

RESCUE WOMEN EXTENDING WORK

AT MEETING IN BUTTE FLORENCE CRITTENTON CIRCLE DECIDES ON FORWARD STEP.

WILL REACH STILL FURTHER

Plans Are Perfected to Throw Strong Guard Around Weaker Sisters.

At a meeting of the Florence Crittenton circle this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bucher several matters of importance came up for consideration...

In Closer Touch. This plan will be carried out with every circle, putting each in direct communication with Mrs. Mary Watts, the matron at Helena.

Mrs. N. N. Wolfe, one of the national organizers of the circle, is in the city, at the Butte hotel. She is here for the purpose of knitting more firmly together the various Florence Crittenton circles in Montana.

When seen by the Inter Mountain this morning Mrs. Wolfe was in excellent spirits regarding the work in this state, and is enthusiastic over that which lies in the future.

"Do I think any good comes out of our efforts in behalf of women? I certainly do. I have been in the work 20 years and in that time I know to my own personal knowledge of thousands of women who have been enabled to attain to the best in life through this work."

No Place for Them. "When I started my first work 20 years ago in New Orleans there was no place to which a girl might turn in her distress and desire to hide her mistake. Now there are several large rescue homes there as a result of my small beginning."

"My object in coming to the West from the national home in Washington is for the purpose of establishing a training system in the various Crittenton homes."

"The plan is to organize classes under the direct charge of the matron. In Helena I organized four classes, one for nurses, cooking, sewing and laundry. These will be taught scientifically, so when the young mothers emerge from the home they will be equipped with a means of earning a living for themselves and the little one. This is now the plan of national circles and it has been most successful throughout the East."

Keep Close Track. "Another thing that will be done here is the keeping track of every inmate of the institution after her departure. Arrangements have been completed by which those who have once been members of the home may always be within touch of the workers.

"In Washington the officers know where each of those helped are during a period of 15 years. This information is always kept secret from the public and is for the purpose of watching results and immediately offering aid in case it is needed.

NAVAL PROBLEM AT AN END

Advance of a Hostile Fleet on Maine Coast Is Checked.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 8.—The naval search problem, which began Wednesday, when Rear Admiral Barker took up the plan of defending the Maine coast from a "hostile" fleet, which put to sea Monday, under Rear Admiral Sands, ended early today when the Olympia, the flagship of the defending fleet, discovered and intercepted the "white squadron" of the enemy, headed at full speed for Winter harbor.

The hostile vessels were running in close order formation and had not the fog lifted at a favorable moment it is thought the enemy would have eluded those on guard.

As it turned out, before her consorts could reach the scene, in answer to her signals, the Olympia had been forced to fly the white flag and consider herself captured by the commander.

The Olympia was the farthest to the eastward of the defending squadron and had a position 25 miles outside Bakers Island for the greater part of three days.

A thick fog bank, which rolled in from the sea after midnight, made it impossible to cover the ordinary cruising radius of the Olympia and all that the men on Admiral Dewey's old flagship could do was to depend on their ears and wait.

Shortly after 4 o'clock the fog bank began to roll out to sea and as the atmosphere cleared every man and officer of the battleship searched the constantly enlarging field of vision with anxiety.

Suddenly, there came a cry repeated simultaneously from various parts of the Olympia's superstructure, "there they are."

CARDINAL GIBBONS IS BETTER

American Prelate Recovering in Rome From His Indisposition.

Rome, Aug. 8.—Cardinal Gibbons has almost recovered from his indisposition, which he thinks was due to over-fatigue on Wednesday when he stood about three hours at the vatican in order to present the American pilgrims to the pope.

Today the cardinal went for a drive. After the coronation of Pius X tomorrow he intends to go for several days rest to Castle Gandolfo, on the beautiful lake of Albano, near Rome, where the American college has magnificent summer quarters.

The pope, in order to aid the Catholic university at Washington, has promised Rector O'Connell that he will shortly issue a bull granting the apostolic benediction to all the faithful participating in the yearly collection which the archbishops and bishops in the United States will raise for the university.

"The institution is destined," said the pope, "to become the heart and center of the clergy and of Catholicism in America."

Rev. J. Hartly of St. Louis will be consecrated archbishop of Manila by Cardinal Satolli on the 15th inst.

JUDGE AND LAWYER IN AN ENCOUNTER

CLANCY AND CHANCELLOR O'DONNELL HAVE VERBAL BATTLE IN THE COURTROOM.

DENIES THE HANDWRITING

Exciting Argument Occurs Over Settlement of Bill of Exceptions in a Case.

Judge Clancy and Chancellor O'Donnell, a well-known attorney, had an entertaining time together in the former's courtroom this morning over the settlement of a bill of exceptions in the case of William O'Neill against James Pierre.

The bill was presented to the court by Attorney George H. Shelton for the plaintiff, and was opposed by the chancellor.

