

MODEST MIKE, WHO RESCUED THREE, WON'T BE A HERO

Isn't Looking for Medals, He Says, but Would Like to Get a Job.

NEVER TOLD MOTHER

"You're a Good Boy, Mike!"
Mrs. Boland Exclaims When She Hears the Story.

Although Mike Boland has saved three children from drowning in the last week he is as modest a hero as ever came out of Yorkville, for he didn't even tell his mother about eleven-year-old George Herb, the last one he plucked from a briny death in the East River, but went home like any other boy who has had a hard afternoon's game of ball, into a big supper and went to bed as if nothing out of the usual had happened.

"Why, you'll be all covered with as many medals as Sousa," said an Evening World reporter to Mike today at the young man's home, No. 137 Second avenue.

"I don't want any medals," said Mike. "No Sousa make-up for mine—I want a job; been out of work three weeks and so has my brother Jim and we need the money."

Young Boland is a lanky chap, with cool shoulders, a pleasing expression in his blue eyes and is nineteen years old. He lives with his mother and father and lately has been putting in his mornings looking for work and his afternoons playing baseball near the foot of East Fifty-second street and the river. He has been an expert swimmer almost since he learned to walk, and he and his brother Jim in the summertime often give impromptu exhibitions of the pier of the East River.

Never Told His Mother.

"Is Mike here?" the reporter asked Mrs. Boland, who answered his ring. "What's he been doing?" she asked, with a touch of uneasiness in her voice.

"Oh, nothing much—just saved another kid from drowning."

"Oh, wirra, wirra, he's getting to be a terrible boy," said the mother, although she smiled proudly when she said it and it was plain to see that she used the "terrible" with a reserve English, so to speak.

"Something'll be sure to happen to that boy. He'll be drowned yet," Mike—Mike—Mike, she called, "and did ye save another one an' never tell your mother about it?"

Mike came down stairs with his hair all tousled, having just got out of bed and looking very sheepish.

"Shucks," he said. "Wasn't anything much. We were playing ball and one of the fellows who can't swim hollers out that there's a kid fell into the river. They were cutting up on the pier and one of them named Freddie shoves this little George Herb off. It wasn't any trouble getting him out."

"An' you jumped in and got him and slipped in here last night with your wet clothes on?" never said a word to me," scolded Mrs. Boland. "What did I tell you? You'll take your death o' cold and get pneumonia."

"On, never mind that," said Mike, "we went into a lot and I took my clothes off and some of the fellows made a bonfire and we dried 'em out. That's all there is to it."

Other Rescues by Mike.

On Monday young Boland saved Edward Gilmartin, sixteen years old, from drowning at the same place. Gilmartin, who is a heavy boy, fell off the string-piece and when Mike jumped in and grabbed him there was a great struggle before the rescue was effected. Thursday Boland saved Mary McDonald, seven years old, also at the foot of East Fifty-second street.

Yes, said Mike to the reporter, "me and Jim and my brother Willie, who was young me, used to go 'round the docks when we were kids, and one day Willie fell off a string-piece. He was only seven years old and I was nine and Jim eleven, and we didn't know how to swim very well, so Jim and me couldn't save him. That's one reason why I'll jump in after a little kid I see drowning."

"That ye will," said the mother, wiping a tear and patting her tall boy's shoulder. "Ye're a good boy, Mike."

NOT TO MODIFY INJUNCTIONS.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Republican caucus last night voted against the passing at this session of Congress of a bill to modify the power of Federal courts in the exercise of injunctions.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

19-YEAR-OLD BOY WHO HAS SAVED LIVES THIS WEEK

MICHAEL BOLAND.

TWO-YEAR-OLD HAS LION CUBS FOR PETS

She Is J. D. Archbold's Granddaughter and Her Father and Mother Caught Them.

Just what John D. Archbold, the Standard Oil magnate, thought when his daughter, Mrs. Arman D. Archbold, and her husband, and their two-year-old daughter Lydia, came aboard his steam yacht, Vixen from the Lusiana this afternoon at the Cunard line pier, the public has no business to know. But that he emitted some ejaculations of surprise is to be inferred from the fact that the chubby Miss Lydia carried under her arms two lion cubs the size of Newfoundland pups.

The cubs were captured by Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson while hunting in South Africa a few weeks ago. They are pets of the little girl and play with her like kittens. The sight of the child and the cubs romping around the deck was one that entertained the passengers on the Lusitania throughout the voyage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson being with them trophies of success in hunting big game in the African jungles. Mrs. Sanderson and her husband, who are both well known in the world of sports, have a big collection of skins, furs, and other trophies of their African adventures.

They were cutting up on the pier and one of them named Freddie shoves this little George Herb off. It wasn't any trouble getting him out."

"An' you jumped in and got him and slipped in here last night with your wet clothes on?" never said a word to me," scolded Mrs. Boland. "What did I tell you? You'll take your death o' cold and get pneumonia."

"On, never mind that," said Mike, "we went into a lot and I took my clothes off and some of the fellows made a bonfire and we dried 'em out. That's all there is to it."

Other Rescues by Mike.

On Monday young Boland saved Edward Gilmartin, sixteen years old, from drowning at the same place. Gilmartin, who is a heavy boy, fell off the string-piece and when Mike jumped in and grabbed him there was a great struggle before the rescue was effected. Thursday Boland saved Mary McDonald, seven years old, also at the foot of East Fifty-second street.

