THE WORLD.

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 15. SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION (Including Portuge), PER MONTH, 30c., PER YEAR, $3.50.

VOL. 28.....NO. 9,765

 THE 1888 RECORD! *********

New York, April 30, 1888.

We, the undersigned Advertising Agents, have examined the Circulation and Press Room Reports of THE WORLD, and also the amounts of White Paper furnished ft by various paper manufacturers, and find that the Average No. of WORLDS Printed Dally from Jan. 1, 1888, to date is as stated, wiz.:

288:970 COPIES.

GEO. P. ROWELL &-CO. J H BATES E. N. ERICESON, DAUCHY & CO., GOODRICH & HULL, JNO. F. PHILLIPS & CO.

Circulation of the SUNDAY WORLD each Sunday during the first quarter in 1888:

Jan.	1	262,830	Feb.	19	270,120
Jan.	8	257,180	Feb.	26	277,250
Jan.	18	260,110	Mar.	4	276,790
		258,470
Jan.	29	258,860	Mar.	18	285,370
Feb.	ð	260,420	Mar.	25	285.540
		276,870

Circulation Books Always Open

THE TRUST NUISANCE.

Tammany Hall's indictment of the Sugar Trust as a nuisance in law and a conspiracy in fact is fully sustained by proofs.

The Sugar Trust exercises the privileges and powers of a corporation without warrant of law. It exercises the powers of a momopoly, in contravention of law and of the public interests.

The Trust robs the producer on one hand by conspiring to put down the price of his go and the amount of their "hauls:" raw material. It robs the consumers on the other by fixing an arbitrarily high price for refined sugar.

If the Attorney-General can find no law to prevent such robberies, the people must elect a Legislature that will pass one.

CORNERING WHEAT.

Wheat speculators at Duluth control onethird of the visible supply of wheat in the country, and purpose to make a corner in the "staff of life." Blue ruin will probably overtake every one of them-and serve them right.

I'There ought to be a law forbidding all these combinations to speculate in the necessities of the people. To put an artificially high price upon food in order to make millionaires of gamblers, is the meanest form of robbery.

Fortunately the laws of trade usually corner the cornerers at last in all these operations. Swift failure to the whole of them !

THE MAYOR'S ADVICE.

The locked-out brewery workmen applied to the Mayor for bread and he gave them

It is the old story. And yet, perhaps, hard facts and cold comfort were all that His Henor had to give. His pitiless logic, however, is faulty. Mayor Hawirr said to the workingmen :

"You have a right to have a union, and the browers have an equal right to have an association; and they have an equal right to refuse to recognize your union." Not unless might makes right. What moral right have rich brewers to claim and exercise the privilege of organization for themselves while denying it to their employees?

It is useless to fight against hopeless odds. The Mayor's illustration is better than his reasoning: "You had better throw up your hands, as the road agents in the West force their victims to do."

But is there never to be a remedy for bulldozing and robbery?

A FRENCH BEN BUTLER.

Gen. BOULANGER talks of himself and the French people very much as a former "People's candidate" for President talked of himself and the American people. BOULANGER is a French BEN BUILER

What can be more Benbutlerish than this talk of the French demagogue at a banquet given in his honor: "Let us occupy ourselves solely with the people, who are suffering through a bastard policy directed by degenerates, and with France, who seeks to raise herself, but whom it is sought to

The effusive patriot who talks like this is almost always looking for power for himself.

"Jonn Brown's body lies mouldering in the grave," as it did twenty-five years ago, when our soldier boys began singing the most stirring of all war songs. "But his soul goes marching on," as the abolition of slavery in Brazil, just completed, amply proves.

The Sny Levee, on the Mississippi, has given way, and a large tract of country is indated. The snide Aqueduct in New York will give way, when it is put to the test, unless the fraudulent weak places are meanwhile discovered and strengthened.

or SULLIVAN is out with his old manager, Hanny PRILLIPS, and in with his old my. John Bariapours. The match between the two Johns will have the usual result—the gutter or a cell for "the big fellow."

The GRESHAM boom is growing, but the subject of it is too good a man to suit the politicians—unless they get badly frightened.

Look-a-here, Old Prob, these "cold May storms" are getting to be confoundedly nonotonous, not to say disagreeable.

DINNER AND DESSERT.

Shad, 25 cents each, Caultflower, 25 cents. Lettuce. 5 cents a head. Mackerel, 50 cents each. Artichokes, 15 cents each. Waxbeans, 15 cents a quart, Best butter, 32 cents a pounds. Messina lemons, 15 for 35 cents. Blood oranges, 50 cents a dozen. Boft shell crabs, $1.50 per dozen, Asparagus, 16 to 80 cents a bunch. Southern pineapples, 30 cents each. Radishes, three bunches for 5 cents. Choice strawberries, 80 cents a quart. California fruit confects, 50 cents a box.

UP? WHICH FLOOR, PLEASE?

