

NOTRE DAME LEADING COLLEGE ELEVEN AT FORWARD PASSING

COACH ROCKE RESPONSIBLE FOR GREAT RECORD OF TEAM

Westerners Always Thrill Spectators Many Times During the Course of Battle by Spectacular Air Passes—Team Has Lost Only One Game in Three Years.

By William Abbott.

The Notre Dame-Rutgers game should add to the list of victories the West has scored over the East this season. After what's happened in the sectional series to date, old time football players are not so sure this section has the best coaching or the greater number of stars.

Take the case of Notre Dame. It mapped up the Army in such an effective way that the Cadets were made to look like so many novices. Yet it was only a short time ago that Yale, ranked as one of the leading teams in this part of the land, had a tough time winning from the team. On the basis of that comparison the Bulldog isn't such a vicious animal or else Notre Dame is a whale of a team.

Against the soldiers the invaders from South Bend showed a wonderful forward passing system. There was no hit or miss tossing. The thrower knew just what he wanted to do and the receiver was not only on the designated spot, but was also protected by strong interference. For three periods the Westerners threw their passes to far utter bewilderment of the Cadets. In the last period they turned on a powerful, shifting, running attack and again the Army was left at a loss.

Rutgers can be depended upon to offer staunch resistance to line plays. Teams coached by George Foster Sanford are noted for strong defensive work, but the Jerseymen will have to get fishing nets to cope with the aerial game of Notre Dame.

Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, is responsible for the remarkable advancement of the South Bend college on the gridiron. In three years the team lost only one game. Rockne is the type of coach that attends to everything, even down to leading the trunks. His chief concern has been the curbing of over-confidence on the part of the younger players.

Rockne tells a story of when Notre Dame went down to Texas for a game. The South Bend squad, with its accustomed indifference to the thought of losing, engaged in a heated contest of bridge in the field house the morning of the game. Forty minutes before the referee was to blow his whistle Rockne went into the locker room to make the discovery that no one had dressed for the game, so engrossed were all hands on the bridge game. The coach gave a few sharp orders.

One of the stars happened to remember a football game was on and he casually passed the word along to the bunch. The Notre Dame squad scrambled out to the field, won a decisive victory and then returned to the bridge game as though nothing had happened.

When Rockne's contract expired recently ten colleges throughout the country sought his services, but Notre Dame signed him for a long term.

Don Lourie ran out of bounds so frequently in the game with Harvard that the Crimson coaches began to wonder what was up. The Princeton quarterback was simply following Bill Roper's instructions to run out whenever cornered and save himself from being tackled. It was Lourie's first real game of the season, and he was told not to take unnecessary chances.

Even while battling with Harvard the Tiger didn't forget there's big business on with the Bulldog in the Bowl this Saturday.

Harvard makes its forward pass better than any team the writer ever saw. The Crimson used three formations from which quarterback Huell generally threw to Fitts.

There wasn't any fluke about Nebraska's 19 to 6 victory over Pittsburgh. It is the ambition of every coach to beat "Pop" Warner. Fred Dawson, former Columbia coach, turned the trick so effectively that the veteran Pittsburgh coach came over and congratulated him.

Nebraska is a big team and one well grounded in modern football. Since the start of the season Dawson lost fifteen pounds getting the corn huskers in shape.

Penn State fooled Harvard time and again with feint plays and delayed passes. It will be interesting to see how this style of battle works against the Navy Saturday. Only one first down has been scored inside the Middy tackles this season. Bucknell made it last week.

None can deny the Giants' finishing power. They finished the Yanks with neatness and dispatch.

Harvard has 40 in its football squad. You can't tell the players even with a scorecard.

The thing the big teams fear most about the small colleges is that they won't attract a very large gate.

Cornell's Heavy Scoring Eleven Is Sensation of Present Season

Ithacans in Six Games Have Scored 337 Points to 21 for Opponents.

By Robert Boyd.

Rolling up 337 points in six games, Cornell has proved the sensation of the 1921 football world. The eleven from the shores of Lake Cayuga have been termed "The Red Juggernaut." Doleful G.D. Doble's steam roller, &c.

Against the Ithacans in these six games their adversaries have only been able to score 21 points.

These scoring figures and the over-enthusiastic reports that emanated from Ithaca and have been thrown broadcast throughout the East would leave the impression that the Peasimistic Doble has a super-eleven. But this is not the case. After observing Cornell in their defeat of Columbia at the Polo Grounds, it is not the impressive strength of the Ithacans as much as the perceptible weakness of their opponents.

Columbia presented a sorrowful football squad to do battle with Doble's smooth working Cornell machine. Their defensive strength was exceedingly weak, their attack a nervous attempt to advance the ball, together with poor generalship, and the selection of plays far from what is expected in the strategy of the gridiron.

Against this weak opposition what eleven would not run wild and roll up 41 points?

Outside of the weakness displayed by the Blue and White squad both on the defense and offense, the Ithacans displayed nothing but a straight, relentless old-fashioned offense, with smashing off-tackle plays, powerful lunges past center and wide skirting of the ends with faultless three-man interference.

With this crafty Doble offense the attack is built up around the speedy Eddie Kaw, with able assistants in Hann and Ramsey.

Just what this eleven that has been the talk of the present football season could do against one of the stronger colleges is a matter of conjecture. Their entire season has been confined to playing six of the weakest football teams in the country.

St. Bonaventure, whom they defeated 41 to 0; Rochester, 35 to 0; Western Reserve, 110 to 0; Colgate, 21 to 7; Dartmouth, 19 to 7; and Columbia, 41 to 7, are all lacking in class, in line.