Yes, said Mike to the reporter, "me and Jim and my brother Willie, who was young me, used to go 'round the docks when we were kids, and one day Willie fell off a string-piece. He was only seven years old and I was nine and Jim eleven, and we didn't know how to swim very well, so Jim and me couldn't save him. That's one reason why I'll jump in after a little kid I see drowning."

"That ye will," said the mother, wiping a tear and patting her tall boy's shoulder. "Ye're a good boy, Mike."

NOT TO MODIFY INJUNCTIONS.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill requiring publicity for campaign contributions was passed by the House today by a vote of 191 to 127, with the "yea" aye amendment added.

The amendment would have the effect of reducing Congressional representation in the Southern States. It is believed the bill will not pass the Senate.

BROADWAY NEVER AGAIN FOR HIM, GULICK SWEARS

"Angel-Faced Boy Soprano"
Abjures White Lights
After Night in Cell.

Earl Gulick, whose title of "The Angel-Faced Boy Soprano" has been changed in late years to "The Angel-Faced Broadway Boy," lifted his right hand in the West Side Court today and swore to abjure the Great White Way, to cut out forever and ever the path that is not the straight and narrow but that "leadeth to destruction," as Magistrate Cornell described it.

Earl Gulick is nineteen years old, and not many years ago he was the idol of vaudeville audiences. He first sang in church choirs and was a soloist at the funeral of President McKinley. Then he became a professional singer, and wearing a white surplice and on a stage set to represent the interior of a church, with a shaft of light falling on his boyish face, would lift his high young voice and sing "The Holy City" so beautifully that it was no wonder he was dubbed the "angel-faced."

Lured by White Lights.

But as years passed his voice changed to a baritone, the white surplice was discarded and Earl Gulick began to see life under the lights of the big road. He practically gave up concert work and became a teacher of vocal music with a good deal of success.

Alexander H. Dunlap, a Southerner, made the complaint that lodged Gulick in a cell. He said that he was with Gulick and two men the singer introduced Tuesday night, that they were drinking in a place at Forty-first street and Seventh avenue and that in a mix-up he was robbed of $50. The boy was arrested last night.

Gulick showed the dispiriting effects of his night in a cell and the humiliation in Police Headquarters, but he was well dressed, very much on the col-lega boy order, when he appeared in court.

Dunlap, who still showed the effects of his celebration, said he really had nothing against Gulick. He admitted that the boy had lent him a dollar, but was under the impression that the singer and his friends were trying to "trim" him. He is a publisher, who goes about writing the history of different States and putting out a lot of agents to sell the books. When he lands a deal he comes to New York to distribute his profits, and he said he had found Broadway a great help in this direction.

Gulick, ever now and then wiping the tears from his eyes, told his story in up-to-date Broadway slang. He told how they had started drinking in the Hotel Cadillac, from there had drifted to Joe's, at Forty-first street, and Seventh avenue, where they got to sky-larking and Dunlap complained that he had lost his money. He said that yesterday, when he heard Dunlap had made a complaint against him, he gave himself up.

"You are honorably discharged," said the Magistrate, "but I want to say that it is a terrible thing to see a young man of your reputation and attainments here under such a suspicion. The Great White Way will lead you to destruction, as it has led many others. If you don't quit it,"

"So help me God," he said, raising his right hand, "I'll quit with Broadway. I see it all now. I was staggered by the lights and the fun and I fell for it like a book."

Magistrate Cornell was surprised when he learned that Gulick had been "mugged."

"You are no criminal and the police have no right to photograph you," he said. In the eyes of the police of other cities our Rogues' gallery is a farce."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 22.—Charged with having three wives living, William Deane Wilde, aged twenty-four years, a former resident of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a former chief operator of the Sunrise Telephone Company, was arraigned yesterday and held for examination.

On July 16, 1905, Wilde married Ruth Jacques Gulick, of Brooklyn. Two children were born. On May 1 of last year, it is alleged, he married Lella Warren in South Pasadena. A record of this marriage is at the County House. A child was born Dec. 25, 1907. It is said that a marriage ceremony with Miss Gulick took place at the County House Feb. 21 of this year at San Diego.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

STEAMER AFIRE AND DESERTED SEEN BY LINER

Apache Sighted the Freighter
George Weems Off North Carolina Coast.

The Clyde liner Apache, arriving today from Jacksonville, brought news of the burning of the mail freight steamer George Weems, of Baltimore, off the North Carolina coast.

On May 20 the Apache sighted a dense smoke eight miles off Frying Pan Shoals Lightship, below Wilmington. The liner changed her course and going closer found a blazing hulk lying low in the water. She circled the flaming derelict several times, but there was no sign of life. Apparently the wreck had been abandoned several days, for the fire had eaten into the hull almost to the water's edge.

The crew of the Apache presumed that those on the freighter had escaped in the small boats to some passing vessel, since the sea is full of coastwise vessels at that point, or had rowed ashore.

The Weems at last accounts was on her way from Charleston and Georgetown, S. C., to Baltimore, with a mixed cargo.

According to the maritime register, she was built in 1874, was 148 feet long and 26 feet in the beam, with a 12-foot hold. Her tonnage was 4,200. The name of her master was given as Capt. G. S. Blake; she was entitled to carry a crew of ten. She was owned in Baltimore and used mostly in the coast trade.

ACCUSED OF DOUBLE MURDER.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 22.—Ira Oakley has been arrested in Clarksville, Va., and brought here, charged with the murder of Mrs. J. D. Woodward and her young son and the burning of their house at Piquay Springs to conceal the crime on Feb. 1 last.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today rejected the conference report on the East on the Appropriation bill, 147 to 135. This means the defeat of ship subsidy.