Renry Johnson manages one of the two larg elevators in the Morse Building. The real-estate men at 150 Broadway play with fate by riding with Thomas Byrnes and Garrett The patent solicitors in Temple Court-take their chances with Joan T. Driscoll, Denis McCrohar

The representatives of the various loan agencie in the Vanderbiit Building always have a cheerful word for Charite O'Brien or Robert McKee. The lawyers and other tenants in the Unite Bank Building intrust themselves to George Breme, Tom Humphrey, James Coleman and W. Hitch

The big insurance people who have omess in the Potter Building take a shore ride with James Burns, John Gallagher, Jim O'Toole or "Mr. Ryan.

The "two Jerrys" (Hayes and Griffen), as they are called, take care of the out-of-town newspaper correspondents who have offices in the Tribune Building. John Kelly and Thomas Gilles conduct the cleva-of human freight, from a United States Supreme Court Judge to a common counterfaiter. The thousand-and-one people who daily ride in the elevators of the big Equitable Building always feel comfortable when Frank Corrigan, Joe Flynn. Eugene Leary, Joseph Cherry, William Griswold, Tom Hasler, Frank McCue, Michael Swansen, Matt. Geogbegan or John Enright is in charge of many from going with Ed Houston's fishing party to Bandy Hook. Those who went were amply repaid by the good sport that they had. Here are the names of some of the old-time fishermen who did Roger Loftus, a dozen large flounders and about the same number of blackfish. " Nick" Martin, thirty flounders and blackfish and a few cela.

OLD-TIMERS WHO CAN CATCH FISH. The threatening weather yesterday prevented

Joe Cook, '' Hen " Cook, Charite Ludwig and Fred Cook together caught over one hundred large sels and a few choice flounders. Ed Houston didn't spend much time fishing, but

Bill Kirk, fifteen flounders, a few sels and black Charlie Smith, twenty flounders and blackfish, during the time that he did he was quite lucky.

Mr. Schmidt, "Old Bach," with his party sat down to a dinner of about five hundred clams and an abundance of Canada malt ale. Bill Price, Charite Tonser, Joe Corbett and Capt. Robinson each had fair luck, their messes ranging from ten to twenty-five fish. A few soulpin were caught. Bill Lanahan often goes down to Prince's Bay and sometimes brings fish home. He is positive he satches them, but—fishermen are such dreamers.

WORLDLINGS.

The University of Zurich has conferred the degree of Doctor of Philosophy upon Miss Frances H. Mitchell, of Philadelphia.

A little negro girl in Albany, Ga., is gradually turning white, the skin of her face and arms being now hardly distinguishable in hue from that of Her hair, too, which was jet lack, has become white.

John E. Burton, a successful autograph hunter of Milwaukee, has in his collection the autographs of every President of the United States from Washington down to Cieveland. He also possesses a note given by George Washington to pay for his new rent in the courch that he attended at Alexan-

A Philadelphia drummer astonished the people of Omana the other day by wearing a live chameleon as a watch charm. The curious little lizard was attached to the chain by a thin band of gold wound about its neck and nestled in the creases of the drummer's waistcoat with every-indication of con-country is that in the conservatories of Mr. William H. Chadwick. He has at the present time about five hundred and sixty varieties of the rare plants, which includespecimens from every country n which they grow. One of the rarest is a Vanda cathcarti, from India, which was purchased in Judge Arnold Krekel, of the United States Dis trict Court for the Western District of Missouri, who is seen to retire to private life, was appointed to the bench by President Lincoln. His long service as a judge has made him one of the best known men in the State of Missouri. There are only four other United States judges whose appointments antedate his. Adolph Sutro, the California many-millionaire who is preparing to make a present of his hand-some property at Cliff House to the city of San Francisco, was poor and unknown a few years ago. He conceived the idea of the Sutro Tunnel, auc ceeded in borrowing enough money to interest capitalists in the venture, formed a company with a capital of $80,000,000, built the tunnel and is now

A. H. Goodwin, of Minceapolia.

J. C. Arthur, of Lafayette, Ind., and W. B.
Hubbard, of Columbus, are at the Glisey.

Among others at the Hoffman are Lieut, Gov.
Jones, and John W. Norris, of Chicago. The Astor arrivale include David Day, U. S. G. S. from Washington, and Francis H. Sayler, a Phila delphia railroad man.

Capt. Brownell, of Cobleskill, and J. S. Pindar, of the same town, are some delegates who will represent the St. James Hotel to-day.

The arrivals at the Union Square Hotel include W. H. Newell, of Boston; F. M. Knapp, of Warren, Pa., and Nelson Waldron, of Philadelphia.
Mr. G. F. Posticthwaite and his wife (formerly Virginia Deliasy, are able (abeliance) where they will rest for a few days before their departure for lingiand.

RESCUERS.

A Fireman's Busy Life.