Dartmouth is about the strongest team that the Ithacans have met, and the Harvard eleven has suffered from some strange, theoretical coaching from which they are far from a formidable aggregation.

In the last quarter of the Columbia-Cornell game the Ithacans seemed to tire from their scoring efforts in the

Gridiron Punts and Passes

First Monday Scrimmage Of Season for Tigers.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 8.—Contrary to expectations, University Field was the scene of considerable activity yesterday. In addition to a signal drill for the majority of the players who defeated Harvard on Saturday, Bill Tupper, upsetting precedent, ordered the first Monday scrimmage of the season.

The combats were the second variety and Net Pev's famed Omelette. Evidently the players inspired by Saturday's struggle, as the play was fiercer than is usual between members of the Orange and Black squad.

The score at the close of the scrimmage found the second team in the lead by a large margin, the score being 14 to 7. The scrub, after getting the Scrimmaging for Yale Team To-Day and To-Morrow.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 8.—The regular varsity backs enjoyed a rest from scrimmaging yesterday afternoon, although the men were all in the signal drill. But the regular line, with a substitute backfield, had a short scrimmage with the scrub eleven. "Shark" Blair and Mike Eddy, the two injured backs, were at the field in their football logs, but it is unlikely that either will be able to play against Princeton on Saturday.

Alinto, who was slightly injured last week, was out in his uniform, and both he and Quicker went through drills. The coaches plan scrimmaging for to-day and to-morrow, daily signal drills for Friday and Saturday and dummy scrimmaging possibly on the former date.

West May Not Play Against Pittsburgh.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 8.—Washington and Jefferson started its annual drive in preparation for its sectional championship battle with Pittsburgh on Saturday yesterday, with Charles West, the sensational negro backfield star, missing from the workout.

West, who has featured numerous games for the Presidents this season, in the Westminster skirmish that forced him to subside to retirement with a bad cold, if he does enter the Pitt engagement he will have to do so without further practice this week.

Harvard Coaches Hold Long Meeting.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 8.—There was no football practice for Harvard varsity regulars and substitutes yesterday, as the men who were battered in the Princeton game going to the doctors' quarters in the locker building. The coaches also had a day off, but last evening had a long meeting, the first of the many which will be held for the Yale game a week from Saturday.

Drs. Nichols and Richards are much pleased about the players physically after the battle in Princeton. Five men only are showing effects of the Princeton game. Harvard's light center, Charles E. Eddy, has a bad cold, but it is said that both of these players could get back to work to-morrow if needed. Tierney has a bad foot. C. L. Lorne's leg is swollen and Crocker hurt his ankle.

The last three players will do the heaviest possible work for the next ten days and will not play against Brown this week. Harvard usually uses all the substitutes it can against Brown.

Light Workout for Columbia Players.

The Columbia squad was given a light workout yesterday after the grilling game with Cornell on Saturday. Although the score of the big Red invasion was one-sided, Buck O'Neill was sufficiently satisfied with the showing of the team in the second half to excuse the disastrous beginning. The Blue and White ends were comparatively new and it was their inexperience which paved the way for Kaw's big gains around the wing positions.

Cornell Eleven to Have an Easy Week.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The Cornell squad opened practice last evening for the Springfield game, last on the home schedule, G.D. Doble announcing that the Ithacans would take no chances of underestimating the training school eleven. He proposes to bring the regular varsity team into condition for the game.

Army Now Points to Battle With Navy.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 8.—There was little comfort to be had in the result of the Notre Dame game Saturday. That is, there was but little comfort for the Army supporters. However, no excuses are being made for the Cadets' poor showing and the coaches will continue their drive from now on with the Navy battle first in mind.

The squad came through the Hoosier game in fair condition. Yesterday the men rested except for a skull practice in the gymnasium. There the mentor went over the details of the play last Saturday and its mistakes. The punch must be developed somewhere and all efforts will be bent in that direction.

ZBYSZKO BEATS CADDOCK IN TWO STRAIGHT FALLS

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 8.—Stanislau Zbyszko, Poland, retained his world's heavyweight wrestling title in a finish match with Earl Caddock of Walnut, Ia., here last night. Zbyszko won in straight falls, the first coming after one hour and twenty minutes of wrestling when he crossed to his feet with Caddock on his back and then fell backward, partially stunning Caddock and pinning him securely to the mat. The second fall came in twenty-four minutes and eleven seconds, and was accomplished with a cross body hold and wrist lock. Zbyszko weighed 235 pounds, Caddock 185.

Battling Leonard Is Victor.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—Battling Leonard, formerly of Philadelphia, defeated Billy Devine of this city in one of the best slugging bouts seen in the Quaker City before a capacity crowd at the Olympia A. A. here last night. Although outweighted by Devine, Leonard had the better of five of the six rounds. They were rematched for Thanksgiving afternoon.

Although he dropped Benny Coster for the count of nine in the first round, the judges gave the decision against Billy Levine, the hard-hitting Coney Island bantam, at Freeport last night.

BR! R! R! DARTMOUTH PRACTICES IN SNOWSTORM

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 8.—

Even five inches of snow failed to put a stop to the Dartmouth football eleven's strenuous preparations for the Penn game which is to be played at the Polo Grounds Saturday. The coaching staff put the team through harder practice yesterday in spite of the steady snowfall, than at any time since the work of rebuilding the squad after the Cornell defeat began. A long, hard scrimmage constituted the greater part of the afternoon's practice.
