

WALTHOUR SIGNS
FOR SIX-DAY RACEHARD WEEK FOR CHAMPIONS,
WITH WOLGAST AND ATTELL
AMONG THE "ALSO RANS"

Billy Nolan, Ritchie's Manager, Felt Sure His Boy Would Win Championship, as Evidenced by Letter Just Received—Ex-Featherweight Champion Quits to Novice.

THIS has been a hard week for champions and ex-champions. The most important event, of course, was the defeat of Ad Wolgast by Willie Ritchie of California, the making of a new champion in the high weight class and the passing of the tough little fighter from Cadillac, first conqueror of Battling Nelson.

Ever since Ritchie met Wolgast in that famous four-round bout in Oakland I have had a suspicion that William would be the next title holder. The accounts of that short battle and the many photographs of its various phases showed Wolgast, champion, beaten to the punch by Novice Ritchie. The fighter who can land the punches will win in a long battle. So it was this time. Ritchie outlasted the lightweight champion from the start. He held the direction of the battle in his own hand. At the start he hammered Wolgast well. Then he took a little resting space for a few rounds and let Wolgast wear himself out. When he felt the power again and went in for a knockout. The result was just what Ritchie and his manager, Billy Nolan, had expected. Ritchie had the advantage in speed and hitting power. He landed heavy blows that made the Cadillac "bear-cat" wobble. Then he knocked Wolgast down and nearly out.

When Wolgast was up again Ad's usual inclination to foul when he is getting the worst of it cropped to the surface. Rather than take his medicine like a man and a champion he deliberately fouled. Warned by the referee, he fouled again, and was disqualified. Ritchie was champion of the world.

It would be hard to find a better champion than this quiet, smiling, clean-cut boy from the sunny West. He'll make many friends wherever he goes. Quite a contrast he'll be to the early, black-browed Wolgast. Wolgast showed his lack of championship class when he refused to give Battling Nelson a return match. Nelson had always made it a rule to give his victims "satisfaction" if they wanted it. Even the great Joe Gans, cleverest and hardest hitting of all the lightweights, was immediately given another chance when he asked Wolgast to fight him. It will be amusing now to see Wolgast, forgetting how he treated Nelson, pleading for a return match with Ritchie, and demanding it as his "right."

Or will he want to fight Ritchie again? Possibly not.

An interesting thing connected with this battle is a letter I received from Billy Nolan last night, when the championship changed hands. What ever else may be said about Nolan, he leaves a "live one" here are a few lines from his note:

San Francisco, Nov. 28. "I'll see Willie Ritchie will meet Wolgast for the championship at Daly City Arena, seven miles from the heart of San Francisco. I met Ritchie for the first time in Los Angeles last July. We got together and viewed the Wolgast-Ritchie battle with critical eyes. During the time between rounds Ritchie gave me his ideas on fighting. Shortly afterward we closed a business agreement, with the distinct understanding that Ritchie's first opponent should be Wolgast. We refused offers from every city in the country where boxing thrived. California promoters were not on our team with many worthy opponents. I was severely criticized for evading time matches.

"However, the championship was our one best bet, and we waited. Curious, Ritchie has had about fifty fights in and punted to Keyes on the army 40-yard line. Keyes tried to run back but was tackled so hard that he dropped the ball. Marlow recovered it. NAVY FIGHTS ITS WAY BACK TO MIDFIELD.

ARMY AND NAVY IN GRIDIRON BATTLE

After trying the line once, Hobbs punted and the ball sailed clear over the Navy goal line. It was quickly brought back to the 20-yard line. On the first play Purnell was off side and the Army received a five-yard penalty. McLeavy broke through for nine yards. McLeavy was sent in again and went to the Navy 40-yard line before Hobbs could bring him down. On a fake kick Harrison eluded around his right end for a night gain. McLeavy was again sent into the line and very promptly failed with no gain. McLeavy kicked to Keyes, who brought the ball back twelve yards to the Army's 30-yard line. Pritchard gained a couple of yards and Benedict broke through for two yards. Benedict punted to Rodes on the Navy 15-yard line.

The Navy began to hammer its way slowly back towards the center of the field. But that progress was hardly fast enough. Harrison kicked to Keyes, the ball sailed over Keyes's head and barely grazed his hand, but he recovered it. Hobbs punted back to Rodes, who was roughly thrown by Wayne. The first quarter ended with the ball just where it had started on the Navy's 40-yard line.

SECOND PERIOD.

Rodes gained seven yards and was tackled by Keyes. Leonard was thrown for a loss. The Navy-kick was blocked by Marlow. The ball rolled back to the Navy goal. Marlow snapped it up and started for the Navy goal line. He had a clear field and two yards of open ground behind him when Rodes caught him, leaping through the air, caught him about the knees and pulled him down.

Ten yards in front of the goal the Army fumbled and Navy recovered the ball. In a few seconds it was kicked safely out to midfield. After one or two plays Hobbs punted back again. Leonard punted to the Navy 15-yard line. Hobbs tumbled but recovered. Benedict was sent through guard and tackle for a small gain. Hobbs punted to the Navy 15-yard line.

LEONARD PUNTED 55 YARDS TO PRITCHARD.

Ralston came back into the game, replacing Rodmond. Keyes punted down to Rodes on the Navy's 30-yard line. Leonard punted to Pritchard, who was instantly thrown by Gilchrist. Two attempts by Keyes gained only a couple of yards. Pritchard punted to Rodes, who was downed in midfield. Lampier took Keyes's place. Pritchard kicked to Keyes, who was downed in the Navy's 15-yard line. Leonard punted to Pritchard, who was downed in the Navy's 15-yard line. Leonard punted to Pritchard, who was downed in the Navy's 15-yard line.

FOURTH PERIOD.

The last quarter started with the ball on the Army's 30-yard line with the wind in the Army's favor. Hobbs was in again for Milburne. The Navy began amassing through the line. After three yards' gain Howe was hurt and time was taken out for him to recover. Thirty yards in front of the Army goal Brown tried a kick from placement, the ball went low and rolled around in the end zone. The Army began battering the Navy line. After an eight-yard gain, a 15-yard penalty put the ball back only 35 yards in front of the Army goal post.

Hobbs, standing under the goal post, kicked out very prettily to Rodes on the Army 40-yard line. Larkin was hurt and it took a couple of minutes to get him on his feet again. Vaughn took Howe's place. Leonard started on a long run and gained a couple of yards. Somewhere in the mixup Rodes was hurt. Doubled up into a knot he writhed around in the end for a minute. It looked as if he would have to be taken out of the game, but he got up and staggered into his place in the line. The Army was penalized fifteen yards for rough tackling.

Brown made a long fifteen-yard run around the Army left end, bringing the ball down close to the Army ten-yard line. The Army rosters in the end stand were yelling Fight, Fight. McLeavy went into the line slowly and was downed. Rodes was thrown for a yard loss after circling around in front of the Army goal post. The ball was seven yards away. And about ten feet to the right. Brown dropped back for a kick from placement. The ball was snapped and instantly the Army line surged forward in a great surge and surged through. Gilchrist touched the