BENJAMIN A. GICQUEL,

Chief of Beventh Battalion, F. D. N. Y.

CONCLUDED.

WRITTEN EXPRESSIT FOR THE EVENING WORLD.] reached the top of the

of what was to be done, could assist in removing the old lady from the building. But she did not want to be removed. At least she did not want to be taken down the ladder. The policeman, who had just come up nd be taken down the ladder. The old lady shook her head. She didn't want to go down the ladder.

down? She ought not to stay there. Come Hurry up! No time to lose.

But no; the nice old lady calmly refused

The policeman chimed in with his eloquent appeals. The fireman astride the window. sill reiterated his. All the arguments they could think of they brought to bear. But they could not convince the old lady, who tors in the Federal Building. They carry all sorts hung back and shook her white-haired head with renewed resolution.

really nothing worse going on than the out when the servant girl had spilt it into the range in the kitchen. Then the police-man, gesticulating and talking to the old and quite forgetful of the fact that she could walk down the stairs which he had just come the street in that way without any need of the ladder. Then the fireman on the ladder and the the ladder and score a rescue, gently p

And the citizen, mid-way up the ladder, hanging on to it with his face upturned, not knowing what to do, having nothing to do, and simply sticking there as an adjunct to the relief party.

Finally, the respectable, serene old lady, with her white hair, persistently refusing the

At last the foreman, who had taken in the thing pretty well, came to the relief of the old lady and rescued her from the siege she was undergoing. He sent up one of the men to tell the old lady to come down the stairs that there was very little danger, and the man would accompany her. Also, to tell the men not to bother the old lady by trying to get her down the ladder.

It only took another moment for the man to reach the lady, and she at once disappeared from the window and after a minute or two emerged from the door with a sigh of relief, giving her dress a little shake as if to get the smoke out of it, and drying her eyes with her handkerchief, to brush away the water

The citizen regretfully climbed down the ladder, the fireman, seeing there was nobody to be found in the room, followed suit, and the policeman toddled down the stairs as he had ascended them.

No harm had been done to the old lady, beyond being worried by the prospect of having to descend to the street over the ladder, which she was disinclined to do, as she had very clearly shown.

to their credit. They knew the old lady could be brought down the ladder with safety, and it seemed the professional way of getting her out of the smoky room.

pression that a human creature was there and had to be relieved. That has sometimes happened and real danger has been encountered. It is always good to have a mistake made, if any is made at all, on the side which shows discipline and a wish to do one's duty rather than on the side which would indicate neglect or too easy a way of settling a point. When they are made they are generally on that side. This should redound to the credit of the department and its willing, active members.

The custom whereby every map was his own barber has gone out of style," said an uptown barber, as he dabbed a bubble of based on the Holy Bible," she added sollather into the eye of an Evening World reporter who was in the chair. "Some few men shave themselves yet, however, and they send their razors to the barber shops to be sharpened.

razors that are brought here. It is impossible to do anything with them, and I often wonder how they were made to cut by the blunt edge.

"The average man don't know this secret,

"The average man don't know this secret, and when endeavoring to sharpen a razor he brings the blade first down the strop and then back again, so as to cause the fine edge to come against the strop in turning, thus taking the edge of it as a file would do.

"And yet these men try to shave themselves, it's a wonder that they don't cut their throats."

"OH! VERENA, DON'T GO BACK ON ME." Clark's Appeal to the Woman He Had

William A. Clark is a big, broad-anouldered N. J. Verena Schitzle is a stout, good-looki girl of twenty-four years whose home yesterday was at 104 East One Hundred and Nineteenti street. She is a German girl, talks no English to speak of and has rosy-red cheeks with tiny dim-

Some time ago William came from the Monmouth farm with nothing save the aut of clothes on his back, a knowledge of horses and good intentions to wicked New York Bity, and obtained a position as coachman for Charles Menk, a banker, of No. 250 West One Hundred and Twenty-third street. As fortune, or misfortune, had it, Verena about the same time obtained a situation in this same house doing domestic work. In a little huni, caught their man yesterday as he was draw-ing money from the Harlem Bank. He was arreated and later was arraigned in the Harlem Police Court

The detective didn't know where it was and a relative in the mean time making himself heard, ine couple were sent to the side seats to talk over he matter.

Half an hour later Datasets

the matter.

Half an hour later Detective Price, with the man and woman, started for the Alderman's office. The Alderman was not in. Then the trio tried all the Harlem clergymen, but all were downtown to the conference. At the last report the detective and his charge were still looking for a magistrate to tie a matrimonial knot.

Here is a note found in the cell Clark occupied in Capt. Westervelt's station after the former had been taken to court. There had been no opportunity to have it delivered:

Greenfield (L. I.) Cemetery on May 23. The following is the programme of the day's exercises: the Town Ball, Hempstead, facing south. Mose . Baldwin Post, No. 544, of Hempstead, will oc upy the centre and D. B. P. Mott Post, No. 827. of Freeport, the right of the line. All visiting posts will be placed between the two local posts. The village Fire Department and also that of Freeport will occupy the left of the line.

