

It Pays to Advertise in the Rising Son for it Reaches More Homes of Colored People than any other Paper in the State.

VOLUME VIII.

KANSAS CITY MO., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1904.

NUMBER 46

HANNA IS DEAD

HE GAVE UP THE STRUGGLE AT 6:40 O'CLOCK MONDAY NIGHT.

WAS UNCONSCIOUS FOR MANY HOURS

Most Unusual Honors to Be Paid to Hanna's Memory—Official Funeral in Senate Chamber—Death of the Ohio Senator Will Cause Widespread Mourning.

WASHINGTON.—(Special.) Senator Marcus Alonzo Hanna died at 6:40 o'clock Monday evening at the family apartments in the Arlington hotel, after an illness extending over nearly two months, filled with apparent recoveries, followed by relapses and finally drifting into typhoid fever, which, in his weakened condition, he was unable to withstand.

When the end came all the members of the senator's family were in the room except Mrs. Hanna, the senator's wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hanna. Mrs. Hanna had left the room only a few minutes before.

deal and showed calmness and bravery.

over the hotel like a flash. The lobby was crowded and a score of friends were waiting in Mr. Dover's room. No attempts were made to restrain grief. Senators Fairbanks, Scott and Kittredge broke down. General Dick wept his sorrow at the loss of a friend who had been a brother. So it was that conversations were a curious admixture of whimpers and choked sobs.

Spontaneous outbursts of unstinted tribute were heard on every side. Men who are acknowledged leaders of political parties, kings of finance and commerce and men selected to serve in the highest positions in the nation, were among those who expressed the country's immeasurable loss.

It is likely that Bishop Leonard, of the Northern diocese of Ohio, of the Episcopal church, and formerly rector of St. John's church, in this city, will conduct the services.

Senators and representatives visited the hotel throughout the evening and many of the dead man's friends were admitted to the death chamber.

WASHINGTON.—(Special.) Both houses of congress will adjourn Tuesday immediately upon the announce-the physicians. Fourteen hours before the end was announced life had practically suspended, the flickering spark being kept aglow by the most powerful scientific agencies.

Word of the senator's death went to the house. Senator Foraker will announce the death of his colleague, and will offer resolutions of regret and for a committee to take charge of the funeral arrangements. A committee consisting of twenty senators will be named by President Pro tem. Frye, and the sergeant-at-arms will be directed to make the necessary arrangements for the funeral services both here and at Cleveland. The senate will then adjourn.

The resolutions will be sent to the house at once and General Grosvenor will present resolutions of regret on the part of the house. As soon as these resolutions are adopted Speaker Cannon will name a committee of the house to accompany the remains to Cleveland. The house committee will include the entire Ohio delegation. It is expected the house will provide a special train to go to Cleveland, and that many members besides the funeral committee will attend the last sad rites.

The flags on the capitol were at half-mast Tuesday, and will remain so until after the funeral. The desk of Senator Hanna in the senate chamber will be draped in mourning.

There will be an official funeral in the senate chamber at noon on Wednesday, the body lying in state in the senate marble room in the morning. It is expected that the Gridiron Club quartette will participate in the services and sing the hymns. This will be done on account of Senator Hanna's intimate relations with the club. His last public appearance was at the annual Gridiron dinner.

It is expected that three special trains will go to Cleveland Wednesday afternoon, one with the body, accompanied by the senator's family, another with the senators who desire to attend the funeral at Cleveland, and another for the house of representatives.

Markings of the Moon

Probably even in prehistoric times men have noticed the face of the "man in the moon." Plutarch noticed it and even wrote a whole book about the face in the moon. But besides this, many other objects are supposed to be visible. The dark markings on the surface are likened by the Chinese to a monkey pounding rice. In India they are said to resemble a rabbit.

Newspaper Work in Russia.

