

THE INTER MOUNTAIN DOUBLE-PAGE WEEKLY REVIEW OF BOXING MATCHES, DUMMY ROWAN ON THE STREETS PITTSBURG BOYS WILL BE SORRY THEY JUMPED

Frank Dunn's Coming Opponent Gives His Friends a Chance to Size Him Up Before the Betting Starts--High Scores Made by Bowlers Last Night at the Thornton Alleys.

"Dummy" Rowan, who is to meet Frank Dunn December 18 at the Broadway theater to try conclusions with the upholstered mitts, was on the streets yesterday. He looked to be in the best of condition and is taking the finishing touches at the Butte gymnasium under the direction of Ike Hayes.

"Dummy" Rowan will weigh 160 pounds when he faces Dunn and in this matter his opponent will have about five pounds the advantage. "Dummy" is confident of victory, however, and yesterday wig-wagged a message to the reporter, which was in effect that Dunn would think he had butted into a Kansas cyclone on the night of the fight.

Dunn is the man who fought James Murphy some months ago, and is considered a dangerous opponent. The men will go on as light-heavyweights and the bout promises to be a fast one.

The Butte bowling team of three men established a new record last night at the Thornton alleys by bowling a total of 2,764 pins in five games. Only one score was higher than 20 and the bowling of the team is considered the most consistent yet played in the winter league series. In fact it would compare well with that of any team in the country.

The Americans, who opposed the Butte team last night, also made good scores. Barclay, the captain, took the high score, 220, and the highest average for the night, 195.15.

Richards, of the Buttes, is showing good form and is bowling a steady, consistent game. He gives promise of soon equaling the best of them. Following were the scores:

Buttes—
White . . . 184 161 103 171 190—929
Kohl . . . 124 174 160 179 167—922
Richards . . . 160 193 187 188 185—913

Totals . . . 568 548 520 538 542—2794

Great interest was shown last night at the Overland club when the contest was decided which elected ping-pong players who are to meet the team from Anaconda tonight. They are Lacey, Merkle and Help. Upon these rests the hopes of the Overland club for wresting the Tolcan challenge cup from the Copper City team.

There were two couples in the semifinals last night but the result decided the personnel of the teams. The three sets played by Lacey and Galbraith for first place on the team were the feature of the evening. Galbraith took the first set by a score of 12-10 but lost the next two by scores of 2-6 and 4-6. Merkle won handsily from LeBeau by scores of 6-1 and 6-1. The finals will be played until next week.

J. S. McKinley and Charles Lowenson will play a match game of billiards tonight at the "Pistier" for a purse of $100 and a substantial side bet. Lou Frank will back Mr. Lowenson and Cook & Perry, proprietors of the new billiard hall on Granite street, will support McKinley. McKinley is to play a string of 150 to his opponent's 100. The match will be played upon a regulation 5x10 table, such as is used in championship games.

The management of the Pistier announces that in the near future some of the best billiardists in the country will come to Butte, among them Jacob Schaner and George Slosson. Lew Shaw, the fancy billiard expert will appear during the holiday week, and Willie Hoppe, the boy billiardist, will give a series of exhibitions, especially for the women.

Mildred Schultz, Hugh I. Wilson's imported Oriyeta filly, won at Ingleside again yesterday at good odds. It was just a week since the filly took a good race at 30 to 1 with not much money played on her. She was quoted at 15 to 1 and 10 to 1. It is said that Mr. Wilson's winnings yesterday amounted to more than $14,000. At Walkerville he won $1,400 at 10 to 3 and 1. He telegraphed $500 to San Francisco and $500 to Hot Springs, Arkansas, placing the money to win. He got as good as 12 to 1 for his money and as a consequence cleaned up a nice sum.

Mildred Schultz was ridden by Jockey Walker and won easily by two lengths. It is thought that the Montana delegation at Ingleside made good winnings also.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 6.—Players who left the National league by night or who escaped over a back fence will be denied the pleasure of again participating in games in the major league. This, at least, is the intention of not a few club owners. Action will be taken at the next meeting of the National league, to be held in New York early next month.

Not a few of the players who are now reveling in the American league pasture have shown a disposition to return. It can be stated on authority most positive that all but two who signed to play with the New York team in the American league have already cast about to see what effect the failure of that league to locate in the metropolis will have on their papers signed with Johnson. It is the idea of some of the players, that, failing to place a team in New York, the American will have no claim on those who signed only for that city. This is of great importance to Pittsburg, as Tannehill, Chesbro, O'Connor and Davis have signed to play there.

The near approach of the National league meeting has set the fans buzzing about what will likely be done. The Pittsburg club will, of course, be watched closely, as it is known that the American has not yet abandoned the hope of seeing a fight and a split, which they hope against hope may result in sending the Pittsburg National league club into the open arms of the American. There is no longer any hope that the American will attempt to invade Pittsburg.

Since the team for next year is now complete, no harm will be done by telling the time, place and conditions under which trouble in the team started. Jack O'Connor, always vindictive, was fined for not taking care of himself before a ball was pitched in the season of 1902. It occurred at St. Louis, the home of "Rowdy" Jack.

The Pittsburgs opened the season there. Before leaving Hot Springs O'Connor got leave of absence from the team. Instead of going to Little Rock and St. Joe with the team he cut loose across Arkansas to St. Louis to ginger things up for the coming of the team. He did. When it came time to open the game there Captain Clarke found it necessary to fine O'Connor for not being in condition to play ball. It cost him $25, not a stage fine, for he had to pay the money. Since that time O'Connor had little love for Clarke or any of his superiors, and when Ban Johnson came knocking at his door Jack decided to leave Pittsburg. He did not intend to go as soon as he did, however. O'Connor's fine was the only one imposed on a member of the Pittsburg team in three years.