The order of march will be as follows:

Talk of Workingmen. kain kept a quorum from attending the Clothing yade Section of the Central Labor Union last The movement of labor leaders to elect Assem blymen favorable to the cause is spreading, and will no doubt take definite shape.

may come up for discussion.

Many independent union men and Knights of Labor express regret over the failure of the Central Labor Union to favor the proposed recognition of cards. It was that body's proposition to the Knights, bus its leaders opposed it.

An Herete Remedy.

Mrs. Youngwife-I can't see why my bread don't It was not as bad as to be misled by the Mrs. Youngwife-I can't see why my bread don't order off some imprisoned the property of the control of the control

WHERE DAUGHTERS RULE.

A LONG-ESTABLISHED BENEVOLENT ORDER IN ST. LUKE'S NAME.

Its, Thirty-three Degrees Take in All Ages-Precedious Bertha Rose Honds the Juvenile Order-A Venerated Sister of Seventy and Seven Years-Brothers Object to the Sisters' Dominion.

The Order of the Daughters and Sons of St. Luke has existed in this country for upward of fifty years.

" It came from the Straits of Gibraltar," said a member. "It was brought by one James Wilson. It is founded on a rock and emnly. There are thirty three degrees in th order, the thirty-third and highest being that of the Druids. There are but few who have taken this de gree, and they are in Philadelphia.

They dress entirely in black and for badge wear a black rosette with a golden star in the centre. The lowest degree is the Juvenile Order of the Glittering Star.

The presiding officer is little Bertha Rose aged nine years. She is a demure little person, with a round, childish face, big, soft, dark eyes and an air of knowing a great deal that she says nothing about.

Her mother says the child was initiated a the tender age of three years. Even then the baby could keep a secret, and she arose at once to the gravity of the occasion.

The tots who compose this lodge hold their business meetings in due form, pay their dues regularly and consider various cases reported for assistance. Of course their charities are confined entirely to needy little ones.

These invenile assemblies are presided over on the children wear broad white collars and badges.

The dress regalia of the "Daughters" con The dress regalla of the Daughters consists of a black velvet shoulder cape trimmed and fringed with silver and a belt trimmed with five colors which have a mystic significance. All wear white gloves and black bonnets trimmed with purple. Various rosettes cance. All wear white gloves and black bonnets trimmed with purple. Various rosettes are pinned onto the front of the capes denoting different degrees.

About twenty years ago strife arose among the daughters and sons, and certain members were cast out from the order.

These gathered together and became known as the "Independent Daughters and Sons," while the old order is designated as "The Grand United."

while the old order is designated as "The Grand United."

Their motto is "Charity to all."

The oldest lodge in this city called is Mount Sinai Council No. 8. Then there is a Gethsemane Council, a Mount Olive Council and a Mount Pisgah Council.

The initiation fee on joining this order is $3. The monthly dues are 25 cents. There is a death tax of 40 cents, a "head tax" of 20 cents a year and members of the Grand House pay an additional 25 cents a year.

Sister Elizabeth Evans, of Philadelphia, was Supreme Grand Sister in America. At her death, two years since, Jane R. Thomas succeeded to this exalted office.

The Right Worthy Grand Officers of the Supreme Council of New York, No. 1, are:

Teaching Master, William A. Phillipps; Deputy

Teaching Master, William A. Phillipps; Deputy Grand Teaching Master, John Braddock; District Deputy, Charles Phillips; Grand Charity, Harriet Conover; Grand Secretary, Thomas R. Light-house.

Probably the most distinguished member of the order in this city is Mrs. Sarsh Miller. who is First Past Grand Charity. Mrs. Mil-ler is seventy-seven years old, and but for her white hair might be taken to be a score of years younger.

She is deservedly held in great love and reverence by members of her order, who reverence by members of her order, who esteem her as a great ornament to their society. She is still active in the councils of the Daughters and Sons', but the burden of actual work she long ago laid down.

Mrs. Miller wears a silver plate like this in the drawing. It is suspended on a purple ribbon. Instead of white gloves, she wears tan color. Otherwise her dress regalia is like that of the ether sisters.

A notworthy feature of this order is that that of the ether sisters.

A noteworthy feature of this order is that, while it admits both men and women, the reins of government are in women's hands—they are the rulers,

"We have lost many brothers on this account," said a sister provider in the second of the sec count," said a sister, regretfully. "They come into the order and want to be at the head, and when they find they can't they

PAR AND MAR ON THE TRAIN.

They Rode on the Elevated Road Success fully the First Attempt. The actions of an elderly couple-evidently from the country—in a Third avenue elevated road car this morning were the source of amusement to the other passengers.

