 o'clock this immense body of ice began to move in a solid mass. The packets and tow boats escaped with little or no injury. On the other hand every coal fleet suffered. The total loss is estimated at $200,000 or more on barges and boats.

YESTERDAY'S FAILURES

The Leeds Lead Company Goes Under for Half a Million.

STOIX CITY, Pa., Jan. 6.—The Leeds Lead & Improvement company of this city failed today, with liabilities of $500,000, and assets of less than $1,000,000, mostly in real estate, on which scarcely the amount of liabilities can be realized at this time. The company was organized to build the manufacturing suburb of Leeds for speculative purposes. In doing so it incurred a large indebtedness over and above its income from the sale of property. Some holders of prior liens pushed their claims, and John L. Brooks of Boston, financial agent, was sent to interest eastern stockholders in raising money to satisfy them. E. C. Henderson, a local creditor, found that he had raised $100,000, but had misappropriated it, and his discovery precipitated the failure.

DEPENDS ON A SNOW STORM

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 6.—All but about a dozen men and senators have arrived ready for the opening of the legislature Tuesday. Five republican members who live in the extreme part of the state. It is feared that if a snow storm should come now three or four members might be detained beyond Tuesday noon and the republicans thereby lose the house.

DAVIS IN DANGER

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 6.—The Minneapolis Journal, acknowledged to be one of the foremost republican papers of the state, says in a special column of Wednesday night Senator Davis is in such imminent danger of being defeated that he will remain here until the election on January 17.

HAMILTON TO BE SEATED

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 6.—The democrat and populist members of the house of representatives have come to an understanding in regard to the celebrated Box Elder precinct case. Hamilton, the democrat, will be seated not later than next Wednesday.

IS THE SAME STORY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Dr. Johnston made his visit tonight to Mr. Blaine's residence at 9 o'clock. He found Mr. Blaine about the same as he had been throughout the day. A call at Mr. Blaine's residence at 9 o'clock brought forth the statement that Mr. Blaine was "a little better."

TO DOWN CASE

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 6.—The senatorial contest is becoming a fight to the death. Ex-Governor Ordway is on his way here from Washington to become a candidate and Representative Johnson will come to Bismarck early next week to use all his influence against Baser.

KENNA IS COMFORTABLE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Senator Kenna at 9 o'clock tonight was considered more comfortable by his physicians and family.

ARE FIGHTING SHY

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Concerning the fall-out of the negotiations between the Panama railroad company and the Pacific Mail and Steamship company for a new contract, General Newell, president of the Panama railroad company, said today: "I had been negotiating steadily with the Pacific Mail and Steamship company, but the refusal came from C. P. Huntington who represents the Southern Pacific railroad company, which is, of course, one of our chief enemies."

WELL DROP BUFFALO

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—Secretary John A. McCracken, of the Pittsburgh Driving Association, made a rather startling

HOW THEY TOOK IT

Mr. Blodgett Explains the Absence of Mr. Luce.

SECLUSION IN A DRUG STORE

Senator Stockbridge Tells a Story on Tom Palmer and "Little Jake" Open the Window.

LANSING, Jan. 6.—The evening session of the past few days gave place this morning to the bustle of a general exodus from the Capital City. Many legislators and worn out office seekers appeared in the lobbies of the hotels at a lazy hour of the morning and their heavy eyes and shuffling gait betokened a relapse from the high nervous tension under which they have been existing for the past three or four days. Most of the gossip about the corridors was on the result of last night's caucus.

The question most frequently heard was, "How does ex-Governor Luce take his defeat?" The ex-governor himself appeared on the scene about 10 o'clock, and if he felt any disappointment over his defeat it was not observable. He shook hands warmly with many friends who pressed forward to greet him and evidently had no desire to hear expressions of condolence. John Blodgett explained to those who enquired why it was that Mr. Luce did not show up after the caucus last night, that the governor had gone down to a drug store a block or so away from the hotel when the escorting committee appeared and that his errand in the apothecary was to keep him there for nearly three-quarters of an hour.

MR. BLODGETT EXPLAINS

"He did not intentionally absent himself," said Mr. Blodgett, "and he was greatly disappointed when he found that he had missed the committee."

