NARROW GAUGE RAILROADS.

The System Heartily Endorsed by an Enthusiastic Meeting of Leading Citizens ---The Proposed Organization --- A Proposi-tion to Vote $250,000 in Bonds Unanimously Favored.

Agreeable to call, a public meeting of citizens fof Minneapolis was held at the citycouncil chamber last night. The meeting was called to forder by Col. Wm. S. King, who nominated Mayor A. C. Rand as presiding officer. His honor accepted in a graceful speech, advocating the construction of the system of narrow-gauge roilroads planned, stating that the Lord had done much for Minneapolis and now it remained for Minneapolis to do something for herself.

Col. King and Geo. B. Wright were then called out, and proceded to explain the pro-posed system as illustrated by a large map sus-pended against the wall. The system as settled upon contemplates the construction of one line from Minneapolis directly west on the south side of Lake Minnetonka, through Watertown, and terminating at Hutchinson; another line going northerly in the town of Has-san. Hennepin county, the main stem branching at Crow river and the westerly line touching Kingston, Forest City, Mananah, Painsville, Glenwood and terminating at Fergus Falls. The easterly stem reaching out Northwest, up the west bank of the Mississippi river, through Monticello, Clearwater, St. Cloud, Long Prairie and terminating at Bluffton on the North-

Mr. Wright explained the topography of the country and set the probable cost of construct-ing these several lines at about $5,000 or $6,000

Hon. W. W. McNair, chairman of the committee appointed at a previous meeting, was called upon for a report. Mr. McNair reported that the committee had discharged their duty and discovered that the field proposed was already in the hands of the Minneapolis & Northwestern narrow Gauge Railway company. The company was composed of the following named gentlemen: J. B. Bassett, S. C. Gale, Geo. B. Wright and R. P. Russell. The old company expressed a willingness to allow an additional twenty names to be added as corporators of the new company, recommending the following names as additional corporators. They consist of the following named gentlemen: J. B. Bassett, R. B. Langdon, H. G. Harrison, J. K. Sidle, H. T. B. Langdou, H. G. Harrison, J. K. Sidle, H. T. Willis, E. Clementson, Geo. B. Wright, S. C. Gale, A. Kelly, J. A. Lovejoy, F. Eastman, John DeLaittre, W. W. McNair, A. R. Camp, D. Morrison, T. B. Casey, John Martin, J. C. Oswald, C. H. Pettlir, C. T. Hobart, S. E. Neiler, M. W. Glean, E. A. Harmon, B. Brown, R. P. Russell, E. S. Corser, O. C. Merriman.

The report further recommended that the city be asked to vote the sum of $250,000 in bonds to aid in the construction of this system.

oity be asked to vote the sum of $250,000 in bonds to aid in the construction of this system of narrow-gauge roads, to be paid out at the rate of $1,000 per mile as fast as ten miles shall be built.

and dressed up in a new suit of handsome striped cloth, paid for by the State. Hundreds of men are seeking for employment in this city at this time. Why do not some of our philanthropic citizens organize a free employment agency? This would be better than maintaining whole families by It is a matter of regret that the parties interested do not carry out the original intention and erect a music hall on the foundation at the corner of Fifth street and Hennepin avenue. Nothing is so much needed in Minneapolis as a first-class music hall on the To-night will be the final presentation of the "Naiad Queen," and the beautiful fairy spectacle will fade away from our vision like a dream. Those who have not seen it will do well to go to-night, as it is indeed the event of a lifetime to witness the series of beautiful pictures.

The GLOBE owes Mr. Stewart an apology. It was not a lady's collar that he wore, but his own, and Will Eldred was the man that had the neck gear ornamented with crochet work and eyelet holes and things about the edges. Such is Stewart's story, and now that he has "blowed in" about $2.50 he thinks that it's about time that William or Julius came down.