Newspaper work in Russia is not pleasant. The government spends more money on its press censors than on its schools. Last year eighty-three papers were suspended for various periods, and twenty-six were forbidden to accept all advertisements, while 253 editors were told they could have a short vacation in Siberia if they continued their methods of reviving various public questions.

Wages in United Kingdom.

In the United Kingdom 37,500,000 people out of 40,000,000 receive less than $60 a month for each family; 1,000,000 are in daily receipt of poor law relief; 8,000,000 have only a week's wages between them and starvation; 500 hereditary peers own one-fourth of England, and they and their dependents spend every year $1,850,000,000.

Still Make Lace by Hand.

Notwithstanding the progress of machine-made lace there are in France to-day about 200,000 women who make it by hand. Many of them get only 20 cents for twelve or fourteen hours' work.

Value of Wild Animals.

An elephant costs $5,000 and he is likely to live twenty years. A lion will cost $1,000 and is good for twelve years. A Siberian tiger costs $4,000, a polar bear $1,000 and a black bear $200.

GOOD ADVICE FOR WIVES.

How to Get Along with That Necessary Inconvenience, a Husband.

A country vicar in the old country was noted for his excellent fatherly advice to young couples he wedded. He had printed cards of advice, which he used to distribute, besides giving guidance verbally. One of the cards was for the man and the other for the woman. That to the woman ran as follows: "When you marry him, love him. After you marry him, study him. If he is honest, honor him. If he is generous, appreciate him. When he is sad, cheer him. When he is cross, amuse him. When he is talkative, listen to him. When he is quarrelsome, ignore him. If he is slothful, spur him. If he is noble, praise him. If he is confidential, encourage him. If he is secretive, trust him. If he is jealous, cure him. If he cares naught for pleasure, coax him. If he favors society, accompany him. If he does you a favor, thank him. When he deserves it, kiss him. Let him think how well you understand him, but never let him know that you 'manage' him."

THE END OF THE WORLD.

Various Theories as to How It Will Be Brought About.

Speculations concerning the manner in which life on the world will come to an end are as various as they are interesting. Here are some of the latest theories:

As the interior of the earth grows gradually cooler, the waters on the surface will sink and be absorbed until the exterior of the globe is a parched and uninhabitable desert. Another theory is that the water will encroach on the land, eating it away until the oceans entirely cover the surface. A more picturesque theory holds that our world is bound eventually to collide with some one of the innumerable comets that are tearing irresponsibly through space; or the sun's heat may suddenly become so intensified that the earth will be shriveled up like a moth in a candle flame.

Yim.

Dar ban a little faller, Ay tenk his name ban Yim, And nearly every morning Ay used to seeing him. He used to stand in gateway And call me "Svede" and ay Ant lak to hear his nickname—Ay ban a Nork, yu say.

But he ban little faller, Ay tenk him ten years old, And so ay used to lak him—He ban too small to scold, Ay used to say, "Val, Yimmie, Ay ant ban Svede, but yu Can call me Svede—ay lak yu And ant care vat yu du."

By George! Ay'm glad, ay tal yu, Dat ay ban gude to him, Because one venter morning Ay ant see little Yim, And next day funeral vagon Come driving up to door, And Yim, poor little faller, Can't call me Svede no more! —Milwaukee Journal.

A Dig at the Satirists.

The instinct of mankind against satire is really a very sound instinct. Satire is always dishonest. For it is always the expression of hatred for a thing hopelessly coveted. Who satirizes humanity? None but he who, not having the common human advantages, is obsessed with admiration of them. Who satirizes plutocracy? The pauper who is warmed by the notion of wealth. Who satirizes aristocracy? The man who wishes he had been born an aristocrat. Thackeray wished that; and the Marquis of Farintosh was one of the natural outcomes of his wish.—Max Beerbohm in the Saturday Review.

No Heaven-bent Mob For Him.

