

SOCIETY

Enjoyment has come in Missoula this week from the Charter Day exercises at the university, and from numerous clever and appropriate celebrations of Washington's birthday. An early showing of attractive new spring hats in certain of the shop windows has induced a welcoming thrill; so also has the sight of the sun shining over the western mountains when the bells ring six o'clock in the evening. The moon, too, shining over the eastern mountains this week, while it is not necessarily a sign of spring, has suggested the open-air parties that are already being planned and anticipated.

Out of respect to Lent and to the vangelistic services that are in progress, the social functions of the week have been very few and all informal.

MISS "TINY" PRITCHARD, Who Figures Pleasingly in Affairs Musical and Social Among the Missoula Young People.

A Swedish Evening.
The entertainment given by the auxiliary to the Orchard Homes Country Life club at the club house, Friday evening, proved a tremendous success. Friends from town and Orchard Homes filled the club house to the limit of its standing room. Each number of the program was in itself a masterpiece. Mrs. Clements, who arranged the program, read a travelogue of Sweden, giving some of the vivid memory pictures of Miss Hoffman, a young lady of the neighborhood who does not yet feel enough at ease in the English language to speak in public. Miss Ethel Hughes kindly sang her beautiful song hit from "On a Roof Garden" called "In a Swedish Rose Garden" and then in response to ensure a number of other charming selections, sang in duet with Mrs. W. S. Moore. Mrs. Moore delighted the audience with her graphic and sympathetic biography of Jenny Lind and with her singing of some of Jenny Lind's songs. Miss Ruby Jacobson played Swedish airs on the piano most acceptably and Otto Benson brought down the house with his Swedish monologue. The evening was concluded with refreshments served by a refreshment committee from the auxiliary, Mesdames Laundry, Warren and Benson.

Park Addition Club.
Mrs. L. E. Tucker assisted by Mrs. James Tucker, entertained the Park Addition club in regular session, last Wednesday afternoon. The topic for the day was "Patriotism" and Mrs. Cavin was program leader. Mrs. Templeton reported on current events. Selling of the text book law recently passed in Kansas which requires school boards to furnish text books to school children at actual cost. By way of pleasant variety, Mrs. Cavin arranged that the program should take the form of a debate. Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Lucas brought forth clever and convincing arguments maintaining that the patriotism of ancient times was of nobler and more effective quality than the patriotism of modern times. Mrs. Veeder and Mrs. Wright spoke with equal force and logic, spiced with humorous side-lights, in behalf of the patriots of today. Both sides of the question were presented so convincingly that the ladies who heard refused to vote a decision for either side. Additional features of the afternoon were a guessing contest which took the form of a presidential puzzle, a song "Our Flag and Motherland" by Mesdames Cavin, Gray, Cobban and Meagher, and lastly delicious refreshments served with Washington's birthday favors. Twenty-one members were present with Mrs. H. B. Murray and Miss Noth as guests.

Daily Addition Mothers' Club.
About 25 members of the Daily Addition Mothers' club assembled Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Hoverson. The program hour was given over to Mrs. J. A. Miles, who gave the ladies a delightful analysis and interpretation of William Vauchen Moody's play, "The Great Divide." Following this interesting and instructive talk, there was a social hour with refreshments served by the hostess assisted by Mesdames Carle Hale, Roy Graham and L. E. Sargent. The next meeting of the club will be on "Anniversary Day," March 7, and Mrs. Katherine Brady will be hostess at her home 634 South Second street.

At Rose Acres.
Mrs. Charlene Meagher entertained the ladies of the Park Addition club and their husbands, Friday evening, at her charming home, Rose Acres. There were about 40 ladies and gentlemen to have part in Mrs. Meagher's hospitality. Games, music and refreshments added to the pleasure of the evening spent together.

At Cards.
Mr. and Mrs. I. Q. Roberts entertained at cards, Thursday evening, at their country home up the Battlesnake valley. Their guests were conveyed to and from the Roberts home in a great sled, adding the fun of a sleigh ride to the other pleasures of the evening. After a lively game of cards, there was served a delicious midnight supper. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. James Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Harner, Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. Stennett, Mrs. Cobban and Mrs. Meagher.

