BOOT AND SHOE STORE,
No. 180 CHATHAM-STREET.

WILLIAM H. SCOFIELD is opposition to all the humbuggery of the day—to all State Prison monopolies, and to all those who sell miserable, poor Shoes. He offers Boots and Shoes of his own manufacture, made by good, honest mechanics. Ladies', gentlemen's, misses' and children's, in great variety, at prices lower than any other establishment in the city. The citizens of New-York will do well to call and examine his stock and save 25 per cent. of their money.

N. B. He does no bragging about his great Show Window, neither does he accuse his neighbors of doing their business in open Barns, but goes opposition to all who sell miserable, poor Shoes and shave the natives. je-1w*

CHEAP AND GOOD.

ALL who want to get Boots and Shoes of the best quality and latest fashions lower than have hitherto been offered in the city, will please call at the CLINTON BOOT AND SHOE MARKET, No. 204 Canal-street, northeast corner of Hudson-street, where can be found almost every thing in the Boot and Shoe line, cheaper than ever. Ladies, you can get Gaiters, Buskins, Walking Shoes and Slips at this establishment, of all colors and kinds, suitable for the spring and summer wear, cheap as the cheapest and good as the best. Country merchants are solicited to call and examine our stock of goods before purchasing elsewhere.

N. B.—Don't forget the name and number, 204 Canal-street, northwest corner of Hudson-street. A. KNOX & CO. m11 1m

THE GREAT CATHARINE BOOT & SHOE MARKET, 73 Catharine-street, corner of Monroe. SCRIBNER & CO. would inform the citizens of New-York, Brooklyn, and the surrounding country, that they have opened the above store, with Boots and Shoes

Enough to supply half the Nation,
The Cheapest and Best in all Creation.

Ladies, you can find at this store a splendid assortment of black and colored Gaiters, tiped Cloth Buskins, Morocco, French Buskins, Slippers and Ties, at about two-thirds the price usually asked for the same articles.

Gentlemen, you too can find a splendid assortment of stout and fine Boots, Brogans, Shoes and Pumps, together with any quantity of Boys', Misses' and Children's Boots and Shoes, all of which will be sold lower than the same articles were ever sold before. Come one, come all, and examine for yourselves.

Please recollect that this store is 73 Catharine, corner of Monroe-street, the first corner below Lord & Taylor's, and next door to Hull's large Dry Goods store.

N. B.—Country merchants and others in the trade, who wish to buy (cheap for cash) would do well to call before they purchase elsewhere. m11 1m*

NEW ESTABLISHMENTS.

REMOVED to No. 253 Broadway, opposite the Park, and next to the American Hotel. H. VILLERS, Dental Surgeon, of twenty-five years' experience in the above profession, is the sole discoverer and manufacturer of the best kinds of Mineral Teeth now in use, which has enjoyed the unrivalled attempts made by so many in this and other countries; also his Mineral Paste to fill decayed Teeth in a plastic form, which becomes in a few hours as hard as the tooth itself—is free from mercury or any pernicious ingredient, which is so often used by unprincipled foreigners in this and other cities; but his Mineral Cement is only used in tender teeth that cannot be filled with pure gold, which at all times is the best, were the tooth is not painful in the operation of annihilating it with sufficient force to exclude air and moisture. The Mineral Paste allays the most acute pain and retains its pristine powers for a long period, so as to render the removal of the teeth unnecessary. The Artificial Teeth are indestructible, resisting the power of acids and corrosion by medicine or discoloration, or other causes.

They can be fixed to the gums without pain, or even requiring spiral or clasp springs, ligatures, or springs of any kind, and at all times resemble the adjoining teeth to the greatest possible degree, and warranted in most cases to answer all the purposes of articulation, mastication, &c. The very many flattering testimonials from his brethren in the profession, who have been his pupils, would fill a volume. Pupils taught in every department and every operation of Dental Surgery, as usual. Charges moderate. Hours of attendance from 8 A. M. to 6 P. M. daily, Sundays excepted. No. 253 Broadway, opposite the Park, three doors above Barclay-street. je1-tf

GAS AND WATER PIPE.—TATHAM'S Composition Tube for Gas or Water, in lengths from 60 to 300 feet, and 1 to 4 inch in diameter. This article is in general use throughout England and Europe for Gas, and where permanent fixtures are required can be put up at one third less than iron or copper. It is warranted to sustain three times the pressure of leaden pipe of the same weight. It will not corrode from the action of Gas, or impart any taste to water, and is perfectly polished inside and out.

