ST. PAUL, THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1881.

EARTHQUAKE shocks have been felt in several localities in the province of Quebec. This ought to be regarded as a hint to the Princess Louise to return to her dominions as speedily as possible.

THE "half-breeds" say they will continue to scatter their votes till Conkling's supporters melt away. They have evidently made up their minds for a long siege, for Conkling's old guard never sur-

PROVIDENCE is enjoying the felicity of a session of the national woman's suffrage association. The Providence in question is in Rhode Island, otherwise the newspaper paragrapher would be tempted to remark that Providence is long-suffering and kind, and able to endure all sorts of tribulations.

THERE was no choice for United States Senators in the New York legislature yesterday. Conkling received his thirtyfive votes, the remainder being scattered among a dozen candidates. There appears to be no change in the situation. Conkling's friends are confident that he can ultimately either secure his own election or prevent the election of any one else until a new legislature shall be elected. In the latter event they are confident he will succeed in securing a complete vindication from his party. The administration men are hopeful of forcing an election at this session of the legislature, but are not as confident as they were a few days ago, as the Democrats remain firm in support of their chosen candidates. They do not sneer at Conkling as much as they did a few days ago, for they have discovered that he has more than one string to his bow.

A YANKEE HORSE THE DERBY WIN.

One hundred and one years ago the Derby ace was established by the Earl of Derby and has ever since been maintained unin erruptedly. It has become a notable event in each year's history of England, and Derby day has become as mucl of a feature on that side of the water a the Fourth of July on this. The entire population of the metropolis turns out to witness the great trial of speed between the best field of horses that the world can produce. Parliament adjourns as religiously on that day as the Congress of the United States does on our national holiday. From three to four hundred thousand people throng the grounds on each recurrence of the event, and watch and wager upon the mettle of the horses even though they may scorn to be known as betting men.

Probably the best description of Derby day ever written was given by Dickens in the Pickwick Papers. In that brief chapter he has pictured all the varying phases to be seen in the vast amphitheater, with a vividness that none have been able to equal. The drive through the surging mass of vehicles to the grounds at Epsom Downs, the struggles for space from which a view of the track could be obtained, the eager anxiety with which the horses and their riders are scanned before the start, and the great tension that racks all beholders from start to finish, are depicted in a manner that makes one feel that he himself is present and an onlooker upon the exciting scenes.

It is only within a few years that the Derby has possessed a direct interest for American horsemen. In 1858 the first American horses were taken to England to contend against the thoroughbreds of that country. None of their owners had confidence enough in their animals, however, to enter them for the Derby, though they appeared with ill success in the City and Suburban, Metropolitan and Elcho Shields races. For three years past American horses have been run in the Derby. but never succeeded in winning a place until yesterday, when Lorillard's Iroquois carried off the first honors of the race in a most superb manner against a field of fifteen of the best horses in England.

Iroquois was taken to England when yearling in 1879 and entered for yesterday's Derby. Lorillard has persistently backed him to win ever since that time, the odds having been as high as a hundred to one against him. At the opening of the race yesterday the odds were eleven to two against the Yankee colt. It is reported that the owner has made about river, Wisconsin: two millions off the race.

Aside from the money involved, how ever, the fact that American horses have attained such excellence as to contend for and win such a race as the Derby is a cord, $6.10; total, $12,200.
A. H. Truax, Hastings, Minn.—Per cord, $5.85; total $11,500. matter that is of interest to people generally, whether they are or are not patrons of the turf. The winning of so important a race by an American horse is subject for congratulation all over the country, though it may prove humiliating to our English cousins.

An Extensive Stock Farm.

Hugh O'Callan, of Avoca, Murray county, recently concluded to look for a new home in Montana, and accordingly went on a trip of Montana, and accordingly went on a trip of exploration to that Territory with a view of settlement. After a thorough investigation he has returned thoroughly satisfied with Minnesota, and is now proceeding to open one of the most extensive stock farms in the State. As one move in that direction he paid J. F. McIntosh of this city $100 for a Cotswold buck. The animal came from Guelf, Canada, and weighs 319 pounds, and is undoubtedly equal to any buck in the entire country.

