Convention in the City.

FETE ENTIRELY NEW

Entertainment Being Given Under Direction of Prof. P. C. Hayden—Flag Drill Interesting.

Over 800 school children of this city took part in the June fete held on the lawn of the federal building this afternoon immediately following the parade of the U. C. T. The fete is being given for the entertainment of the visiting members of the U. C. T., although it had previously been planned as an independent movement. The entertainment is being given under the direction of Professor P. C. Hayden, supervisor of music of the local schools. The fete is one of the most stupendous affairs of the kind that has ever been given in this section of the country, and is entirely new and different from anything that has been given in this city before.

The music for the occasion is being furnished by the local band, the high school orchestra, strengthened by several additional players, and a mass chorus of several hundred voices. Among the various parts of the fete that are expected to prove most interesting and beautiful are a flag drill, to be given by the pupils of the Lincoln school, and a May-pole dance to be given by the Garfield school pupils. Those taking part in the affair are of different ages, ranging from the children of the fifth grade to high school pupils.

A platform several feet high, erected on the lawn, served for the stage, while the chorus was arranged to one side, benches being provided for the children to sit on.

NAVAL BATTLE AT TAMPIOCO FORT

ammunition to the constitutionalists. This was based on the fact that the mediators are believed to regard the Antilla shipment as a violation of the mediation armistice.

The president landed shortly after 10 o'clock after a stormy night voyage. Twenty-one guns, the presidential salute, boomed from the battleships Idaho and Missouri as the Mayflower steamer into Annapolis harbor and again from the Rena Mercedes when the president's gang plank was thrown out.

Diplomats were presented to graduating ensigns at 11 o'clock. The class this year numbers 154, many of whom will be assigned to the fleet in Mexican waters.

With the president were Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Dr. Cary Grayson and Commander Needham Jones, naval aide. The president's visit to Annapolis today was his first since his inauguration.

Mediation Moves Slowly.
[By Fred S. Ferguson, United Press Staff Correspondent.]

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 5.—The A. B. C. mediators are not worried at the failure of General Carranza to reply to the note communicated to him through the Washington constitutionalist junta. It was pointed out here today that a declaration by Carranza that he will declare an armistice and send representatives officially to participate in the Niagara Falls mediation, would force the constitutionalist leader to a real test of his strength in Mexico. There was hope expressed by those in touch with the situation that the constitutionalists would eventually agree to treat under the terms demanded by the mediators, but it was coupled with the belief that a reply need not be expected until Carranza has placed himself in the strongest position in his own government at Saltillo. The basis for this belief is the fact that many doubt whether at the present time Carranza has the power to guarantee an armistice. With Generals Natera, Villa, Obregon and others in the field, meeting with the continued success, the question is whether the men would recognize Carranza's authority to halt their armies on the very fields of victory. Obregon, on the west, is now besieging Guadaluajara. He has cut off communication between Mexico City and Manzanillo. The combined force north have movements upon Zacatecas and San Luis Potosi. Should General Carranza decide to declare an armistice and enter the mediation conference, the long standing question as to whether Carranza or Villa and his commanding generals are the real heads of the constitutionalist movement, may be answered. While waiting for reply of the constitutionalists, the mediators are proceeding slowly. Informal meetings may be held today, but Americans have not held a "conversation" with the mediators since Tuesday.

$75,000 for Horse Show Winners.
LONDON, June 5.—Prizes to be value of more than $75,000 will be competed for at the International Horse Show which opened today at the big west end enclosure Olympia, for a twelve days' run. Although the military contests, in which army officers from a dozen nations will participate this year, are always the most popular features of the show, the champions of every degree, from the aristocratic hunter to the shaggy Irish Shetland pony, and from the heavy wagon horse to the spirited Russian sleigh horse, are represented, and room is even found for the humble "coster's moke." There was no formal opening ceremony, the earls of Londesdale, England's most famous sporting peer, at the head of a small band of officials merely giving a signal for the first competitors to enter the arena.

The total number of entries exceeded 3,000 for all classes. Russia, France, Belgium, Italy and Sweden sent teams for the King Edward VII and King George gold cups, and as Russia and France each have already won the former trophy twice a third success will make it the absolute property of the victor. So far England has not scored in either contest, but a determined effort will be made to keep the trophies in this country. Owing to the Mexican war no American officers will compete this year. For the Duke of Connaught's cup for British and colonial officers only there are 10 entries. A new feature is a foot days' endurance and training test for army horses, in which the officers will have to do a 15 mile ride in full kit, over natural obstacles, and a mile steeplechase at Aldershot, and coaching classes. Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Judge Moore of New York renew their annual rivalry for the chief trophies.
