The Waterbury is the Cheapest Watch in the world. It retails for $3.50. We buy 5000 at a time buying them in large quantities we get them very cheap. We give the Waterbury Watch, with chain and charm, free, absolutely free, to every cash purchaser of $15 and upward.

Our Announcement To-day:

Is especially addressed to the fashionable young men, particular young men, business men, thinking men and economical families of Dallas and adjacent towns. Owing to our large purchases, immense and still rapidly increasing trade, we are enabled and do name the very lowest prices in Texas for men's, youth's, boys' and children's clothing, hats and furnishing goods.

IN MEN'S AND YOUNG MEN'S SUITS we show dozens of styles where any other dealer shows one. It is no secret—we sell more Men's and Young Men's Clothing than any two clothing stores in Dallas. Prince Albert Suits, $20 to $35; Four Button Frock Suits, $18 to $30; Walking and One Button Frock Suits, $15 to $25; Fine Frock Suits, $15 to $25; Business Frock Suits, $10 to $22; Business Sack Suits, $8 to $20; Good Suits, $5 to $9; Fall Overcoats, $6 to $30.

BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S CLOTHING that's better and finer than you'll find elsewhere. Thousands of families know this fact, else they wouldn't come here and keep a-comin'. There's less profit in it for us when a little boy's extra fine and handsome Kilt Suit goes for $7 that's sold elsewhere for $9 and $10; several styles and all beautiful; when a boy's fine and stylish Short Pants Suit (and you can have choice of lots of beautiful patterns) can be bought for $10 that would be called cheap at $12 by ordinary dealers.

Or when you can buy a Large Boy's elegant Long Pants Suits for $15 that would be termed a bargain in any other house at $18 or $20, more than twenty styles to select from, and every one a perfect beauty.

Splendid Kilt Suits for $4.50; Splendid Knee Pant Suits at $3.50; Splendid Long Pant Suits from $4 to $5. And they're excellent ones, mind you—they'll wear. These are some of the vital reasons that make our Boy's Clothing Trade what it is—the largest in Texas.

Our present display of hats has never been equaled—every shape, color and style we have. Any price you want, we will fit it, and your head too. Men's Silk Hats, $5 and $6. Derbys, Dunlap and Knox Block, $2.50, $3 and $4. Boys' and children's Hats from 50c to $2. Nobby Fall styles and Scarfs, Underwear and all Fine Furnishings. Lowest prices.

A WOMAN DIES ALONE.

Her Children, Startled at the Ghastly Scene, Seek Refuge in the Orchard and Subsist on Fruits for Three Days.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 6. — The startling news of the discovery of the dead body of Mrs. Daggatt, who resided near Sheep Ranch, has just been received. Mrs. Daggatt, who was the mother of three helpless little children, and whose husband is an employe in one of the mines in that section, and who was at work at the time of the unfortunate woman's death, returned home every Sunday to visit his family after the toils of the week. He found upon his arrival at home last Sunday the body of his wife wrapped in the cold embrace of death upon the floor of the kitchen, and his children secreted through fear among the vines of the orchard, where they had been for three days subsisting on fruits. Deceased was last seen alive about four days prior to the discovery of her lifeless form. She had visited a neighbor some two miles distance from her home. She made the trip on horseback, and, being near confinement, it is supposed that she was injured in some manner, which evidently resulted in spasms, causing death. Deceased had been dead three days, and the body when found was in an advanced state of decomposition. The three children, who are very small, became frightened at the lifeless body of their mother, and sought refuge from the ghastly scene by secreting themselves in the orchard, where they were found in a half-famished condition by the grief-stricken father upon his return home. The unfortunate father is frantic with grief at the horrible discovery that has been his sad lot to meet. The entire community sympathize with the heart-broken family in this the greatest hour of its sadness.

AGAINST GOULD.

Western Union Stockholders Dissatisfied With His Aggressive Policy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Connected with the recent rise in Western Union stock is the interesting rumor that a little knot of capitalists is buying to control the property. It is currently supposed that Jay Gould owns a controlling interest, but this is not true. His present holdings are 250,000 shares, while there are 800,000 shares in all. It would be comparatively easy, therefore, for a syndicate to take control from Gould, especially if Russell Sage or some other holder of a big block of stock were to join the movement. Sage is not likely to do so, however. He is loyal to Gould in all things, and more than once has gone down to deep in his pocket to help Gould out when ready cash was needed.