The chancellor asked the court to stay the settlement of the bill on the ground that J. W. Cotter had been a party to the case, and an administrator of his estate had not yet been appointed. The court refused, on the ground that Mr. Cotter was not a party.

Holds Case Is Settled. Mr. O'Donnell then contended that the case was settled and the judgment paid, hence there was nothing to base an appeal on. Mr. Shelton returned that there was an appeal from the order requiring his client to pay $10 for a demurrer.

"No, no," said the chancellor. "This is a bill of exceptions. What do you want to appeal from?"

"Well, I want to give you a chance to up and talk to the supreme court. I always like to give a man a chance to get the higher court to reverse me if I ain't right," said the court.

Then the court said the chancellor had written something in the motion calendar of the court himself, which bound him.

"Here it is in your own elegant handwriting," said the court.

Has His Doubts. "I have my doubts that that's my entry at all in the book," said the chancellor.

"Oh, yes; that's yours," said the court. The attorney looked and replied: "No; I never wrote that in the world. My writing is copper-plate."

"You never wrote it? Well, if you didn't I don't know who did," the court responded.

The lawyer tried to open another matter, but the court cut him short by saying: "Get along. There's six matters on each page of this docket, and six pages. Six times six is thirty-six. I want to treat you well, but I don't want you to abuse me."

Stops the Chancellor. He settled the exceptions and amendments, and when the chancellor wanted to take up another motion he stopped him with the remark: "No, no, chancellor; I've done enough for you today."

NORTHERN PACIFIC BRAKEMAN IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Missoula, Aug. 8.—Ray Griffith, a Northern Pacific brakeman, is under arrest and in the county jail, charged with attacking a 9-year-old girl.

Griffith boarded at the Cook home. Intense indignation is expressed over the affair and there are threats of lynching, but it is not probable that this will be done.

The sheriff fears no attack upon the jail, but is prepared for it.

ROCHESTER'S GOOD FUTURE

Carl Hand, Manager of Watseka Company, Talks of Camp.

Cross-cutting on the vein at the 600-foot level is progressing and it is expected as wide as expected the future of the camp is assured.

Walter Mackay, for many years a well-known mining man in Butte, who made a fortune in the Coeur d'Alenes, visited Rochester a few days ago and had no hesitancy in saying that he considered it a promising camp.

He has interests there and was generally pleased with what he saw.

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF MISSING BOY

RELATIVES ARE SEARCHING SEWELL LAKE FOR THE BODY OF EUGENE COONEY.

SPECIAL TO THE INTER MOUNTAIN. Helena, Aug. 8.—There has been no trace of Eugene Cooney found in Sewell lake, although the search has been thorough.

E. H. Cooney, the Great Falls newspaper man whose son was thought to be drowned, has written from Canyon Ferry that the hunt will not be given up until the body is found.

It is thought that the boy may have left the boat in Sewell lake and wandered away in the mountains. There is little hope of this, however. It seems almost sure that the young man in some strange manner fell out of the boat and was drowned in the lake.

BLAZE IS TAKEN TO FIREMEN

Burning Car Is Hauled to Department's Doors to Be Extinguished.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Instead of being forced to don rubber coats and hurry to a fire firemen of engine company, No. 82, at Ninety-fifth street and Cottage Grove avenue, had a blaze brought to within a short distance of their department yesterday.

"I've got a fire for you boys," said a railroad engineer when he entered the firehouse.

"Well, it's pretty hot, old man, for us to handle out, but tell us where it is and we will get busy," was the reply.

"Oh, don't worry, I have just pulled the fire up outside of the house here," said the engineer.

The blaze was in a car loaded with hay. It had been standing in the Illinois Central railroad yards at Burnside and had been ignited by a spark from a passing engine. When it was discovered an engine was coupled to it and the blazing car pulled to Ninety-fifth street and the Illinois Central railroad tracks.

The firehouse was but 100 feet away. The firemen hauled their apparatus out to a fire plug in front of the house and soon extinguished the flames. There was but little left of the car besides the trucks.

HAS AN AUTOMATIC CLERK

Canadian Will Not Need to Attend His Store in Person.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 8.—W. G. McLaughlin, better known as "Mac," an eccentric Scotch inventor of this city and Walkerville, who has suffered several changes of fortune, has again come to the front with an invention for wrapping up bundles of merchandise.

McLaughlin says it will put a lot of clerks out of business and revolutionize the dry goods trade. It will measure off the number of yards of cloth requested by the customer with neatness and rapidly.

McLaughlin says the machine cannot talk, but will be as near an automatic clerk as possible. He is now organizing a company for its manufacture.

The previous efforts of the old inventor were in the direction of the perfection of a railway air brake. He formed several companies for the manufacture of these brakes in Canada and the United States and each time they have been tied up with litigation in the courts of both countries.

McLaughlin lives in an old coach standing on the Lake Erie tracks in Walkerville. He once used this car to demonstrate the workings of his air brake.