Senator Stockbridge met his late opponent in the office of the hotel shortly after the first appearance of the latter. The recent rivals for senatorial honors shook hands fraternally and then engaged in a moment's conversation that appeared to be a mere exchange of compliments.

"We are still good friends," remarked the senator, in referring to the incident a little later on, at the dinner table.

"How does Mr. Luce take his defeat?" inquired a legislator who sat at the table. "He is too busy consulting to be upset by the fortunes of war," replied Stockbridge. "It makes me laugh to hear people refer to me as an aristocrat," continued the senator.

"Now, in all propriety the term farmer might be applied to my name as well as to that of ex-Governor Luce. As a matter of fact, I am more of a farmer than he is, and own four farms at the present time, all under cultivation."

A REMINISCENCE

Senator "Tom" Palmer sat at a table nearby. He appeared to be about the only one sobered in the anti-Stockbridge camp. Glancing in the direction of his antagonist, Senator Stockbridge remarked: "There is my bitterest political enemy. 'Tom' has never forgiven me for my action in the caucus of 1891. It is very funny consulting with his supporters as to the arrangement of the committee in the house. He makes no secret of the fact that the best things are reserved for his active friends. Alderman Anderson left for home this afternoon. He is decidedly a little better towards me. 'D'you,' said he, 'I'll get even with you some day after this.'"

William A. Tateum will remain here over tomorrow and return to Grand Rapids in the evening to spend Sunday at home. Much for busy consulting with his supporters as to the arrangement of the committee in the house. He makes no secret of the fact that the best things are reserved for his active friends. Alderman Anderson left for home this afternoon. He is decidedly a little better towards me. "D'you," said he, "I'll get even with you some day after this."

William A. Tateum will remain here over tomorrow and return to Grand Rapids in the evening to spend Sunday at home. Much for busy consulting with his supporters as to the arrangement of the committee in the house. He makes no secret of the fact that the best things are reserved for his active friends. Alderman Anderson left for home this afternoon. He is decidedly a little better towards me. "D'you," said he, "I'll get even with you some day after this."

WAS NO CHOLERA

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 6.—Dr. Giddings of the Marine hospital service has concluded his investigation regarding cholera and has reported to Washington. He failed to find a single cholera germ in the discharges of deceased convicts. The disease was caused by the filthy condition of the penitentiary, which has been thoroughly cleaned and fumigated.

TWO JURYMEN SECURED

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 6.—The second day in the proceedings of the catlemen's trial opened rather dull and continued unimproved. After examining witnesses all day but two men were retained in the jury box and they only on probation. There is no hope of securing a jury this week.

EXONERATED BY THE GRAND JURY

CLEVELAND, Jan. 6.—Patrolman P. E. Hill and Michael Dempsey, bound over to the criminal court for the killing of Frank Caserio, were today completely exonerated by the grand jury. Caserio was shot and killed by Hill on the following evening to prevent his stabbing Dempsey to death.

BURNED TO DEATH

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 6.—Mrs. Hudson, widow of Gen. John A. Hudson, one of the most distinguished lawyers of Kentucky, was burned to death this evening. She possibly fell asleep while sitting in front of the fire when her clothing became ignited.

OKLAHOMA'S EPISCOPAL BISHOP

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 6.—Francis Key Brooke, pastor of Trinity church at Ashburn, was at 2 o'clock this afternoon consecrated bishop of Oklahoma with headquarters at Guthrie. Bishop Brooke is a relative and named after Francis Key, a signer of "The Star Spangled Banner."

MILLIONAIRE DEAD

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 6.—William S. Ladd, one of the wealthiest men in the northwest, died today. He leaves a wife, two sons, one daughter, the latter the wife of a New York banker. The value of his estate is estimated at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

FISH MERCHANTS FAIL

TOLDO, Jan. 6.—D. Y. Howell & Son, fish dealers of this city, have failed, with liabilities at $50,000 and assets at $35,000. They were the oldest firm in the city, having established business in 1852.

