POINTERS ON THE RACES.

Many High-Class Horses Entered in To-Day's Races.

Balance and Hoy seem to have Found Soft Spots.

There are many high-class horses entered in the races at Guttenberg today, but it is the presence of these cracks that practically destroys all interest in the events for which they are cared to start.

She has nothing to boast but Helen, and she is a really good filly only concede seven pounds to a third-rater. Hoy, in the fifth race, also looks to have a walker, notwithstanding Gold Dollar, Bel Demonic and Tom Karl are pitted against him.

Mounted Police to Give an Exhibition in the Ring To-Night.

The horse show at Madison Square Garden is the great attraction of the hour, and with the return of the weather in drawing greater crowds than ever. Last evening the attendance was larger than at any time since the show opened, and the vast promenade around the race-track arena was so choked up with visitors that the occupants of the boxes and the balcony seats seldom had the courage to venture into the crush below.

Table with race results including names like 'The Jockey', 'The Queen', 'The Hero', etc., and their respective positions.

It is really fashionable society which is on exhibition at the horse show and not the thoroughbreds in the ring, and there is no pretense about it whatever. Nine-tenths of the crowd go to look at Col. Ward McAllister's Four Hundred, and the latter submit to the inspection with very good grace.

There was a goodly number on hand to see the horses go through their morning exercise, which takes up the hour from 9 to 10.

The most interesting performance yet given at the horse show was the exhibition of high-class horses, trained to execute a variety of fancy steps, which was given last evening.

The feature of the evening will be the parade of the prize winners, an exhibition by the mounted police, and a performance of the qualified hunters.

MR. CLEVELAND SAID 'DAMN.' DEFILES THE COURTS.

His Reported Emphatic Defeat to Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan.

The President-Elect Refused to Give Pledges that Were Asked of Him.

If Mr. Thomas G. Sheehan has quoted President-elect Cleveland correctly another "damn" will be incorporated in history because of a famous one uttered by Gov. Flower.

Mr. Sheehan says that Mr. Cleveland said "damn" twice, and he repeats what he says is Mr. Cleveland's exact language.

He vows for its authenticity, and what makes it all the more interesting is that these emphatic expressions are said to have been addressed to Lieut.-Gov. William F. Sheehan in the presence of other equally distinguished Democrats, W. C. Whittier, Richard Croker, Edward Murphy, Jr., and Don M. Dickinson.

The occasion, according to Mr. Sheehan, was the famous dinner at the Victoria Hotel, and it was at a dinner of the Single Tax Club last night that Mr. Sheehan related to the guests of the Club, among whom were several members of the press, the story of the late campaign.

HE SAYS ALDERMAN ROGERS GAVE HIM A BAD PAIN IN THE NECK.

'Big' John Morris Says He 'Didn't See No Blow Struck.'

'Did Alderman Rogers Strike McCloskey?' McCloskey says he did, but there seems to be some doubt about it in the minds of Fifteenth Assembly District politicians.

The Alderman says he didn't, and so say several men who were in Nelson's saloon last Friday night.

McCloskey says it was this way: I had been in the lodge and dropped into Samuel Nelson's saloon, at Thirty-third street and Eighth avenue. After I had been there fifteen minutes or so, in comes the Alderman and one or two friends.

J. T. HYDE, SECRETARY OF THE ASSOCIATION. Lovers of the horseflesh found plenty last evening to call forth their admiration—that is, those who could get near enough to the inclosure to see what was going on within, but the great majority of the standing crowd turned their backs upon the ring and devoted their attention to examining the boxes and making mental as well as audible observations regarding their occupants.

It is really fashionable society which is on exhibition at the horse show and not the thoroughbreds in the ring, and there is no pretense about it whatever.

AFTER PATTERSON'S SCALP. Republicans Will Radically Reorganize Their County Committee.

The local Republican machine is going to be reorganized, which, it is predicted, means the turning down of ex-Police Justice Jacob M. Patterson, Chairman of the County Campaign Committee, and the other leaders who are held responsible for the landslide of Nov. 3, which went the other way, to quote State Chairman Brookfield.

A meeting of the Republican County Committee will be held this evening, when a call will be issued for primaries, to be held on the second Tuesday in December, for the purpose of choosing six district leaders for the unorganized new districts. The result will decide Patterson's fate.