At an evangelistic service at Glasgow the preacher at the end of his address cried: "Now all you good people who mean to go to heaven with me, stand up!" With a surge of enthusiasm, the audience sprang to their feet—all but an old Scotchman in the front row, who sat still. The horrified evangelist wrung his hands and, addressing him, said: "My good man, my good man, don't you want to go to heaven?" Clear and deliberate came the answer: "Aye, Awm gangin' but no wi' a pairsonally conducted party!"

RATS' SENSE OF SMELL.

Can Detect Presence of Cat From a Long Distance.

"I have observed recently a rather curious thing with respect to the relationship between cats and rats, and it has led to a rather interesting reflection," said a man who takes much interest in animal life. "For a while the rats overran my place. At night there was no such thing as quiet around the house. They would scamper across the floor, bump up and down the steps and cut all kinds of capers. We secured a cat, and from the very time the cat appeared on the place the rats began to get scarce. There is nothing curious about this fact in itself. But to my personal knowledge the rats have never seen the cat. The cat has remained on one floor, and the rats on another. There has been no chasing and no conflict between them. What I want to know is how do the rats know the cat is on the place? The inquiry has caused me to indulge the more interesting reflection: How far can a rat detect the presence of a cat by the sense of smell? Evidently at considerable distance. Else the rats at my place would not have known of the cat's presence."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

ECONOMY NATURAL WITH HIM.

Uncle Informs Reggie That the Trait Is Inherited.

"I would never think," said Reggie Packinham, "of going in to dinner without wearing evening clothes."

"That's good," said his uncle on his mother's side. "Don't ever wear out your mornin' clo's when you can save 'em as well as not. I remember how you pa used to lay his claw of tobacco on the window sill when he went to eat, so as not to waste it. There was a man that was always gettin' everything out of a thing there was in it. It was that disposition that kept him from ever bein' satisfied till he'd got the business down so the only thing about a steer that went to waste in his establishment was the grunt the critter gave when they hit him with an ax. I guess you must git your habit of wantin' to do things right from him."

The Strange New Language.

"The Greek, nay, Japanese, to me; But Cynthia, whensoever I meet her, Can never well contented be Till I declare her very true. And then all maidens I know far true-er."

That lovely tongue, she will sigh, Is far too exquisite for me; And while I weep to see her cry, I'd dare all deaths to aid her, I. If you'd translate her language for me.

Since my dear fate is to be hers, For with rare charm doth she tread man, I'd have her mine, but she averts It is a man-man she prefers, Now I am man, but what's a man-man?

To my dismay it adds despair To find a search for knowledge risky, For when I asked what "one's" were, I froze beneath her cold, hard stare And stern reproach that I was unwise.

So, since for her I long and yearn, And strive on her is my fond heart set, With one desire beside I burn; 'Tis this: that Cynthia will unlearn The mystic language of the Smart Set. —Pall Mall Gazette.

Century-Old Custom Ceases.

The century-old practice of ringing Storrington church bell at 8 o'clock at night has been stopped by the vicar. A romantic story attaches to the origin of the ringing of the bell. One stormy night a lady was lost on the Sussex downs, and she had given up hope of ever reaching the village, when she heard Storrington church bell ringing. She walked in the direction whence the sound proceeded, and reached home in safety. In token of her gratitude she made arrangements for the bell to be rung every night at 8 in perpetuity, and left an acre of ground for the use of the person tolling the bell.—London Express.

No Use for Wagons.

Carts, wagons, drays, trucks, etc., are not employed largely in Syria and Palestine. On the farms a wagon of any description is hardly ever seen. Grain is brought in on the backs of camels and donkeys. Delivery wagons are unknown in Syrian cities.

LEIXINGTON NEWS.

Rev. Jimson left for his home Saturday morning who had been assisting Rev. Howell in his meeting. Rev. Caldwell is here now.

Mrs. Hattie Bell left for Iowa Saturday to visit her daughter.

There is quite a number of people in town down with la grippe.

Mr. F. Bolton, Mr. Irwin Han Rins, Mr. Lewis Smith and Mr. Ellie Williams are down with la grippe.