The pair were first brought into prominent notice at Twenty-third street, where they were awaiting the train's arrival. When it stopped they found themselves midway between two car gates. After casting a rapid glance up and down the platform, the old man concluded that the further gate from him was the most desirable entrance, and shouting "This way, Mar," he made a wild rush in its direction, the tails of his duster flying in the air, a brand-new grip-sack surg-ing in his hand and "Mar" following in close pursuit.

A broad smile spread over his face as he entered the car being evidently under the

A broad smile spread over his face as he entered the car, being evidently under the impression that he had done something remarkably clever in getting aboard so quickly. The couple seated themselves in the centre of the car, "Par" depositing his valise and umbrella on the seat in front "so's to be handy when we get out," as he explained to his wife.

The ride was fraught with great pleasure to the old lady, who was continually calling the old lady, who was continually calling 'Par's" attention to objects of interest in the street. Every horse car that was passed was an apt illustration to her of the superiority of steam travel.

"Par." however, was plainly nervous, and steam travei.

"Par," however, was plainly nervous, and kept his ear strained to catch the names of the stations, which the guard shouted in the customary Volapiik. Finally he left his seat, and, planting himself beside the door, waited until the next station was reached. When the guard emitted his usual whoop "Par" seized him by the arm and inquired what the station was.

seized him by the arm and inquired what the station was.

"Fifty-third street" was the answer. Thanking him effusively, "Par" resumed his seat near the door, and as the guard called out the stations—which he did intelligibly, out of regard for the rustic couple—"Par" courteously thanked him.

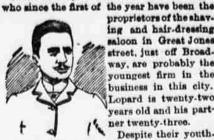

At Seventy-sixth street he bade "Mar" bring the things and sit beside him, saying:
"You know, John told us to get out at Eighty-ninth street, and I reckon we're near there now, and we want to be ready to jump right out. 'cause these cars don't wait no time at all."
"Eighty-ninth street," called the guard a time at all."

"Eighty-ninth street," called the guard a few minutes later, and before the train had arrived at the station the couple had rushed to the platform and "Par" had started to open the gate, only to be repulsed by the guard.

When they finally managed to get out, the pent-up feelings of the passengers found vent in a roar of laughter.

Use Riker's Expectorant For coughs, colds &c., 60 cents a bottle (half pint) if it curse you, nothing if it don't. Prepared only by Wat. II. RIEER & 80M. drawjusts and manufacturing chemists, 858 6th ave., near 22d st., where they have been estab-lahed forty-two years. All their preparations and on the conditions. Insist on having slightly's superior-many, and you are three at pastect battlessetted. Sold also BEST KNOWN CITY BARBERS, ALL A BILL THAT PLEASES ALL saloon in Great Jones street, just off Broadway, are probably the youngest firm in the business in this city. Lopard is twenty-two years old and his partner twenty-three. Despite their youth-NICHOLAS LOPARD. fulness, however, they shop, which is patronized by many of the best known merchants of that neighborhood, best known merchants of that neighborhood, rawks among the first-class establishments in the city. It is neat and tidy as a pin, and its furniture is handsome and of the latest pattern, so that the comfort and convenience of their customers are assured.

Nicholas Lopard and Charles F. Wagner, the Youngest Firm in New York. Nicholas Lopard and Charles F. Wagner,

Both of the young men are graduates of the tonsorial conservatory of Adamo & Mirabella, in Canal street, which fact in itself is a sufficient guarantee of their skill and proficiency in their business.

Young Lopard is a native of Naples, Italy, He came to this country in 1878. He learned re experienced in their trade, and their

He came to this country in 1878. He learned his trade at the barber-shop of the Spanish Hotel, in West Fourteenth street, where he remained for four years, and then became one of Adamo's assistants when Adamo was proprietor of the Manhattan Hotel shop, at Canal street and Breadway.

one of Adamo's assistants when Adamo was proprietor of the Manhattan Hotel shop, at Canal street and Broadway.

After two years' experience in that establishment he formed a partnership with Wagner, who was one of his fellow shavers at Adamo's, and they opened thetr place in Great Jones street.

Wagner, who is a German, was born in Baden in 1865. He came to this country when quite young and learned his trade in east-side barber shops, where he worked until he was employed by Adamo. He has been a barber for ten years, and is fully posted on all fine points in the trade.

PUBLIC SCHOOL GRADUATES.

some Industrious Pupils Who Will Pinish Their Course This Spring.

The pupils of the public schools are workng hard now for the year's final examinations and graduation. The list of probable graduates this year is fully up to the average in number and above it in educational attain-THE EVENING WORLD will take pleasure in presenting to the public between now and graduation time the names of pupils who are graduation time the names of pupils who are most likely to graduate in each school.

Seven pretty little girls, whose ages average fourteen years and six months, and twenty-four bright, active boys, whose ages average fourteen years and three months, are struggling to distinguish themselves in Grammar School No. 20 at the end of the term, when they all hope to graduate.

