

Still Another.

About 1:30 o'clock this morning two men, one of whom registered as W. R. Hoff, turned into the Pacific House on Pacific avenue and occupied a bed in room No. 8. Hoff's companion had a pocket book containing between $16 and $17 which he left in his vest pocket thrown over the bed post. He awoke this morning to find pocket book and contents non est. Suspicion pointed to dishwasher J. Brown, who holds forth at Dare's restaurant on Lamar street and who occupied the same room from which the money was taken. Brown arose at 4 o'clock this morning—about the time the money was missed. He was carried before Chief of Police Arnold who after questioning him failed to elicit any fact connecting Brown with the robbery and accordingly let him go.

Five men occupied the room and no clue has been fastened on any party in particular.

Leading as Usual.

Messrs. Kneply & Son, the Main street jewelers have received this season a stock which in fashion and style, extensiveness and variety eclipses any of their former efforts. Expecting to move into their new building on the 1st they bought very largely and ransacked the corners of the earth for novelties and gems. Being disappointed in the time of obtaining possession they have decided to exhibit and offer for sale their immense purchases in their present location. For Diamonds Kneply & Son have always been at the head, and this year they have excelled themselves. In watches they occupy the same position as with diamonds. A larger stock than any house in the state to select from and of the leading makes of movements, and cases of the most artistic finish and designs.

Those contemplating a holiday or wedding gift could not select anything more beautiful or useful than a diamond or watch at Kneply & Son's. The blue ribbon from the exposition is exhibited in their store.

Court Notes.

Oak Cliff Railway Bridge.

A paper published a few days ago that in place of the false-work of the Oak Cliff railway Trinity bridge it was "reported that an iron bridge was on the way." The truth is that the iron bridge is here on the grounds and in course of construction, the large iron piers being now about completed. The Oak Cliff railway doesn't live on "reports."

Geneveive

Are cheap, are good; go for them. This marvelous and unrivalled brand has just made its appearance on the market, and its popularity is already unbounded. No cigar ever met with such an enthusiastic reception since the invention of tobacco. The doors hadn't been open ten minutes before the house was crowded, and the standing room was so full of eager purchasers that their feet stuck out through the transom. President Cleveland sent for the first box, and said he would rather be the man who made that cigar than to be president. To be had only at C. V. Waller's drug store, 720 Elm street.

Say, Piggie, do you know that Thompson & Price's Christmas goods will be here this week? Do, my own darling get me a box of California crystallized fruit.

Fiftieth Congress--First Session.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—After the reading of the Journal the senate took recess to await communication from the president.

After recess had been extended for a quarter of an hour longer Senator Morrill reported that the joint committee appointed to wait upon the president had performed its duty, and had been informed that the president would immediately communicate with congress in writing.

Thereupon one of the president's secretaries presented several messages in writing and the presiding officer laid before the senate the president's annual message, which was read.

The following nominations by the president were then handed to the secretary:

Lucius Q. C. Lamar of Mississippi to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States.

William F. Vilas of Wisconsin, to be secretary of the interior.

Don M. Dickenson of Michigan, to be postmaster general.

Charles S. Fairchild of New York, to be secretary of the treasury.

George L. Rives of New York, to be assistant secretary of state.

Isaac H. Maynor of New York, to be assistant secretary of the treasury.

Sigourney Butler, of Massachusetts, to be second comptroller, of the treasury.

James W. Hyatt of Connecticut, to be treasurer of the United States.

HOUSE.

The proceedings of the house this morning were opened with a prayer by the chaplain.

Mr. Mills of Texas offered a resolution directing the speaker to appoint committees on rule, accounts, enrolled bills and mileage.

Mr. Cox of New York, chairman of the committee appointed to wait upon the president, reported that the president would communicate with the house forthwith.

Some resolutions changing unimportant rules were adopted; one of which was:

By Mr. Johnson of North Carolina—Providing that when any motion or proposition to amend the revenue laws is under consideration, any amendment thereto or substitute therefor, whether it refers to internal or customs revenue, shall be in order.

At 12:20 a recess was taken until 12:40, when the president's private secretary appeared at the bar of the House with the president's annual message. It was received and read. House then adjourned.

Rapid Improvement.

The public is always glad to hear of improvements, and just at this particular season the people will be pleased to hear, or if they are already customers there, be reminded that there is a plainly perceptible improvement going on at Thompson & Price's family grocery store. These gentlemen are truly enterprising, and have put within their spacious house everything that the most painstaking and fastidious housewife could desire or think to ask for—we mean, of course, in the grocery line. In provisions, pickles, sauces, etc., their shelves are artistically laden with the very best brands; while their meats and lard of the famous Whittaker brand is another strong drawing card of this house. They are prompt and obliging. Give them an order and you will go again.

There has been no new developments in the reported robbery of Mr Albert Alston alleged to have occurred Monday night. If a clue is to be had the Dallas police will get it.