Mrs. Mell Vinnie Bowens was found dead in bed about ten o'clock Sunday night. She was one of the oldest citizens of this town. She was the mother of Mrs. Henry Colley, who lives in Independence. She was loved by all who knew her here but not a member of any church.

Mrs. Emma Smith and Mrs. M. Barker are on the sick list.

Mrs. Joseph Terrier return back to K. C. after a few weeks visit Sunday evening.

Don't forget the 24th to here Miss Brown. You'll miss half of your life.

Mr. Leonard Britt of Higginsville was in the city last week.

Mr. Henry Elam paid up his subscription for the Rising Son.

Hays V. Reed will fill small or large order of coal on short notice. Call on them. The order will be promptly filled.

Mrs. Missouri Stanton, sister of Mrs. John Rone and Mrs. T. W. H. Williams, died at her home in Independence February 11th, at 8 o'clock a. m. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Rone have the sympathy of their many friends.

Col. E. S. Jewett is a candidate for the presidency of the Upper House on the Republican ticket. No better selection could be made.

Rev. Jesse Peck, of Allen Chapel, has been on the sick list the past week.

"There's Something to See."

The Great Southwest invites the entire North and East to make a tour of inspection and recreation to the principle business centers within the boundaries of Oklahoma and Indian Territories and Texas, on February 16, March 1st or March 15.

This territory of immensity in all things, commands the attention of persons interested in the advancement of the Educational, Agricultural and Manufacturing growths of our country. Avoid the weather extremes of the North and East at this season of the year by taking advantage of the opportunity afforded in the low rates effective on dates mentioned by Frisco System and Connecting Lines via St. Louis and Kansas City Gateways. From St. Louis to Oklahoma and Indian Territories, $8.50; to Texas $10.00. From Kansas City and Memphis, $6.50 and $8.00, respectively. Also round-trip rate of $15.00 from St. Louis and Kansas City to Texas on above dates with liberal stop-over privileges. The Frisco System has four trains daily from St. Louis and Kansas City Union Stations to the Southwest.

Cigarmakers in Germany.

According to a recent report furnished by the German government, 175,000 persons are employed in making cigars in the empire.

MARCUS ALONZO HANNA.

United States Senator from Ohio. Born at New Lisbon (now Lisbon), Ohio, Sept. 24, 1837. Has lived in Cleveland since 1852. Is head of the firm of M. A. Hanna & Co., coal dealers; director Globe Ship Manufacturing company; president Union National bank; president Cleveland City

Railway company—all at Cleveland. President Chapin Mining company, Lake Superior. Directed campaign which secured nomination and election and re-election of William McKinley as president. Chairman National Republican committee since 1896.

The last sinking spell began at exactly 6:20 o'clock. Drs. Carter and Osler were then in attendance. They did not conceal the fact that life was about to end, and all members of the family were sent for. Mrs. McCormick, one of the senator's daughters, and Miss Phelps were present when the end came. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hanna were the first to arrive and they withdrew immediately to the chamber of the senator's wife, to summon her to the bedside. It was while they were absent the senator breathed his last.

There were no distressing incidents attending the last moments. It was a sinking spell which terminated in ten minutes.

Just after his eyes closed in death, Mrs. Hanna was able to come into the room. She bore up well under the or-ment of the death of Senator Hanna. No business will be transacted in either.

The courage which has been displayed by Mrs. Hanna was the subject of the greatest surprise. She has been in almost constant attendance on her husband, though realizing fully there was no hope for recovery. Nevertheless, the remonstrances of the physicians and the added importings of her children that she take some rest was unavailing until late in the afternoon, when she was attacked by a violent headache. She was given a narcotic and then she retired to her chamber, but requested that a call be sent as soon as there appeared any change for the worse.

For the last two days Senator Hanna had not been conscious except at intervals and then only to obey mechanically some instructions given him by