INDIANS MAKE IT TWO OUT OF THREE

Take Boyle's Men Into Camp 5 to 4 in Yesterday's Battle—McIntyre Ends the Game.

LOSE IN LONG FIGHT

Friday's Fight Goes Thirteen Rounds—Welsh Weakened After a Desperate Battle.

The tribe went after the Muskies in the early rounds of yesterday's fray and gathered enough material in the first two innings off Alberts and Gould to make five runs. The five were just enough to win, for the visitors found Whittaker for four before the end of the fight that gave Sweet's charges two out of three for the series with the near-leaders of the league.

Although the tribe made five errors behind the jovial Whittaker, he really received much better support than the box score would indicate. Some of them were made on mighty hard chances and the rest of them didn't count for much. There were not so many spectacular plays as in Friday's game but there were a few circus performances that interested the bugs, Harrell, Musky second sacker, being the chief performer.

It took four pitchers to fight out the game. Boyle and Sweet each using two. Boyle made his change first, Ab Gould again appearing in a rescue role when he went in the game during the second inning, after Alberts had suffered one bad round and was starting another of the same variety. Sweet did not use his second hurler until the eighth, although he started a man to warm up in the seventh.

McIntyre Some Wrecker.

McIntyre proved altogether successful as a wrecker and his appearance in this capacity gave the local fans their first glimpse of the slim slasher. Mac went in after one run was counted, but one out, and a runner on third. Moreover, the visitors needed but one run to even up the score. For some reason Mac's bearing was not just the kind that inspired much confidence in the bugs who were shaking in their boots for fear the game was a goner. After the slender one had walked the first man who faced him, there were howls of fright from the stands and Rags Faircloth was demanded. But Slim settled down and there was not a man at the park who was not surprised when he whiffed the next two batters that faced him. He let the Muskies down without a sign of a hit in the ninth.

All the counters scored by the tribe were accumulated in the first two innings while Whittaker held the Boylets at his mercy. Hensling started the first with a single but was caught trying to steal before Giffin popped out. Daij drew a walk and loafed in on McGee's long double to the fence. Marshall walked, but Wetzel grounded out.

Four Runs in Second.

McCullough opened the second with a safe single. Sweet attempted suicide but Gould, who supplanted Alberts when Harry went to the plate, threw wild to first and Harry was safe while McCullough reached third. Whittaker grounded out, riding Sweet to second. Hensling drew a pass, congesting the paths which Tommy Giffin cleaned up with a ripping three bagger. Tom scored when Daij doubled, but the Kansas City dentist was allowed to die in the middle of the diamond. There were other chances for the tribe to count and times even when the sacks were filled up, but Gould settled down and held in the runs.

Whittaker worked fine until the fifth when he showed his first weakness. Three hits, coupled with an outfield boot, gave the Muskies two runs in this session. The Rebels counted once in the next inning without registering a hit. McCullough, dropped a long fly by Sours, who stole second and was worked around to third and over the plate on a sacrifice fly gave them their last score in the eighth, just before McIntyre was rushed in to save the game. JIMMIE BLUE JACKET BOUGHT BY GIANTS

Indian Hurler Who Played with Keokuk Several Seasons Ago, Will be on Muggsy McGraw's Staff.

Keokuk fans will be interested in the announcement from Bloomington, Ill., that Jimmie Blue Jacket, the Cherokee Indian pitcher who was with Pa. Bell's aggregation several seasons ago has been sold to the New York Giants. Blue Jacket has been pitching for Bloomington in the Three Eye league, and has won his twelfth consecutive game. He has been ordered to report to the "Joins" on August 27.

Blue Jacket was erratic in his pitching here, and was sold into the I-M league from whence he graduated into the Three Eye company, and is now going to have a chance in the big circus.

Politics in Wisconsin.
[United Press Leased Wire Service.]
MADISON, Wis., July 25.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette's personality to-night became a part of the United States senatorial campaign here when Governor Francis E. McGovern, candidate for the senate issued a statement replying to LaFollette's charge that the governor is responsible for high taxes in this state.

The governor practically charged that the senator connived with state leaders to increase the taxes and fasten the blame upon the executive. The governor asserts that the attack upon him by Senator LaFollette is the outgrowth of the national republican convention when McGovern deserted the senator for Roosevelt.