The above articles is made by a newly invented process, and is worthy the notice of all who intend using the Croton Water, or putting up Gas Fixtures. Constantly on hand and for sale by

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

By the arrival at Boston on Wednesday of the steamship ACADIA, Capt. Miller, in 13¼ days from Liverpool we have London advices to the evening of the 18th ult. and from Liverpool to the 19th. She brings out 65 passengers, 19 of whom stopped at Halifax, where 13 more embarked for Boston.

The news is of varied interest though not of signal importance. Cotton is very dull and has submitted to a further decline of ⅛. Little change in Money Matters.—The Crops all over Europe are most promising.—Later news from China is not favorable to a speedy adjustment of the difficulty with England. The Emperor begins to bluster of war.—North-Western India is convulsed with hatred to British domination, and the anarchy in Lahore continues.—The quarrel between Turkey and Egypt is settled, but the Turkish Empire is distracted with revolt and insurrection, and would seem on the brink of dissolution unless upheld by the Great Powers. Espartero has just been formally elected Regent of Spain.—France is disquieted by rumors that the Ministry has agreed to abandon Algiers. Darmes and two confederates are to be tried by the Peers for the last attempt on the King's Life.

Nothing definite had been heard from the President, and hope of her safety is well nigh abandoned. The following is the only ray. A report dated Cove of Cork, May 12, has been received at the office of the British and American Steam Navigation Company:

The Columbia Packet, Captain Garret, from Montevideo, which place she left on the 27th of January, for Antwerp, has come in here, and Captain Garret reports that 10 days since (2d instant) in lat. 13, he saw at some distance a large steamer, bound for the eastward, and which appeared to him to be disabled, as she was going very slowly and could hardly keep way with his vessel. As night came on he lost sight of her, and two days afterwards experienced a heavy gale to the eastward. The apparently disabled ship was so far from him that he cannot describe her appearance further than she was a steamer.

Captain Garret had not heard that the President was missing until asked by the gentleman surveyor to Lloyd's.

In the British Parliament, a succession of important debates had taken place on the Corn Laws and other financial projects, which at this time engross the attention of the country. No very definite action seems to have taken place. Among the less important subjects brought before the House of Commons, we notice that Mr. O'Connell moved a Committee to investigate the Election riots in Canada.

The Great Western arrived at Bristol at 3 o'clock P. M. of the 14th, in 13 days from this port, beating the Columbia from Boston to Liverpool by half a day. The Columbia, however, was detained 12 hours in Halifax.

Thomas Barnes, a principal Editor of the London Times, is dead, aged 146.

The British Queen had not sailed for this port, but was open to public inspection at sixpence a person for the benefit of the families of the crew of the President, whose wages had been stopped.

Dublin is praying for a visit from Queen Victoria.

Tea had advanced 3 to 4 cents a pound in London, in consequence of the bad news from China.

In the House of Commons on the 5th ult., Mr. HUME moved for copies of all the correspondence relating to the destruction of the Caroline. Lord JOHN RUSSELL opposed the motion and proceeded to say that "The Government of the United States had made a complaint of the conduct of certain individuals and officers who were said to have taken part in the destruction of the steamer Caroline. The answer to that complaint was the transmission of a great quantity of correspondence, and of various statements made by the Governor of Upper Canada, and by a number of individuals who were concerned in the transaction.

The American Government sent counter statements, but they did not persist in asking for a final answer to their demands. The effect of not asking for an answer was, that the act complained of ceased to be a matter of discussion, and it was not for the British Government to complain of that conduct. He was convinced that the matter would have entirely dropped, as between the two Governments, if it had not been for the unfortunate affair of Mr. McLeod. That arrest had unfortunately revived the subject, and had produced a renewed discussion between the two Governments. With regard to the production of the correspondence asked for, he had to state that it would be inconvenient to the public service, and tend to embarrass the negociations that were now going on in an amicable spirit, and might tend to militate against the peace of two great and intelligent nations. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Hume made a few remarks in reply, and Lord J. Russell and Sir Robert Peel followed in opposition to the motion. Mr. T. Duncombe said that he wished to know why a British subject, Mr. McLeod, was detained a prisoner in the United States. He wished to ask, did they mean to allow the trial of Mr. McLeod to proceed? (Cheers.) The feeling of the country was, that the national honor was compromised by Mr. McLeod being detained a prisoner. The question of his guilt had nothing to do with the matter. The general opinion was that they would escape from their dilemma by its being incontrovertibly proved that, at the time of the destruction of the Caroline, Mr. McLeod was not present. But that had nothing to do with the question.

Mr. McLeod had been arrested and detained. Now, if they had a right to detain him, they had a right to try him, and if they had a right to try him, they had a right to execute him in the event of his being found guilty. Did they intend to allow Mr. McLeod to be executed in such a case? If they were right Mr. McLeod ought not to be imprisoned at all. Would they insist upon his release? (Cheers.) It was an important question. Suppose Capt. Drew, who commanded the expedition which had destroyed the Caroline, and which had most justly and properly destroyed her, in his opinion—suppose Captain Drew was traveling in the U. States, he would be liable to be arrested. Suppose he was arrested and tried, and the consequence should be that he was found guilty, were the people of England to submit to that?

