Rules To Go By
1. Every different thing, object or being or part of a thing, object or being included in a list must be plainly visible in the picture. It makes no difference what letter in the alphabet that the name of an object, thing or being begins with.
2. Any word found in the English dictionaries may be used whether it is a single word, compound word, hyphenated word or name composed of two or more words. Do not use obsolete words. When the singular of a word is used do not also use the plural. Do not use words of the same spelling more than once even if you see two different objects in the picture, the names of which are spelled alike.
3. Any number of people in a family or group may work together in solving the puzzle but an award will be given to only one member