It is more than likely that they will all get through satisfactorily to their instructors, who speak in high terms of their present achievements. chievements.

The names of the lucky ones are : The names of the lucky ones are:

Girls—Alice Johuson, Louise Bernard, Eda
Steinach, Mary Murphy, Ella Nixon, Bertha Sleverts and Martha Austin.

Boys—Henry Baix, Henry Bamman, Fred Benzinger, Henry Blum, August Carell, Charles Diehl,
Valentine Feix, Philip Gerlach, Leon Goldreich,
Valentine Feix, Philip Gerlach, Leon Goldreich,
Julius Krause, John F. Lennon, Michael Messina,
Charles H. Miller, August Oehler, James Pincus, Henry Rime, Michael Schlansky, Arthur Spitz, John
Speaker, George Wohm and Rudolph Yauch.

The George Monard Agreeting the Gramman.

Speaker, George Wohm and Rudolph Yauch.

The female department of Grammar School No. 7, at 60 Chrystie street, will not be represented this year in the graduating exercises of that school, as they are not far enough advanced in their studies.

Ten of the boys are working like beavers to carry off the honors of their class, which is a graduating one, together with a pretty gold medal, which is offered as a prize by their teacher, Mr. J. Frank Wright.

The average age of these boys is fourteen years and nine months.

The names of the boys are:

S. Louis Block, Israel Cooperman, Benjamin

S. Louis Block, Israel Cooperman, Benjamin Freeman, Herman Goodman, Louis Israes, Myer Joffe, Louis H. Levin, Israe Levinsky, Meyer Sol-oman and Abraham D. Steinberg.

EXPERTS IN THE ALLEY. Some Notable Bowlers to Be Found in Upper

Broadway at Night. night in Broadway, near Thirtieth street. They include representatives of the law mercantile pursuits, real estate and other callings, who find in this sport relaxation from the cares of business.

One of the crack players is a General, so modest that all of his name he will allow to be used on the blackboard score is "Gen. V." He has no reason to be ashamed of his game, however, for Henry says that he has to keep moving to beat the General, and Henry, whose last name is Meliage, is the champion whose last name is Mellage, is the champion when he is in good form.

Owing to illness Henry has not played for some time, but he keeps the alleys in good shape and gives points to new players.

Now that Henry is not in the ring W. K. Griffin, the lawyer, is temporary champion. Next comes the General, and not far behind on the record are E. W. Clark, S. Uhfelder, of the Cotton Exchange, and J. M. Bolton, one of the Seventh Regiment boys.

Others who play well enough to get their names high up on the blackboard are Lawyer S. P. Lazaraus, L. H. Withey, Joe Gross, the advertising agent: Geo. W. Hamlin, Samuel Adams and Michael McGrath, the cashier.

Loap Year in Florida [From Towns Strings.] Laura - George, my love for you "-

George-Enough, Laura dear: I will always be brother to you, but "-

New York Markets.

-Life.

New York Markets.

WHEAT.—June options opened weak at 97% a.— 6 points below last night's closing quotation.
The quotation advanced allowly until just before noon wheat was quoted at 98a.

COTTON.—Fatures opened 2 points down, as follows: May, 8.89; June, 9.84; July, 9.95; Aug., 10.03; Sept., 2.64; Oct., 2.40; Nov., 2.81; Dec., 2.32; Jan., 9.40; Feb., 9.49; March, 9.55. Market steady. Liverpool dull.

COPPER.—Market opened weak, about 45 points down. May, 12.50; June, 12.66; July, 12.40; Aug., 11.79; Bept. 11c.; Oct., 10.80; Nov., 10.70; Dec., 10.76; Jan., Feb., March and April, 10.70. Hamburg Stru. Havre steady.

PETROLEUM.—Pipe Line certificates opened point above last night's closing quotation, at 85%. Subsequently the quotation advanced to 87%, but afterwards weakened to 85%. Market quiet.

Local News Condensed. John Johnson, of 42 Broadway, while cleaning a window at 49 New street this morning, fell to the pavement and broke both legs. He was taken to the Chambers Street Hospital.

An elderly man, supposed to be George S. Reiker, a jearpenter, of Milford, N. J., dropped dead this morning, presumably from heart disease, at the corner of Barclay and Weet streets. The body was removed to the Liberty street station house.

A grocer's wagon and an les wagon came in col-lision at the corner of Baxter and Bayard stream this morning. The driver of the ice wagon and the norse were thrown to the ground, and Joseph Levy prace was driving the grocer's wagon, was arrowsed by Foliceman Northrap, and at the Tombe was hald for trial on a charge of reaction driving.

THE EVENING WORLD'S " FREE LECTURE MOVEMENT HIGHLY POPULAR.

One of the Best Things that This City Mas Ever Had," Says Mr. R. E. Buttes-Pos-ple to Be In-tructed as Well as Interested - Meeting with the Approval of Democrats and Republicans Alike.