The affair was pervaded by an atmosphere of royal good humor, which rippled to the surface now and then in anecdote, reminiscence of ye olden times, and joke. There was no strain, no effort, no painful and hysterical gasping for effect. At 9 o'clock the good old boys, numbering about fifty, including a few invited guests, sat down to a cold collation or ragout of means The ladies of the Jackson street M. St. P. & M. Railroad Building this Year. The St. Paul & Manitoba company will build this year not less than two hundred miles of new roads, and if the season for railroad building extends near to the last month of the year, may build considerably more. One new branch on which work has been begun, will run from Carlisle, a station nine miles west of Fergus Falls, up the Pelican river about twenty miles, rails, up the Pelican river about twenty miles, to P-lican Rapids, in Otter Tail county. In about a week the contractors will begin work on the extension of the road on the west side of Red River, from Grand Forks north to the boundary line. A heavy force is at work on the extension of the Breckinridge branch from Durbin northward. The Osseo branch is about one-third graded to Clearwater and trock-laying will be begun. o Clearwater, and track-laying will be begun n about a week. The Minnetonka branch, graded last year, is being ironed, about a mile and a half of track having been laid up to yes-terday noon, and this little excursion road will be ready for use before the lake season is fairly open. The Pelican Valley road and the Breckinridge branch are spurs of and not for the Northern Pacific, which in turn is making ready to spur the St. P. & M. with its Wadena and Fergus Falls branch.

A Chicago Police Captain's Charges. The Staats Zeitung of Chicago, May 9th, prints an interview with Police Captain Mc-Garigle of that city, relative to the treatment of immigrants in that city. In the course of the interview Capt. McGarigle is made to say: "We have lately been rid of a very dangerous ruffian, who has been the cause of numerous ruffian, who has been the cause of numerous frauds against immigrants, and for whom it became at last too uncomfortable here. He is said now to be the proprietor of an immigrant house in St. Paul, and I should not be surprised if this man was found to be in a great degree responsible for the robber stories' which are now told of the treatment of immigrants in Chicago." Who Capt. McGarigle refers to need not be named, since most of the immigrants who come here -especially those who cannot speak English, or are unfamiliar with the ways of the country-come in charge of agents quite competent to protect them; and it may further be said that if any one is caught swindling immigrants here (and the game cannot be played without detection) he will quickly find St. Paul too hot for him.

To-morrow, the sixth day of "Sivan," is to be cele-brated by all Israelites as a holy festival, for it is a mem risl of the revelation of the decalogue on Mount Sinsi. In agricultural respect it was a day of thanksgiving for a happy harvest and the new flour. It is ever to remind the Israelites that God is their teacher and legislator. The commandments then revealed to Israel can never be changed, and it is their duty to teach them to their children. In all reformed congregations this festival is celebrated in a very solenn manner, for this feast has been very appropriately chosen as the day when the young sons and daughters are confirmed in the presence of their parents, frieude and Israel at large. The children are ong prepared for that solemn occasion by the rabbl, whose duty it is to impart religious knowle give to the rising generation. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar. St. Paul, Wednesday, June 1.

In some branches of the wholesale trade of the city there has been some falling off the past week, indicating that the spring trade is about over. There are also in the same branches fewer buyers in person, and orders by well though purerous are generally smaller. branches fewer buyers in person, and orders by mail, though numerous, are generally smaller. In other lines, however, trade seems to increase rather than fall off. Collections are uniformly reported good. In dry goods there is a large demand for the season. The reduction of $\frac{1}{2}$ c on brown sheetings, noted in some makes last week, has been extended through the list. A reduction of Ic on grain bags is also noted. The grocery trade for May foots up much larger than in the same month of last year, but is now mostly by mail orders. Best Java coffee is advanced 2c; extra C sugar is advanced $\frac{1}{2}$ c; cheese is reduced 1c, and beans Best Java coffee is advanced 2c; extra C sugar is advanced % c; cheese is reduced 1c, and beans are marked 10@15c lower. The hardware men are working night and day to keep up with or ders, and are still embarrassed to some extent by the non-receipt of goods shipped from the East early in the season. One house is reported short on a line of goods ample supplies of which were shipped for it from New York March 9th. The Ceicago bockade, however, has been broken for it from New York March 9th. The Ceicago bockade, however, has been broken and the delayed goods are coming forward freely. A reduction of 5c on trace chains and an advance of 2c on pig tin have been established during the week. In iron and steel, with prices firm, there is a fair trade for the season. The trade in drugs and associated goods hold large. Citric acid, baisam tolu, American calomel, gum opium and castor oil are lower. Inspected carbon oil is ½ clower. An advance on window glass is anticipated, because of the large demand and light stocks. because of the large demand and light stocks, while the factories all shut down to-day for the summer and will remain closed until September. In leather and findings a fair trade and steady prices are re-In boots and shoes the rush of custo mers and orders, which has continued for five or six weeks, is now over, and June opens with the usual moderate trade of the season.

The seed trade is still fairly active as to millet and Hungarian grass, for which there is an unusual and active demand. Millet is firm at $1.65. and Hungarian grass. $1.65 and Hungarian grass at $1.15. These fig-ures are, of course, for wholesale deals to the trade, and the remark is only made to save dealrs here the trouble of making explanations to ustomers who do not understand that retail prices are not quoted. The late demand for corn seed is continued in a small way by orders from the Southwest.

