There is no such thing as a natural distribution of wealth among mankind. Men distribute it to themselves according to the dictates of their own shrewdness, good luck, greed, industry, honesty or dishonesty.

The men find it hard to be satisfactory. Charley Hamble, of Holton, was killed because he refused to marry; Jacob Holton, of Hamble, was killed because he wanted to marry. This all happened in Pennsylvania.

Because a man is eminent in national politics, does that imply that the public is well-bred when it demands from the newspapers an account of his daughter's gowns or her love affairs? If another man offers to the public his best thoughts, hoping earnestly to help some struggling soul in life, and his work commands universal attention and respect, why should his clothes, his accent his family, be dragged into public view to gratify a million curious

A peculiar state of affairs exists in Dorchester county, Maryland, in reference to the public schools. One of the main sources of school revenue for many years has been from local oyster licenses. A recent change in the law requires one-third of this revenue to be paid into the state oyster fund, thereby diminishing the school fund to the tune of about $4,000 a year. The salaries of country teachers now range from $180 to $270 per year, the latter being for the best qualified teachers in charge of the largest and most advanced schools. The question of increased school revenues will be a potent factor in Maryland politics during the coming year.

A novel charity has been organized by Lazarus Morgenthau, an unostentatious philanthropist of New York. Its purpose is to provide dowries to worthy German orphan girls who marry worthy men. At present its fund is. large enough to furnish every year sixteen dowries of one hundred dollars each, but the founder expects that in a few years the society will have a fund of one million dollars, sufficient to make a wedding present of one hundred dollars in gold, every year, to four hundred worthy but parentless German girls. No regard is to be paid to the creed of the orphan, who may be married by any religious ceremony she desires, provided she is first joined to her husband by a public civil ceremony. The society's board of directors will be composed of one hundred Jews and one hundred Christians. Already six orphan societies—one Protestant, two Roman Catholic and three Hebrew-have been asked to select suitable applicants for the society's wedding presents.

IN THE TROCHA.

Insurger is Under Col. Pedro Nordarz Capture Three Important Spanish Forts - The Garrison in One of the Forts Came Over to the Insurgents on First Demand and Volunteered to Fight for Free Cuba.

Cincinnati, Feb. 1.—A special to the Commercial-Tribune from Key West, Fla., says: A daring attack was made on the trocha west of Artemisa last week. A strong force of insurgents under Col. Pedro Nodarz attacked Fort No. 10, and after two hours' fighting dislodged the garrison. After summoning the fort to surrender, which was refused, he ordered the dynamite gun to open upon it. The first shell flew wide, but the second and third made big gaps in the sides, killing several of the garrison. Proceeding on to the next fort, the garrison came over to the insurgents at the first demand and stated that they wished to fight for Cuba. They were sick at heart of the murderous work which they were obliged to do. At Fort No. 7 a stout resistance was made, but two shots from the dynamite gun compelled them to surrender. In all the three forts much valuable ammunition, guns, etc., were secured. This leaves the trocha open for any Cuban band that may desire to pass through. One of Sanguine's guerrilla bands entered a small town called Montrivia and told the people to move to San Cristobal at once. The town was then burned and six men shot. Sixteen of the women were taken "prisoners' and turned over to the "tender mercies" of the men by Capt. Mor-daro. Two of them killed themselves with daggers rather than suffer the fate in store for them.

Cubans Dynamite a Train. On Friday one of Gen. Weyler's supply trains was dynamited on the railroad north of Cienfuegos. Two bombs were exploded under the engine and four under the train, being fired by electricity as the train was crossing a trestle. Out of the guard of 100 soldiers on the train forty-five were instantly killed or terribly injured. The others surrendered as a force of 200 Cubans appeared.

Insurgents Crushed. A regiment of cavalry and the local Bourbon guerrilla from Guira Melena, Province of Havana, has crushed a band of eighty insurgents with a loss of twelve Cubans. A large quantity of arms, considerable money and some valuable documents were se-cured. Eleven Spanish soldiers were wounded.
To Succeed Weyler.

Washington, Feb. 1.-A Madrid dispatch announcing the appointment of Weyler's successor as governor general of Cuba is considered here absolutely authentic. A week ago Senor De Lome communicated to Secretary Olney that Gen. Azcarrago had been tendered this position, but no definite action had been taken. All American citizens now in prison in Cuba as suspects will, with a few exceptions, be given their release during the coming week. It is generally understood that Senor Azcarrago has consented to as sume the arduous role of Cuban pacificator, and it is thought that this pol-Chicago a check for $50,000, which ley will greatly simplify entangle-completes the additional endowment ments with this government, Philadelphia, Feb. 1. — The United States cruiser Brooklyn lies almost helpless because of a narrow ledge of sunken rock in the Delaware river above Marcus Hook, Pa., on which she pletely stove in, and it was only by the merest good fortune that the big vessel did not sink. This would un doubtedly have been the result had not her inner compartments successfully withstood the shock. As it was she was pulled clear of the rocks and is now tied to the big stone ice breakers at Marcus Hook, protected from the heavy ice gorges in mid river. The vessel is seriously damaged. How the accident happened can only be established by a court of inquiry, and this Capt. Cook, of the Brooklyn, has already asked for.