Sporting Views

That's the boy, Harry. Win 'em all.

Did you ever stop and think what that man Chick McGee is doing around short? He laughed when he dropped that pop up yesterday. When a man can make a miscue like that without feeling bad about it, you can guess he's pretty good. Chick covers about as much ground as you can find in that infield. What's even more to the point, he sure is hitting that old ball. Four hits in six trips to the plate was his record Friday. One of them was a triple. Yesterday he made two blows in five times up, one of the pair being a two bagger.

Tommy Giffin's triple sure came at the psychological moment yesterday. The blow brought in three of our five runs.

The fans are anxious to see some more of our new friend, Slim McIntyre, who finished the game for Bill yesterday. His good work was actually a big surprise. Although he seems to merely roll 'em over, they cross the plate with a half foot hop.

Although the Muskies have been trailing right along behind the Jays during their chase for the flag, they don't look so formidable when you get up close to 'em. Boyle has a pretty good pitching staff and his team fields well, but there are a bunch of weak hitters on his club.

Efforts are being made to get Ed Wahl back with the tribe. Ed is now spending his time back at Dale, Indiana, his home town. With Faircloth gone, Sweet will have to have another pitcher, and he ought to be a good one to fill the shoes of Rags or Wahl.

Dutch Wetzel had a lot of fun with his brother last night following the game. Dutch's chief slam against the Muskies was that "they can't hit in the pinches, and a club what can't hit in the pinches ain't no good."

Big Dutch wanted to know how about those four runs. "Aw, we spotted you three of 'em. Give 'em to you."

BARGAIN BILL AT BALL PARK TODAY

But One Admission Price Will be Charged for Two Games With the Orphans.

With the Orphans.

Here's your chance to use that booster ticket you did or didn't buy, and get more than one dollar's worth. There's to be staged at the park this afternoon a double header with Egan's wandering outcasts, and the directors, with amazing liberality, have decided to let everybody in to see both games for the price of one. If you don't believe it, go out to the park yourself and find out. Take that little booster ticket, or enough to pay a single admission in your right hand, and ten cents for street car fare in your left hand, then grab a car for the park. When you get out there just hand the gate keeper one ticket—he'll let you in.

FAIRCLOTH RECALLED

Rags Pitches Last Game Here Today—Recalled to Topeka by Manager Dick Cooley.

We ought, by all rights, to take both of those games from the Orphans, despite the fact that we have for them all the sympathy in the world and are anxious to see them get along like other people. But if we are going to win that old rag, or come to the close of the season with ourselves near the top, we might as well start out today on these Galesburgers. With a park full of bugs pullin' the right way, those two games will be added to our "won" column by this eve.

Last Chance to See Rags.
And by the way, this is your very last chance to see that festive Mr. Rags Faircloth deliver the goods. Dick Cooley has decided that Rags is too good for any class D league and issued recalling orders yesterday. So Rags leaves us after today's game. We all want to see the boy hurl again, and we would like to have him leave us with another victory in his wake. Rags will probably work in the second game, while McCullough is slated to hurl the opening engagement.

We hate to see Mr. Faircloth leave us on so short notice, but boys, he's going up instead of down and we can't kick on his leaving us when he's fast enough to work in a bigger show. So you all want to come out and give the boy a farewell boost while he is winning his last game in the Central association. Remember—that ill ticket in your right hand, and the first game begins at 2:15.

MAY GET BETTER INTERURBAN SERVICE
Cars Held at Bridge for Trains, Hamilton Men Say—May Better Conditions.

The joint meeting of the city councils of Keokuk and Hamilton, together with City Attorney Craig, representatives of the Industrial association, and Theodore Gilman, representative of the Keokuk and Hamilton Bridge company, resulted in the agreement to have the commercial organizations of this city, Hamilton and Warsaw unite in an effort to secure better service on the interurban lines between the three cities.

At the meeting the representatives from Hamilton stated that the interurban cars were always held up when a train was about to cross the bridge. They stated also that in case the train was late the car often would be delayed. It was believed that this condition could be bettered if some attention was given it by the commercial organizations of the three cities.