Were the people of England to allow one of its officers to be put on his trial for obeying their orders? That was the question. He would ask the noble lord, did he mean to let Mr. McLeod's trial proceed? That gentleman was imprisoned now six months, and he [Mr. T. Duncombe] would repeat it, the people of England ought to know why their fellow subject was imprisoned. Certainly if the Hon. member would divide the house on the question, he [Mr. T. Duncombe] would vote with him.

Sir R. PEEL begged to explain. The question asked was not whether Mr. McLeod would be released or not. He [Sir R. Peel] gave no opinion on that. What he said was, that when the Hon. gentleman moved for the papers referred to, the production of which, it was stated, would be prejudicial to the public interest, he [Sir R. Peel] said that it was his opinion that they ought not to be produced.

Strangers were then ordered to withdraw, but the motion was negatived without a division.

In the House on the 7th, great numbers of petitions for and against the proposed revenue movements were presented, especially those in relation to sugar and timber.

Lord John Russell stated the duty he intended to propose on foreign corn—to wit, eight shilling the quarter on wheat, five shillings on rye, four shillings and sixpence on barley, and three shillings and fourpence on oats.

Then says the Commercial commenced the great debate on the proposed alterations in the sugar duties, Lord John Russell leading off with a speech on the general subject. The debate continued, we know not how long, for it was still in progress at the date of our latest papers, that is on the 12th of May. All the great speakers were taking part in it, and its result, if unfavorable to ministers, would probably lead to a dissolution of Parliament. Every interest was appealed to by the Tories in opposition to the ministerial policy—the commercial, the manufacturing, the agricultural and the anti-slavery. The latter especially was appealed to with the utmost urgency, the argument being that sugar from the British colonies cannot compete in cheapness with that from countries where slave labor is employed, and that to permit importation of slave-grown sugar will be a direct encouragement to slavery and the slave-trade. Lord John Russell's opening speech, on the financial propositions generally, was one of the greatest—perhaps the very greatest—he ever made.

A meeting of American citizens, resident in Paris, was held on the 3d ult. at the house of Mr. Draper, the new Consul for the United States—General Cass, the American Minister, in the chair. His Excellency pronounced a glowing eulogium on the late General Harrison, upon which resolutions were founded which received the unanimous assent of the assembly.

SPAIN.—The Chambers assembled on the 13th of May, for the election of a Regency. They first decided that there should be only one Regent. The second ballot gave the following results: In favor of Espartero, 179; in favor of Augustin Arguelles, 103; votes lost, 3. Espartero was accordingly proclaimed sole Regent of the kingdom.

CHINA.

No important news from China had been received since the departure of the Britannia. The overland mail which reached London two days after, brought dates from China to the 12th of February, Calcutta to the 22d of March, and Bombay to the 1st of April. The Chinese Chief Commissioner, Keshen, in an interview with Captain Elliott, evinced an intention to procrastinate, which, added to a report that warlike orders had been received from Pekin, produces an impression that hostilities must be renewed. Trade continued suspended, and the blockade was not raised.

The Government appears to be dissatisfied with Mr. Commissioner Elliott's proceedings, and Col. Sir Henry Pottinger has gone out by the overland India mail as Envoy, to supersede him, and with full power to settle all differences.

THE EAST.

The Egyptian Question is, at last, it appears, really settled. The latest intelligence from Constantinople is to the 19th of April. The differences which had arisen as to certain points in the hatti scheriff of Feb. 13, investing Mehemet Ali with the government of Egypt, have been totally removed in consequence of the proceedings of the representatives of the Powers who have signed the 15th of July Treaty, and this affair has been terminated to the satisfaction of all parties. The Sultan had consented to make an alteration in the firman investing Mehemet Ali with the Pashalic of Egypt, and to grant him the government of that province with hereditary descent in the direct line. He had likewise agreed to modify the article relative to the tribute to be paid to Mehemet Ali, which was rated at one-fourth of the revenue of the province, instead of which, a more equitable proportion had been fixed. The Pasha is likewise to be permitted to appoint all the officers of the land and sea forces up to the rank of Colonel.

The Egyptian question had no sooner been satisfactorily adjusted, than insurrections broke out in Candia, Bulgaria, Servia, and other parts of the Turkish Empire, which promise to be no less difficult to put down than was the refractory Pasha. The armed insurgents in the island of Candia, amounted, at the latest dates, to about 17,000, and they were receiving new accessions daily. The latest Paris papers announce, on the authority of let
