OLD SERIES VOL. 38.

DALLAS TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1887.

NEW SERIES, VOL. 2 NO. 235

News Notes.

Mesquits has shipped about 3500 bales of cotton this season.

The reward for John Connor has been reduced from $500 to $200.

Trains will be running on the Cotton Belt to Plano by December 1.

Cotton Belt trains will soon be running into Hillsboro from Corsicana.

A drug store and the postoffice at Millican was robbed Monday night.

Monday evening the small child of Jno. W. Battle, was seriously burned at Longview.

Austin is making every preparation for the inter-state drill to be held in that city next May.

Burglars have been at work at Melissa. The store of Graves & Ogilvie was forced open by them.

The Cotton Belt road at Waco complains that its property has been taxed $30,000 in excess of its real value.

Mr. Crisp, the purchaser of Col. Bar-tow's interest in the Waco Examiner was to receive his interest in the paper to-day.

The electric light system will soon prevail in San Angelo. Nearly every business man in the place has subscribed for one or more lights.

William Buckhaltz, a German farmer, was killed near Palestine Monday evening by the wheels of his wagon passing over his body. Cause, intoxication.

A fair association has been organized at San Angelo with a capital stock of $100,000. One hundred acres of ground has been secured and a charter applied for.

From Greenville since its advent into that town the Cotton Belt Road has shipped 300 bales of cotton. The receipts of this branch to date since November 1 are $800.

The situation of the switchmen's strike at Houston and Galveston remains about the same. New labor is being imported and it is thought a freight blockade will hardly ensue.

Kicking Knights of Labor have inaugurated a game of freeze-out with General Master Workman Powderly. The first meeting for this purpose was held in Chicago Monday night.

In the district court at Fort Worth yesterday Mrs. M. M. Lester secured damages against the Texas & Pacific railway for $4125, for the accidental killing of her son, a fireman, a few months ago.

Mrs. Green, the El Paso woman, proves to be a valuable prosecuting witness in the cases of train robbers. It seems that El Paso was made general headquarters and she was into the secrets of all the maneuverings.

It seems that the purported will of the Bean estate which was received at Bonham may yet figure conspicuously in the case. Mrs. Gee, the lady mentioned in the will, lives at Temple and says all the parties signing the will as witnesses are now dead but did at one time really exist.

A shooting scrape occurred in the courthouse at Houston yesterday morning between Sheridan L. Mainman and Samuel L. Barrett. The later emptied the chambers of a .38 calibre double-action pistol at Mainman, one of which took effect in the right arm. Barrett, the assaulting party was carried to jail, and to a reporter stated the cause of the shooting to be for improper conduct by Mainman towards Barrett's wife.

Two San Antonio boys have just been convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. In July they were captured and jailed, charged with theft. Later they escaped and one was recaptured. This one disclosed a statement to officers the horrible details of which could not have been more deliberately planned and executed by the most hardened criminal in Texas. It was: That three had banded themselves together for the purpose of committing theft and burglary, and with an oath swore to end the life of either of the three who should give away their deads. One "squealed" and was afterward decoyed into a cave and murdered by his two companions in crime. Upon this disclosure officers visited the cave and found the skeleton of the murdered boy and a lot of stolen property there concealed.

Rogers silver plated forks and spoons at manufacturer's prices at J. P. Doherty & Co's., 603 Main street 2nd door from Lamar.

PRAISE GOD, FROM WHOM ALL BLESSINGS FLOW;
PRAISE HIM, ALL CREATURES HERE BELOW;
PRAISE HIM ABOVE, YE HEAVENLY HOSTS;
PRAISE FATHER, SON AND HOLY GHOST!

A Thanksgiving Sentiment.
McMaster, the historian, when asked for a Thanksgiving sentiment wrote this: "Every man today earns more money, wears better clothes, eats better food and of more kinds, lives in a more comfortable home, knows more of the world, holds broader views than he could possibly have done when the Nineteenth century came in."

The Pumpkin Pie.
Tis rhubarb pie in early spring,
And gooseberry in June;
And Christmas time it's rich mince pie,
Morning, night and noon.
But the royal pie for Thanksgiving
Is pumpkin, golden yellow.
Ah! that's the kind for me, if not
For any other fellow!

A CITY THANKSGIVING.
Oh! russet is the forest,
No leaves left on a tree,
No shelter there for fellows
Who tramp like you and me.

Oh! cold are country breezes,
And warmer is the town;
So trav'ling on our uppers,
My chum and me comes down,
For we're sure of one good layout
Of turkey, meat and pies:
A real Thanksgiving dinner,
Enough to fit our size.
And though we get no lutece
And likewise nary beer,
We're mighty thankful, for it
Must last us one whole year.

Cept. W. C. Walsh, who is here on a visit in the interest of the Confederate Home, feels much encouraged over the prospects of aid from the people of Dallas. This is a worthy cause and should be liberally met at the hands of people every where.

The money order business in Dallas last week amounted to $31,935.16.

The street car lines of Main and San Jacinto streets will soon be connected. The curved rails to be used in the work have arrived.

Thanksgiving services to-night at the First Baptist Church.

20 PER CENT DISCOUNT FROM REGULAR MARKED PRICES.

Just think of it—Twenty Per Cent Discount! That sounds hard for our conservative competitors but it has to come sooner or later, and as the chilling morning frost and the cold winds will drive people to our store for legitimate bargains, so do we now, in that spirit of liberality, offer them now, in advance of the closing out season and just in time for their wants, these enormous bargains. Remember well we do not fool the public. We desire to reach by means of advertising every nook and corner of this section, but our principle method of reaching the hearts of the people is, by our system of RELIABLE DEALING FAIR and JUST REPRESENTATION and the zealous care with which we hold to our promises. Eighty Cents on the Dollar from former price. This is exactly what our cutting, pruning process of twenty per cent means. To rich and poor, to all alike, we offer the great inducement for patronage. Compare our stock, our prices and our system of business before you buy of us. If we cannot get away with any competition in Texas, we ask not your patronage.

I. REINHARDT & CO., 736, 738 and 740 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas.
