While driving from St. Paul yesterday morning, Elmer Xavier's spirited horses took fright when descending the steep hill just befright when descending the steep hill just beyond the university and ran away. Arriving near the university the pole broke and run deep into the ground, stopping the carriage with such a shock that Mr. Kavier was precipitated to the ground with violent force. He sustained a very painful fracture of his right shoulder. One of the animals was also seriously injured by splinters of the broken shaft entering its side. Wm. St. John and A. Perry, two belligerent bakers, are employed at the Minneapolis bakery. They had a little dispute which developed into a good-sized imbroglio. St. John not being a disciple of his antique name-sake and prototype, seized an old revolver, and pre sented it muzzie first towards the cranium of his opponent. This little moneuver, al-though the pistol couldn't be induced to go off at any hazard, so scared Perry that he cannot sleep for thinking of it. At his instanceroyal St. John was brought into the halls of municipal justice where it was decreed he should forfeit a V. He accordingly forfeited.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

The Pistol Was Not Loaded, But It Went

Off and Killed Mrs. Sellers. A fatal shooting accident occurred on the East side about 10 o'clock last night. In the company of Detective Hankinson a GLOBE reporter hurried to the scene of the accident, arriving twenty-five minutes after, in a little wooden rookery, in the rear of the feed store, 10 North Main street, the home of Mrs. Kennedy, a half-breed, and her family. In this family has resided several months a Mrs. Hattie Sellers, a widow aged about 40 years. Last evening Michael Gaffney, an old friend, called upon the family.

Mrs. Kennedy's little 13 year old boy, at about 9:45, went to an old cupboard and took from the top an old, rusty, cheap single pistol, which he proudly exhibited to Mr. Gaffaey, which he proudly exhibited to Mr. Gaffaey, saying he had had the pistol all winter. The boy, whose name is Charley Kennedy, is a bootblack, and came in possession of the pistol by giving two shines to the owner. Mr. Gaffaey examined the pistol and returned it to the boy, saying it was worthless and would not shoot a mouse.

The boy replied, "It is not loaded," and at the same instant pulled the trigger to demonstrate the truth of his statement. The act was immediately followed by a report and Mrs. Sellers fell back upon the bed upon which she was sitting at the time, and cried "Oh, I am shot." With horror all saw a small red spot in her forchead, which too well told its tale of certain death. The boy, beside himself with fright, ran to the river bank and threw the fatal pistol into the middle of the stream.

Dr. Laleberte was at once summoned. He Dr. Laieberte was at once summoned. He found the woman in a critical condition, breathing irregularly and hard. She soon after, however, rallied and her pulse became more regular and breathing natural. The doctor probed about four inches and was convinced the bullet had entered the brain. The woman was unquestionably under the influence woman was unquestionably under the influence of liquor, to the use of which she is immod-erately addicted, as, although perfectly con-scious, her conversation was disjointed and coroner Fairbairn was then summoned and came promptly. He made a minute examination of the patient and concluded she could not survive the night, at most.

Officer Lane sent for the city physician, who refused to come without an order from the superintendent of the poor.

At the time of the accident there was present, besides the parties mentioned, a boy named Willie Foley, who corroborates the statements of Mrs. Kennedy, as given above. The reporter was unable to find traffacy, who is a railroademploye.

The victim of the accident was a cripple, had a foot amputated at the college hospital while confined there during the winter. She had been married twice and one child, a boy now about 13 years of age, being her only offspring. This boy, Marshall Sellers, is now living in St. Paul.

Brick Olson, a Scandinavian emigrant bound for Becker, arrived in this wicked city on the 9 o'clock train Sunday morning.
Olson had a weakness and his weakness got him dizzy drunk, which resulted in emptying his pockets of some $00 cash. As he related to the GLOER reporter it happened thuswise: He took a few drinks of tanglefoot; the tangle foot proved too heavily loaded for his well being. Drowsiness followed jollity and he sought repose. Adjourning to an out-house in the rear of a saloon he was soon wrapt in deep slumber. After sleeping off the narcotic influence of his cups he awoke only to find to his consternation that he had been visited during his sleep by some one who unkindly relieved him of $90. He hastened to the police station and entered a complaint, but as there is no evidence in the possession on the 9 o'clock train Sunday morning. but as there is no evidence in the possession of the police leading to the identity of the pickpocket, the probabilities are that Olson will wait long in value for his money.

ST. PAUL BOARD OF TRADE.

ST. PAUL, May 16, 1882. The same offers are made for wheat that were made Saturday, but it remains dull and without much demand. For corn there is more inquiry, but still not much doing. Oats are without change. There is simply a fair business in them. Barley is without change. We note sale of 1,500 bus. on p. t. Rye is dull and nothing is being done in it.
Ground feed was very dull, and there was not even an inquiry. In corn meal not enough was doing to establish quotations. The same may be said of hay. The receipts of potatoes were liberal and in excess of demand, and they appeared to be a little weaker. Sales were made of 500 sacks at $1, sacks included, while only 85c was bid for the ordinary grade of potatoes. The following are quota-

Wheat—No. 1 hard, $1.45 bid; No 2 hard, $1.40 bid, $1.45 asked; No. 2, $1.36 bid; No. 8 $1.22 bid.

DESPERATE MEN.

Two Condemned Criminals Escape, and Afterwards Kill an Officer.

MEMPHIS, May 15 .- Last July James Atkinson and his father, Appleton Atkinson, mur dered the wife of James Atkinson, for which they were arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to death. They both succeeded in making their escape from jail in Penniscott county, Mo. The condemned men were followed by Will J. Hudson, an officer of Penniscott county, who was assisted by Capt. J. Hutchinson, of the river mail service.

The Atkinsons were found May 7, near Trinity, La., on Black river. Hutchinson walked boldly into the room where the two men were and demanded their surrender.

Old man Atkinson threw up both his hands and was handcuffed by Hutchinson.
James Atkinson said he would surrender, too, but while Hutchinson was handcuffing
his father he stepped into an adjoining room, seized a shotgun and fired both barrels at Hutchinson The contents styteen buckshots. Hutchinson. The contents, sixteen buckshots, entered the body of Hutchinson, from the effects of which he soon died, but not before he shot and killed old man Atkinson, who, although bandcuffed, was trying to get away.

James Atkieson after shooting Hutchinson made his ecoape in a dugout, bareheaded and barefooted. A sheriff and posse were in purparetooled. A shering and posse were in pur-suit of him, when last heard from, with every prospect of effecting his capture. The above facts are gained from Officer Hudson who re-turned to Penniscott county to-day. Huch-inson was well known slong the river between here and St. Louis as mail agent.
