who assisted Mrs. Fredmore in looking after the little folk were Mrs. Trudeau, Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Mahoney and Miss Nadreau.

"HAPPY HOOLIGAN"

Party Given by Mrs. Jack Noyes Is a Shining Success.

There is a craze for the novel in entertainment, and certainly the limit was reached at the "Happy Hooligan" dinner given last Saturday night by Mrs. Jack Noyes.

The dining room was profusely decorated with banks of violets and hyacinths arranged on the buffet and china cabinet, but for the table was reserved the unique display of cabbages, onions, radishes and celery.

Golden squashes held lighted candles topped with squash-bloom shades, and these shed a warm light over the festive board. The place cards were decorated with "Happy Hooligan" figures and gaily colored cartoons of conspicuous Butte politicians.

The ladies' costumes were as original as the entertainment itself, which was among the jolliest of the season. Those present were: Mrs. William Tuohy, Mrs. T. J. Murray, Mrs. I. Freund, Mrs. J. V. Long, Mrs. Laurence Harris, Mrs. James Forbis, Mrs. Henry Root, Mrs. H. I. Wilson and Mrs. Jack Noyes.

MRS. GEORGE F. LYMAN

Entertains Presbyterian Ladies' Missionary Society.

Mrs. George F. Lyman entertained the Ladies' Missionary society of the Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon at her rooms in the Morris flats. Fully 28 ladies were present.

Mrs. G. E. Blackburn, who is president of the association, presided. The discussion of the condition of the Indians and the benefit which they have received from the missions was the theme which occupied the ladies.

Mrs. W. C. Davis gave an interesting talk on the Indians. She was followed by Mrs. R. S. Wilson, who read a letter recently received from a missionary who is working among the Navajo Indians in New Mexico. Another letter was read by Mrs. Morrison which came from a missionary worker at Wolf Point, Mont.

A general discussion followed, in which many interesting facts were brought out. Mrs. Gray talked of the work of the Presbyterian missionaries in this state and showed the good they had done in the past and were now doing.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and the meeting proved to be one of interest and pleasure.

Kensington Tea.

Mrs. George Stephenson entertained a few of her friends at a Kensington tea on Tuesday afternoon. No end of dainties in the way of embroidery were made as the ladies sat and chatted over the teacups. Mrs. Stephenson's guests were: Mrs. Walsworth, Mrs. J. Talbot of Columbia Falls, Mrs. John McIntyre, Mrs. Trial, Mrs. Sidney Ellis, Miss Garris of Helena, Mrs. Hawk, Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Young.

John H. Pulliam has decided to locate permanently at Langley, Wash. Mr. Pulliam and family left here early last month for Langley, where they went on account of the ill health of Mrs. Pulliam. Since reaching Langley her health has improved to such an extent that the family will not return to Missoula.

Arrangements have been made for three games of basket ball, in which the girls' team of the university is to participate, to be played here. The girls of the Butte was formerly engaged in the hardware business in Billings with Col. A. L. Babcock.

Rev. George D. King, the presiding elder of the M. E. church, who has been occupying the pulpit of Rev. W. A. Allen in the latter's absence, has gone to Bozeman, his home, where he will remain several days.

A. L. Babcock spent the week in Helena.

J. A. McDonald of Bozeman was here this week.

Mrs. E. B. Camp was able to return home yesterday from St. Vincent's hospital,

CLUBS OF BUTTE

The Homer club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Hight at its last meeting. The current topics touched on a wide range of subjects and called forth various expressions of opinions. The library facilities of Washington, D. C., the Rockefeller Institute of New York, the Louisiana purchase, the jubilee of the pope and the woman guardian of children in Chicago were among the subjects mentioned.

An interesting paper on Turgeneff, written by Mrs. J. M. White, was read by Mrs. Moon. After a brief biography Mrs. White gave a summary of Turgeneff's style.

"He was a great writer and, above all, a great man—as sensitive as a woman and as impassive as a surgeon—as free from illusions as a philosopher and as tender as a child. No more candid, cultivated, penetrating spirit, no more charming talent, no more generous heart than his ever existed."

Mrs. McCrackin gave a review of Turgeneff's "Father and Son." It was in this book that the term "nihilism" was first used, a term now thoroughly adopted not only by Russians, but by the world, to stigmatize all revolutionary and ultra-democratic and socialistic tendencies.

Mrs. Runkell gave a sketch of "Sienkiewicz," speaking of his time spent in California, of his life in Poland and his ability as a writer. His greatest novel, the trilogy "with Fire and Sword," "The Deluge" and "Pan Michael," was reviewed by Mrs. Ryan. "It was on this novel that his fame as a writer was founded, though Sienkiewicz is probably better known to us as the author of 'Quo Vadis.'"

Mrs. Chowan of Great Falls, Mrs. Dierks and Mrs. Tilton enjoyed with the club the held on Wednesday evening, and that in consequence no afternoon meeting should be held. But, owing to some hitch in the arrangements, the open session was postponed and an impromptu afternoon meeting held as usual.

The chief topic of the day was a discussion as to whether the club should employ Mrs. Uqhahat Lee, the teacher of parliamentary law, to deliver a course of instruction to the members. The result was that the club voted in favor of the measure and Mrs. Lee will be engaged to deliver a series of lectures before the club during the month of June. It was decided that such training would benefit each individual member and that a quicker knowledge of parliamentary law would greatly facilitate the progress of the club.

Excelsior Dramatic Club.

The Excelsior Dramatic club met on Monday evening at the studio of Miss Kellett in the Pennsylvania block. The evening was devoted to the study and the rehearsal of the two plays, "In Honor Bound" and "A Rural Ruse," which the club is now studying. The progress made so far under the direction of Miss Kellett is most satisfactory, and by Easter a presentation of one or the other of the plays is hoped for.

The Atlas Club.

The Atlas club was entertained on Friday afternoon by Mrs. Green Majors. Parliamentary drill occupied the first part of the afternoon, after which there was a general discussion as to the future course of study to be pursued by the club. Some interesting papers were read and a pleasant time was enjoyed.

Saturday Night Club.

The Saturday Night club held its last meeting at the home of Miss O'Leary, on hospitality offered by Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Hight.

Mrs. Gillilan was elected as a member.

Monday Night Club.

The vicissitudes of Spain from 1870 was the subject of discussion at the Monday Night club this week. Miss Moran talked on history and Miss Una Madden delivered a talk on the fine arts in Spain, treating more particularly of the life and influence of Goya. The period was not a fruitful one for literature and consequently little of particular interest was brought out in the general discussion that followed the two talks of the evening.

Current events were discussed, after which the club adjourned to meet next week with Miss Madden, 322 West Broadway.

The Woman's Club.

It was originally planned that an open session of the Woman's club should be

West Park street. The following resolutions on the death of Miss Aline Tiethe