THE EVENING WORLD'S Free Lecture bill is one of the most popular things in this city, and, what is more, it is growing in popular. ity every day. Every one speaks highly of it. It but awaits the signature of Gov. Hill to become a law. Here are a few additional opinions heard in different parts of the city :

R. E. Buttes, of 1285 Third avenue, said . THE EVENING WORLD Lecture plan will be one of the best things that this city has ever had. The workmen will be instructed as well as interested, and the bill is deserving of great praise."

"It is sure to do good," said C. D. Platt, of 1577 Third avenue, "and you can put me down as being heartily in favor of it."

Thomas J. Lynch, of 1030 Third avenue, said : "There should be no objection from any person regarding the Lecture bill, as it is a matter that meets the approval of Democrats and Republicans alike. I think and hope that the bill will be signed. THE EVENING WORLD deserves great credit for its action in the matter."

Robert Fullerton, the art dealer in Third a most excellent measure in every respect. I hope it will become a law, for it would do the hope it will become a law, for it would do the people an inestimable amount of good."

Theodore Butier, artist, says: "What possible objection could there be to so excellent a measure? The Free Lecture bill and The Evenino Wonld have my warmest praise," Frederick Halley, cashier at the Morton House, said: "I often hear the guests speak favorably of the Free Lecture bill and I hear favorably of the Free Lecture bill and I hear no one oppose it."

Joseph Palmer, the actor, is heartily in favor of the Free Lecture bill. He is loud in his praise of The Eventno World.

Robert Hewitt, grocer, of Fourth avenue and Twenty-zecond street, favors the Free Lecture bill.

Miss Amelia Ditmars, who has been a teacher in a Harlem school for a number of years, said: "From what I have heard I can nonestly say that all the teachers in the city are in favor of the bill. Many of my pupils have taken a great interest in The Evening World's articles on the subject. If public opinion can carry a bill the free lectures will certainly become a permanent institution."

FUN FOR AFTER DINNER.

Canine Protection.

Bridgeley (meeting Mrs. Bergher)-Someboo eems to have hard luck with his umbrella? Mrs. Bergher—Oh, no! That's poor little Fidèle. He's so delicate, you know, this season, we have to be very careful!

[From Harper's Basar.]
"Has your son any vices Mr. Blank? Pardon

"No; Henry has none that I know of, except, perhaps, amateur photograph,"
"Woil, that's a negative sort of a vice. I never met an amateur photographer yet who took anything worth talking about, and I think I may trust your boy. Bend him along." Mutual Confidence the question, but I like to know all about the boys

(From Harper's Basar, 1
Woman (to tramp)—And if I give you a nice plate of hash, you promise to saw some wood?
Tramp—Yes'm.
Woman (doubtfully)—I don't know whether I can put confidence in you or not.
Tramp (reproacnfully)—You ought to, ma'am.
I have confidence enough in you to cat the hash.

'Beau temps means good weather." "Well, it was beau weather for some of the single one."

Why He Carried a Watch-[From Harper's Basar.] Bjones-What time have you, Cadley? Cadley-Four thirty. Bjones-Four thirty ! Why, it isn't more than 1 o'clock. What's the use of a watch like that? Cadley—Use ! Why, I always know what time It isn't when I look at that watch. That's the use

A Bad Scrape.

[From Harper's Baser,] Humorous Husband—Maria, what do you think? This morning a man looked me straight in the face and cut me.
Trusting Wife—Good gracious! Who was & ?
Humorous Husband—The barber. At the North Pole. [Frem the New Orleans Picagens.]
One good thing about the North Pole—there are no files on it.—Duluth Paragrapher. Wind files there, according to Greely. Julia's Bonnet. [From Harper's Basar.] I would try to write a sonnet To my Julia's Sunday bonnet, If my muse would aid the scheme—

> No so much for what was on it As I would for what it lacks; Though 'tis quite a dainty cover, Pretniy betrimmed all over With its milliner's knickknacks. But no song-oird's little mummy,

> Julia has a gentle mind,
> Julia's heart is true and kind,
> And I've often heard her say
> She would go without a bounes
> Rather than wear doad birds of
> In such cruel, heartless way.

If my muse would smile propitious.
To my ardent wish, ambitious,
To do justice to the theme. I would praise that little bonnet, Stiffened to a voiceless dummy, Nestles mong its filmy lace; And this lack of bird completes Lends a look of gentic sweeths. To the wearer's pretty face.

From Hotel Registers. At the Grand Hotel: P. W. Ware, Newport, and H. Goodwin, of Minneapolis.

delphia railroad man.

The Sturtevant House contains Delegate Martin Beattle, Jaz Beard, Daniel Foreman and Andrew
McLaughlin, all of Rochester,
Col. John H. Stump, of Baltimore; Charles Gold and H. W. Blythe, from England, are among the guests at the Hotel Brunswick.

