

Look early and often.

We want people to look; we ask them to look. It is the careful, discriminating buyers that we seek most, for when we gain their custom we have it for good.

Holiday Time

is a trying time. The matter of choosing gifts is a worry to all of us. Seeing helps the choosing, and we ask everybody to see what we carry. Take all the time you want, make all the comparisons you like. We have gifts for every member of the family, and at prices that will make a little money go a long ways. The full line will be displayed by next week.

We are in receipt of the prospectus of the farmers' short course at the state agricultural department. It will commence on Jan. 9, 1906, and conclude on March 3. For the eight weeks' course a fee of $10 will be charged.

The Trier Sisters entertainment at the opera house last Friday night came fully up to expectations. The quintette, without exception, possessed voices of remarkable possibility and volume. The Lyceum series of entertainments are generally appreciated.

Robert H. King was in the southern part of the state last week on business connected with his land department. Robert has for sale desirable farms and tracts of land at reasonable prices and upon easy terms of payment. He is a most reliable young man and adheres to honest business methods.

The basket sociable held in the Judkins' school house on Saturday evening for the benefit of the church was well attended and the proceeds were turned over to the Ladies' Guild, which was organized that evening. The people of the little mission appreciate greatly the assistance rendered by the presence of their Princeton friends.

Just as soon as the cow gets to work in a district a change may be noticed. There is more manure hauled out on the land, more land is kept in grass, more clover is grown, bigger and better barns are built, houses and barns are painted, more cash is paid and less store bills run, bank accounts begin to grow and that old mortgage begins to look sick.

Don't work today.

Mrs. Lottie Pratt is seriously ill.

Farmers' institute at Princeton December 6.

"O, Lord, we thank thee for a rest."

THANKSGIVING DAY
is within Hailing Distance!

How about that new Table Linen that you were going to buy for the Great Feast Day?

I have just received a new lot of STILLER'S LINEN. This is without doubt the best linen in the market and is not like the common run of so-called table linen. It is soft and pliable, not full of starch like the other kind you used to buy. It is bleached in the natural way and there is no chemical process used that takes the life right out of it.

Why not get a good Table Cloth

when it costs no more than what you would have to pay for a poor one?

72 inches wide for $1.25 a yard.
68 inches wide for $1.00 a yard.

I have also cheaper cloth for sale, but I always believe in the old saying that the best quality is the cheapest, and that holds good in reference to all material.