The liquor delears of the city were invited by the Hon. J. E. Vinton to be present and listen to his lecture on temperance last night. It is safe to assume that all the liquor dealers who listened to the eloquent remarks of the honorable gentleman converted, and will at once convert their whisky barrels into molasses casks, and their beer kegs into well buckets, and go and sin

naval committee, said recently that he intended to go right on with his investigations and push them to a legitimate conclusion. He said: "I regard the instructions under which I acted last year as still in force and binding upon me as they were then. My report is before the members of the minority. If they choose to make a report of their own, well and good; but if not I shall present the majority report to the House on the very first opportunity. Mr. Crittenden, another member of the committee, said he did not see why, if the views of the majority were sustained, Robeson and his coadjutors should not be indicted and sent to the penitentiary. He thought the evidence sufficient, but there was no telling how matters may turn out. Whatever the House may do, the courts will take their own course. Of course these fellows may get a beautiful coat of whitewash. The gentlemen of the minority have not yet held a meeting and do not seem to have any inclination to take up the matter at all. They will probably attempt to stave off any further action by the House by their own inaction, but this Mr. Whitthorne is determined to pre-

Weekly Review of the St. Paul Markets.

The extraordinary absence of snow at this time of year, too, does not tend to the improvement of business. It is a novelty to Minnesota for the cutter and sleigh to remain undisturbed in the barn with the accumulation of nine months' dust upon them at Christmas time. It is a novelty to which the farmer can not well reconcile himself, and he feels as if it were almost unnatural to to to market on wheels to buy his Christmas presents. Day after day he postpones going to town, with the confident expectation that to-morrow will see sleighing, when he will com-mence to hanl his wheat and other produce, but up to this 17th day of December the snow has not come, and the river is still open. Fortunately, however, nature has not been so negligent of her duty and forget-use runners. This has improved business a little in lumbermen's supplies. The wheat market during the week has shown some little inclination to lower figures, No. 1 being 2c off. The quantity coming in has not 10:35 been large, owing probably to the absence of 11:00 snow. The tester awincle is likely to become even more intolerable than ever if farmers will only submit to the imposition. Some buyers are introducing a little toy measure, which holds scarcely a little toy measure. pint, not one-sixty-fourth of a bushel, a little lates thing they can carry in their pocket. If the two quarts measure is a swindle—and every 2:00 farmer knows it is—what must this little thim-ble of a thing be? The Globe saw it tried on a wagon during the week with the larger tester, a wagon during the week with the larger tester, and there was a difference of over two pounds. This is only what might be expected, and bears out the theory so often repeated in these columns, that smaller the tester the less weight in proportion is given to the bushel. If the farmer is to be swindled, he should choose the least by insisting upon the larger tester being least by insisting upon the larger tester being corrected.

Bran is in fair demand at lower formers.

Flour is dull, and quoted lower for all grades. There has been a good demand for mess There has been a good demand for mess pork, and some enquiry has been made for smoked meats at lower figures. Venison has been very plentiful, the greater part coming to market in excellent condition, but dealers are shy of handling in large quantities simply because with the first of the new year eastern markets cannot legally handle it. The law of New York makes it illegal to sell venison after Dec. 31st, and all on hand after that day has to be cured or thrown away. Dressed beef is coming in quite liberally, for which there is a fair demand.

Poultry is scarce with a good demand. Ship-pers are unwisely holding off for the holidays, n expectation of a big demand when there will be a great rush, and the market will be com-pletely flooded. Good prices are commanded now, but in a week like Thanksgiving time the oottom will be knocked out of prices.

From this out till January the live stock trade will be very dull. Dressed beef is coming to market in such quantities that even the local butchers do not buy. Of course some butchers noted for their prime beef will purchase a few first-class stall-fed cattle for Christ. chase a few first-class stall-fed cattle for Christmas and the holidays, but the great bulk of the meat consumed will be supplied by the farmers already dressed. A fair understanding of the actual state of the market can be gathered from the sales of to-day (Tuesday); four head sters, over 1,000 lbs. each, sold at $2.85 per 100 lbs. live weight; tweve cows, average weight 1.050 lbs. sold at $2.0 per head or less weight 1.050 lbs. sold at $2.0 per head or less weight 1,050 lbs., sold at $.0 per head or less than 2c per lb. live weight.