Claude Ritchie, the little second baseman, is one of the best "heeled" players on the diamond. Claude, who has a lot of oil wells and other things which make money while he sleeps, confesses to quite a little nest egg, but the real dimensions of said egg were not known until O'Connor tried to induce him to reconsider his agreement with the Pittsburg club. The talk occurred on a train bearing the Pittsburg club on its last swing round the circle.

Ritchie and Jack were in a compartment. The second baseman admitted that he was tied up with Pittsburg and was content to let it go at that.

"Why, Ritchie, you're a fool! 'Pon my soul you need a guardian," said O'Connor, in pretended disgust.

"Need a guardian, do I?" drawled Ritchie. "Need a guardian?" he repeated, his voice growing louder and sharper. "I like that talk from you, O'Connor. You have been playing ball longer than I have by many years and have not a cent, while I have $30,000 laid away for a sore finger. Got it all without a guardian, too, Jack. Need a guardian, eh?" With this Ritchie came out, his face blazing. The silence was deep and painful in the little room, but finally Jack emerged, glancing about like a man who had taken the short end.

Later O'Connor tried the guardian business on Beaumont, but when Clarence began to shed bank books and government bonds Jack went out and told the brakeman funny stories for the rest of the trip.

That Alphonso Davis was booked for the plank long before he fell and wrenched his ankle is no longer a matter of secret. Davis had been accused of shirking line drives in the field and he was not taking the best of care of himself. The battle between Tinker and Conroy on the field in Chicago left an opening for Davis to get back on the team. He had been laid off. At the time this fight came up Clarke had agreed to release Davis.

A strange coincidence is that at the time Davis fell in with the piece of luck which put him back on the Pittsburg team and saved his job he met an agent of the American league in Chicago and had a talk with him about next year, and Lefty was considering the proposition then made him when he was released. Davis does not know yet probably that he was so near release.

OFFER A FORFEIT FOR THE BIG FIGHT

DETROIT CLUB WILL POST $2,500 AS GUARANTEE FOR YOUNG CORBETT AND TERRY.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Detroit, Mich., Dec. 6.—The Metropolitan club of Detroit has agreed to put up a $2,500 forfeit for the Young Corbett-McGovern fight for January 3, and Sam Harris, for McGovern, and John Considine for Corbett, it is said, have practically accepted the local club's proposition to give to per cent of the gross receipts. Mayor Maybury said last night: "If the provisions of the fight are according to law, I see no reason why there should be any interference from the Detroit authorities. With the men well trained it seems as though such a contest should occasion less comment than a contest between greenhorns, who might not be able to stand a good stiff punch."

HENLEY REGATTA AND THE YANKEES

LONDON FIELD SAYS RULES INJURING AMERICANS SHOULD NOT BE PUT IN PRACTICE.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
London, Dec. 6.—The Field this week discusses the proposed new Henley regatta rule against professional coaches and calls attention to the fact that the rule is not intended to apply to single scullers. The paper thinks that it was the attitude of the American crew that provoked the proposal, and, while admitting that the rule might have a salutary effect, on the whole it inclines to the hope that the Henley stewards will not sanction it because the rule would supply the Americans with a new grievance, at the same time, argued the paper, compelling amateurs to depend on their own resources.

MINERS IN DRILLING CONTEST

Big Prizes Offered for Events Held Down in Arizona.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Prescott, Ariz., Dec. 6.—One of the most interesting events of Carnival week here has been the miners' drilling contest. Owing to the extra hardness of the granite furnished poor records were made. The prizes offered were $150 for the double-handed contest and $75 for single-hand drilling.

The former was won by Malloy and Ross of Bisbee, who drilled 34.55 inches. Tom Ross of Colorado won the single-hand event with a record of 17.01 inches.

TO MAKE A SHIP OF CRAFT

Another Effort to Do Something With Torpedo Boat Destroyer.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Seattle, Dec. 6.—The navy department is to make another attempt to make a serviceable craft of the unlucky torpedo boat destroyer Goldsborough, which has broken down on every trial trip. She has been hauled out of the water at the navy yard and a house built over her and new engines will be placed in her.

There remains yet unexpended some $20,000 of what was to have been the purchase price of the vessel, and this will be spent in trying to make her ready for service.

HIRAM MAXIM TO VISIT US

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
London, Dec. 6.—Hiram Maxim, in an interview on his approaching visit to the United States, says he has decided to remain in America some time for the benefit of his health and to carry on his flying ship experiments.

He will, he says, probably be consulting engineer on dirigible balloons of the St. Louis Purchase exposition.

BLAND IS SAID TO HAVE DROPPED $12,000 ON A FAKE SCHEME DOWN IN ARKANSAS.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 6.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from Hot Springs, Ark., says Edward Bland, 63 years of age, of Taylor, Texas, dropped $12,000 here to foot-racers, who have since been arrested. He came here with the money to back the game. The money was put up and the race pulled off, but the man on whom Bland had placed his money stumped his toe and the other went on and won. Bland protested against their arrest, saying they were Colorado millionaires, who were simply sojourning here, and that the deal was all on the square.

The foot-racing crowd is said to be composed of such notables as the "Honey Grove Kid" Hafner, Burns, Scott and Goddard.