New names on the Hotel Dam register are Robert Edwards, of Worcester; W. H. H. Conner, of Burlington, and J. Fox, New Haven.
Wm. H. Barnum, of Connecticul; Ward Gregory, of Ithasa, and R. M. Sibbett, of Trinidad, Col., are registered at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-day.

HE fireman had ladder and was half on the window-sill, wait ing to help the old lady down. Haif way down the ladder was an excited citizen who had climbed up without any very or of what he wanted to do. He wished to be of some help and probably thought he the stairs, expostulated with her and tried to persuade her to intrust herself to the fireman

The fireman used his eloquence, too, There was no danger in getting down the ladder. He would take good care that she suffered no harm. Come! wouldn't she let him take her o be rescued by means of the ladder.

THE PIREMAN ASTRIDE THE WINDOW SILL. It was rather a comical sight. Then there vas really no fire. Plenty of smoke, and a langerous air of things being in flames, but clouds of smoke that the burning fat sent lady, trying to prevail on her to be rescued, up, and get comfortably and safely down to window-sill, eager to take the old lady down | Programme of the Services to be Held in at her and trying to coax her to come down aid that was offered, and holding back, and pulling away from the policeman and the fire-

A CITIZEN HALF WAY UP THE LADDER.

which the smoke had drawn from them.

It was only a little indiscreet real on the part of the would-be rescuers, and really was

RAZOR-HONING A FINE ART. Few Men Who Shave Themselves Know How to Do It Properly. "You would laugh to see some of the

"You see, the average man don't know how to sharpen a razor. It is an art in itself, and unless done correctly it will spoil a blade in one round. In stropping a razor the blade must always be brought first up the strop and then down, so as to turn the razor on its blant edge.

Wronged-Probably Married Now.

Verena about the same time obtained a situation in this same house doing domestic work. In a little while William and Verena felt that each in the other had met an affinity. After that matters progressed rapidly—so rapidly, in fact, that under a promise of marriage the girl succumbed to the entreaties of the man.

In her short-sightedness Verena, too, gave Clark 550 with which to buy furniture to furnish the new house. The prospective husband bought a few things, gave Verena $1, the balance of the $50, and a little while later skipped. The girl notified the police and Detectives Price and Mott, after a long hunt, caught their man yesterday as he was draw-before Judge Gorman.

There were two cuarges, one of seduction and one of grand larceny. The latter was first beard, The trial was going along pretty well, but against Clark, when the latter's father came to the stand and said: and said:

"But he is willing to marry the girl, sir."

"But is the girl willing to marry him?" suggested the detective.

Yes, she was, she said in German.

"Take them to Alderman Hubbel's office and see them married," said the Court to Detective.

DEAR VERRMA: If you want we you can save me. Do not send me to a life of misery. Oh! Verena, bow I would like to see you, Verena. I am sick, and do not go back on me. I know you will save me. Bye, bye. SOLDIERS TO HAVE A MONUMENT.

The Soldiers' Monument will be unveiled in the

The order of march will be as follows:

The order of march will be as follows:

Thomas N. Smith, Marshal, and staff.

Presport Ocrost Sand.

Committee of march will be as follows:

D. B. P. Mot. Proc. Board as M. W. M. Grun corps.

N. S. Yord Post, No. 164, of Canards.

William J. Clark Post, No. 164, of Canards.

William J. Clark Post, No. 585, of Bay Shors.

Hempstead Fasa Band.

Jamaios Veteran Association.

G. K. Warren Post, Sons of Veterans, of Glen Cove.

Moses A. Baidwin Post bringing up the rear.

Hempstead Fire Department.

The line of march will be from Town Hall to Washington street, through Washington to Fulton, down Fulton to Main, down Main to Front, up

Front to Franklin, turough Franklin to Fulten, across Fulton to Main, down Main to Front, seroes

Front to Greenwich and from Greenwich to the cemetery, which is located about one mile south of the village. The command will form three sides for a hollow square with the monument as a centre.

The unveiling will take place at 2.30 o'clock.

Gen. Henry W. Slooum, of Brooklyn, will deliver the oration. Short addresses will be delivered by

Gen. Henry W. Slooum, of Brooklyn, will deliver the oration. Short addresses will be delivered by

Gen. Henry W. Slooum, of Brooklyn, will deliver the oration. Short addresses will be delivered by

Gen. Henry W. Slooum, of Brooklyn, will deliver the oration. Short addresses will be delivered by

Gen. Henry W. Slooum, of Brooklyn, will deliver

The New York Workingmen's Literary Associa-tion will soon publish a book of poems and songs, including those dedicated to labor.

The men in the Knickerbooker stables have struck against a failure of the concern to pay their wages regularly, and other men have been en-gaged in their places. gaged in their places.

The big Miscellaneons Section meets to-night at 145 Eighth street, when the proposed recognition of cards between the Knights and the union men
may come up for discussion.