HUGE MASS OF FLESH DEAD

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 6.—Probably the largest mass of the Pacific coast, who died today was Charles Tracy, a police officer. He weighed four hundred and eighty pounds.

TOUCHING SEARCH OF A HEART-BROKEN FATHER FOR HIS DAUGHTER

JACKSON, Jan. 6.—Paul O'Hanlon, the "old bootmaker" of Patterson, Cal., came to Jackson today on the

WROTE OF HIS END

Sherman Knew That He Would Be Killed.

VENGEANCE OF PARIS TERRORS

A Society That Is as Powerful and Merciless as the Mafia—The Murderer Confesses.

INFERNO, Jan. 6.—The work of vengeance of the Mafia is equalled by facts which have just come to light in connection with the death of Anna Sherman, the overseer in Walton's lumber camp, near this city. Sherman was found dead with a bullet in his breast and a revolver beside him. Gazing stoically at the dead was a Frenchman named Antony Murry, who has been working in the camp. He explained that Sherman had been quietly sitting by the stove when he suddenly drew a revolver and shot himself.

A search of the dead man's clothes disclosed an old envelope inside which was scrawled in French: "If I, Anna Sherman, come to a violent end, charge it to the work of Paris Terrors. Ten years ago I violated the society's laws and have since been pursued by one of its members. He overtook me in San Francisco in 1886, and has followed me here. He is hunting me to death." The envelope also contained a description of his pursuer. A comparison showed that it fitted Murry exactly, and he was at once taken into custody. He practically admitted that the crime was his work. He explained that in 1882 Sherman failed to perform a certain task allotted to him, and through the failure two members of the society were guillotined. Since then Sherman has been under the ban of the society, and one of its emissaries has been on his trail.

WORK OF AN ICE GORGE

The Entire Coal Fleet at Cincinnati Was Destroyed by Ice.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 6.—Thirteen years ago an ice gorge broke up at this port on the Ohio river with great destruction to property. This morning a gorge broke with nobody knows what loss to boats and coal fleets. Heavy ice has been floating and forming up in the Ohio river for the past two or three days. No gorge was formed until 10 o'clock this morning. The stage of the water here has been raised to five feet. The ice gorges at 9 o'clock this morning between the Louisville and Nashville bridge and the Cincinnati railway bridge. Floating ice came down and joined the gorge. Below the river the ice was in the form of a raft. The rafts were locked all the coal fleets the nine packets and several tow boats. At half past 4 o'clock this immense body of ice began to move in a solid mass. The packets and tow boats escaped with little or no injury. On the other hand every coal fleet suffered. The total loss is estimated at $200,000 or more on barges and boats.

YESTERDAY'S FAILURES

The Leeds Lead Company Goes Under for Half a Million.

STOIX CITY, Pa., Jan. 6.—The Leeds Lead & Improvement company of this city failed today, with liabilities of $500,000, and assets of less than $1,000,000, mostly in real estate, on which scarcely the amount of liabilities can be realized at this time. The company was organized to build the manufacturing suburb of Leeds for speculative purposes. In doing so it incurred a large indebtedness over and above its income from the sale of property. Some holders of prior liens pushed their claims, and John L. Brooks of Boston, financial agent, was sent to interest eastern stockholders in raising money to satisfy them. E. C. Henderson, a local creditor, found that he had raised $100,000, but had misappropriated it, and his discovery precipitated the failure.

DEPENDS ON A SNOW STORM

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 6.—All but about a dozen men and senators have arrived ready for the opening of the legislature Tuesday. Five republican members who live in the extreme part of the state. It is feared that if a snow storm should come now three or four members might be detained beyond Tuesday noon and the republicans thereby lose the house.

DAVIS IN DANGER

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 6.—The Minneapolis Journal, acknowledged to be one of the foremost republican papers of the state, says in a special column of Wednesday night Senator Davis is in such imminent danger of being defeated that he will remain here until the election on January 17.

HAMILTON TO BE SEATED

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 6.—The democrat and populist members of the house of representatives have come to an understanding in regard to the celebrated Box Elder precinct case. Hamilton, the democrat, will be seated not later than next Wednesday.