Malt is armly held at $1 25, an advanae of 5c in the week. Hops are steady: New York 25c; Washington Territory 27c; Wisconsin 20

In the fruit trade the features of the week In the fruit trade the features of the week are sharp advances on lemons at the sea board (not wholly followed here) and on strawberries at Chicago. There is a continued large percentage of loss on oranges which arrive in a condition requiring thorough sorting and careful repacking for further shipment. Presley & Co. quote sound repacked Messinas at $6.50. The few imperials on the market yesterday were held at the same figures. Good lemons, repacked, $4.75@5.00: extra Good lemons, repacked, $4.75@5.00; extra large Palermoes, repacked, $5.50. Cocoanuts, selling at $6 per hundred.

Dry dimension lumber is scarce and hard to find, and dealers are frequently obliged, for filling orders, to ship green. The same may be said as to No. 1 fencing. Every dealer reports a crowd of orders, and some have lately dealined to receive new orders, until they can the trade was never active at this time of year. With all buyers, who are in reach of the "Lumber Line" St. Paul is now fully established as competing with Chicago in the lumber trade. The grades with Chicago in the lumber trade. The grades here are recognized as equal to the best and our lumbermen have credit for good manufacture and for sending out lumber which is brighter than can be obtained from some other lumber marts. An iustance of the success of St. Paul dealers in competition is that Mr. O. H. Ballou, a lumber dealer at Omaha, has bought, through E. T. Sumwalt, of the C. N. Nelson company, John Martin & Co., J. P. Gribben and others, 1,500,000 feet of lumber for a new elevator, the largest in the West, to Gribben and others, 1,500,000 feet of lumber for a new elevator, the largest in the West, to be built at Omaha this year. Upon this bill Chicago and other competing points made their lowest figures, but the dryness and superiority of our lumber being recognized the purchase was made here. Mr. Sumwalt is also furnishing a portion of the lumber for a new Opera house at Omaha. The present prospect is that there will be no summer reduction of prices. The demand is very strong duction of prices. The demand is very strong and will take about all that can be supplied as fast as it is ready to ship.

Eastern and European Markets. New York, June 1 .- Money easy at 3 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 31/204 per cent. Sterling exchange, bankers' bills strong at $4.88%. Sight exchange on New York $4.851/4. Governments quiet and generally firm. Bonds-Railroad bonds in fair request.

State securities in light demand. Stocks-The stock market opened weak and %@1% per cent. lower, the latter for Memphis & Charleston. In the early dealings prices further declined 1/4 to 1% per cent., Memphis & Charleston, Western Union Tele graph (ex. certificate), Pacific Mail and Waoash, St. Louis & Pacific preferred leading in the downward movement. After the first board speculation became strong and during the afternoon an advance ranging from & to 4 per cent. took place. The advance was most marked in Memphis & Charleston, Elevated railroad stocks, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, Lake Erie & Western, Canada Southern and Chicago Northwestern. In the final sales Memphis & Charleston reacted 21/2 per cent. and the general list 1/4 to 31/4 per cent. Buffalo, Pittsburgh & Western was strong throughout and rose 3% per cent.

The Commercial Bulletin says: The money market was so easy to-day it was difficult to lend round amounts for four months at 3 per cent. and a great deal of money was carried over unemployed. The stock market was only moderately active and in the forenoon the tendency was to lower prices, the prevailing temper of small spaculators who live by turns on the market having been decidedly bearish. In the afternoon on very moderate buying to cover short sales there was a sharp advance, which shows that prices go up much more easy than they decline. So long as money remains as easy as at present, and it is likely to so remain for many weeks, it is not seen how much of a break in the market for stocks can be effected. Moreover the leading railreads are fully keeping the large business of a year ago and some are gaining on it. The general business is of enormous volume, as the Clearing House returns show, and private accounts agree it is fairly profitable. All, therefore, that remains as a plausible reason for a decline in prices is the simple fact that many stocks are very high only moderately active and in the forenoon the in prices is the simple fact that many stocks are very high

The body of Opsali was found yesterday afternoon, about half a mile above Arcola, by the men working on the pile driver. News was sent to the city, and on the pile driver. News was sent to the city, and coroner Pratt summoned a jury, consisting of Ovin Mower, Pilm Bennett, Eugene O'Neil, P. N. Peterson, Jos. Taenhauser and J. W. Wood, and went up and held the inquest. When they got there, the body had fia ated away from where the men first found it, and they hunted rome time before is was again found. It was in such a decayed state that it could not be recognized, only from the cicthing and the one ents of the pockers. After the examination they came with the body of Arcola, and opposite of the place and partly on the same logs they found the body of Jacobi, and like the other, so decomposed that it could not be seet graized only from the cicthing, as in the case of Oppahl. The bod es were put into boxes and taken and towed by boat to this city. The jury will hold their inquest this evening in the office of Drs. Pratt and Clark
