New York, Sept. 30.—Dry goods: Although the movement has been of good proportions during the week the demand has been very moderate. Deliveries on previous engagements, and steady forwarding of many specialties, in connection with miscellaneous orders, in the aggregate, have taken a very fair to good quantity of goods. Dress goods, ladies' suitings and sackings, dress flannels, skirts and drawers, canton flannels, white and colored wool flannels, and prints have been in good distribution, but for other classes of goods the demand has been more moderate and confined to necessities of current requirements. moderate and confined to necessities of curren