IS THE SAME STORY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Dr. Johnston made his visit tonight to Mr. Blaine's residence at 9 o'clock. He found Mr. Blaine about the same as he had been throughout the day. A call at Mr. Blaine's residence at 9 o'clock brought forth the statement that Mr. Blaine was "a little better."

TO DOWN CASE

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 6.—The senatorial contest is becoming a fight to the death. Ex-Governor Ordway is on his way here from Washington to become a candidate and Representative Johnson will come to Bismarck early next week to use all his influence against Baser.

KENNA IS COMFORTABLE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Senator Kenna at 9 o'clock tonight was considered more comfortable by his physicians and family.

ARE FIGHTING SHY

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Concerning the fall-out of the negotiations between the Panama railroad company and the Pacific Mail and Steamship company for a new contract, General Newell, president of the Panama railroad company, said today: "I had been negotiating steadily with the Pacific Mail and Steamship company, but the refusal came from C. P. Huntington who represents the Southern Pacific railroad company, which is, of course, one of our chief enemies."

WELL DROP BUFFALO

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—Secretary John A. McCracken, of the Pittsburgh Driving Association, made a rather startling

HOW THEY TOOK IT

Mr. Blodgett Explains the Absence of Mr. Luce.

SECLUSION IN A DRUG STORE

Senator Stockbridge Tells a Story on Tom Palmer and "Little Jake" Open the Window.

LANSING, Jan. 6.—The evening session of the past few days gave place this morning to the bustle of a general exodus from the Capital City. Many legislators and worn out office seekers appeared in the lobbies of the hotels at a lazy hour of the morning and their heavy eyes and shuffling gait betokened a relapse from the high nervous tension under which they have been existing for the past three or four days. Most of the gossip about the corridors was on the result of last night's caucus.

The question most frequently heard was, "How does ex-Governor Luce take his defeat?" The ex-governor himself appeared on the scene about 10 o'clock, and if he felt any disappointment over his defeat it was not observable. He shook hands warmly with many friends who pressed forward to greet him and evidently had no desire to hear expressions of condolence. John Blodgett explained to those who enquired why it was that Mr. Luce did not show up after the caucus last night, that the governor had gone down to a drug store a block or so away from the hotel when the escorting committee appeared and that his errand in the apothecary was to keep him there for nearly three-quarters of an hour.

MR. BLODGETT EXPLAINS

"He did not intentionally absent himself," said Mr. Blodgett, "and he was greatly disappointed when he found that he had missed the committee."

Senator Stockbridge met his late opponent in the office of the hotel shortly after the first appearance of the latter. The recent rivals for senatorial honors shook hands fraternally and then engaged in a moment's conversation that appeared to be a mere exchange of compliments.

"We are still good friends," remarked the senator, in referring to the incident a little later on, at the dinner table.

"How does Mr. Luce take his defeat?" inquired a legislator who sat at the table. "He is too busy consulting to be upset by the fortunes of war," replied Stockbridge. "It makes me laugh to hear people refer to me as an aristocrat," continued the senator.

"Now, in all propriety the term farmer might be applied to my name as well as to that of ex-Governor Luce. As a matter of fact, I am more of a farmer than he is, and own four farms at the present time, all under cultivation."

A REMINISCENCE

Senator "Tom" Palmer sat at a table nearby. He appeared to be about the only one sobered in the anti-Stockbridge camp. Glancing in the direction of his antagonist, Senator Stockbridge remarked: "There is my bitterest political enemy. 'Tom' has never forgiven me for my action in the caucus of 1891. It is very funny consulting with his supporters as to the arrangement of the committee in the house. He makes no secret of the fact that the best things are reserved for his active friends. Alderman Anderson left for home this afternoon. He is decidedly a little better towards me. 'D'you,' said he, 'I'll get even with you some day after this.'"

William A. Tateum will remain here over tomorrow and return to Grand Rapids in the evening to spend Sunday at home. Much for busy consulting with his supporters as to the arrangement of the committee in the house. He makes no secret of the fact that the best things are reserved for his active friends. Alderman Anderson left for home this afternoon. He is decidedly a little better towards me. "D'you," said he, "I'll get even with you some day after this."