Great Crowd Sees "Mutt and Jeff."

One of the largest crowds that has ever witnessed a theatrical production was at the Grand last night to see the splendid musical extravaganza, "Mutt and Jeff." The production was without a flaw. The entire audience roared at the comedy of the two character reproductions of Bud Fisher's famous cartoons. Those who saw the play last night and the same bill a year ago agreed that last night's show was much the better. It was one of the cleanest musical comedies ever seen here and the costuming and scenery had a clean new look that added much to the splendor of the production. The chorus was excellent and the soloists rendered the popular songs in a way that brought long encores from the audience. The unusually well filled house was entirely deserved and the theatre-goers only wish Manager Myers could secure more such splendid shows.
