Wedding Bells.

One of the most elaborate weddings of the week was that of Miss Virginia McCrackin and Mortimer J. White at Hamilton, July 8.

The ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Episcopal church at 8 o'clock in the evening, with Rev. Mr. Fogarty officiating.

The church decorations were elaborate, comprising large palms, potted plants and sumptuous dinner was served. After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Holland will be at home to their friends in East Park street.

Miss Adele Casini and Umberto Lombardi were married Thursday morning in the church of the Sacred Heart, Rev. Father Icaloni officiated.

Miss Kuole and B. O. Madsos were united in marriage Thursday evening in the Norwegian church in this city. Rev. Mr. Pedersen officiated and Miss Gina Lukra was bridesmaid and John Nelson acted as best man. The church was prettily decorated and many friends were present to witness the ceremony. After the ceremony the party adjourned to the home of Charles Hammer in Walkerville where a well appointed supper was served. Many handsome presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Madsos will reside in the city.

day at 11 a. m. Only a few intimate friends were present and immediately following the marriage ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw took the train for Spokane.

Miss Mary Krammarich and John S. Schutz were united in marriage in the church of the Sacred Heart Tuesday. Rev. Father Callahan officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Schutz will reside in this city.

Miss Amelia Laurent and James Y. Hume decided to surprise their friends. They did so by getting married without asking their advice as to the date and place of the ceremony. The ceremony was performed in the apartments of the bride Saturday morning where were gathered only a very few of the intimate friends. In the presence of these Miss Laurent and Mr. Hume were united in marriage by Justice Libby.

After the ceremony a delicious little supper was served and the bride and bridegroom left for Helena on the late train. Mr. and Mrs. Hume are now at home to their friends in their pretty home in Meaderville where Mr. Hume has a fine position.

The Mature Charmer

Some of the most irresistible beauties in the history of famous amours were long past thirty-five when potentates of the world became enslaved to their charms. Cleopatra, for example, must have been forty when Marc Antony threw away the world for her. Mme. de Maintenon was a mature widow of quite forty when Louis XIV. became passionately in love with her, and to the stupefaction of court and kingdom, married her. History, indeed, is full of the conquests of the mature woman.

In Greek art, too, it was found that the masterpiece, such as the Venus de Milo and the Vatican Victory, represent mature goddesses. In Shakespeare's sonnets it is clear Theater Party.

One of the parties made up of guests from out of town was that from Deer shower bouquets. The chancel was a veritable garden of flowers and made a charming background for the beautiful bride and handsome bridegroom as they stood at the railing to take on themselves the vows that united them in marriage.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCrackin of Hamilton, and is an accomplished, charming young woman, who counts her friends in many cities, while the bridegroom is well known for his business ability and high moral worth. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. White of this city.

The bride was gowned in a creation of imported white organza with real lace trimmings, and wore a white veil fastened with a white rose and carried white asters. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were gowned in white with pink sashes.

Miss Helen McCrackin was the maid of honor, while Miss Kate Reeves of Bonner, Miss Fay Murray of Missoula, Miss Emma Boul of Butte, Miss Mabel Markle of Hamilton, were the bridesmaids. The bridegroom was attended by Frank W. Haskins of Butte as best man, while James Gillie of Butte, Dwight Hughes of Hamilton, Major W. Smith of Butte, Wallace McCrackin of Hamilton acted as ushers.

The bridal party entered the church and proceeded to the altar where Lohengrin's Wedding March was played.

After the ceremony the friends of the bride and bridegroom went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. McCrackin, where a reception was held from 8 to 11 o'clock. The house was artistically decorated with garden flowers interspersed with potted palms and plants.

At midnight a supper was served the bridal party, which included the bride and bridegroom, the bridesmaids, best man and ushers. Those present were also at the supper Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCrackin, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. White, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fogarty.

The table was pretty in its appointments with pink and white carnations in flat shower bouquets and spiengeria vases.

The presents were elegant, and there were many of them.

Mr. and Mrs. White have gone to the Pacific coast for six weeks and will be at home in Butte after September 1.

Those who attended the wedding from this city included Mrs. John Gillie and Miss Janette Gillie, Mrs. Mary Emerson, Mrs. John E. Davis and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Chapman, Mrs. Sharp, B. H. Dunshere, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCrackin, Miss Emma Boul, Frank W. Haskins, Major W. Smith, James Gillie.

Miss Teresa J. Seaker and Harry W. Rickard were united in marriage at St. Patrick's church Thursday.

Miss Elizabeth Kelly was bridesmaid and Clarence Larson best man. After the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. George K. Oeckel, where dinner was enjoyed. The table was decorated with roses and smilax and only a few intimate relatives were present with the family.

After returning from California Mr. and Mrs. Rickard will be at home in this city.

In the rectory of St. Patrick's church Miss Irene Hamann and Marion King were united in marriage by Rev. Father Desiere. The wedding was quiet although a number of friends and relatives were present. Mrs. E. F. O'Neill was matron of honor and Mr. O'Neill acted as best man. A dinner was enjoyed at the Butte by the bridal party, after which Mr. and Mrs. King took their departure for Salt Lake. It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. King to reside in this city.

At the Sacred Heart church Wednesday Rev. Father Callahan united in marriage Miss Mary Shaughnessy and Peter H. Holland. The wedding ceremony was attended only by a few relatives and friends and the bridal party then went to the home of the bride's parents where a
