A regular meeting of the city council was hald last evening, with all present except Ald. Gilmore, the occasion being important. The motor question was to come up for a final settlement, and a large delegation of the residents along the line filed early into the council chamber and filled the room to overflowing, such was their interest in the matter.

A batch of business of little general impor tance was disposed of.
City Attorney R. C. Benton tendered his resignation. An informal ballot was then taken, which resulted in the selection of C. H. Benton, who was declared the nominee, and a formal ballot elected him.

The next order of business was the Motor The next order of business was the Motor question. The ordinance prohibiting the use of steam on the streets between Thirteenth street and Bridge square, to go into immediate effect, was introduced for a second reading. A promiseous number of amendments to the ordinance were moyed, locating the point for at Washington avenue instead of Thirteenth street, then to Third street, etc.,

but were all lost.

Ald. Becke moved to amend so that the or Ald. Beebe moved to amend so that the ordinance go into effect June 1. Carried.

Ald. Nelson stated he had the names of property owners along the line within the city limits, exhibiting the proprietors of 6,019 feet in favor of continuing the motor permanently to 5,060 against, but unfortunately the majority were not the aristocrats, and hence had no reason to expect the council to respect their rights.

rights.
Ald. Pillsbury knew the people who lived along the line wanted the motor, and he sympathized with them, but would persistently oppose the continuance of the road.
Ald. Nelson wanted to know if Pillsbury had taken every house or had made selections.

The reply was that all had been taken.

Prof. Archibald was called upon, who explained that a large number of residents who were pronouncedly in favor of the motor had not been visited by Pillsbury, and, oh, what a high rock there.

hot been visited by Finishry, and, on, what a kick was there.

Pillsbury, Beebe and others tried to choke it out by calling for the question and other means, and then by openly objecting to Prof. Archibald's statement in toto.

Ald. Glenn made a strong and argumentive speech, scoring the over zealous councilmen for their wantiest unjust, actions.

for their manifest unjust actions. Motions to lay on table and to adjourn were lost.

Ald Nelson moved to amend so that the ordinance be operative after December 1, which was lost.
Ald. Glenn moved to compromise, making it September, which was also defeated.

On the final vote it was carried as first Assaulting a Woman.

A gentleman reported at police headquarters last evening that he suspected something wrong in the stable in the rear of the market. Officer Hankenson repaired to the scene and found the battle ended. A man had been most brutally beating a woman, but the latter had refused to complain of him, explaining that the man had been seriously injured some time agoin the head, and was not at all times responsible for his acts. Hence no arrests were made.

THE CLEVELAND BOND ROBBERY.

Capture of the Thief at Buffalo-He is Identified as a Notorious Bank R bber.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 7 .- Wm. Burke, alias Charles H. Page, has been arrested here as the thief who stole $117,000 worth of railroad bonds, belonging to President D. P. Eels, of the Commercial National bank, Cleveland. Burke, or Page, was taken at the Express office, while inquiring for a suit of clothes shipped to him from Cleveland. It appeared shipped to him from Cleveland. It appeared he, with two other men, ordered suits at Cleveland, which were to be shipped to Buffalo. His two companions are supposed to have the stolen bonds in their possession. Burke, alias Page, hails from Chicago, and is recognized as a professional bank safe thief. Last summer he was caught in the act of attempting to steal valuable papers out of the vault in a bank at Cahoes, New York. He was arrested and admitted to bail. He was again arrested for a similar attempt at a arrested and admitted to bail. He was again arrested for a similar attempt at a bank in Baltimore but again got out on bail, no difficulty being met in raising money, as he is considered to belong to a gang of eleven "experts," which would put up $50,000 if necessary. He is also wanted at Detroit, Lockport and other places. The arrest recalls the famous bond robbery in this city of the Erie county savings bank a few months ago, but the officials of that institution are unable to identify Burke as the mysterious person at identify Burke as the mysterious person at their bank on the day the theft occurred.

A "Bull" Day in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 .- This was bull day again, and everything fell upon horns. On 'change, wheat was in good request, and a very strong feeling was developed, the short interest being the chief sufferers. January was the busiest option. Receipts had fallen off, and the New York reports were encouraging for holders who started in quickly, allowing prices to de cline % @%c, but soon pushed them up 1% c' when wheat dropped %c, rallied, and finally closed 1% @1% c higher than yesterday's close. Sales at $1 27% @1.29%, January; $1.28%@

$1.30%, February.
Corn was fairly active. Speculators bought freely of deferred deliveries, and prices gradually advanced 1½@1½c, and settled back ½@½c, closing eventually ¾@½c above yesterday. Sales, 60%@61%c January, 65%@66%c

Dats were stimulated by other markets, and Oats were stimulated by other markets, and the sales were all firm prices and a little higher, the advance being nearly ½c. Sales 44 ½ @44 ½c January, 46 ½c may.

Provisions were firm, advancing steadily, and clesing firm at about outside rates. The short crop of hogs seemed to be the chief argument of the bulls. Sales: Pork, $16.97 ½@17.00 ½ January, $17.22 ½ @17.50 February. Lard, $11.15@11.30 January, $11.27 ½ @11.50 February.

Stocks-Share speculation was feverish and unsettled in the early dealings, but at the first board a firm tone prevailed and an advance of % to 1% per cent. took place, in which Chicago, Columbus & Indian : Central and Wa bash, St. Louis & Pacific common were most prominent. This was followed by a decline of 1/6@1% per cent., which was most marked in Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. During the afternoon the market was dull and unsettled and at the second call there was another decline of %@1% per cent., the latter in Philadelphia & Reading. Subsequently the dealings assumed a firmer tone and prices closed at a recovery of % to 1 per cent.. The stocks most conspicuous in the transactions were Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande and Philadelphia & Reading. The treasury having offered to take $4,600,000 in bonds, got $319,000, thus demonstrating that the called bonds in the 105th call are not in the hands of persons who have any interest in the current loan market. While there are good reasons for a plump 6 per cent. money market, it is clear the present stringency is manipulated by wealthy stock speculators, and until we turn into the new year the balance of power in the money market will rest with these operators. Boston, Hartford & Erie bonds fell to 731/4 on sales which were waiting for consummation yesterday at Boston of the scheme to improve the road and make closer connections with the trunk line roads hostile to the New York Central. These bonds sold as low as 61 during the time of the Boston bank troubles and have