Women's Auxiliary.
The women's auxiliary to the Orchard Homes Country Life club met Wednesday afternoon at the Hawthorne school with 19 members present. Roll call was answered with favorite quotations; then followed a discussion of current events. Mrs. DeJarnette added a good paper to the series that is being given on "Good Roads," her topic being material and cost of construction. She discussed especially the use of gravel as a road builder. There was a vocal solo enjoyably rendered by Mrs. E. W. Kramer and a travelogue by Mrs. Taylor. The latter told of her childhood days in Missouri and then described the journey overland from Missouri to Helena, Montana, before railroads were built into the state. Indians and their ways were made very realistic as Mrs. Taylor told of her experiences. At the close of the program, Miss Spurgin and Miss Utley Delegates are expected from all the associations in Montana, and besides visiting young women and directors, there will be among the guests, Miss Elizabeth Fox, student secretary for the Y. W. C. Some of the interesting addresses of the conference will be given by Miss Elizabeth Fox of Seattle, Miss Murphy of Deer Lodge, Miss Lockhart of Great Falls, Mrs. C. L. F. Kellogg of Missoula, Rev. At the Johnston Home.

A company of young people, about 40 in number, went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnston in Daly addition Tuesday evening for a good old-fashioned frolic. The affair was a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, who nevertheless made their guests most welcome and turned their home over for an evening of music, dancing, games and supper.

As You Like It Club.
The annual open meeting of the As You Like It club held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. T. Sterling was a charming success. Members and guests were alike pleased with Mrs. G. P. Reynolds' reading of Charles Barn Kennedy's play, "The Terrible Meek," and also by her interpretation, in response to a request, of the French dialect sketch, "Mon Pierre." Musical numbers were a vocal solo, "Autumn Gale" (Gregg) by Mrs. C. W. Norquist, and "A Summer Night" (Thomas) by Margaret Sutherland Clark. A social hour and refreshments closed the afternoon. public by the German-Austrian Alpine society. By far the larger number of fatalities of 1912 were due to falls; these amounted to 553 out of the total of 565, and the greater part of these occurred during high-mountain climbs. Thirteen persons were caught by avalanches and killed; eight froze to death; three were carried over precipices by snow-slips, and three died of heart failure due to over-exertion. Sudden changes in the weather, particularly unexpected snowstorms, were the direct cause of many of the deaths.

A New Insurance Plan.
The insurance of the German working classes is not to be left wholly in the hands of the government and its organs. An association for insuring the working classes on the largest possible scale has just been founded at Berlin under the presidency of Count Possadowsky, former secretary of the interior.

The capital for this company, amounting to $76,000, has been subscribed by 400 German life insurance companies. They agree to accept a maximum dividend of 3 per cent on their investment, and to put into the by-laws a provision that this feature cannot be changed without the consent of the director of the empire. In addition, these companies supply a fund of $28,000, free of interest, for the purpose of defraying the expenses incident to organizing the general company. The new concern intends to operate largely in conjunction with existing labor unions, sick funds and other organizations of the working classes. It will confine itself to writing small individual policies of various forms and for various periods. It will also assist workmen in securing their own lives.

Benefited Many Who Had Tuberculosis
Those who suffer from Consumption are generally troubled with night sweats, fever, loss of strength, little or no appetite, fresh air, good food, and the proper care of the body are essential to a recovery. In many cases something else is needed. Bekmeier's Active is a medicine which has been most successful in stopping night sweats, reducing fever and promoting appetite, and many who have used it declare it saved their lives. Investigate what it did in this case.

"I had been ill for four years. I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse; I had night sweats and pains in my chest. I was losing my appetite and for years had not gained weight. I could not attend to my household duties. A physician pronounced my case Consumption. Not being satisfied, I was examined by the physicians of the City Clinic Hospital. They also pronounced the disease Consumption, which was proven later by an examination of sputum, as Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. I was ordered to a Consumptive Hospital. My nephew would not allow me to go until I had tried Bekmeier's Active. Before I had taken the medicine three weeks I had marked relief; night sweats ceased, pain in the breast relieved, cough lessening, and my appetite, fever left me and I commenced getting well. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now and have been completely cured for ten years. I strongly recommend it."
