

SMITH VICTORY GAINS WITH LATEST FIGURES; MAY RULE LEGISLATURE

the Democrats won every office, and in Manhattan the only Republican who are definitely known to have moved into the Legislature are Assemblyman George N. Jesse, in the 23d (Washington Heights) District, Victor R. Kaufman in the 5th, David W. Kemper in the 9th, and Joseph Steinberg in the 15th ("Silkstocking") District. There existed last night a slight chance for Assemblyman S. J. Ullman in the 6th District, where Republican County Chairman Koenig is leader.

When Smith takes hold at Albany Jan. 1 next he will have divided legislative Houses on his hands. His own party will control the Senate having elected twenty-six of the fifty-one members, exactly enough to wrest it from the hands of the Republicans.

In the Assembly, however, there will be eighty-two Republicans and sixty-eight Democrats. The present Senate contains thirty-nine Republicans and eleven Democrats and the Assembly 102 Republicans and forty-two Democrats. Consequently the Smith tidal wave has reduced Republican majority on joint ballot from 51 to 13.

SMITH MAY CONTROL THE LOWER HOUSE.

To all intents and purposes, despite the fact that the Republicans have six votes more than the number necessary to organize the Lower House, Governor-elect Smith undoubtedly will be virtual monarch of all he surveys from Capitol Hill. There are Republicans in sufficient numbers from up-State cities sympathetic with many of Mr. Smith's proposed legislative reforms. They can be counted upon to join with the Democrats when occasion demands. Seven Republican recalcitrants are all the Democrats require.

Another thing: The handful of Republican Assemblymen from New York City virtually form a bloc that will hold the balance of power in the Lower House. The strongest among them is Assemblyman Jesse of Manhattan, counted one of the ablest men in the Legislature.

Intolerant of party domination, Jesse fought most of the Miller legislative program during the last two years at Albany. He led the battle against Mr. Miller's traction reorganization bill in 1921. Jesse may become even more powerful than speaker Machold at Albany next winter.

OPPORTUNITY TO REORGANIZE DEPARTMENTS.

Control of the Senate will enable Smith to clear out the Republican politicians he has declared Mr. Miller put in as heads of important departments and bureaus. With twenty-six votes there Mr. Smith is assured that all his appointees will be promptly confirmed.

Smith is expected to strike the Lusk bills from the statute books, put through a bill exempting incomes of $5,000 or less from the personal income tax, reorganize the Labor Department and stop direct compensation settlements with injured workmen, and smash the Miller program for private development and distribution of hydro-electric current. The platform pledges him to these acts.

Exactly from what angle Smith will attack Mr. Miller's New York City Transit Commission is not known. He does propose at all hazards to give to City Administration representation on it.

None of the Public Service Commissioners can be removed by the Governor. A two-thirds vote of the Legislature is required to elect them and only after a trial which in reality would be an impeachment proceeding. Smith's advisers feel confident it will be a comparatively easy thing to win enough Republican Assemblymen from up-State city districts, where the Miller commission is unpopular, to unseat all the Miller commissioners and enable the new Governor to name his own selections.

EXPECTED TO PULL WITH CITY HALL.

Smith declared during the campaign for city representation and the voice in the affairs of the New York Port Authority. How this can be accomplished remains to be seen. The status of the present commissioners is believed to be solidly fixed in the treaty negotiated between the States of New York and New Jersey. Perhaps the biggest task Smith has set for himself is the re-establishment of the direct primary. This he will tackle, it is understood, in his first message to the Legislature.

Tammany men assume that cordial relations will exist between Smith at Albany and Hyman in the City Hall. Party solidarity is what Tammany Leader Murphy will decree for the next two years. He believes that after another term of Smith it will be comparatively easy to retain control of the State. Therefore he wants to guard against friction between the Hall's best vote-getters.

ULLMAN IS ELECTED IN 6TH ASSEMBLY DIST.

New Election Board Counts Protested Ballots.

Sol Ullman, Republican candidate from the 6th Assembly District, was declared elected to-day by the action of the new Election Board in the 17th Election District. This is the district which was deadlocked by the action of the election board running out and their arrest being ordered by Congressman Nat Perlman, who himself was re-elected to Congress, this election district being in his Congressional District.

The ballots were taken to the Fifth Street Police Station and a new board appointed. The new board was stalled over several protested ballots, but in the end counted them, giving a plurality for the Assemblyman of 52, which elected him over Weinfeld, the Democrat, by 12 votes. Proceedings were dropped against the board that ran out.

FIRST DEMOCRAT IN TEN YEARS ELECTED IN 10TH D.

Sheriff Knott, Just Defeated, Won There in 1912. Joseph T. Flynn has been elected from the 10th Assembly District and that Republican stronghold will be represented by a Democrat for the first time in ten years.

The last time a Democrat was elected there was in 1912, former Sheriff Dave Knott being the incumbent. Mr. Flynn was heralded as the "1922 model," and made a wonderful house to house campaign, with cartall speeches and auto parades.

Mr. Knott was defeated on Tuesday as a candidate for Congress by Congressman Nat D. Perlman in the 14th District.