Certain it is, however, that some big Western Union stockholders and directors are getting ready to protest against the present policy of trying to starve out the opposition at the expense of Western Union profits, and if the kickers get any encouragement there will be lively times at the next election. Mr. Gould, it seems, has become tired of buying up opposition companies. The old Mutual Union telegraph company obligations are a tremendous drag on the Western Union company, and the American Union and the Atlantic and Pacific are remembered when the interest on their bonds comes due, so it has been plain that Western Union cannot shoulder any more weak-kneed companies—or at least will not.

At present the telegraph war rages at ruinous rates for all companies. Between the chief commercial cities ten and fifteen cents is the price of a message, against fifty and seventy-five cents two years ago. There is no profit in this business and it comprises the bulk of the day work. Mr. Gould's theory has been that the opposition companies would have to go under, but the dividend party urges that we are on the eve of commercial prosperity and that there will be business for all. It proposes a combination or a pooling arrangement, and the ousting of the Goulds from the management in order that some sort of a deal may be made.

There are rumors, too, of a movement against Gould on the part of the holders of Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad securities, the accusation being that the property is continually milked for the benefit of the Missouri Pacific, to which it is leased. A large portion of the stock and bonds of this company are owned in Amsterdam, and from there will come the trouble if there is any. Mr. Gould holds very little of the stock and very few of the bonds.

BUILDING COLLAPSES.

A Building that Many a Tale Could Unfold had its Wall, Tongues to Speak, Falls Down.

This morning about 5 o'clock the people in the St. George hotel and vicinity were startled and many of them awakened by a terrible crash and thoughts of an earthquake flitted through their minds with all its terrors. It proved to be the caving in of one of the walls of Thompson's variety theatre, adjoining a portion of the St. George hotel. The part of the building that fell was the rear end of the west wall, along the whole of the stage about thirty feet in length, and from top to bottom three-stories. The back wall was also cracked wide open from top to bottom, and sprang outward from a perpendicular some five or six inches. This whole wall would undoubtedly have fallen, also, but for the fact that it was braced up by a number of heavy timbers from the outside. Some months ago the building was reported unsafe, and Mayor Brown appointed a committee to examine it, and it was further braced up. Had the cave in happened last night during the performance the stage people must have all have been killed or seriously hurt. The rear end of the roof sank down some two feet, and is now only hanging on some weak studding on the stage. The Neimeyer Bros. had the place leased, and were running a variety theatre in it. Their license under the city expires on the 19th inst. when the place would have been closed, as under an ordinance passed half a year ago; no more variety theatres were to be permitted in the city after the licenses of those already in existence expired. When the license for the dive on Main street, known as the Mascotte, expires the city will then be rid of the Varieties, and it will be a good riddance indeed. The building is the property of Mr. J. W. Thompson, who amassed a fortune running a variety theatre in it, and he will now, no doubt, have erected on the lot a first-class business building, which will be a great improvement to that locality. Could the walls of the old den speak they could many a tale unfold of callow innocence led astray by the pointed and bedizened furies, who plied their wiles within their precincts, and of the squandering of his money by many a gray-haired chump on these same sirens.

SENSATIONAL TRIAL.

Of Two Young Men for the Murder of a Young French Girl.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A sensational trial for murder has just been concluded at Pas de Calais, France. Last April the dead body of a girl 15 years old, named Marie Ledont, was found in a field. The victim had been gagged and stabbed to the heart. For a long time no clue was obtained to the perpetrators of the crime. Attention was eventually drawn to two cousins of the girl, who lived in the same hamlet. They were youths of 16 and 17 years, named Muchembled, and the older of them was the girl's lover. These boys were arrested and examined with regard to the murder. They handed to the magistrate a manuscript narrative giving an extraordinary and fanciful account of the murder of a young girl by a great serpent and a fleet deer, ending with the death of the murderers. This, saving the last incident, tallied in the general description with the murder of the girl. To this the young culprits confessed, and added that their courage had failed them when it came to the question of suicide. Each was sentenced to imprisonment for fifteen years and to pay 4000 francs damages to the father of their victim.
